THREE DIE IN CRASH

WILL ROGERS says:

(Special To The News)

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Nov. 1.—Well, with election coming on all over the country about next Tuesday, folks only got five more days to tell other folks what to do.

Ain't it funny we can see our friends or neighbors go out, make bad investments, do fool things, but we never say a word. We let him risk his life and his money without any advice.

But his vote? We got to tell him about that, for he is kinder ignorant and narrow minded and don't see things our way. So we advise him.

Well, hurry up and tell him for he ain't going to pay any attention to you anyhow. But it's a great satisfaction to think you are advising him, anyhow.

Yours.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

It looked this morning as if the day was going to be a hard one for birds and rabbits, as a myriad of hunters crowded the roads leading out of the city. There were probably more hunters in the field today than on any first day of the hunting season in years.

Residents of the outskirts of the city didn't need any alarm clocks this morning. The bang, bang, of shotguns started with the break of dawn, and kept up rather consistently during the early morning. Many hunters were evidently out before daybreak, getting a vantage point to start the hunt.

Evidently some gangs idea of Hallowe'en was to uproot a street sign post at the corner of Edison and Highland avenues. One was noted pushed over on the ground, this morning.

New Castle streets, in some sections of the city are littered with [illegible] to a depth of 3 foot or more. Some activity on the part of the street deparement in hauling away these leaves would not be amiss.

One home on Highland avenue had a total of 52 children as Hallowe'en visitors during the early evening, Wednesday, Pa Newc is informed. A Hallowe'en treat was given to the boys and girls in every instance.

Pa Newc hopes that November weather this year will not be a repetition of what it was last year. After a record temperature of 80 [illegible] November 2, the weather turned wintry. Heavy snows were recorded from November 7th until the middle of the month, and the temperature dropped to six degrees on the 15th.

Warden Stanley P. Ash of Western penitentiary, one of the nation's outstanding prison authorities, paid the Boy Scouts of America a ringing tribute before the Kiwanis club yesterday when he declared that not a Boy Scout has been in the prison since he became its warden in 1925. The warden's words speaks volumes.

Almost every other automobile along Washington street early today carried hunters, bound for the woods to participate in the hunting season's opening day.

Watkins Hughes of South Mill street has compiled a record of which he is very proud. Ever since the South Side Board of Trade started sponsoring Hallowe'en celebrations, Mr. Hughes is among the few who has captured a prize each year, he stated this morning. His impersonation of an organ grinder was one of the features of last night's parade.

Nick Capitola of South Jefferson street, was one masquerader who wore a sustained smile following the South Side parade last night. Mr. Capitola has participated in three Hallowe'en activities given by the Slabtown residents. In 1932 and '33 he was awarded a bottle of hair tonic. The funny part of the whole thing is that Mr. Capitola is bald. Last night the judges awarded him a cash prize for a change.

Hallowe'en Parade Draws Thousands To South Side District

If they had more room on the South Side they could have larger celebrations, but until they do widen out the streets or push back the buildings they can hardly expect a larger crowd than was out Wednesday night. 'Scusin' the possibility of the folks standing on each others shoulders.

Estimating the number of Wednesday night is like estimating the number of leaves on a spreading chestnut tree. You know the total is high but you can't get an idea how high. From Pollock avenue to Moravia street and from Mill street to Home street were a solid mass of humanity. What weren't parading were watching and there was just room for the marchers to get through.

Rain No Bar.

At 8 o'clock just as the parade started to move out from Hamilton and Long avenue the threatened rain developed into a fine drizzle. The farther the parade went the heavier the rain fell and by the time the divisions were filing past the judges' stands the rain was in full bloom.

But not even this dampened anything but the shoulders of the crowd. Apparently not a mummer stepped out of line nor did a spectator leave his place. They were out for a Hallowe'en celebration and they had one in spite of the actions of Jupiter Pluvius.

Without doubt it was the biggest celebration the South Side has ever had. The line of marchers was longer than it has ever been in previous years, there being at least four

Employes Of State Emergency Relief Board Dismissed For Political Activity

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 1.—Several employes of the State Emergency Relief board have been dismissed because of political activity in the current election campaign, Eric H. Biddle, state emergency relief director, announced today.

Repeating his warning of October 6 that engaging in political activity will result in summary dismissal, Biddle sent the following telegram today to all local relief directors, work relief directors and comptrollers of the State Emergency Relief board:

Several Dismissals

"It has been necessary to dismiss certain employes because of political activities such as candidacy for office, membership in political organizations, solicitation of votes, serving as committee man or committee woman, etc., your attention called to bulletin No. 38 prohibiting any form of political activity at the polls other than casting a ballot. Serving as watchers, judge of elections, etc., constitute infractions of bulletin No. 38. Such infractions as listed are illustrative and not inclusive. Any infractions of these instructions will result in summary dismissals even though not discovered until after election."

Man And Wife Are Killed In Crash

(International News Service)

McKEESPORT, Pa., Nov. 1.—Double funeral services will be held here tomorrow for a young couple who left a football game in New York Saturday to meet death on the return trip to their home in Brooklyn.

The dead are Clifford R. Marshall, 34, and his wife, Margaret Kerr Marshall, 29, formerly of McKeesport. They were married 10 years ago and moved to Brooklyn, where Marshall was employed by an electrical company.

Both were killed when their automobile was struck by a bus.

Slayer Dies Of Heart Attack

(International News Service)

SUNBURY, Pa., Nov. 1.—Levi Werntz, 54, former secretary of the Coal township board of commissioners, will never be brought to trial for the death of John Brennan, 34, a Shamokin mine foreman. Stricken with a heart attack in a cell at the county prison, Werntz was dead today. He was accused of killing the victim in a bedroom in the Brennan home and then arranging the body to simulate suicide by hanging.

To Roller Skate Way To Florida

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1—Having nothing else to do this winter, Charles Bobbs, 28, began roller skating today—to Miami, Florida.

He intends to make the trip—its about 1,400 miles—in about six weeks, an average of 25 miles a day, Robbs admits there isn't much purpose in the trip except that he likes to skate and also that William N. McNair, mayor of Pittsburgh, has given him a letter to deliver to the mayor of Miami.

New Galilee Men Injured On Savannah Road Early This Morning

Two New Galilee men were rushed to the New Castle hospital this morning about 1:30 o'clock, suffering with injuries they received when their car went over an embankment on the Savannah road, near the outskirts of the city.

The men, who sustained minor injuries, according to hospital attendants, are: Clifford Allen of R. F. D. No. 2, New Galilee, driver of the car, and Andy Caplan, also of R. D. No. 2, New Galilee.

Mr. Allen stated today that he was headed towards New Castle when another vehicle forced him off the road and over the embankment, where the car upset and was completely ruined by fire.

J. R. Harding of Wampum, an autoist who happened by the scene, rushed the men to the hospital.

Morris Carsman, Highland avenue resident for the past four years who was recently promoted to manage one of Neisner's store in Chicago, Ill., was given an unusual welcome in the Windy City, when he was held-up last Saturday evening and was deprived of $600 of the company's money, according to Miss June Frank, of Hillcrest avenue, who has just returned home following a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Carsman.

According to Miss Frank, the former local man was preparing to close the store when two bandits ordered Carsman, at the point of a gun, to turn over the company's money, which amounted to about $600.

New Charges By Senator Reed In State Campaign

Alleges Democrats Used R. F. C. Loans As Political Bludgeon

CREATES SENSATION AT WILKES-BARRE

Says Three Pennsylvania Companies Forced To Contribute To Democratic Fund

By HARRY BERGMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 1.—A new tempest raged in Pennsylvania's political battle area today, stirred to a furious pitch by the startling accusation of United States Senator David A. Reed that Reconstruction Finance Corporation loans were used by Democrats as a bludgeon with which to exact tribute from three business firms.

The state's senior senator, seeking re-election on the Republican ticket, uttered his sensational charge in the course of an address at Wilkes-Barre last night. He did not divulge the names of the three Pennsylvania companies who, he charged, were asked to contribute six per cent of their R. F. C. loans to the Democratic war chest.

Hunter Dies Of Heart Attack

Irwin Kult, 58, First Hunting Fatality, Without Shot Being Fired

(International News Service)

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Nov. 1.—Pennsylvania's first hunting fatality of the newly-opened season occurred near here today.

And it was not the result of gunfire!

It happened before a single shot had been fired.

Irwin Kult, 58, of Philadelphia, was the victim.

Together with two other men, Kult, employed at the Philadelphia Electric company's station at Plymouth Meeting, near here, went hunting this morning in the fields of the vicinity.

Shortly after the three hunters set out Kult collapsed and died.

The county coroner attributed his death to a heart attack.

Two Women Are Crash Victims

Two Women Meet Death, Husbands Slightly Injured In Crash Near Pittsburgh

TRUCK DRIVER ESCAPES INJURY

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—Two women—sisters-in-law—were killed and their husbands were slightly injured today when their machine collided with a truck-trailer on the McKees Rocks-Coraopolis highway.

The victims, Mrs. Ethel Morgan, 43, McKees Rocks, and Mrs. Nellie Morgan, Stowe township, were thrown from the machine. The brothers, George, 51, husband of Mrs. Ethel Morgan, and Ewart, 35, were treated at the Ohio Valley hospital.

Stephen Brezney, 24, Erie, driver of the truck, escaped injuries.

The trailer of the truck crashed into the automobile carrying the Morgans and demolished it, according to County Detectives Lawrence Kline and Samuel Riddle.

One Killed; Trio Injured In Crash

(International News Service)

POTTSTOWN, Pa., Nov. 1.—Charles D. Lehr, 34, a mailman, was killed and three other men were injured at Stowe, near here, early today in a collision between an automobile and a truck.

The occupants of the truck, Bertram Thompson, 27, of this city, and Anthony Notvisky, 28, of Minersville, both escaped with minor injuries. Thompson, who was operating the truck, was arrested and held for the action of the Montgomery county coroner.

School Is Closed, Students Hunting

In addition to closing the school, its principal, C. C. Shaffer joined the students on a hunting trip in the vicinity of Chambersburg.

TRAGEDY MARKS OPENING OF STATE HUNTING SEASON

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

YORK, Pa., Nov. 1.—Tragedy marked the opening of the small game season in York county today as a 20-year-old Hanover hunter was killed and another nimrod suffered a badly mangled right leg.

The dead youth, believed to be the first shooting fatality of the season, was Archie Krumrine. He died almost instantly from a .22 calibre bullet.

In the other accident George Stahle, 30, of Manchester, R. D. 1, was shot by Fred Wasser of York, who was hunting on the victim's land near Manchester, according to attaches at the York County hospital. It was feared amputation of Stahle's leg may be necessary.

Boy Fires Fatal Shot

Krumrine met his death at the hands of a 13-year-old unlicensed hunter, Fred Auchey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude L. Auchey, of near Hanover, according to Coroner L. U. Zech.

Hearing a strange noise near a tree while hunting on the woodland of C. M. Myers, near Hanover, with his brother, Claude Auchey, Jr., 19,

Hunting Season Is Opened Today

Huge Army Of Hunters Takes To Field As Small Game Season Starts

BAG LIMITS LESS THAN FEW YEARS AGO

New Castle contributed its full quota to the small army of game hunters who took to the woods and fields of Pennsylvania this morning, as the small game season got under way.

Every kind of small game is being sought by the hunters today, including squirrel, rabbit, pheasants, quail, and ducks, but one must possess a federal license in addition to the regular state license to hunt ducks this year.

The big game season does not open until the day after the small game season closes on November 30.

It will not be such a hard matter for hunters to secure the limit because of the gradual reduction in the number which may be killed.

Where a few years ago, hunters could kill an unlimited number of rabbits, squirrels, and birds, the number has been gradually cut down, until today, only four rabbits, two pheasants or grouse, six

Fear Four Drown In Auto Plunge

Hallowe'en Merrymakers In Car Skid Through Drawbridge

CAR DROPS INTO 35 FEET OF WATER

(International News Service)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 1.—Four or more persons were believed to have been drowned early today when a large sedan skidded into the guard rail on the Mullica river drawbridge and plunged into 35 feet of water near New Gretna, 20 miles north of here.

The car, apparently filled with Hallowe'en celebrators, ripped away 30 feet of the guard railing. It plunged beneath the surface of the water, carrying its occupants to their doom shortly before two o'clock this morning.

Tatum Crammer, bridgetender, told state troopers that the crash was followed by screams. He said he raced to the scene, but the gap in the guard railing was the only evidence of the tragedy.

A passing motorist told authorities he caught a glimpse of the interior of the car as it plowed through the railing and dived into the river. He estimated the number of persons in the car as four or more.

Handicapped by lack of equipment, state police were unable immediately to raise the wreck or attempt any rescue. The automobile, believed to lie directly beneath the drawbridge, will be brought to the surface by a dredging company, police said.

PIGEONS FEED

This may be just the day after Hallowe'en to the most of us—but to the downtown pigeon colony it is Thanksgivir and Christmas combined.

It seems that bags and bags of corn were thrown by celebraters last night and today the pigeons are playing an exciting game called "pick-up-and-swallow."

Mother And Four Children Burned Fatally In Home

Trapped By Falling Timbers Mother And Four In Kentucky Burn To Death

(International News Service)

LONDON, Ky., Nov. 1.—A mother and her four children were dead today as the result of a fire that followed the wrecking of their home on the Rockcastle river, 15 miles north of here, by a high wind during a sudden storm squall. The victims were pinned by timber and burned to death when fire from the stove ignited the wreckage.

Members of a nearby CCC camp rescued a 6-year-old son of Mrs. Robinson when they rushed to the scene of the fire and found him pinned by timbers near the front door.

Eight Persons Kept In Hotel In Escape Quiz

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 1.—J. Edward Barce, state deputy attorney-general, and his barnstorming troupe of state police and eight "witnesses" held for questioning in connection with the Crown Point escape of John Dillinger, were lodged in an Indianapolis hotel here today. All remained in absolute seclusion.

It was the third day Barce has held the eight persons who were routed out of their beds in Crown Point at dawn Tuesday morning to start on a hectic tour which has taken them over the northern half of Indiana in an effort to dodge newspaper reporters and Lake county law authorities who desire to free those in custody.

Samuel Insull Takes All Blame

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—His voice shaking and showing intense emotionalism, Samuel Insull today took all the blame for the collapse of Corporation Securities company.

Referring to his 16 co-defendants he told the jurors who are trying him on charges of mail fraud:

"If the prosecution will excuse me, they (the other defendants) have no more to do with this case than you have."

Young Motorist Dies At Franklin

(International News Service)

Murray's machine swerved from the road on Ritchie hill, leading into Emlenton, and rolled end over end 250 feet down the ravine at the side of the road.

The victim was found pinned under the car, just conscious enough to identify himself before he was rushed to the hospital.

Grade Crossing Tragedy Occurs At Wheatland

Auto On Street Crossing Is Hit By Pennsylvania Train

TWO MEN AND WOMAN KILLED

Accident Occurs About 10 O'Clock This Morning—Train Enroute North

A West Middlesex district man and wife and an elderly Wheatland man met almost instant death today when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by an Erie-bound Pennsylvania passenger train, No. 415, at the Mill street crossing, Wheatland, shortly before 10 o'clock this morning.

THE DEAD:

Mrs. Lucy Cadary, 52, R. F. D. No. 1, West Middlesex.

George Black, 70, Wheatland.

Leaving New Castle only a short time before the crash, the Erie train, of which C. W. Thompson, this city, was conductor, struck the Cadary car, a coach, while making good speed. Reports to E. & A. division offices here said the engine bell was ringing and its whistle blowing as the auto was struck. Reports said the car was driven directly onto the railroad tracks before the train.

Members of the train crew rushed to the demolished car as the train halted and extricated its occupants and placed them aboard the train to be rushed to a Sharon hospital. One of the men, reports said, was instantly killed, but the others died enroute to Sharon.

The automobile was demolished.

Pennsylvania officials here described the accident as the worst grade crossing crash to occur on the division in months.

Tried To Beat Train

Mrs. Cadary, according to Coroner William Applegate, of Mercer county, died of a fractured skull and broken neck. The two men died from skull fractures. The bodies were not mangled, he said.

According to Mrs. Nellie Brandt,

Former Local Man Is Hold-up Victim

Morris Carsman, Highland avenue resident for the past four years who was recently promoted to manage one of Neisner's store in Chicago, Ill., was given an unusual welcome in the Windy City, when he was held-up last Saturday evening and was deprived of $600 of the company's money, according to Miss June Frank, of Hillcrest avenue, who has just returned home following a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Carsman.

According to Miss Frank, the former local man was preparing to close the store when two bandits ordered Carsman, at the point of a gun, to turn over the company's money, which amounted to about $600.

Says Three Pennsylvania Companies Forced To Contribute To Democratic Fund

By HARRY BERGMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 1.—A new tempest raged in Pennsylvania's political battle area today, stirred to a furious pitch by the startling accusation of United States Senator David A. Reed that Reconstruction Finance Corporation loans were used by Democrats as a bludgeon with which to exact tribute from three business firms.

The state's senior senator, seeking re-election on the Republican ticket, uttered his sensational charge in the course of an address at Wilkes-Barre last night. He did not divulge the names of the three Pennsylvania companies who, he charged, were asked to contribute six per cent of their R. F. C. loans to the Democratic war chest.

Hunter Dies Of Heart Attack

Irwin Kult, 58, First Hunting Fatality, Without Shot Being Fired

International News Service)

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Nov. 1.—Pennsylvania's first hunting fatality of the newly-opened season occurred near here today.

And it was not the result of gunfire!

It happened before a single shot had been fired.

Irwin Kult, 58, of Philadelphia, was the victim.

Together with two other men, Kult, employed at the Philadelphia Electric company's station at Plymouth Meeting, near here, went hunting this morning in the fields of the vicinity.

Shortly after the three hunters set out Kult collapsed and died.

The county coroner attributed his death to a heart attack.

Two Women Meet Death, Husbands Slightly Injured In Crash Near Pittsburgh

TRUCK DRIVER ESCAPES INJURY

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH,, Nov. 1.—Two women—sisters-in-law—were killed and their husbands were slightly injured today when their machine collided with a truck-trailer on the McKees Rocks-Coraopolis highway.

The victims, Mrs. Ethel Morgan, 43, McKees Rocks, and Mrs. Nellie Morgan, Stowe township, were thrown from the machine. The brothers, George, 51, husband of Mrs. Ethel Morgan, and Ewart, 35, were treated at the Ohio Valley hospital.

The trailer of the truck crashed into the automobile carrying the Morgans and demolished it, according to County Detectives Lawrence Kline and Samuel Riddle.

TRAGEDY MARKS OPENING OF STATE HUNTING SEASON

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

YORK, Pa., Nov. 1.—Tragedy marked the opening of the small game season in York county today as a 20-year-old Hanover hunter was killed and another nimrod suffered a badly mangled right leg.

The dead youth, believed to be the first shooting fatality of the season, was Archie Krumrine. He died almost instantly from a .22 calibre bullet.

In the other accident George Stahle, 30, of Manchester, R. D. 1, was shot by Fred Wasser of York, who was hunting on the victim's land near Manchester, according to attaches at the York County hospital. It was feared amputation of Stahle's leg may be necessary.

Boy Fires Fatal Shot

Krumrine met his death at the hands of a 13-year-old unlicensed hunter, Fred Auchey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude L. Auchey, of near Hanover, according to Coroner L. U. Zech.

Hearing a strange noise near a tree while hunting on the woodland of C. M. Myers, near Hanover, with his brother, Claude Auchey, Jr., 19,

Hunting Season Is Opened Today

Huge Army Of Hunters Takes To Field As Small Game Season Starts

BAG LIMITS LESS THAN FEW YEARS AGO

New Castle contributed its full quota to the small army of game hunters who took to the woods and fields of Pennsylvania this morning, as the small game season got under way.

Every kind of small game is being sought by the hunters today, including squirrel, rabbit, pheasants, quail, and ducks, but one must possess a federal license in addition to the regular state license to hunt ducks this year.

The big game season does not open until the day after the small game season closes on November 30.

It will not be such a hard matter for hunters to secure the limit because of the gradual reduction in the number which may be killed.

Where a few years ago, hunters could kill an unlimited number of rabbits, squirrels, and birds, the number has been gradually cut down, until today, only four rabbits, two pheasants or grouse, six

Fear Four Drown In Auto Plunge

Hallowe'en Merrymakers In Car Skid Through Drawbridge

CAR DROPS INTO 35 FEET OF WATER

(International News Service)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 1.—Four or more persons were believed to have been drowned early today when a large sedan skidded into the guard rail on the Mullica river drawbridge and plunged into 35 feet of water near New Gretna, 20 miles north of here.

The car, apparently filled with Hallowe'en celebrators, ripped away 30 feet of the guard railing. It plunged beneath the surface of the water, carrying its occupants to their doom shortly before two o'clock this morning.

Tatum Crammer, bridgetender, told state troopers that the crash was followed by screams. He said he raced to the scene, but the gap in the guard railing was the only evidence of the tragedy.

A passing motorist told authorities he caught a glimpse of the interior of the car as it plowed through the railing and dived into the river. He estimated the number of persons in the car as four or more.

Handicapped by lack of equipment, state police were unable immediately to raise the wreck or attempt any rescue. The automobile, believed to lie directly beneath the drawbridge, will be brought to the surface by a dredging company, police said.

Trapped By Falling Timbers Mother And Four In Kentucky Burn To Death

(International News Service)

LONDON, Ky., Nov. 1.—A mother and her four children were dead today as the result of a fire that followed the wrecking of their home on the Rockcastle river, 15 miles north of here, by a high wind during a sudden storm squall. The victims were pinned by timber and burned to death when fire from the stove ignited the wreckage.

Members of a nearby CCC camp rescued a 6-year-old son of Mrs. Robinson when they rushed to the scene of the fire and found him pinned by timbers near the front door.

Murray's machine swerved from the road on Ritchie hill, leading into Emlenton, and rolled end over end 250 feet down the ravine at the side of the road.

The victim was found pinned under the car, just conscious enough to identify himself before he was rushed to the hospital.

Grade Crossing Tragedy Occurs At Wheatland

Auto On Street Crossing Is Hit By Pennsylvania Train

TWO MEN AND WOMAN KILLED

Accident Occurs About 10 O'Clock This Morning—Train Enroute North

A West Middlesex district man and wife and an elderly Wheatland man met almost instant death today when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by an Erie-bound Pennsylvania passenger train, No. 415, at the Mill street crossing, Wheatland, shortly before 10 o'clock this morning.

THE DEAD:

Mrs. Lucy Cadary, 52, R. F. D. No. 1, West Middlesex.

George Black, 70, Wheatland.

Leaving New Castle only a short time before the crash, the Erie train, of which C. W. Thompson, this city, was conductor, struck the Cadary car, a coach, while making good speed. Reports to E. & A. division offices here said the engine bell was ringing and its whistle blowing as the auto was struck. Reports said the car was driven directly onto the railroad tracks befor the train.

Members of the train crew rushed to the demolished car as the train halted and extricated its occupants and placed them aboard the train to be rushed to a Sharon hospital. One of the men, reports said, was instantly killed, but the others died enroute to Sharon.

The automobile was demolished.

Pennsylvania officials here described the accident as the worst grade crossing crash to occur on the division in months.

Tried To Beat Train

Mrs. Cadary, according to Coroner William Applegate, of Mercer county, died of a fractured skull and broken neck. The two men died from skull fractures. The bodies were not mangled, he said.

MOVE TO HAVE SINCLAIR WITHDRAW

New Dealers Are Very Much At Sea

Attitude Of Roosevelt Administration Is Problem Of Campaign

ROOSEVELT SILENT AS TO ATTITUDE

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent
Copyright, 1934, By International News Service

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1—When the history of this unusual campaign of 1934 is written there will be no stranger chapter than that which attempts to depict the attitude of the Roosevelt administration toward Upton Sinclair's "EPIC" candidacy for governorship of California.

Democratic "New Dealers" have been divided upon it from the outset, one group contending that the erstwhile socialist is logically entitled to administration support, just as any other Democratic candidate, the other maintaining with vigor that the party could not "afford" to be tied up with a candidacy so boldly radical as that of Sinclair. They still are divided.

Roosevelt Silent

Between these two groups, President Roosevelt has kept silent and said nothing. He received Sinclair at summer White House at Hyde Park, permitted him to do all the talking after their long chat, and neither by word or deed indicated support of or opposition to Sinclair's novel plan for making over California economically.

The latest development in this somewhat bizarre situation came today when it was learned the anti-Sinclair wing of the Democratic strategists are making an eleventh-hour effort to have the "EPIC" socialist withdraw from the race in favor of the "progressive-commonwealth" candidate, Raymond L. Haight.

With that object in view, J. F. T. O'Connor, comptroller of the currency, an adopted Californian, and a former law partner of Senator W. K. McAdoo has flown to California to try his persuasive wiles on Sinclair. Efforts to obtain White House approval of his mission were unsuccessful before his departure.

Loan Is Refused

As the story is told in Washington's inner political circles, Sinclair telephoned a prominent California banker in New York last week, whom he apparently believed was not unfriendly, at least not bitterly unfriendly to his candidacy, Sinclair said, in effect, that he was by no means licked in California, polls to the contrary notwithstanding, and that with a modest loan for organization purposes he was certain of victory.

The banker is reported to have listened attentively, and then given a tentatively negative reply to a request for a loan. Thereafter he caught the first train for Washington, where he endeavored to ascertain just exactly how the White House felt toward Sinclair's candidacy. He wanted to know precisely whether the White House wanted to see Sinclair elected or defeated. All he got for his pains was just about what every other inquirer has got—that the White House is keeping entirely aloof from the EPIC (no pun) struggle in California, and would continue to do so.

Then the idea was conceived among the anti-Sinclair strategists among the Democrats here that perhaps Sinclair could be persuaded to withdraw. They reasoned that the fact he was seeking financial assistance augured a weakness which might make Sinclair amenable to reason. And they hit upon J. F. T. ("Jefty") O'Connor as the missionary.

O'Connor then sought White House approval of his mission. He thought if he could go to Sinclair and say the White House desired him to withdraw it would have a powerful persuasive effect. But he did not even see Mr. Roosevelt. He was instructed that he desired to make his pilgrimage as an individual Democrat, as a Californian, that was his business. But as for Mr. Roosevelt, he was keeping entirely out of California's Democratic squabble, O'Connor left disappointed.

No witch nor goblin could or would play the prank the Weather Man did last night. He waited until the witching hour of eight and then, when thousands upon thousands of spectators and paraders were lined along the South Side streets, he struck. But if his purpose was to spoil the parade, he was foiled. Yah!

A solid line of automobiles moved north on Moravia street for a solid half hour after the parade ended. The line extended from Long avenue to the public square. Even more cars jammed South Mill street. No one event of 1934 has drawn a larger assemblage of New Castle automobiles together. Parking space during the parade was at a premium and the cars stood in four-in-line covering the width of Sciota street.

West Washington street from Front street to Atlantic avenue is now open to traffic and, except for finishing touches, the job of repaving the mid-section from where the street car tracks had been removed has been completed. While the work was in progress traffic was detoured over Front street to Greenwood avenue.

District Attorney W. I. Anderson was notified and was expected to institute prosecution.

Shot In Leg

Greensburg, Pa., Nov. 1.—David Gregory, 33, Mt. Pleasant, was the first Westmoreland county hunting victim reported today.

While hunting with a companion, Gregory was shot in the leg when his friend's gun was discharged. A physician removed 30 pellets from the victim's leg.

Shot In Eye

Pittsburgh, Nov. 1.—Shot in the left eye, George Steiner, motorcycle policeman of suburban Etna, was the first hunting victim reported in this district today.

Steiner, victim of a friend's accidental shot, was removed to St. Vincent's hospital where his condition was not regarded as serious.

Indiana Youth Killed

Snyder, shot through the shoulder by Frank Barnett, 17, also of Indiana, died a half hour later while being taken into the emergency room at Indiana hospital.

When Snyder missed a shot at a rabbit, Barnett told authorities he raised his gun. Just as he discharged the bullet, Snyder stepped from behind a corn shock into the path of fire and dropped.

Snyder's death was the first of the hunting season in Western Pennsylvania. Barnett was not held but only questioned while authorities investigated the tragedy.

NEW CHARGES BY SENATOR REED IN STATE CAMPAIGN

H. Jones, chairman of the R. F. C., expressing doubt of the truth of Reed's charge, Jones at Washington said:

"I'd wager big odds that it didn't happen. I'd like to see it in black on white to believe it."

Loans to Pennsylvania firms, Jones said, would clear either through the Philadelphia or Pittsburgh offices of the R. F. C., and he added: "I'm perfectly sure that it couldn't have happened in either of those offices."

In voicing his accusation, Reed said the alleged "shakedowns" were executed by Pennsylvania Democrats apparently without the knowledge of Jones or other high officials of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

"Don't Know What's Going On"

"The reason for that is that they don't know what is going on in Pennsylvania in this campaign," Reed said.

He added that he would refuse to name the purportedly victimized borrowers "until such time as they arrange to have banks take over the obligations the moment they are called by R. F. C."

Voters today waited an answer from Joseph F. Guffey, who is campaigning to capture Reed's seat, or any other Democratic candidate or official to the senator's "shakedown" charge. In many quarters Reed's allegation was regarded as at least an indirect reply to the oft-repeated charge that big companies have been coercing their employes to vote Republican next Tuesday.

Addresses Big Meeting

While Reed and his gubernatorial runningmate, Attorney General William A. Schnader, were addressing a monster gathering of Wyoming valley citizens at Wilkes-Barre, Guffey was telling a large audience in Reading last night that severance of party lines has heralded a "political revolution" designed to overthrow the old deal and enthrone the new.

George H. Earle, the Democratic candidate for governor, meantime, was promising Philadelphia voters that, if elected, he will end "government by selfish minorities" and institute "government by and for the people".

Gov. Gifford Pinchot in another ringing address at McKeesport, again lashed at Guffey and Earle, whom he termed "inside enemies" of the Roosevelt regime. He demanded to know where Guffey obtained $150,000 of the $480,000 he repaid the government after relinquishing his post as wartime director of sales for the alien property custodian.

The governor, who is actively supporting Schnader's gubernatorial candidacy, charged that this $150,000 was "written off" by the federal government as a reward for Guffey's work.

Schuylkill county and the anthracite region were the centers of campaign activities today, with only five days remaining before the commonwealth's millions of voters express their choice.

The Democratic squadron of nominees invaded Pottsville, while the Republicans descended upon Scranton, scene of intensive efforts on the part of both major parties during the current drive for ballots.

Mention of the parade would be incomplete without some reference to the bands. The senior high school band headed the line of march with the Benjamin Franklin junior high school band, the Sons of Veterans Drum Corps and the Croton Drum Corps heading divisions following. In spite of the fact that the rain meant trouble for the drum heads the bands stuck to heir posts and gave the parade the musical touch it needed.

Lie Detector Plan Rejected

Attorney For Hauptmann Will Not Allow Lie Detector To Be Used On Subject

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1—An offer to apply the lie detector test to Bruno Richard Hauptmann accussed Lindbergh slaying suspect, was angrily rejected today by James M. Fawcett, counsel for Hauptmann.

The offer was made on behalf of William Moulton Marston, well known in criminologist circles for his invention of the lie detector.

"I am not having any tests of any kind made" Fawcett said, when told of the offer by Marston. "I don't want any psychoanalyst tests or any other tests. I am more interested in getting facts of the case and preparing them."

Fawcett was then asked if he would object if the state of New Jersey applied the lie detector to Hauptmann in the Flemington jail.

"I certainly would object," Fawcett said, angrily. "I wouldn't stand for it. I never heard of such a ridiculous idea. I don't believe the lie detector works anyways."

"The machine was demolished. Those in it were killed instantly."

The train crew was absolved of blame by Dr. Applegate. The latter returned a verdict of accidental death this afternoon and announced no inquest would be necessary.

"I don't see how it could have happened. The only explanation is that Cadary, who was driving, attempted to beat the train across the tracks. The engine whistle had been blown at two other crossings and a good view of the tracks is possible at the scene of the accident," the coroner said.

The train was traveling about 50 miles an hour, according to the coroner.

Dr. Applegate said Black had been in the habit of getting milk from the Cadarys and that they apparently were taking him home after a visit to their farm about a mile and a half outside of Wheatland.

Funeral services for A. W. Williams, Grove City, will be held from the First Methodist church of Grove City Friday at 2 p. m.

Interment will be made in a Grove City cemetery.

KINGSFORD-SMITH TO RESUME FLIGHT

present flight is an exact duplicate "in reverse" of that daring trip.

The two airmen will confer with army weather officials this morning and if it is deemed advisable the starting time may be delayed until later in the day, probably 3 p. m. local time.

Several minor rain disturbances were expected to be encountered, but generally the weather along the route to the mainland was satisfactory.

A heavy rainstorm which had lingered midway between the Hawaiian islands and the Pacific coast for five days has passed inland. This storm had delayed an earlier takeoff.

The flight was expected to take between 18 and 20 hours.

HUNTING SEASON IS OPENED TODAY

quail and six squirrels may be legally killed. Federal regulations have cut the number of ducks of a combined kind to 12, and only five of any particular species.

The coming season promises to be strenuous one for game, as more hunters have purchased licenses this year than ever before in the history of the county. This is due in a great measure to the large number of men who are unemployed. It is likely that the largest bag of game ever recorded in the state will be reported to game authorities.

THREE DIE IN CRASH

WILL ROGERS says:

(Special To The News)

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Nov. 1.—Well, with election coming on all over the country about next Tuesday, folks only got five more days to tell other folks what to do.

Ain't it funny we can see our friends or neighbors go out, make bad investments, do fool things, but we never say a word. We let him risk his life and his money without any advice.

But his vote? We got to tell him about that, for he is kinder ignorant and narrow minded and don't see things our way. So we advise him.

Well, hurry up and tell him for he ain't going to pay any attention to you anyhow. But it's a great satisfaction to think you are advising him, anyhow.

Yours,

Will Rogers

PA NEWC OBSERVES

It looked this morning as if the day was going to be a hard one for birds and rabbits, as a myriad of hunters crowded the roads leading out of the city. There were probably more hunters in the field today than on any first day of the hunting season in years.

* * *

Residents of the outskirts of the city didn't need any alarm clocks this morning. The bang, bang, of shotguns started with the break of dawn, and kept up rather consistently during the early morning. Many hunters were evidently out before daybreak, getting a vantage point to start the hunt.

Evidently some gangs idea of Hallowe'en was to uproot a street sign post at the corner of Edison and Highland avenues. One was noted pushed over on the ground, this morning.

New Castle streets, in some sections of the city are littered with [illegible] to a depth of a foot or more. Some activity on the part of the street deparement in hauling away these leaves would not be amiss.

One home on Highland avenue had a total of 52 children as Hallowe'en visitors during the early evening, Wednesday, Pa Newc is informed. A Hallowe'en treat was given to the boys and girls in every instance.

Pa Newc hopes that November weather this year will not be a repetition of what it was last year. After a record temperature of 80 [illegible] November 2, the weather turned wintry. Heavy snows were recorded from November 7th until the middle of the month, and the temperature dropped to six degrees on the 15th.

Warden Stanley P. Ash of Western penitentiary, one of the nation's outstanding prison authorities, paid the Boy Scouts of America a ringing tribute before the Kiwanis club yesterday when he declared that not a Boy Scout has been in the prison since he became its warden in 1925. The warden's words speaks volumes.

Almost every other automobile along Washington street early today carried hunters, bound for the woods to participate in the hunting season's opening day.

Watkins Hughes of South Mill street has compiled a record of which he is very proud. Ever since the South Side Board of Trade started sponsoring Hallowe'en celebrations, Mr. Hughes is among the few who has captured a prize each year, he stated this morning. His impersonation of an organ grinder was one of the features of last night's parade.

Nick Capitola of South Jefferson street, was one masquerader who wore a sustained smile following the South Side parade last night. Mr. Capitola has participated in three Hallowe'en activities given by the Slabtown residents. In 1932 and '33 he was awarded a bottle of hair tonic. The funny part of the whole thing is that Mr. Capitola is bald. Last night the judges awarded him a cash prize for a change.

A dog wandered along in the parade quite on his own initiative, and although wet and bedraggled, seemed to think it all great sport. Someone suggested that it was Plush, of Wimpole street. Father Time, with scythe on shoulder and

If they had more room on the South Side they could have larger celebrations, but until they do widen out the streets or push back the buildings they can hardly expect a larger crowd than was out Wednesday night. 'Scusin' the possibility of the folks standing on each others shoulders.

Estimating the number of Wednesday night is like estimating the number of leaves on a spreading chestnut tree. You know the total is high but you can't get an idea how high. From Pollock aveniue to Moravia street and from Mill street to Home street were a solid mass of humanity. What weren't parading were watching and there was just room for the marchers to get through.

Rain No Bar.

At 8 o'clock just as the parade started to move out from Hamilton and Long avenue the threatened rain developed into a fine drizzle. The farther the parade went the heavier the rain fell and by the time the divisions were filing past the judges' stands the rain was in full bloom.

But not even this dampened anything but the shoulders of the crowd. Apparently not a mummer stepped out of line nor did a spectator leave his place. They were out for a Hallowe'en celebration and they had one in spite of the actions of Jupiter Pluvius.

Without doubt it was the biggest celebration the South Side has ever had. The line of marchers was longer than it has ever been in previous years, there being at least four

Employes Of State Emergency Relief Board Dismissed For Political Activity

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 1.—Several employes of the State Emergency Relief board have been dismissed because of political activity in the current election campaign, Eric H. Biddle, state emergency relief director, announced today.

Repeating his warning of October 6 that engaging in political activity will result in summary dismissal, Biddle sent the following telegram today to all local relief directors, work relief directors and comptrollers of the State Emergency Relief board:

Several Dismissals

"It has been necessary to dismiss certain employes because of political activities such as candidacy for office, membership in political organizations, solicitation of votes, serving as committee man or committee woman, etc., your attention called to bulletin No. 38 prohibiting any form of political activity at the polls other than casting a ballot. Serving as watchers, judge of elections, etc., constitute infractions of bulletin No. 38. Such infractions as listed are illustrative and not inclusive. Any infractions of these instructions will result in summary dismissals even though not discovered until after election."

Man And Wife Are Killed In Crash

(International News Service)

McKEESPORT, Pa., Nov. 1.—Double funeral services will be held here tomorrow for a young couple who left a football game in New York Saturday to meet death on the return trip to their home in Brooklyn.

The dead are Clifford R. Marshall, 34, and his wife, Margaret Kerr Marshall, 29, formerly of McKeesport. They were married 10 years ago and moved to Brooklyn, where Marshall was employed by an electrical company.

Both were killed when their automobile was struck by a bus.

He intends to make the trip—its about 1,400 miles—in about six weeks, an average of 25 miles a day, Robbs admits there isn't much purpose in the trip except that he likes to skate and also that William N. McNair, mayor of Pittsburgh, has given him a letter to deliver to the mayor of Miami.

Two Hurt When Car Overturns

New Galilee Men Injured On Savannah Road Early This Morning

Two New Galilee men were rushed to the New Castle hospital this morning about 1:30 o'clock, suffering with injuries they received when their car went over an embankment on the Savannah road, near the outskirts of the city.

The men, who sustained minor injuries, according to hospital attendants, are: Clifford Allen of R. F. D. No. 2, New Galilee, driver of the car, and Andy Caplan, also of R. D. No. 2, New Galilee.

Mr. Allen stated today that he was headed towards New Castle when another vehicle forced him off the road and over the embankment, where the car upset and was completely ruined by fire.

J. R. Harding of Wampum, an autoist who happened by the scene, rushed the men to the hospital.

Morris Carsman, Highland avenue resident for the past four years who was recently promoted to manage one of Neisner's store in Chicago, Ill., was given an unusual welcome in the Windy City, when he was held-up last Saturday evening and was deprived of $600 of the company's money, according to Miss June Frank, of Hillcrest avenue, who has just returned home following a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Carsman.

According to Miss Frank, the former local man was preparing to close the store when two bandits ordered Carsman, at the point of a gun, to turn over the company's money, which amounted to about $600.

Says Three Pennsylvania Companies Forced To Contribute To Democratic Fund

By HARRY BERGMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 1.—A new tempest raged in Pennsylvania's political battle area today, stirred to a furious pitch by the startling accusation of United States Senator David A. Reed that Reconstruction Finance Corporation loans were used by Democrats as a bludgeon with which to exact tribute from three business firms.

The state's senior senator, seeking re-election on the Republican ticket, uttered his sensational charge in the course of an address at Wilkes-Barre last night. He did not divulge the names of the three Pennsylvania companies who, he charged, were asked to contribute six per cent of their R. F. C. loans to the Democratic war chest.

Hunter Dies Of Heart Attack

Irwin Kult, 58, First Hunting Fatality, Without Shot Being Fired

International News Service)

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Nov. 1.—Pennsylvania's first hunting fatality of the newly-opened season occurred near here today.

And it was not the result of gunfire!

It happened before a single shot had been fired.

Irwin Kult, 58, of Philadelphia, was the victim.

Together with two other men, Kult, employed at the Philadelphia Electric company's station at Plymouth Meeting, near here, went hunting this morning in the fields of the vicinity.

Shortly after the three hunters set out Kult collapsed and died.

The county coroner attributed his death to a heart attack.

TRUCK DRIVER ESCAPES INJURY

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—Two women—sisters-in-law—were killed and their husbands were slightly injured today when their machine collided with a truck-trailer on the McKees Rocks-Coraopolis highway.

The victims, Mrs. Ethel Morgan, 43, McKees Rocks, and Mrs. Nellie Morgan, Stowe township, were thrown from the machine. The brothers, George, 51, husband of Mrs. Ethel Morgan, and Ewart, 35, were treated at the Ohio Valley hospital.

Stephen Brezney, 24, Erie, driver of the truck, escaped injuries.

The trailer of the truck crashed into the automobile carrying the Morgans and demolished it, according to County Detectives Lawrence Kline and Samuel Riddle.

(International News Service)

POTTSTOWN, Pa., Nov. 1.—Charles D. Lehr, 34, a mailman, was killed and three other men were injured at Stowe, near here, early today in a collision between an automobile and a truck.

Letha Kepner, 34, a Pottstown mail clerk, told state police that Lehr, who was driving the automobile, was blinded by the headlights on the truck. Kepner is suffering from a broken left leg and a fractured hip.

The occupants of the truck, Bertram Thompson, 27, of this city, and Anthony Notvisky, 28, of Minersville, both escaped with minor injuries. Thompson, who was operating the truck, was arrested and held for the action of the Montgomery county coroner.

School Is Closed, Students Hunting

In addition to closing the school, its principal, C. C. Shaffer joined the students on a hunting trip in the vicinity of Chambersburg.

TRAGEDY MARKS OPENING OF STATE HUNTING SEASON

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

YORK, Pa., Nov. 1.—Tragedy marked the opening of the small game season in York county today as a 20-year-old Hanover hunter was killed and another nimrod suffered a badly mangled right leg.

The dead youth, believed to be the first shooting fatality of the season, was Archie Krumrine. He died almost instantly from a .22 calibre bullet.

In the other accident George Stahle, 30, of Manchester, R. D. 1, was shot by Fred Wasser of York, who was hunting on the victim's land near Manchester, according to attaches at the York County hospital. It was feared amputation of Stahle's leg may be necessary.

Boy Fires Fatal Shot

Krumrine met his death at the hands of a 13-year-old unlicensed hunter, Fred Auchey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude L. Auchey, of near Hanover, according to Coroner L. U. Zech.

Hearing a strange noise near a tree while hunting on the woodland of C. M. Myers, near Hanover, with his brother, Claude Auchey, Jr., 19,

Hunting Season Is Opened Today

Huge Army Of Hunters Takes To Field As Small Game Season Starts

BAG LIMITS LESS THAN FEW YEARS AGO

New Castle contributed its full quota to the small army of game hunters who took to the woods and fields of Pennsylvania this morning, as the small game season got under way.

Every kind of small game is being sought by the hunters today, including squirrel, rabbit, pheasants, quail, and ducks, but one must possess a federal license in addition to the regular state license to hunt ducks this year.

The big game season does not open until the day after the small game season closes on November 30.

It will not be such a hard matter for hunters to secure the limit because of the gradual reduction in the number which may be killed.

Where a few years ago, hunters could kill an unlimited number of rabbits, squirrels, and birds, the number has been gradually cut down, until today, only four rabbits, two pheasants or grouse, six

Hallowe'en Merrymakers In Car Skid Through Drawbridge

CAR DROPS INTO 35 FEET OF WATER

(International News Service)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 1.—Four or more persons were believed to have been drowned early today when a large sedan skidded into the guard rail on the Mullica river drawbridge and plunged into 35 feet of water near New Gretna, 20 miles north of here.

The car, apparently filled with Hallowe'en celebrators, ripped away 30 feet of the guard railing. It plunged beneath the surface of the water, carrying its occupants to their doom shortly before two o'clock this morning.

Tatum Crammer, bridgetender, told state troopers that the crash was followed by screams. He said he raced to the scene, but the gap in the guard railing was the only evidence of the tragedy.

A passing motorist told authorities he caught a glimpse of the interior of the car as it plowed through the railing and dived into the river. He estimated the number of persons in the car as four or more.

Handicapped by lack of equipment, state police were unable immediately to raise the wreck or attempt any rescue. The automobile, believed to lie directly beneath the drawbridge, will be brought to the surface by a dredging company, police said.

Trapped By Falling Timbers Mother And Four In Kentucky Burn To Death

(International News Service)

LONDON, Ky., Nov. 1.—A mother and her four children were dead today as the result of a fire that followed the wrecking of their home on the Rockcastle river, 15 miles north of here, by a high wind during a sudden storm squall. The victims were pinned by timber and burned to death when fire from the stove ignited the wreckage.

Members of a nearby CCC camp rescued a 6-year-old son of Mrs. Robinson when they rushed to the scene of the fire and found him pinned by timbers near the front door.

"If the prosecution will excuse me, they (the other defendants) have no more to do with this case than you have."

Young Motorist Dies At Franklin

(International News Service)

OIL CITY, Pa., Nov. 1.—Injured when his automobile left the road and crashed down a steep embankment, Edgar Murray, 25, St. Petersburg, died in Franklin hospital today.

Murray's machine swerved from the road on Ritchie hill, leading into Emlenton, and rolled end over end 250 feet down the ravine at the side of the road.

The victim was found pinned under the car, just conscious enough to identify himself before he was rushed to the hospital.

Grade Crossing Tragedy Occurs At Wheatland

Auto On Street Crossing Is Hit By Pennsylvania Train

TWO MEN AND WOMAN KILLED

Accident Occurs About 10 O'Clock This Morning—Train Enroute North

A West Middlesex district man and wife and an elderly Wheatland man met almost instant death today when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by an Erie-bound Pennsylvania passenger train, No. 415, at the Mill street crossing, Wheatland, shortly before 10 o'clock this morning.

THE DEAD:

Theodore Cadary, 45, R. F. D. No. 1, West Middlesex.

Mrs. Lucy Cadary, 52, R. F. D. No. 1, West Middlesex.

George Black, 70, Wheatland.

Leaving New Castle only a short time before the crash, the Erie train, of which C. W. Thompson, this city, was conductor, struck the Cadary car, a coach, while making good speed. Reports to E. & A. division offices here said the engine bell was ringing and its whistle blowing as the auto was struck. Reports said the car was driven directly onto the railroad tracks before the train.

Members of the train crew rushed to the demolished car as the train halted and extricated its occupants and placed them aboard the train to be rushed to a Sharon hospital. One of the men, reports said, was instantly killed, but the others died enroute to Sharon.

The automobile was demolished.

Pennsylvania officials here described the accident as the worst grade crossing crash to occur on the division in months.

Tried To Beat Train

Mrs. Cadary, according to Coroner William Applegate, of Mercer county, died of a fractured skull and broken neck. The two men died from skull fractures. The bodies were not mangled, he said.

According to Mrs. Nellie Brandt,

MOVE TO HAVE SINCLAIR WITHDRAW

New Dealers Are Very Much At Sea

Attitude Of Roosevelt Administration Is Problem Of Campaign

ROOSEVELT SILENT AS TO ATTITUDE

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent
Copyright, 1934, By International News Service

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1—When the history of this unusual campaign of 1934 is written there will be no stranger chapter than that which attempts to depict the attitude of the Roosevelt administration toward Upton Sinclair's "EPIC" candidacy for governorship of California.

Democratic "New Dealers" have been divided upon it from the outset, one group contending that the erstwhile socialist is logically entitled to administration support, just as any other Democratic candidate, the other maintaining with vigor that the party could not "afford" to be tied up with a candidacy so baldly radical as that of Sinclair. They still are divided.

Roosevelt Silent

Between these two groups, President Roosevelt has kept silent and said nothing. He received Sinclair at summer White House at Hyde Park, permitted him to do all the talking after their long chat, and neither by word or deed indicated support of or opposition to Sinclair's novel plan for making over California economically.

The latest development in this somewhat bizarre situation came today when it was learned the anti-Sinclair wing of the Democratic strategists are making an eleven-hour effort to have the "EPIC" socialist withdraw from the race in favor of the "progressive-commonwealth" candidate, Raymond L. Haight.

With that object in view, J. F. T. O'Connor, comptroller of the currency, an adopted Californian, and a former law partner of Senator W. K. McAdoo has flown to California to try his persuasive wiles on Sinclair. Efforts to obtain White House approval of his mission were unsuccessful before his departure.

Loan Is Refused

As the story is told in Washington's inner political circles, Sinclair telephoned a prominent California banker in New York last week, whom he apparently believed was not unfriendly, at least not bitterly unfriendly to his candidacy, Sinclair said, in effect, that he was by no means licked in California, polls to the contrary notwithstanding, and that with a modest loan for organization purposes he was certain of victory.

The banker is reported to have listened attentively, and then given a tentatively negative reply to a request for a loan. Thereafter he caught the first train for Washington, where he endeavored to ascertain just exactly how the White House felt toward Sinclair's candidacy. He wanted to know precisely whether the White House wanted to see Sinclair elected or defeated. All he got for his pains was just about what every other inquirer has got—that the White House is keeping entirely aloof from the EPIC (no pun) struggle in California, and would continue to do so.

Then the idea was conceived among the anti-Sinclair strategists among the Democrats here that perhaps Sinclair could be persuaded to withdraw. They reasoned that the fact he was seeking financial assistance augured a weakness which might make Sinclair amenable to reason. And they hit upon J. F. T. ("Jefty") O'Connor as the missionary.

O'Connor then sought White House approval of his mission. He thought if he could go to Sinclair and say the White House desired him to withdraw it would have a powerful persuasive effect. But he did not even see Mr. Roosevelt. He was informed that if he desired to make his pilgrimage as an individual Democrat, as a Californian, that was his business. But as for Mr. Roosevelt, he was keeping entirely out of California's Democratic squabble. O'Connor left disappointed.

Fred raised his rifle and fired in the darkness of the early morning, according to the coroner.

The bullet ripped through Krumrine's right hip and emerged from the side.

District Attorney W. I. Anderson was notified and was expected to institute prosecution.

Shot In Leg

Greensburg, Pa., Nov. 1.—David Gregory, 33, Mt. Pleasant, was the first Westmoreland county hunting victim reported today.

While hunting with a companion, Gregory was shot in the leg when his friend's gun was discharged. A physician removed 30 pellets from the victim's leg.

Shot In Eye

Pittsburgh, Nov. 1.—Shot in the left eye, George Steiner, motorcycle policeman of suburban Etna, was the first hunting victim reported in this district today.

Steiner, victim of a friend's accidental shot, was removed to St. Vincent's hospital where his condition was not regarded as serious.

Indiana Youth Killed

Snyder, shot through the shoulder by Frank Barnett, 17, also of Indiana, died a half hour later while being taken into the emergency room at Indiana hospital.

When Snyder missed a shot at a rabbit, Barnett told authorities he raised his gun. Just as he discharged the bullet, Snyder stepped from behind a corn shock into the path of fire and dropped.

Snyder's death was the first of the hunting season in Western Pennsylvania. Barnett was not held but only questioned while authorities investigated the tragedy.

NEW CHARGES BY SENATOR REED IN STATE CAMPAIGN

H. Jones, chairman of the R. F. C., expressing doubt of the truth of Reed's charge, Jones at Washington said:

"I'd wager big odds that it didn't happen. I'd like to see it in black on white to believe it."

Loans to Pennsylvania firms, Jones said, would clear either through the Philadelphia or Pittsburgh offices of the R. F. C., and he added: "I'm perfectly sure that it couldn't have happened in either of those offices."

In voicing his accusation, Reed said the alleged "shakedowns" were executed by Pennsylvania Democrats apparently without the knowledge of Jones or other high officials of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

"Don't Know What's Going On"

"The reason for that is that they don't know what is going on in Pennsylvania in this campaign," Reed said.

He added that he would refuse to name the purportedly victimized borrowers "until such time as they arrange to have banks take over the obligations the moment they are called by R. F. C."

Voters today waited an answer from Joseph F. Guffey, who is campaigning to capture Reed's seat, or any other Democratic candidate or official to the senator's "shakedown" charge. In many quarters Reed's allegation was regarded as at least an indirect reply to the oft-repeated charge that big companies have been coercing their employes to vote Republican next Tuesday.

Addresses Big Meeting

While Reed and his gubernatorial runningmate, Attorney General William A. Schnader, were addressing a monster gathering of Wyoming valley citizens at Wilkes-Barre, Guffey was telling a large audience in Reading last night that severance of party lines has heralded a "political revolution" designed to overthrow the old deal and enthrone the new.

George H. Earle, the Democratic candidate for governor, meantime, was promising Philadelphia voters that, if elected, he will end "government by selfish minorities" and institute "government by and for the people".

Gov. Gifford Pinchot in another ringing address at McKeesport, again lashed at Guffey and Earle, whom he termed "inside enemies" of the Roosevelt regime. He demanded to know where Guffey obtained $150,000 of the $400,000 he repaid the government after relinquishing his post as wartime director of sales for the alien property custodian.

The governor, who is actively supporting Schnader's gubernatorial candidacy, charged that this $150,000 was "written off" by the federal government as a reward for Guffey's work.

Schuykill county and the anthracite region were the centers of campaign activities today, with only five days remaining before the commonwealth's millions of voters express their choice.

The Democratic squadron of nominees invaded Pottsville, while the Republicans descended upon Scranton, scene of intensive efforts on the part of both major parties during the current drive for ballots.

Lie Detector Plan Rejected

Attorney For Hauptmann Will Not Allow Lie Detector To Be Used On Subject

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1—An offer to apply the lie detector test to Bruno Richard Hauptmann accussed Lindbergh slaying suspect, was angrily rejected today by James M. Fawcett, counsel for Hauptmann.

The offer was made on behalf of William Moulton Marston, well known in criminologist circles for his invention of the lie detector.

"I am not having any tests of any kind made" Fawcett said, when told of the offer by Marston. "I don't want any psychoanalyst tests or any other tests. I am more interested in getting facts of the case and preparing them."

Fawcett was then asked if he would object if the state of New Jersey applied the lie detector to Hauptmann in the Flemington jail.

"I certainly would object," Fawcett said, angrily. "I wouldn't stand for it. I never heard of such a ridiculous idea. I don't believe the lie detector works anyways."

Mark Hallowe'en In Exercises At Croton

Youngsters' Program Enjoyed By Schoolmates; Spooky Play Features

Children of the 5A class of the Croton school presented a clever Hallowe'en play during school hours yesterday.

Decorated in gay fall colors, the room was filled with corn shocks, pumpkins and autumn foliage. The play, "On All Soul's Eve" was presented at three different periods.

Miss Margaret E. Thomas, dramatic teacher, was assisted by Miss Ann Thomas, music teacher: Miss Claudia Bauman, art teacher and Miss Sara Owen, with make-up and costumes.

The complete program follows:

"From where I was standing that is the way it appeared to me," she said.

"After the crash, I saw a woman flying through the air and the two men were also thrown from the car.

"The woman was thrown into a ditch on one side of the track and the men on the other. The automobile was dragged for about 45 feet before it was thrown off to one side.

"The machine was demolished. Those in it were killed instantly."

The train crew was absolved of blame by Dr. Applegate. The latter returned a verdict of accidental death this afternoon and announced no inquest would be necessary.

"I don't see how it could have happened. The only explanation is that Cadary, who was driving, attempted to beat the train across the tracks. The engine whistle had been blown at two other crossings and a good view of the tracks is possible at the scene of the accident," the coroner said.

The train was traveling about 50 miles an hour, according to the coroner.

Dr. Applegate said Black had been in the habit of getting milk from the Cadarys and that they apparently were taking him home after a visit to their farm about a mile and a half outside of Wheatland.

entrance, the crowds actually broke through. Soldiers and marines were summoned to augment extra police in maintaining order.

Attendance figures for the closing day—and night—shattered all 1934 records and nearly matched the all-time record of 367,004 established on September 3, 1933. Long before the closing ceremonies began yesterday the sixteen millionth visitor for 1934 entered the grounds.

At midnight Rufus C. Dawes, president of the World's fair, threw an electric switch announcing the exposition's close. The signal loosed a thunder of fireworks that rocked the ground and set the skies aflame along a two-mile front on Lake Michigan.

FATAL QUARREL AT CHESS

(International News Service)

BOMBAY—What is believed to be the first case of a fatal quarrel at Chess occurred at Simla. Two cousins were playing peaceably until one claimed to have "queened" a pawn. The other denied it, and the two men came to blows. One received injuries from which he died.

Deaths of the Day

E. C. McClelland Funeral

Funeral services for Edwin C. McClelland, North Beaver township, were held from the home Wednesday afternoon with friends and relatives overflowing the home and filling the home of J. Holmes McClelland, nearby.

The beauty and abundance of the floral tributes were silent testimonies of the extreme popularity of the deceased.

The rites were conducted by the Rev. Ross M. Haverfield of Monongahela City, a former pastor of the Westfield Presbyterian church, assisted by the Rev. Raymond McClelland of Fredericktown, Ohio a retired minister of 86 years of age, and a cousin of the deceased.

Pallbearers were members of the board of directors of the Golden Dale Creamery of which Mr. McClelland had been secretary for years: J. Clifford Wallace, J. Clarence McFate, David Woods, Perry Heiber, P. B. Hayes and Bert Gouchler. Interment was made in the Mt. Jackson cemetery.

Mrs. George E. Vandivere

Word has been received by friends here of the death of Mrs. George E. Vandivere, at her home in Clyde, O. Tuesday, October 30.

The Vandiveres were former residents of the Seventh Ward, he being a retired Baltimore and Ohio man.

Funeral services will be held on Friday at 1:30 p. m. from the home in Clyde, Ohio.

Time Of Funeral

Funeral services for A. W. Williams, Grove City, will be held from the First Methodist church of Grove City Friday at 2 p. m.

Interment will be made in a Grove City cemetery.

The two airmen will confer with army weather officials this morning and if it is deemed advisable the starting time may be delayed until later in the day, probably 3 p. m. local time.

Several minor rain disturbances were expected to be encountered, but generally the weather along the route to the mainland was satisfactory.

A heavy rainstorm which had lingered midway between the Hawaiian islands and the Pacific coast for five days has passed inland. This storm had delayed an earlier takeoff.

The flight was exepcted to take between 18 and 20 hours.

HUNTING SEASON IS OPENED TODAY

quail and six squirrels may be legally killed. Federal regulations have cut the number of ducks of a combined kind to 12, and only five of any particular species.

The coming season promises to be a strenuous one for game, as more hunters have purchased licenses this year than ever before in the history of the county. This is due in a great measure to the large number of men who are unemployed. It is likely that the largest bag of game ever recorded in the state will be reported to game authorities.

MOVE TO HAVE SINCLAIR WITHDRAW

New Dealers Are Very Much At Sea

Attitude Of Roosevelt Administration Is Problem Of Campaign

ROOSEVELT SILENT AS TO ATTITUDE

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent
Copyright, 1934, By International News Service

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1—When the history of this unusual campaign of 1934 is written there will be no stranger chapter than that which attempts to depict the attitude of the Roosevelt administration toward Upton Sinclair's "EPIC" candidacy for governorship of California.

Democratic "New Dealers" have been divided upon it from the outset, one group contending that the erstwhile socialist is logically entitled to administration support, just as any other Democratic candidate, the other maintaining with vigor that the party could not "afford" to be tied up with a candidacy so baldly radical as that of Sinclair. They still are divided.

Roosevelt Silent

Between these two groups, President Roosevelt has kept silent and said nothing. He received Sinclair at summer White House at Hyde Park, permitted him to do all the talking after their long chat, and neither by word or deed indicated support of or opposition to Sinclair's novel plan for making over California economically.

The latest development in this somewhat bizarre situation came today when it was learned the anti-Sinclair wing of the Democratic strategists are making an eleven-hour effort to have the "EPIC" socialist withdraw from the race in favor of the "progressive-commonwealth" candidate, Raymond L. Haight.

With that object in view, J. F. T. O'Connor, comptroller of the currency, an adopted Californian, and a former law partner of Senator W. K. McAdoo has flown to California to try his persuasive wiles on Sinclair. Efforts to obtain White House approval of his mission were unsuccessful before his departure.

Loan Is Refused

As the story is told in Washington's inner political circles, Sinclair telephoned a prominent California banker in New York last week, whom he apparently believed was not unfriendly, at least not bitterly unfriendly to his candidacy, Sinclair said, in effect, that he was by no means licked in California, polls to the contrary notwithstanding, and that with a modest loan for organization purposes he was certain of victory.

The banker is reported to have listened attentively, and then given a tentatively negative reply to a request for a loan. Thereafter he caught the first train for Washington, where he endeavored to ascertain just exactly how the White House felt toward Sinclair's candidacy. He wanted to know precisely whether the White House wanted to see Sinclair elected or defeated. All he got for his pains was just about what every other inquirer has got—that the White House is keeping entirely aloof from the EPIC (no pun) struggle in California, and would continue to do so.

Then the idea was conceived among the anti-Sinclair strategists among the Democrats here that perhaps Sinclair could be persuaded to withdraw. They reasoned that the fact he was seeking financial assistance augured a weakness which might make Sinclair amenable to reason. And they hit upon J. F. T. ("Jefty") O'Connor as the missionary.

O'Connor then sought White House approval of his mission. He thought if he could go to Sinclair and say the White House desired him to withdraw it would have a powerful persuasive effect. But he did not even see Mr. Roosevelt. He was informed that if he desired to make his pilgrimage as an individual Democrat, as a Californian, that was his business. But as for Mr. Roosevelt, he was keeping entirely out of California's Democratic squabble. O'Connor left disappointed.

The senior high school band headed the line of march with the Benjamin Franklin junior high school band, the Sons of Veterans Drum Corps and the Croton Drum Corps heading divisions following. In spite of the fact that the rain meant trouble for the drum heads the bands stuck to heir posts and gave the parade the musical touch it needed.

Maurice Markley, the general chairman of the evening, was gratified with the success of the celebration as was Ivor V. Davis, grand marshal. The division marshals consisted of Major Guy J. Wadlinger, Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard, John D. Kennedy and Coroner Orville Potter.

Lots of Prizes.

There were lots of prizes but not enough of course. The prizes were all in cash and ranged from a dime to a $5 bill. The judges had their work cut out deciding who was better than who and while the ones who were given prizes deserved them, the judges were sorry they didn't have twice the number to put out.

The celebration was under the auspices of the South Side Board of Trade and the South Side merchants. The fact that the entire evening was a whale of a success is merely an indication of the work that was done by the men in charge of the affair.

Lie Detector Plan Rejected

Attorney For Hauptmann Will Not Allow Lie Detector To Be Used On Subject

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1—An offer to apply the lie detector test to Bruno Richard Hauptmann accussed Lindbergh slaying suspect, was angrily rejected today by James M. Fawcett, counsel for Hauptmann.

The offer was made on behalf of William Moulton Marston, well known in criminologist circles for his invention of the lie detector.

"I am not having any tests of any kind made" Fawcett said, when told of the offer by Marston. "I don't want any psychoanalyst tests or any other tests. I am more interested in getting facts of the case and preparing them."

Fawcett was then asked if he would object if the state of New Jersey applied the lie detector to Hauptmann in the Flemington jail.

"I certainly would object," Fawcett said, angrily. "I wouldn't stand for it. I never heard of such a ridiculous idea. I don't believe the lie detector works anyways."

Mark Hallowe'en In Exercises At Croton

Youngsters Program Enjoyed By Schoolmates; Spooky Play Features

Children of the 5A class of the Croton school presented a clever Hallowe'en play during school hours yesterday.

Decorated in gay fall colors, the room was filled with corn shocks, pumpkins and autumn foliage. The play, "On All Soul's Eve" was presented at three different periods.

Miss Margaret E. Thomas, dramatic teacher, was assisted by Miss Ann Thomas, music teacher: Miss Claudia Bauman, art teacher and Miss Sara Owen, with make-up and costumes.

The complete program follows:
Piano solo—Christina Giancotti
Poem, "It's Hallowe'en"—Bobby McConnell
Ukulele solo—Roland Crisci
Play—"On All Soul's Eve"

The announcer was Filomena DeRosa and the stage managers were Joe Accica and Floyd Leonelli.

an eye-witness to the crash. Cadary apparently attempted to beat the train to the crossing.

"From where I was standing that is the way it appeared to me," she said.

"After the crash, I saw a woman flying through the air and the two men were also thrown from the car.

"The woman was thrown into a ditch on one side of the track and the men on the other. The automobile was dragged for about 45 feet before it was thrown off to one side.

"The machine was demolished. Those in it were killed instantly."

The train crew was absolved of blame by Dr. Applegate. The latter returned a verdict of accidental death this afternoon and announced no inquest would be necessary.

"I don't see how it could have happened. The only explanation is that Cadary, who was driving, attempted to beat the train across the tracks. The engine whistle had been blown at two other crossings and a good view of the tracks is possible at the scene of the accident," the coroner said.

The train was traveling about 50 miles an hour, according to the coroner.

Dr. Applegate said Black had been in the habit of getting milk from the Cadarys and that they apparently were taking him home after a visit to their farm about a mile and a half outside of Wheatland.

entrance, the crowds actually broke through. Soldiers and marines were summoned to augment extra police in maintaining order.

Attendance figures for the closing day—and night—shattered all 1934 records and nearly matched the all-time record of 367,004 established on September 3, 1933. Long before the closing ceremonies began yesterday the sixteen millionth visitor for 1934 entered the grounds.

At midnight Rufus C. Dawes, president of the World's fair, threw an electric switch announcing the exposition's close. The signal loosed a thunder of fireworks that rocked the ground and set the skies aflame along a two-mile front on Lake Michigan.

FATAL QUARREL AT CHESS

(International News Service)

BOMBAY—What is believed to be the first case of a fatal quarrel at Chess occurred at Simla. Two cousins were playing peaceably until one claimed to have "queened" a pawn. The other denied it, and the two men came to blows. One received injuries from which he died.

Deaths of the Day

E. C. McClelland Funeral

Funeral services for Edwin C. McClelland, North Beaver township, were held from the home Wednesday afternoon with friends and relatives overflowing the home and filling the home of J. Holmes McClelland, nearby.

The beauty and abundance of the floral tributes were silent testimonies of the extreme popularity of the deceased.

The rites were conducted by the Rev. Ross M. Haverfield of Monongahela City, a former pastor of the Westfield Presbyterian church, assisted by the Rev. Raymond McClelland of Fredericktown, Ohio, a retired minister of 86 years of age, and a cousin of the deceased.

Pallbearers were members of the board of directors of the Golden Dale Creamery of which Mr. McClelland had been secretary for years: J. Clifford Wallace, J. Clarence McFate, David Woods, Perry Helber, P. B. Hayes and Bert Gouchler. Interment was made in the Mt. Jackson cemetery.

Mrs. George E. Vandivere

Word has been received by friends here of the death of Mrs. George E. Vandivere, at her home in Clyde, O. Tuesday, October 30.

The Vandiveres were former residents of the Seventh Ward, he being a retired Baltimore and Ohio man.

Funeral services will be held on Friday at 1:30 p. m. from the home in Clyde, Ohio.

Time Of Funeral

Funeral services for A. W. Williams, Grove City, will be held from the First Methodist church of Grove City Friday at 2 p. m.

Interment will be made in a Grove City cemetery.

KINGSFORD-SMITH TO RESUME FLIGHT

The two airmen will confer with army weather officials this morning and if it is deemed advisable the starting time may be delayed until later in the day, probably 3 p. m. local time.

Several minor rain disturbances were expected to be encountered, but generally the weather along the route to the mainland was satisfactory.

A heavy rainstorm which had lingered midway between the Hawaiian islands and the Pacific coast for five days has passed inland. This storm had delayed an earlier takeoff.

The flight was exepcted to take between 18 and 20 hours.

quail and six squirrels may be legally killed. Federal regulations have cut the number of ducks of a combined kind to 12, and only five of any particular species.

The coming season promises to be a strenuous one for game, as more hunters have purchased licenses this year than ever before in the history of the county. This is due in a great measure to the large number of men who are unemployed. It is likely that the largest bag of game ever recorded in the state will be reported to game authorities.

MOVE TO HAVE SINCLAIR WITHDRAW

New Dealers Are Very Much At Sea

Attitude Of Roosevelt Administration Is Problem Of Campaign

ROOSEVELT SILENT AS TO ATTITUDE

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent
Copyright, 1934, By International News Service

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1—When the history of this unusual campaign of 1934 is written there will be no stranger chapter than that which attempts to depict the attitude of the Roosevelt administration toward Upton Sinclair's "EPIC" candidacy for governorship of California.

Democratic "New Dealers" have been divided upon it from the outset, one group contending that the erstwhile socialist is logically entitled to administration support, just as any other Democratic candidate, the other maintaining with vigor that the party could not "afford" to be tied up with a candidacy so baldly radical as that of Sinclair. They still are divided.

Roosevelt Silent

Between these two groups, President Roosevelt has kept silent and said nothing. He received Sinclair at summer White House at Hyde Park, permitted him to do all the talking after their long chat, and neither by word or deed indicated support of or opposition to Sinclair's novel plan for making over California economically.

The latest development in this somewhat bizarre situation came today when it was learned the anti-Sinclair wing of the Democratic strategists are making an eleven-hour effort to have the "EPIC" socialist withdraw from the race in favor of the "progressive-commonwealth" candidate, Raymond L. Haight.

With that object in view, J. F. T. O'Connor, comptroller of the currency, an adopted Californian, and a former law partner of Senator W. K. McAdoo has flown to California to try his persuasive wiles on Sinclair. Efforts to obtain White House approval of his mission were unsuccessful before his departure.

Loan Is Refused

As the story is told in Washington's inner political circles, Sinclair telephoned a prominent California banker in New York last week, whom he apparently believed was not unfriendly, at least not bitterly unfriendly to his candidacy, Sinclair said, in effect, that he was by no means licked in California, polls to the contrary notwithstanding, and that with a modest loan for organization purposes he was certain of victory.

The banker is reported to have listened attentively, and then given a tentatively negative reply to a request for a loan. Thereafter he caught the first train for Washington, where he endeavored to ascertain just exactly how the White House felt toward Sinclair's candidacy. He wanted to know precisely whether the White House wanted to see Sinclair elected or defeated. All he got for his pains was just about what every other inquirer has got—that the White House is keeping entirely aloof from the EPIC (no pun) struggle in California, and would continue to do so.

Then the idea was conceived among the anti-Sinclair strategists among the Democrats here that perhaps Sinclair could be persuaded to withdraw. They reasoned that the fact he was seeking financial assistance augured a weakness which might make Sinclair amenable to reason. And they hit upon J. F. T. ("Jefty") O'Connor as the missionary.

O'Connor then sought White House approval of his mission. He thought if he could go to Sinclair and say the White House desired him to withdraw it would have a powerful persuasive effect. But he did not even see Mr. Roosevelt. He was informed that if he desired to make his pilgrimage as an individual Democrat, as a Californian, that was his business. But as for Mr. Roosevelt, he was keeping entirely out of California's Democratic squabble. O'Connor left disappointed.

long gray beard, walked next to a ringnecked woman from Siam. Even the Dionne quintuplets were in the parade—they seemed to have grown considerably.

Pa Newc learns of a prominent local business man who thought he was immune from the pranks of practical jokers, who had a firecracker bomb attached to the wiring of his car last evening, much to his consternation.

No witch nor goblin could or would play the prank the Weather Man did last night. He waited until the witching hour of eight and then, when thousands upon thousands of spectators and paraders were lined along the South Side streets, he struck. But if his purpose was to spoil the parade, he was foiled. Yah!

A solid line of automobiles moved north on Moravia street for a solid half hour after the parade ended. The line extended from Long avenue to the public square. Even more cars jammed South Mill street. No one event of 1934 has drawn a larger assemblage of New Castle automobiles together. Parking space during the parade was at a premium and the cars stood in four-in-line covering the width of Sciota street.

West Washington street from Front street to Atlantic avenue is now open to traffic and, except for finishing touches, the job of repaving the mid-section from where the street car tracks had been removed has been completed. While the work was in progress traffic was detoured over Front street to Greenwood avenue.

"Safety First" is a good motto for hunters to keep in mind. Unless great care is taken, with thousands of hunters over the countrysides, accidents are bound to happen. Lose the rabbit or pheasant rather than chance shooting another hunter.

Fred raised his rifle and fired in the darkness of the early morning, according to the coroner.

The bullet ripped through Krumrine's right hip and emerged from the side.

District Attorney W. I. Anderson was notified and was expected to institute prosecution.

Shot In Leg

Greensburg, Pa., Nov. 1.—David Gregory, 33, Mt. Pleasant, was the first Westmoreland county hunting victim reported today.

While hunting with a companion, Gregory was shot in the leg when his friend's gun was discharged. A physician removed 30 pellets from the victim's leg.

Shot In Eye

Pittsburgh, Nov. 1.—Shot in the left eye, George Steiner, motorcycle policeman of suburban Etna, was the first hunting victim reported in this district today.

Steiner, victim of a friend's accidental shot, was removed to St. Vincent's hospital where his condition was not regarded as serious.

Indiana Youth Killed

Snyder, shot through the shoulder by Frank Barnett, 17, also of Indiana, died a half hour later while being taken into the emergency room at Indiana hospital.

When Snyder missed a shot at a rabbit, Barnett told authorities he raised his gun. Just as he discharged the bullet, Snyder stepped from behind a corn shock into the path of fire and dropped.

Snyder's death was the first of the hunting season in Western Pennsylvania. Barnett was not held but only questioned while authorities investigated the tragedy.

NEW CHARGES BY SENATOR REED IN STATE CAMPAIGN

H. Jones, chairman of the R. F. C., expressing doubt of the truth of Reed's charge, Jones at Washington said:

"I'd wager big odds that it didn't happen. I'd like to see it in black on white to believe it."

Loans to Pennsylvania firms, Jones said, would clear either through the Philadelphia or Pittsburgh offices of the R. F. C., and he added: "I'm perfectly sure that it couldn't have happened in either of those offices."

In voicing his accusation, Reed said the alleged "shakedowns" were executed by Pennsylvania Democrats apparently without the knowledge of Jones or other high officials of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

"Don't Know What's Going On"

"The reason for that is that they don't know what is going on in Pennsylvania in this campaign," Reed said.

He added that he would refuse to name the purportedly victimized borrowers "until such time as they arrange to have banks take over the obligations the moment they are called by R. F. C."

Voters today waited an answer from Joseph F. Guffey, who is campaigning to capture Reed's seat, or any other Democratic candidate or official to the senator's "shakedown" charge. In many quarters Reed's allegation was regarded as at least an indirect reply to the oft-repeated charge that big companies have been coercing their employes to vote Republican next Tuesday.

Addresses Big Meeting

While Reed and his gubernatorial runningmate, Attorney General William A. Schnader, were addressing a monster gathering of Wyoming valley citizens at Wilkes-Barre, Guffey was telling a large audience in Reading last night that severance of party lines has heralded a "political revolution" designed to overthrow the old deal and enthrone the new.

George H. Earle, the Democratic candidate for governor, meantime, was promising Philadelphia voters that, if elected, he will end "government by selfish minorities" and institute "government by and for the people".

Gov. Gifford Pinchot in another ringing address at McKeesport, again lashed at Guffey and Earle, whom he termed "inside enemies" of the Roosevelt regime. He demanded to know where Guffey obtained $150,000 of the $400,000 he repaid the government after relinquishing his post as wartime director of sales for the alien property custodian.

The governor, who is actively supporting Schnader's gubernatorial candidacy, charged that this $150,000 was "written off" by the federal government as a reward for Guffey's work.

Schuykill county and the anthracite region were the centers of campaign activities today, with only five days remaining before the commonwealth's millions of voters express their choice.

The Democratic squadron of nominees invaded Pottsville, while the Republicans descended upon Scranton, scene of intensive efforts on the part of both major parties during the current drive for ballots.

thousand in line. On foot, on horse and in bedecked automobiles the line moved along in four divisions. Mae West was all mixed up with wild men from Borneo and dancing coryphees were flanked by tramps and gentlemen in evening dress.

Mention of the parade would be incomplete without some reference to the bands. The senior high school band headed the line of march with the Benjamin Franklin junior high school band, the Sons of Veterans Drum Corps and the Croton Drum Corps heading divisions following. In spite of the fact that the rain meant trouble for the drum heads the bands stuck to heir posts and gave the parade the musical touch it needed.

Lie Detector Plan Rejected

Attorney For Hauptmann Will Not Allow Lie Detector To Be Used On Subject

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1—An offer to apply the lie detector test to Bruno Richard Hauptmann accussed Lindbergh slaying suspect, was angrily rejected today by James M. Fawcett, counsel for Hauptmann.

The offer was made on behalf of William Moulton Marston, well known in criminologist circles for his invention of the lie detector.

"I am not having any tests of any kind made" Fawcett said, when told of the offer by Marston. "I don't want any psychoanalyst tests or any other tests. I am more interested in getting facts of the case and preparing them."

Fawcett was then asked if he would object if the state of New Jersey applied the lie detector to Hauptmann in the Flemington jail.

"I certainly would object," Fawcett said, angrily. "I wouldn't stand for it. I never heard of such a ridiculous idea. I don't believe the lie detector works anyways."

an eye-witness to the crash. Cadary apparently attempted to beat the train to the crossing.

"From where I was standing that is the way it appeared to me," she said.

"After the crash, I saw a woman flying through the air and the two men were also thrown from the car.

"The woman was thrown into a ditch on one side of the track and the men on the other. The automobile was dragged for about 45 feet before it was thrown off to one side.

"The machine was demolished. Those in it were killed instantly."

The train crew was absolved of blame by Dr. Applegate. The latter returned a verdict of accidental death this afternoon and announced no inquest would be necessary.

"I don't see how it could have happened. The only explanation is that Cadary, who was driving, attempted to beat the train across the tracks. The engine whistle had been blown at two other crossings and a good view of the tracks is possible at the scene of the accident," the coroner said.

The train was traveling about 50 miles an hour, according to the coroner.

Dr. Applegate said Black had been in the habit of getting milk from the Cadarys and that they apparently were taking him home after a visit to their farm about a mile and a half outside of Wheatland.

E. C. McClelland Funeral

Funeral services for Edwin C. McClelland, North Beaver township, were held from the home Wednesday afternoon with friends and relatives overflowing the home and filling the home of J. Holmes McClelland, nearby.

The beauty and abundance of the floral tributes were silent testimonies of the extreme popularity of the deceased.

The rites were conducted by the Rev. Ross M. Haverfield of Monongahela City, a former pastor of the Westfield Presbyterian church, assisted by the Rev. Raymond McClelland of Frederickstown, Ohio a retired minister of 86 years of age, and a cousin of the deceased.

Pallbearers were members of the board of directors of the Golden Dale Creamery of which Mr. McClelland had been secretary for years: J. Clifford Wallace, J. Clarence McFate, David Woods, Perry Heiber, P. B. Hayes and Bert Gouchler. Interment was made in the Mt. Jackson cemetery.

Mrs. George E. Vandivere

Word has been received by friends here of the death of Mrs. George E. Vandivere, at her home in Clyde, O. Tuesday, October 30.

The Vandiveres were former residents of the Seventh Ward, he being a retired Baltimore and Ohio man.

Funeral services will be held on Friday at 1:30 p. m. from the home in Clyde, Ohio.

Time Of Funeral

Funeral services for A. W. Williams, Grove City, will be held from the First Methodist church of Grove City Friday at 2 p. m.

Interment will be made in a Grove City cemetery.

MOVE TO HAVE SINCLAIR WITHDRAW

New Dealers Are Very Much At Sea

Attitude Of Roosevelt Administration Is Problem Of Campaign

ROOSEVELT SILENT AS TO ATTITUDE

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent
Copyright, 1934, By International News Service

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1—When the history of this unusual campaign of 1934 is written there will be no stranger chapter than that which attempts to depict the attitude of the Roosevelt administration toward Upton Sinclair's "EPIC" candidacy for governorship of California.

Democratic "New Dealers" have been divided upon it from the outset, one group contending that the erstwhile socialist is logically entitled to administration support, just as any other Democratic candidate, the other maintaining with vigor that the party could not "afford" to be tied up with a candidacy so baldly radical as that of Sinclair. They still are divided.

Roosevelt Silent

Between these two groups, President Roosevelt has kept silent and said nothing. He received Sinclair at summer White House at Hyde Park, permitted him to do all the talking after their long chat, and neither by word or deed indicated support of or opposition to Sinclair's novel plan for making over California economically.

The latest development in this somewhat bizarre situation came today when it was learned the anti-Sinclair wing of the Democratic strategists are making an eleven-hour effort to have the "EPIC" socialist withdraw from the race in favor of the "progressive-commonwealth" candidate, Raymond L. Haight.

With that object in view, J. F. T. O'Connor, comptroller of the currency, an adopted Californian, and a former law partner of Senator W. K. McAdoo has flown to California to try his persuasive wiles on Sinclair. Efforts to obtain White House approval of his mission were unsuccessful before his departure.

Loan Is Refused

As the story is told in Washington's inner political circles, Sinclair telephoned a prominent California banker in New York last week, whom he apparently believed was not unfriendly, at least not bitterly unfriendly to his candidacy, Sinclair said, in effect, that he was by no means licked in California, polls to the contrary notwithstanding, and that with a modest loan for organization purposes he was certain of victory.

The banker is reported to have listened attentively, and then given a tentatively negative reply to a request for a loan. Thereafter he caught the first train for Washington, where he endeavored to ascertain just exactly how the White House felt toward Sinclair's candidacy. He wanted to know precisely whether the White House wanted to see Sinclair elected or defeated. All he got for his pains was just about what every other inquirer has got—that the White House is keeping entirely aloof from the EPIC (no pun) struggle in California, and would continue to do so.

Then the idea was conceived among the anti-Sinclair strategists among the Democrats here that perhaps Sinclair could be persuaded to withdraw. They reasoned that the fact he was seeking financial assistance augured a weakness which might make Sinclair amenable to reason. And they hit upon J. F. T. ("Jefty") O'Connor as the missionary.

O'Connor then sought White House approval of his mission. He thought if he could go to Sinclair and say the White House desired him to withdraw it would have a powerful persuasive effect. But he did not even see Mr. Roosevelt. He was informed that if he desired to make his pilgrimage as an individual Democrat, as a Californian, that was his business. But as for Mr. Roosevelt, he was keeping entirely out of California's Democratic squabble. O'Connor left disappointed.

long gray beard, walked next to a ringnecked woman from Siam. Even the Dionne quintuplets were in the parade—they seemed to have grown considerably.

Pa Newc learns of a prominent local business man who thought he was immune from the pranks of practical jokers, who had a firecracker bomb attached to the wiring of his car last evening, much to his consternation.

No witch nor goblin could or would play the prank the Weather Man did last night. He waited until the witching hour of eight and then, when thousands upon thousands of spectators and paraders were lined along the South Side streets, he struck. But if his purpose was to spoil the parade, he was foiled. Yah!

A solid line of automobiles moved north on Moravia street for a solid half hour after the parade ended. The line extended from Long avenue to the public square. Even more cars jammed South Mill street. No one event of 1934 has drawn a larger assemblage of New Castle automobiles together. Parking space during the parade was at a premium and the cars stood in four-in-line covering the width of Sciota street.

West Washington street from Front street to Atlantic avenue is now open to traffic and, except for finishing touches, the job of repaving the mid-section from where the street car tracks had been removed has been completed. While the work was in progress traffic was detoured over Front street to Greenwood avenue.

"Safety First" is a good motto for hunters to keep in mind. Unless great care is taken, with thousands of hunters over the countrysides, accidents are bound to happen. Lose the rabbit or pheasant rather than chance shooting another hunter.

Fred raised his rifle and fired in the darkness of the early morning, according to the coroner.

The bullet ripped through Krumrine's right hip and emerged from the side.

District Attorney W. I. Anderson was notified and was expected to institute prosecution.

Shot In Leg

Greensburg, Pa., Nov. 1.—David Gregory, 33, Mt. Pleasant, was the first Westmoreland county hunting victim reported today.

While hunting with a companion, Gregory was shot in the leg when his friend's gun was discharged. A physician removed 30 pellets from the victim's leg.

Shot In Eye

Pittsburgh, Nov. 1.—Shot in the left eye, George Steiner, motorcycle policeman of suburban Etna, was the first hunting victim reported in this district today.

Steiner, victim of a friend's accidental shot, was removed to St. Vincent's hospital where his condition was not regarded as serious.

Indiana Youth Killed

INDIANA, Pa., Nov. 1.—Accidentally shot and killed by his companion, James Snyder, 17, Indiana, became the first hunting victim in this county today.

Snyder, shot through the shoulder by Frank Barnett, 17, also of Indiana, died a half hour later while being taken into the emergency room at Indiana hospital.

When Snyder missed a shot at a rabbit, Barnett told authorities he raised his gun. Just as he discharged the bullet, Snyder stepped from behind a corn shock into the path of fire and dropped.

Snyder's death was the first of the hunting season in Western Pennsylvania. Barnett was not held but only questioned while authorities investigated the tragedy.

NEW CHARGES BY SENATOR REED IN STATE CAMPAIGN

H. Jones, chairman of the R. F. C., expressing doubt of the truth of Reed's charge, Jones at Washington said:

"I'd wager big odds that it didn't happen. I'd like to see it in black on white to believe it."

Loans to Pennsylvania firms, Jones said, would clear either through the Philadelphia or Pittsburgh offices of the R. F. C., and he added: "I'm perfectly sure that it couldn't have happened in either of those offices."

In voicing his accusation, Reed said the alleged "shakedowns" were executed by Pennsylvania Democrats apparently without the knowledge of Jones or other high officials of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

"Don't Know What's Going On"

"The reason for that is that they don't know what is going on in Pennsylvania in this campaign," Reed said.

He added that he would refuse to name the purportedly victimized borrowers "until such time as they arrange to have banks take over the obligations the moment they are called by R. F. C."

Voters today waited an answer from Joseph F. Guffey, who is campaigning to capture Reed's seat, or any other Democratic candidate or official to the senator's "shakedown" charge. In many quarters Reed's allegation was regarded as at least an indirect reply to the oft-repeated charge that big companies have been coercing their employes to vote Republican next Tuesday.

Addresses Big Meeting

While Reed and his gubernatorial runningmate, Attorney General William A. Schnader, were addressing a monster gathering of Wyoming valley citizens at Wilkes-Barre, Guffey was telling a large audience in Reading last night that severance of party lines has heralded a "political revolution" designed to overthrow the old deal and enthrone the new.

George H. Earle, the Democratic candidate for governor, meantime, was promising Philadelphia voters that, if elected, he will end "government by selfish minorities" and institute "government by and for the people".

Gov. Gifford Pinchot in another ringing address at McKeesport, again lashed at Guffey and Earle, whom he termed "inside enemies" of the Roosevelt regime. He demanded to know where Guffey obtained $150,000 of the $400,000 he repaid the government after relinquishing his post as wartime director of sales for the alien property custodian.

The governor, who is actively supporting Schnader's gubernatorial candidacy, charged that this $150,000 was "written off" by the federal government as a reward for Guffey's work.

Schuykill county and the anthracite region were the centers of campaign activities today, with only five days remaining before the commonwealth's millions of voters express their choice.

The Democratic squadron of nominees invaded Pottsville, while the Republicans descended upon Scranton, scene of intensive efforts on the part of both major parties during the current drive for ballots.

HALLOWE'EN PARADE DRAWS THOUSANDS TO SOUTH SIDE

thousand in line. On foot, on horse and in bedecked automobiles the line moved along in four divisions. Mae West was all mixed up with wild men from Borneo and dancing coryphees were flanked by tramps and gentlemen in evening dress.

Bands Aid Success

Mention of the parade would be incomplete without some reference to the bands. The senior high school band headed the line of march with the Benjamin Franklin junior high school band, the Sons of Veterans Drum Corps and the Croton Drum Corps heading divisions following. In spite of the fact that the rain meant trouble for the drum heads the bands stuck to heir posts and gave the parade the musical touch it needed.

Maurice Markley, the general chairman of the evening, was gratified with the success of the celebration as was Ivor V. Davis, grand marshal. The division marshals consisted of Major Guy J. Wadlinger, Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard, John D. Kennedy and Coroner Orville Potter.

Lots of Prizes.

There were lots of prizes but not enough of course. The prizes were all in cash and ranged from a dime to a $5 bill. The judges had their work cut out deciding who was better than who and while the ones who were given prizes deserved them, the judges were sorry they didn't have twice the number to put out.

The celebration was under the auspices of the South Side Board of Trade and the South Side merchants. The fact that the entire evening was a whale of a success is merely an indication of the work that was done by the men in charge of the affair.

Larger Prizes.

The following list shows the prize winners who were awarded prizes of one dollar or more. The smaller prizes—and there were 150 of them—were not recorded.

Lie Detector Plan Rejected

Attorney For Hauptmann Will Not Allow Lie Detector To Be Used On Subject

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1—An offer to apply the lie detector test to Bruno Richard Hauptmann accussed Lindbergh slaying suspect, was angrily rejected today by James M. Fawcett, counsel for Hauptmann.

The offer was made on behalf of William Moulton Marston, well known in criminologist circles for his invention of the lie detector.

"I am not having any tests of any kind made" Fawcett said, when told of the offer by Marston. "I don't want any psychoanalyst tests or any other tests. I am more interested in getting facts of the case and preparing them."

Fawcett was then asked if he would object if the state of New Jersey applied the lie detector to Hauptmann in the Flemington jail. "I certainly would object," Fawcett said, angrily. "I wouldn't stand for it. I never heard of such a ridiculous idea. I don't believe the lie detector works anyways."

Mark Hallowe'en In Exercises At Croton

Youngsters' Program Enjoyed By Schoolmates; Spooky Play Features

Children of the 5A class of the Croton school presented a clever Hallowe'en play during school hours yesterday.

Decorated in gay fall colors, the room was filled with corn shocks, pumpkins and autumn foliage. The play, "On All Soul's Eve" was presented at three different periods.

Miss Margaret E. Thomas, dramatic teacher, was assisted by Miss Ann Thomas, music teacher: Miss Claudia Bauman, art teacher and Miss Sara Owen, with make-up and costumes.

The complete program follows:

Piano solo—Christina Giancotti

Poem, "It's Hallowe'en"—Bobby McConnell

Ukulele solo—Roland Crisci

Play—"On All Soul's Eve"

INFORMAL PARTY AT ROWLAND RESIDENCE

In keeping with the season, another party of Wednesday evening that proved most enjoyable was that given by the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Rowland, Olive, Gertrude and Mrs. Francis Tinsley, in their home on Superior street when they entertained friends informally at a Hallowe'en event.

The house was cleverly decorated in the festive ornaments, orange and black tones predominating thruout, creating a weird setting. Dancing, games and contests featured the hours, and at a suitable time the guests were served an appetizing lunch in the dining room. The large table was centered with a huge laughing pumpkin face, and other novelties of the same nature completed the arrangements Mrs. Rowland and daughters served.

Hallowe'en Party

Members of the Epworth League of the Italian M. E. church enjoyed a delightful evening recently, at a Hallowe'en party held in the basement of the church.

Miss Virginia Lalamo, was awarded the prize for the most attractive costume. Joseph Lalamo won the prize for wearing the funniest attire. Other prizes went to: Gifford DeEulio, Frank Sylvester and Miss Sue Giancola. Games proved the chief diversion.

At an appropriate time, delicious refreshments were served by: Rose Gillest, chairman, Miss Peggy DeEulio, Miss Ann Bailey and Miss Ida Schnackel.

Party On Birthday

Mrs. James Walsh, of the Harlansburg road, entertained a number of young folks at a Hallowe'en party, Tuesday evening, as a compliment to her daughter, Doris Jean, who was nine years of age.

Games were the pastimes with novel prizes for the winners. Shirley Hammond entertained with several acrobatic dances which pleased. A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Walsh assisted by Doris Jean. The honor guest was presented with a number of lovely gifts.

A. G. P. Club Guests.

The A. G. P. club members were pleasingly received Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Robert Clarke on Butler avenue, for their regular session. Mrs. John Moore was a special guest of the club women.

Contests in 500 formed the pastime, prizes being won by Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Tillie Hartman.

In two weeks, Mrs. John Earl of the Hoyt apartments will entertain.

COSMO CLUB FROLIC HALLOWE'EN EVENT

Ghosts, goblins, spooks and weird mummers everywhere Hallowe'en eve, scampering about, and taking part in the many features held in celebration of "witchery" didn't detract any from the New Castle Field Club party Wednesday evening, when the Cosmo club staged a Hallowe'en dance for members and their friends. The occasion proved an outstanding success in every detail, and was voted one of the most enjoyable of the season, by those who participated.

Activities began at 9:30 o'clock with a dance program of lively and enchanting music being played by a popular orchestra and featured Miss Billie E. Glenn, local talented young tap dancer, who appeared in a snappy silver and black costume. She responded to several encores.

Over a hundred and twenty five couples were present and during the evening novelty fancy hats of orange and black, noise makers of all descriptions and other nick-nacks were distributed, adding to the gaiety of the entertainment. Special favors were presented the women, marking a new feature in the annals of the club. The Field Club ball room was attractively decorated in true Hallowe'en fashion, making a perfect background for the merry-makers.

At mid-night, sandwiches and refreshments appropriate to the evening's celebration, were served. Among the local guests, mingled many from Sharon, Aliquippa, Youngstown, Pittsburgh and other cities.

The committee responsible for the success of the party included—H. Ruzewich, I. Grossman, Arch Slovensky, H. Levine, H. Wolfe, David Victor, Ben Brown, Dr. H. Sloan, J. Lebby, Dr. H. Botwin, and T. Frank.

Party At Hay Home.

Last evening Mrs. Frank Hay of Gardner entertained a group of friends in her home at a Hallowe'en party. The rooms were spooky with various orange and black decorations, and in guessing "who was who" Mrs. Jane Johnston captured the prize. In the games and contests, favors were presented to Mrs. R. J. Frederick, Mrs. C. Harris and Mrs. Alec McConahy.

In serving lunch, the hostess was assisted by Ann Moser.

Class Party

Members of the Rose of Sharon class, of the Croton avenue M. E. church will have their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Lillian Johns, of East Brook, Friday evening. Members will assemble at the home of Mrs. Frank Doerr, of Croton avenue, at 7:30, where transportation will be provided.

JOLLY TEN PARTY AT LEOHNER HOME

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Leohner had their Highland avenue home cleverly decorated in Hallowe'en style Tuesday evening when they received the Jolly Ten for an evening of games and conversation.

After a period of games Mrs. Phoebe Patton and John Pattison were awarded prizes and a delicious lunch further carried out the seasonal suggestions.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McArthur of Youngstown, O., were out of town guests, and they invited the club members to meet with them for the November meeting.

PARENTS OF COUPLE SHARE ANNIVERSARIES

It is a rare occasion, indeed, when the parents of a couple celebrate 50 years of wedded life together, and is an incident worthy of special mention, the facts just being casually revealed today while talking to Homer L. Glenn of Slippery Rock R. D. 3, who stated his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Glenn of Portersville, were married 50 years on September 20, and his wife's parents covered the same period of time together on May 30, they being Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Humphrey of Jacksville.

It was a gala celebration at Jacksville where their families, friends, neighbors and relatives assembled at the Humphrey residence and shared in the festivities, both couples receiving many beautiful gifts appropriate to the occasion. Also, a family dinner, messages and the usual list of callers from distant and nearby vicinities, marked the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Glenn are the parents of three children, Mrs. J. M. Reichert of Antioch, Calif.; Mrs. George Dickey and Homer L. Glenn of Slippery Rock; while Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey were blessed with 11 children. They are: J. Roy Humphrey, Mrs. Homer Glenn, F. L. Humphrey, Howard Humphrey, Mrs. George Book and Jennings Humphrey, all of Slippery Rock; Mrs. Frank Shields and Howard of Portersville, F. W. Humphrey of Latrobe, C. G. Humphrey of Grove City and Victor Humphrey of Prospect. All were present at the event and 30 grandchildren also participated.

CLUB ASSOCIATES HALLOWE'EN GUESTS

Orange and black tones, accented through an attractive centerpiece of Chinese lanterns and bittersweet, between tall orange tapers in black crystal holders prevailed in late supper appointments last evening at the home of Mrs. Arthur Hawk on Englewood avenue, when she received associates in the B. N. W. club.

Lovely orange and black china combined with clever favors and in serving a menu of Hallowe'en delicacies, the hostess was assisted by Mrs. L. O. Nicholseon.

Mrs. Bessie Evans and Mrs. Mildred Gearing were among the guests and at bridge, preceding, favors fell to Mrs. Roy Smith and Mrs. Welty Nicholson.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. L. O. Nicholson on Hamilton street, November 21.

ELKS CARD PARTY ON FRIDAY NIGHT

With this week so filled with Hallowe'en parties, it would seem there wouldn't be time for "regularly" scheduled events, but then, perhaps, the week, itself, is all the better, for an out-of-the-ordinary atmosphere always lends more than usual attraction to any party.

Even though the holiday will have passed by Friday, the Elks and their many friends are eagerly anticipating the third in a series of card affairs which will be a prominent event of that evening. Under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Max Ludwig, hosts, preparation are going forward to make this occasion even more outstanding than previous ones. The hour is 8 o'clock.

Petro-Sop Marriage.

Conveying interest to a number of local people is the announcement of the marriage of Kathryn Petro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Petro of the Butler road, and Michael Sop, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Sop of Masury, O.

The double ring ceremony took place October 27 in the Ukranian Holy Trinity church on Rose avenue, with Rev. Father Senchuk reading the service.

Mrs. Mike Smetana was matron of honor and Miss Mary Petro maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Misses Julia Maker of McKees Rocks, Helene Nasal, Anna Yagersky, Anna Dodo and Anna Smetana of this city.

Ushers were John Gaydos of Sharon, Paul Petro of New Castle, Mike Maker of McKees Rocks, Stephen Sop of Zlasky, O., and Joseph Kraynak of Ellwood City.

At noon a delicious dinner was served at the bride's home, followed by a reception in Petro's hall.

Sunday, the entire bridal party motored to the home of the groom, where an elegant dinner was served and a reception held. Guests were present from Youngstown, Akron, Cleveland, Masury, Hickory Hill, McKees Rocks, Ellwood City, Sharon and New Castle.

The bride received a large number of beautiful and useful gifts. They will reside in Masury, O.

At Royal Home.

At the home of Mrs. D. M. Royal on Blaine street Wednesday evening the L. A. P. club with Mrs. Jane Montgomery, a guest, was entertained.

For amusement, the usual card game was provided, favors going to Mrs. William Hamil and Mrs. Carl Kahrer. Mrs. J. A. McWilliams assisted with lunch, throughout which Hallowe'en suggestions prevailed.

On November 16 the group will meet at the Hamil home on Huey street.

Taffy Pulling Affair

A taffy pulling affair last evening at the home of Charlotte Rogers on Carlisle street, followed a period of "Hallowe'ening" at the homes of North hill residents for a group of young girls. They report a wonderful time.

WILLIAMS HOME SCENE OF PARTY

Last evening, Hallowe'en eve, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Williams of Euclid avenue entertained at a colorful costume bridge in their home, the occasion being in celebration of the mummers season.

After a guessing contest, revealing the identity of the weird looking creatures for which Mrs. Robert Allshouse was awarded the prize, the guests turned their attention to a contest in cards. Mrs. LeRoy Shoaf and Earl Reeves carried off the trophies for holding honor scores.

The serving of a delicious lunch by the hostess, assisted by several in attendance, climaxed the evening's activities.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allshouse and Mrs. William Bryan of Youngstown, O., were out of town guests.

Postponement

Because there were so many other activities last evening, the meeting of the Knitting group planned for the home of Miss Janet Weddell of Wilmington avenue, was postponed until November 14.

CLUB GATHERING INFORMAL AFFAIR

Hallowe'en was more or less quiet, socially, most everybody, young and older folks alike, choosing to have their parties ahead of time so they would be free to see the big parade on the South Side last night.

However, there were a few informal events, and among these was an assembly of G. K. W. associates and guests in the home of Mrs. John Frampton on Highland place. The group numbered 18 and included Mrs. Earl Waddington, Mrs. Charles McIvor and Mrs. Paul Keely, visitors.

Cards and needlework were avenues of diversion with a Hallowe'en lunch, serving which, the hostess was aided by Mrs. James Edwards.

Mrs. Edwin Mehard extended an invitation for the next gathering in two weeks at her home, 917 Morton street.

Returns To Maplewood

Mrs. James S. Weaver, nee Margaret Craig, has returned to her home at Maplewood, N. J., after a short visit with her mother, Mrs. P. L. Craig, of East Lincoln avenue.

BARBARA USSELTON IS GUEST OF HONOR

An attractive party of last evening, Hallowe'en, that too, enfolded a double meaning, was the event given by Mr. and Mrs. Usselton in honor of their daughter Barbara, in celebration of her sixth birthday.

The affair took place in their home, Grant street, and wat attended by 16 little folks who came attired in many clever and original costumes. As they filed into the house they sat in silence until the "grand march" when "who's who" was guessed. A program of games followed with prizes awarded to Margaret Jean Richards, Alynn Armstrong, Ruth Collins and Joella Parker.

At a suitable hour the children were invited to the dining room, which was elaborately decorated in Hallowe'en style, orange and black appointments prevailing throughout. The large table was centered with a beautiful birthday cake, and after the guest of honoir blew the six candles out, she was given a collection of packages. When unwrapped, many lovely gifts were revealed. Miniature dolls and candy were favors at each place. Mrs. Usselton was assisted in serving a dainty menu by her sister, Mrs. Frank Veon. The latter and Ruth Cunningham of Newport were the out of town guests.

The singing of songs and an informal period concluded the entertainment.

Club Party Wednesday

Members of the Octova club with their husbands, enjoyed a Hallowe'en party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Rodgers on the Wilmington road, Wednesday evening. After an exciting time guessing "Who's Who," for which Mrs. Oliver Smith was awarded the prize, the participants indulged in a contest of bridge.

At conclusion of play, the hostess served an attractive lunch.

Amity Club

Tonight at 8 o'clock, members of the Amity club will gather in the home of Miss Rose Gillest, of Cunningham avenue.

INFORMAL DINNER AT TRAINOR HOME

Mrs. C. E. Trainor received a group of friends, informally, for dinner at seven o'clock Wednesday evening at her home on East Lincoln avenue.

There were covers for eight at the large table, exquisitely appointed with yellow and white tones, a beautiful bowl of baby mums, in like tints, being used for the centerpiece.

Evening hours were devoted to bridge with the favors falling to Mrs. J. H. Frew and Mrs. Robert A. Wallace.

EVENING AFFAIR PLANNED FOR FRIDAY

DeLace Cole has arranged the male part of the entertainment and Mettie Round the female part for the evening affair of the New Castle chapter 105, O. E. S., in the cathedral Friday, when a "county fair" will be in session.

Mrs. Anna Melvin and her committee have all arrangements completed and the members and friends of all chapters of Eastern Star will be welcomed.

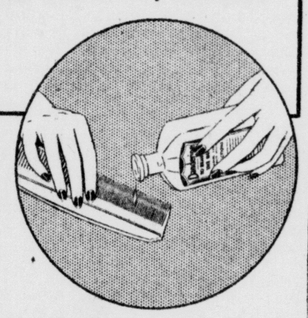
TWO SECONDS every morning
(the cost...a penny or less)
to be SURE of your Hair



DANDERINE makes you sure of your hair; takes two seconds to put on your comb

Less than a minute—less than a penny to be sure of your hair all day long! To know it's clean, and looks clean. To know it will stay as you arranged it. And to have a scalp free, at last, from dandruff.

That is what moistening your comb with a few drops of Danderine will do. And what no amount of dry-combing will ever do. Nearly all hair needs the help that Danderine gives it. A dash of Danderine morning and night when you comb it, makes an amazing difference in the way any hair looks all the time!

When you've washed your hair, a little Danderine will keep it from going helter-skelter. When you pay a dollar for a wave, Danderine will help you keep it.

It isn't a sticky dressing, or an oily tonic, and it doesn't leave a telltale odor. Its fresh fragrance vanishes shortly after applying—but not that marvelous effect of freshness and cleanliness!

With all the care a woman gives her hair, it's a pity to omit this last touch that means so much. It's no trouble. Yet you can hardly believe anything so mild and pleasant as Danderine could bring such a change in the condition and appearance of your hair and scalp. Just try it. You can buy a bottle of Danderine at any drug store for thirty-five cents; larger sizes, 60c and $1.00.

A SAFER WAY
to relieve constipation in any child . . .

This simple experiment has often meant a changed child, mothers.

A test that is easily made, and should be made, when children are occasionally upset or constipated.

Doctors urge a liquid laxative for children. The child who has been convalescing in a hospital, will usually come out with bowels working like a well-regulated watch. Hospitals give children a liquid laxative of suitable ingredients, suitable strength, and in suitable amount.

Children should never be given the strong catharties that are meant for adult use.

So, avoid all use of mineral drugs, whether they are salts, pills, tablets, or "candy" form. Even once a month is too often to give any child a cathartic containing powerful drugs.

The Proper Treatment

Give that sluggish child a liquid laxative containing senna (a natural laxative). California Syrup of Figs has the right amount for children's use, and this rich, fruity syrup does not upset them.

Just give any headachy, bilious child a little of this gentle laxative when constipated, and a little less if dose is repeated until bowels seem to be moving regularly and thoroughly without need of help.

When you change to California Syrup of Figs instead of harsh medicines, you'll risk no more violence to your child's appetite, digestion, and general physical condition. You'll have a safer, more satisfactory result, too.

So, get a bottle of California Syrup of Figs from your druggist, and start tonight, if your child is constipated, giving a good, cleansing dose. Repeat as necessary, giving a little less each time. That's the secret of this treatment —gradually reduced dosage.

Here is a simple way of finding out if any youngster with irregular or insufficient bowel movements is in need of relief, or getting the wrong treatment:

THE "LIQUID TEST"

This is the way to relieve occasional sluggishness, or constipation in a child of any age:

First: select a liquid laxative of the proper strength for children. Second: give the dose suited to the child's age, and condition. Third: reduce the dose, if repeated, until the bowels are moving without any help at all.

An ideal laxative for this purpose is California Syrup of Figs which every druggist keeps in stock. Be certain that it is the genuine product, with "California" blown in the bottle.

After a guessing contest, revealing the identity of the weird looking creatures for which Mrs. Robert Allshouse was awarded the prize, the guests turned their attention to a contest in cards. Mrs. LeRoy Shoaf and Earl Reeves carried off the trophies for holding honor scores.

The serving of a delicious lunch by the hostess, assisted by several in attendance, climaxed the evening's activities.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allshouse and Mrs. William Bryan of Youngstown, O., were out of town guests.

Postponement

Because there were so many other activities last evening, the meeting of the Knitting group planned for the home of Miss Janet Weddell of Wilmington avenue, was postponed until November 14.

CLUB GATHERING INFORMAL AFFAIR

Hallowe'en was more or less quiet socially, most everybody, young and older folks alike, choosing to have their parties ahead of time so they would be free to see the big parade on the South Side last night.

However, there were a few informal events, and among these was an assembly of G. K. W. associates and guests in the home of Mrs. John Frampton on Highland place. The group numbered 18 and included Mrs. Earl Waddington, Mrs. Charles McIvor and Mrs. Paul Keely, visitors.

Cards and needlework were avenues of diversion with a Hallowe'en lunch, serving which, the hostess was aided by Mrs. James Edwards.

Mrs. Edwin Mehard extended an invitation for the next gathering in two weeks at her home, 917 Morton street.

Returns To Maplewood

Mrs. James S. Weaver, nee Margaret Craig, has returned to her home at Maplewood, N. J., after a short visit with her mother, Mrs. P. L. Craig, of East Lincoln avenue.

BARBARA USSELTON IS GUEST OF HONOR

An attractive party of last evening, Hallowe'en, that too, enfolded a double meaning, was the event given by Mr. and Mrs. Usselton in honor of their daughter Barbara, in celebration of her sixth birthday.

The affair took place in their home, Grant street, and wat attended by 16 little folks who came attired in many clever and original costumes. As they filed into the house they sat in silence until the "grand march" when "who's who" was guessed. A program of games followed with prizes awarded to Margaret Jean Richards, Alynn Armstrong, Ruth Collins and Joella Parker.

At a suitable hour the children were invited to the dining room, which was elaborately decorated in Hallowe'en style, orange and black appointments prevailing throughout. The large table was centered with a beautiful birthday cake, and after the guest of honor blew the six candles out, she was given a collection of packages. When unwrapped, many lovely gifts were revealed. Miniature dolls and candy were favors at each place. Mrs. Usselton was assisted in serving a dainty menu by her sister, Mrs. Frank Veon. The latter and Ruth Cunningham of Newport were the out of town guests.

The singing of songs and an informal period concluded the entertainment.

Club Party Wednesday

Members of the Octova club with their husbands, enjoyed a Hallowe'en party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Rodgers on the Wilmington road, Wednesday evening. After an exciting time guessing "Who's Who," for which Mrs. Oliver Smith was awarded the prize, the participants indulged in a contest of bridge.

At conclusion of play, the hostess served an attractive lunch.

Amity Club

Tonight at 8 o'clock, members of the Amity club will gather in the home of Miss Rose Gillest, of Cunningham avenue.

INFORMAL DINNER AT TRAINOR HOME

Mrs. C. E. Trainor received a group of friends, informally, for dinner at seven o'clock Wednesday evening at her home on East Lincoln avenue.

There were covers for eight at the large table, exquisitely appointed with yellow and white tones, a beautiful bowl of baby mums, in like tints, being used for the centerpiece.

Evening hours were devoted to bridge with the favors falling to Mrs. J. H. Frew and Mrs. Robert A. Wallace.

EVENING AFFAIR PLANNED FOR FRIDAY

DeLace Cole has arranged the male part of the entertainment and Mettie Round the female part for the evening affair of the New Castle chapter 105, O. E. S., in the cathedral Friday, when a "county fair" will be in session.

Mrs. Anna Melvin and her committee have all arrangements completed and the members and friends of all chapters of Eastern Star will be welcomed.

TWO SECONDS every morning
(the cost...a penny or less)
to be SURE of your Hair

DANDERINE makes you sure of your hair; takes two seconds to put on your comb

Less than a minute—less than a penny to be sure of your hair all day long! To know it's clean, and looks clean. To know it will stay as you arranged it. And to have a scalp free, at last, from dandruff.

That is what moistening your comb with a few drops of Danderine will do. And what no amount of dry-combing will ever do. Nearly all hair needs the help that Danderine gives it. A dash of Danderine morning and night when you comb it, makes an amazing difference in the way any hair looks all the time!

When you've washed your hair, a little Danderine will keep it from going helter-skelter. When you pay a dollar for a wave, Danderine will help you keep it.

It isn't a sticky dressing, or an oily tonic, and it doesn't leave a telltale odor. Its fresh fragrance vanishes shortly after applying—but not that marvelous effect of freshness and cleanliness!

With all the care a woman gives her hair, it's a pity to omit this last touch that means so much. It's no trouble. Yet you can hardly believe anything so mild and pleasant as Danderine could bring such a change in the condition and appearance of your hair and scalp. Just try it. You can buy a bottle of Danderine at any drug store for thirty-five cents; larger sizes, 60c and $1.00.

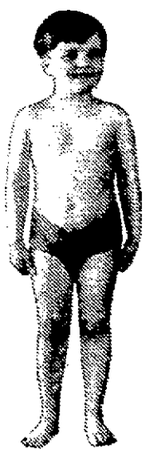
to relieve constipation in any child . . .



This simple experiment has often meant a changed child, mothers.

A test that is easily made, and should be made, when children are occasionally upset or constipated.

Doctors urge a liquid laxative for children. The child who has been convalescing in a hospital, will usually come out with bowels working like a well-regulated watch. Hospitals give children a liquid laxative of suitable ingredients, suitable strength, and in suitable amount.

Children should never be given the strong cathartics that are meant for adult use.

So, avoid all use of mineral drugs, whether they are salts, pills, tablets, or "candy" form. Even once a month is too often to give any child a cathartic containing powerful drugs.

The Proper Treatment

Give that sluggish child a liquid laxative containing senna (a natural laxative). California Syrup of Figs has the right amount for children's use, and this rich, fruity syrup does not upset them.

Just give any headachy, bilious child a little of this gentle laxative when constipated, and a little less if dose is repeated until bowels seem to be moving regularly and thoroughly without need of help.

When you change to California Syrup of Figs instead of harsh medicines, you'll risk no more violence to your child's appetite, digestion, and general physical condition. You'll have a safer, more satisfactory result, too.

So, get a bottle of California Syrup of Figs from your druggist, and start tonight, if your child is constipated, giving a good, cleansing dose. Repeat as necessary, giving a little less each time. That's the secret of this treatment —gradually reduced dosage.

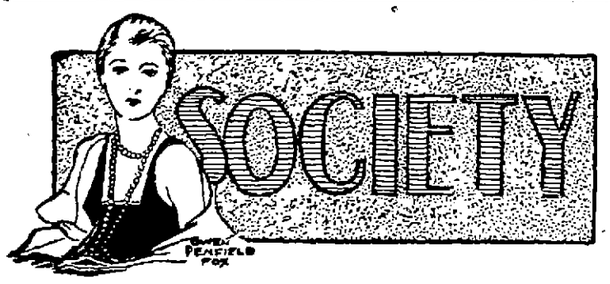
Here is a simple way of finding out if any youngster with irregular or insufficient bowel movements is in need of relief, or getting the wrong treatment:

THE "LIQUID TEST"

This is the way to relieve occasional sluggishness, or constipation in a child of any age:

First: select a liquid laxative of the proper strength for children. Second: give the dose suited to the child's age, and condition. Third: reduce the dose, if repeated, until the bowels are moving without any help at all.

An ideal laxative for this purpose is California Syrup of Figs which every druggist keeps in stock. Be certain that it is the genuine product, with "California" blown in the bottle.



INFORMAL PARTY AT ROWLAND RESIDENCE

In keeping with the season, another party of Wednesday evening that proved most enjoyable was that given by the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Rowland, Olive, Gertrude and Mrs. Francis Tinsley, in their home on Superior street when they entertained friends informally at a Hallowe'en event.

The house was cleverly decorated in the festive ornaments, orange and black tones predominating thruout, creating a weird setting. Dancing, games and contests featured the hours, and at a suitable time the guests were served an appetizing lunch in the dining room. The large table was centered with a huge laughing pumpkin face, and other novelties of the same nature completed the arrangements. Mrs. Rowland and daughters served.

Hallowe'en Party

Members of the Epworth League of the Italian M. E. church enjoyed a delightful evening recently, at a Hallowe'en party held in the basement of the church.

Miss Virginia Lalamo, was awarded the prize for the most attractive costume. Joseph Lalamo won the prize for wearing the funniest attire. Other prizes went to: Gifford DeEulio, Frank Sylvester and Miss Sue Giancola. Games proved the chief diversion.

At an appropriate time, delicious refreshments were served by: Rose Gillest, chairman, Miss Peggy DeEulio, Miss Ann Bailey and Miss Ida Schnackel.

Party On Birthday

Mrs. James Walsh, of the Harlansburg road, entertained a number of young folks at a Hallowe'en party, Tuesday evening, as a compliment to her daughter, Doris Jean, who was nine years of age.

Games were the pastimes with novel prizes for the winners. Shirley Hammond entertained with several acrobatic dances which pleased. A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Walsh assisted by Doris Jean. The honor guest was presented with a number of lovely gifts.

A. G. P. Club Guests.

The A. G. P. club members were pleasingly received Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Robert Clarke on Butler avenue, for their regular session. Mrs. John Moore was a special guest of the club women.

Contests in 500 formed the pastime, prizes being won by Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Tillie Hartman.

In two weeks, Mrs. John Earl of the Hoyt apartments will entertain.

COSMO CLUB FROLIC HALLOWE'EN EVENT

Ghosts, goblins, spooks and weird mummers everywhere Hallowe'en eve, scampering about, and taking part in the many features held in celebration of "witchery" didn't detract any from the New Castle Field Club party Wednesday evening, when the Cosmo club staged a Hallowe'en dance for members and their friends. The occasion proved an outstanding success in every detail, and was voted one of the most enjoyable of the season, by those who participated.

Activities began at 9:30 o'clock with a dance program of lively and enchanting music being played by a popular orchestra and featured Miss Billie E. Glenn, local talented young tap dancer, who appeared in a snappy silver and black costume. She responded to several encores.

Over a hundred and twenty five couples were present and during the evening novelty fancy hats of orange and black, noise makers of all descriptions and other nick-nacks were distributed, adding to the gaiety of the entertainment. Special favors were presented the women, marking a new feature in the annals of the club. The Field Club ball room was attractively decorated in true Hallowe'en fashion, making a perfect background for the merry-makers.

At mid-night, sandwiches and refreshments appropriate to the evening's celebration, were served. Among the local guests, mingled many from Sharon, Aliquippa, Youngstown, Pittsburgh and other cities.

The committee responsible for the success of the party included—H. Ruzewich, I. Grossman, Arch Slovensky, H. Levine, H. Wolfe, David Victor, Ben Brown, Dr. H. Sloan, J. Lebby, Dr. H. Botwin, and T. Frank.

Party At Hay Home.

Last evening Mrs. Frank Hay of Gardner entertained a group of friends in her home at a Hallowe'en party. The rooms were spooky with various orange and black decorations, and in guessing "who was who" Mrs. Jane Johnston captured the prize. In the games and contests, favors were presented to Mrs. R. J. Frederick, Mrs. C. Harris and Mrs. Alec McConahy.

In serving lunch, the hostess was assisted by Ann Moser.

Class Party

Members of the Rose of Sharon class, of the Croton avenue M. E. church will have their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Lillian Johns, of East Brook, Friday evening. Members will assemble at the home of Mrs. Frank Doerr, of Croton avenue, at 7:30, where transportation will be provided.

JOLLY TEN PARTY AT LEOHNER HOME

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Leohner had their Highland avenue home cleverly decorated in Hallowe'en style Tuesday evening when they received the Jolly Ten for an evening of games and conversation.

After a period of games Mrs. Phoebe Patton and John Pattison were awarded prizes and a delicious lunch further carried out the seasonal suggestions.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McArthur of Youngstown, O., were out of town guests, and they invited the club members to meet with them for the November meeting.

PARENTS OF COUPLE SHARE ANNIVERSARIES

It is a rare occasion, indeed, when the parents of a couple celebrate 50 years of wedded life together, and is an incident worthy of special mention, the facts just being casually revealed today while talking to Homer L. Glenn of Slippery Rock R. D. 3, who stated his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Glenn of Portersville, were married 50 years on September 20, and his wife's parents covered the same period of time together on May 30, they being Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Humphrey of Jacksville.

It was a gala celebration at Jacksville where their families, friends, neighbors and relatives assembled at the Humphrey residence and shared in the festivities, both couples receiving many beautiful gifts appropriate to the occasion. Also, a family dinner, messages and the usual list of callers from distant and nearby vicinities, marked the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Glenn are the parents of three children, Mrs. J. M. Reichert of Antioch, Calif.; Mrs. George Dickey and Homer L. Glenn of Slippery Rock; while Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey were blessed with 11 children. They are: J. Roy Humphrey, Mrs. Homer Glenn, F. L. Humphrey, Howard Humphrey, Mrs. George Book and Jennings Humphrey, all of Slippery Rock; Mrs. Frank Shields and Howard of Portersville, F. W. Humphrey of Latrobe, C. G. Humphrey of Grove City and Victor Humphrey of Prospect. All were present at the event and 30 grandchildren also participated.

CLUB ASSOCIATES HALLOWE'EN GUESTS

Orange and black tones, accented through an attractive centerpiece of Chinese lanterns and bittersweet, between tall orange tapers in black crystal holders prevailed in late supper appointments last evening at the home of Mrs. Arthur Hawk on Englewood avenue, when she received associates in the B. N. W. club.

Lovely orange and black china combined with clever favors and in serving a menu of Hallowe'en delicacies, the hostess was assisted by Mrs. L. O. Nicholseon.

Mrs. Bessie Evans and Mrs. Mildred Gearing were among the guests and at bridge, preceding, favors fell to Mrs. Roy Smith and Mrs. Welty Nicholson.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. L. O. Nicholson on Hamilton street, November 21.

ELKS CARD PARTY ON FRIDAY NIGHT

With this week so filled with Hallowe'en parties, it would seem there wouldn't be time for "regularly" scheduled events, but then, perhaps, the week, itself, is all the better, for an out-of-the-ordinary atmosphere always lends more than usual attraction to any party.

Even though the holiday will have passed by Friday, the Elks and their many friends are eagerly anticipating the third in a series of card affairs which will be a prominent event of that evening. Under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Max Ludwig, hosts, preparation are going forward to make this occasion even more outstanding than previous ones. The hour is 8 o'clock.

Petro-Sop Marriage.

Conveying interest to a number of local people is the announcement of the marriage of Kathryn Petro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Petro of the Butler road, and Michael Sop, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Sop of Masury, O.

The double ring ceremony took place October 27 in the Ukranian Holy Trinity church on Rose avenue, with Rev. Father Senchuk reading the service.

Mrs. Mike Smetana was matron of honor and Miss Mary Petro maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Misses Julia Maker of McKees Rocks, Helene Nasal, Anna Yagersky, Anna Dodo and Anna Smetana of this city.

At noon a delicious dinner was served at the bride's home, followed by a reception in Petro's hall.

Sunday, the entire bridal party motored to the home of the groom, where an elegant dinner was served and a reception held. Guests were present from Youngstown, Akron, Cleveland, Masury, Hickory Hill, McKees Rocks, Ellwood City, Sharon and New Castle.

The bride received a large number of beautiful and useful gifts. They will reside in Masury, O.

At Royal Home.

At the home of Mrs. D. M. Royal on Blaine street Wednesday evening the L. A. P. club with Mrs. Jane Montgomery, a guest, was entertained.

For amusement, the usual card game was provided, favors going to Mrs. William Hamil and Mrs. Carl Kahrer. Mrs. J. A. McWilliams assisted with lunch, throughout which Hallowe'en suggestions prevailed.

On November 16 the group will meet at the Hamil home on Huey street.

Taffy Pulling Affair

A taffy pulling affair last evening at the home of Charlotte Rogers on Carlisle street, followed a period of "Hallowe'ening" at the homes of North hill residents for a group of young girls. They report a wonderful time.

WILLIAMS HOME SCENE OF PARTY

Last evening, Hallowe'en eve, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Williams of Euclid avenue entertained at a colorful costume bridge in their home, the occasion being in celebration of the mummers season.

After a guessing contest, revealing the identity of the weird looking creatures for which Mrs. Robert Allshouse was awarded the prize, the guests turned their attention to a contest in cards. Mrs. LeRoy Shoaf and Earl Reeves carried off the trophies for holding honor scores.

The serving of a delicious lunch by the hostess, assisted by several in attendance, climaxed the evening's activities.

THE NAVAL CONFERENCE TANGLE

IT IS becoming more and more clear that discussions which were intended to pave the way for a new naval agreement by the United States, Japan and Great Britain have all but failed of their purpose, declares the Philadelphia Inquirer. The British Prime Minister seems to have a vague hope that something definite may yet be accomplished; but his feeling is not shared by either the American or the Japanese delegates. The latter have frankly admitted that the principle of equality as the basis for a new treaty has not been accepted by the former and will not be. "Of what use is it," they ask, "to go on discussing details?" But Mr. MacDonald has an immense belief in the power of rhetoric and he still feels that some compromise is possible.

With Great Britain nominally on the side of the United States, but apparently open to conviction by Japan, though all her interests coincide with ours, the discussions have resolved themselves into a deadlock which there seems to be small chance of breaking. Probably no one is yet ready to admit that it is a failure. But plainly Japan intends to have, if possible, a naval force which will give her the mastery of the Pacific. All her ambitions point in that direction.

The threat alike to American and to British interests is undisguised. Nor should the British government believe that any yielding to Japan will secure its interests while endangering ours. The Japanese policy in this instance is familiar. Sow discord between the United States and Great Britain and the conquest of Asia will become the more easy.

At this moment Japan has somewhat naively disclosed her purpose by the trade designs of her puppet Manchukuo, in whose name she is preparing to establish a monopoly, not only in oil, but in other articles of commerce. By this means the Open Door is to be tightly closed. Thus Japan repudiates a treaty of which she is a signer. But what matter?

Naturally she wants a big navy to enable her to pursue unmolested her career of plunder. We wish we could believe that Solomon was right when he said, "Surely in vain the net is spread in the sight of any bird."

THE NEWSPAPER BOY

The boy has a natural right to equip himself for the responsibilities of the man. When he comes to manhood he must be self-supporting, self-reliant; he must be capable, useful, competent and willing to do his part; he must know enough of the world and of its people to find his part, recognize the parts of others, understand the community of service; in short, he must be able to get along, by himself and with others. Boyhood is an apprenticeship for manhood.

This is one of the fundamental reasons why the newspaper boy is happy and fortunate in his vocation, and why he should be encouraged to develop the opportunities it offers.

The newspaper boy is a young merchant. He deals with the public, as does the tradesman. The conditions of success are elemental. He is the master of his own fortune. He must render good service. He must be dependable. He must be prompt, punctual, attentive to the duty. He must be enterprising, energetic; he finds that his personality counts; success comes in the measure he works for it. He learns to know people, appreciates the fact that they are not all alike, acquires the tact of dealing with folks of varying natures.

Of all the various employments for the boy, newspaper service fits best in his schedule. It takes but comparatively few hours of his time; it does not interfere with school or studies; it leaves him time for necessary play. It requires attention during its hours, discipline that counts for much in manhood experience. But he is on his own and he pays for his defaults and he gets the reward for his merits.

Boys need experience as well as precept in learning to be men. It is a boy's right to gain that experience, and, to do that, he must have some measure of responsibility, obligations of self-control, merits and demerits definitely resulting from his own efforts or neglect.

The newspaper boy gets this opportunity of experience, learns its lessons, takes its tests, meets its judgment of self-measurement. He is studying, learning, to be a man. And the record of his achievement, in thousands of individual cases, in the general mark-up of industry and enterprise and thrift, and all that makes for effective manhood and good citizenship, is a convincing proof that he goes to a good school.

FEEDING THE WORLD

As nearly as can be estimated, the population of the world reached 850 millions in 1800 and in the century between that and 1900 it practically doubled. It is now about 1,750 million.

When it is considered that it took the human race possibly half a million years to reach 880 million and only 100 years to double that number the fact is significant. Looking into the future, it must be remembered that human life is being lengthened and preserved through better observance of the laws of health and the advancement of science; also that if in the future wars can be reduced, still greater increase may be expected.

The question naturally arises, for how many people can the earth supply the necessary food? When, if ever, will famine become general, instead of occasional and local, as in the past and present?

So far, there is ample food in the world, if it could be distributed where it is needed. But right now hundreds of thousands in the Near East, in Russia, in India, in China and in many other parts of the world are dying from lack of food.

In the past hundred years vast new areas of fertile land have been opened to cultivation, but famine still exists, partly through congestion of populations and partly through lack of transportation.

While this problem may not seriously affect America for several generations, at the present rate of increase in population it will only be a question of time until the food situation will be a grave one for the entire world, unless improved chemical means for sustaining life can be practically developed.

Probably the civic clubs of the distant future will be trying to get rid of people, instead of boosting for bigger towns.

Higher prices are the goal of the recovery program, the president says. There still seems to be some doubt, though, as to how to have things sold at high prices and bought at low ones.

THAT LADY LUCK

We flatter the lady, but we fear her. We beg her favor, but we whisper behind her back...We call her Lady Luck, but we do not trust her. We take off our hats to her, bow deeply, tell her how beautiful she is. But we are afraid of her.

We worship her, but we fear her sudden whims and fancies...She is a siren, a vixen. Those lovely eyes may change from soft velvet to hard green. That queenly nose may wrinkle in derision. Her red-red mouth may harden and sneer. And that charming chin may set in anger.

At times she is such a heartless wench. She will kick a man when he is down, scatter her favors lavishly on him when he needs them no more. A silky lass. A Circe making swine of men. A harpy with claws of steel. A siren sitting on a cushion and singing the latest popular song. A sibyl frenzied in her cave telling the fortunes of men with drifting leaves.

And yet she can be so lovely, so gentle and so generous, so soft and so surrendering, with a fair fragrance about her lips and the grace of the swan, such an innocent lass, such a brooding and tender mother of men.

She plays Queen Midas for you and all you touch turns to gold. She stands behind you, filches the aces and kings from other hands and slips them into yours. She brings you through the blackest darkness, out of the most frightening peril. She sets a stone beneath your feet in the quicksands, guides the floating spar to the sinking sailor, brings the sad lad to his destined sweetheart, her strong armed lover to the delicate maid. Does these and many another gracious deeds.

Is it strange men fear and curse her in their hearts, grovel as she passes by, hope for her favor with the last earthly breath? Mouth bold platitudes about being the captains of their souls, the masters of their own fate, but keep a secret longing in their hearts for imperious and gracious Lady Luck?

Is it strange that those prayers of men stream up to her in such numbers that they darken the summer sky? She is so sweet and she is so cruel. She is Lady Luck!... And I wouldn't dream of saying a sincere word against her. All through this article I've had my fingers crossed.

OCCASIONAL REST BOLSTERS EFFICIENCY

It is wonderful to note what a little rest will do for the jaded mind.

At times it is positively necessary to throw off worry and care.

It is sometimes best to stop working and catch up with your mind.

The mind races ahead and directs action, at the same time it worries about results.

The mind works faster than the eyes can see.

But the hands will keep up to a certain degree, with the mind if trained to do so.

However, few people realize the help that the mind can give.

Few people are sufficiently convinced that rest is necessary at intervals to do good work and accomplish more.

There are the plodders—never going so fast that they lose balance. They plug along and are sure and safe.

They never "set the world afire", but are inclined to put themselves to sleep as well as those who are around them.

The real worker begins not too fast, tries to understand what he is doing, finally strikes a rhythmic swing and gradually increases speed and efficiency.

Try it when you take up a new work and prove to yourself what a help it is in mastering any kind of work, mental or physical always resting or easing up at intervals.

ABOUT HOG KILLING TIME

It is reported that the Federal Department of Agriculture has received the following letter from a worried farmer:

"About three weeks ago, 'Jonas', the Don Juan of the pig lot, broke into the pen of 'Esmeralda', my prize brood sow. I am a little worried about this and hurry to write you for instructions.

"'Esmeralda' has been about the place three or four years. She is a great family pig, and in the past her litters have run from nineteen to twenty-seven. I signed up under the corn-hog program and I don't want to lose any of my rights under that contract.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 4:58. Sun rises tomorrow 6:30.

Wonder what some of the old time girls would say if they could come back and see the stocking advertisements in the newspapers. They had just as nice things then to put in stockings as they have now, but they were not to be seen.

An East Side woman was shocked when she learned that the cleaners found $5 in her husband's pockets. "Why, I went through every pocket in that suit myself!" she gasped.

Some people never could see any sense in two-pants suits. A suit with two pairs of pants simply means five more pockets to lose a key in.

Heard at the corner of Mercer and Washington street: Old gentleman: "That, Martha, is a skyscraper." Old lady: "A skpscraper? Land sakes, I'd like to see it work."

The extent of some people's charity is confined to helping a rumor on its way.

It hardly takes a minute;
Your car then starts again intact—
And, what is more, you're in it.

A WOMAN'S IDEA OF UTOPIA

I said I would like to read a woman's idea of Utopia.

"A woman's idea of Utopia," a woman writes, "is to have her husband far smarter than she is in the necessary activities of life. Such a husband earns more money than she could, and spends and invests it with better sense

"He makes it possible for her to be with interesting and important people.

"He flatters her constantly. And considers it definitely his business to make her life a success.

"Sweet Utopia, where a woman can be a woman, discarding forever the idea of a tuxedo for evening and trousers and jacket for business. No more being drafted for double duty.

"She has time to keep herself decorative. To be the favorite companion of her children. And to contribute the qualities which are her special heritage.

"P. S.—It can't be so, so what's the use?"

Can any woman outline a better Utopia?"

Drunken walkers are also the cause of a great many automobile accidents on the roads. They also used to be run over by horses and are not a new thing. A drunk driving a horse always had the horse to furnish the brains for him on the road.

"How did you know that I was a cave man?" asked a Books Woods youth of Miss Flossie Ketchum of West Pittsburg. "Oh, it's very obvious," answered Flossie. "The cave is in your brain."

Bomb me if you've heard this one, but it seems as if two convicts were sitting in their cell one night in the Indiana penitentiary. One of them was anxious to get his pardon and sought counsel of the other.

"How can I get a pardon?" he said. "Is it easy?"

"Easy?—well, I hope!" said the second. "Hey, Governor, how about a pardon for my friend Mike here?"

"Sure," came the reply from the next cell.

Probable Progressive Program
High Thoughts Spoken During Campaign
Du Ponts Take Delaware From Roosevelt

Central Press

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—We spoke yesterday of the probable program of the progressives, at the coming session of congress. The progressives will be the balance of power, for they will draw to their fold the numerous individualists who are coming into congress at this election.

It will not be so much a Roosevelt victory as a continuation of the evolution which swept the president into office.

No better estimate of the aims of the progressives can be made than in a statement of the People's Lobby made by Benjamin C. March, executive secretary of the Lobby. The Lobby always has been closely affiliated with the progressives.

Says Mr. Marsh:

"The People's Lobby, of which Professor John Dewey, of New York, is president, has adopted a slogan, 'To balance consumption and production by eliminating profit.'

"Its program includes:

"(1) Increased taxation of the rich, socialization of ground rent and reduction of interest rates as steps toward the elimination of profit.

"(2) Public ownership of banking, natural resources, transportation, communication and all basic industries.

"(3) Government marketing and government housing corporations.

"(4) International co-operation through increased freedom of exchange and allocation of natural resources and raw materials.

"Bills will be introduced in the next congress to carry out this program."

HIGH THOUGHTS

This election campaign, or, rather, the period in which this campaign is occurring, seems full of unusually interesting expressions, as opposed to periods of the past.

We shall bring some of the thoughts to light.

MRS. POOLE

Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, remarks:

"If we could take the profits out of war-making we could prevent war. If it were done you would see a diminution of the war spirit."

DU PONTS

Which brings to mind that the du Ponts, who turned on President Roosevelt because of the New Deal, have exerted terrific pressure to keep Delaware in the Republican column this election. Word comes that the du Ponts probably will be successful, through their "control" of their home town of Wilmington. Thus small town banker John G. Townsend, Republican, probably will be re-elected to the senate.

Alfred E. Smith, who is associated with the du Ponts in the Empire State building, in New York City, may be somewhat embarrassed over their turning Republican again with such a vengeance.

THOMAS

Norman Thomas, running for U. S. senator in New York on the Socialist ticket, has been attacking Democrats and Republicans alike.

Here is one shot of his:

"I am utterly opposed to the Vinson bill expanding the navy. And a race in armaments is madness and tragedy.

"I am opposed to wasting our money on appropriations for reserve officers' training corps in high schools and colleges. It is worse than a waste of money; it is an attempt to militarize the minds of our young men. Equally I am opposed to appropriations for the civilian military training camp."

FARLEY

Postmaster General James A. Farley denounces attackers of the president in such words as these:

"As I define a dictator, it will be clear to every one that Franklin D. Roosevelt and his great program for lifting the American people to a higher plane of living is immediately acquitted of any such monstrous charge."

SMITH

Alfred E. Smith asserts that waste in duplicating county governments as against a modernized single unit may be compared to the speed of the old-style train against the new streamliner.

MRS. ROOSEVELT

Mrs. Roosevelt, speaking in behalf of Mrs. Caroline O'Day, Democratic candidate for representative-at-large in New York state, asserts:

"We have short memories. In the spring of 1933 people came to Washington and said: "Take our business. Do anything with it to make it run.'

"Now the sick man is better and doesn't like 'regulation'. He wants to get back and make as much profit as possible. He doesn't think about his neighbor. But the only good we care about is the good of the people."

She emphasizes that the NRA codes "were made by the industries themselves; you get the idea that these codes were imposed".

NEW CABINET OFFICER

There now appears to have been a reason why bankers fell all over themselves to get aboard the Roosevelt band wagon. A rumor now heard by the public was heard first by the bankers — that Jackson E. Reynolds, president of the First National Bank of New York, America's most conservative bank, would succeed Henry Morgenthau, Jr., as secretary of the treasury.

TODAY Is The Day

By CLARK KINNAIRD Copyright 1934 Central Press

THURSDAY, NOV. 1

The World War Day By Day, Nov. 1, 1914—Once more there was a blunder in London. The size of the German Pacific squadron was known, and to send such old and inadequate vessels to meet it was to send ships and men to certain doom.

The battle had been Admiral Graf Von Spee's for more than a month when his squadron encountered Admiral Sir Christopher Cradock's squadron 40 miles off Coronel, Chile.

Cradock had the armoured cruisers, Good Hope and Monmouth, light cruiser Glasgow and the armed merchant cruiser Otranto with which to face the armoured cruisers Scharnhorst and Gneisenau and the light cruisers Leipzig, Vurnberg and Dresden. In the heavy weather the Good Hope and Monmouth could not fight their main-deck guns. The Germans in addition had the inestimable advantage of having been in commission for two years and being in a state of prime gunnery efficiency, whereas the Good Hope and Monmouth had been lying idle in the dockyards, manned entirely with reserve men, at the outbreak of the war.

The first shot was fired at 7:04 p. m. at a range of a little more than six miles. At 8:50 it was all over. The fastest and most formidable British ships, Monmouth and Good Hope were sunk; the slowest and least powerful got away. Cradock went to a watery grave with his flag flying.

The news fell like a thunderclap upon London four days later. A half dozen ships of Britain's matchless navy destroyed within a few days by mines, torpedoes and shell fire.

There was no suspicion that his sympathies were with Germany, but Prince Louis of Battenberg, first lord of the admiralty and first cousin of Kaiser William, found it expedient to step down. In his place Britain got 63-year-old John Arbuthnot Fisher.

The battle cruisers Invincible and Inflexible were detached from the Grand Fleet, and sent off to join the Carnarvon, Cornwall, Defense and Kent at Abrolhos Rocks and take up the chase of Von Spee. The West Indies squadron went off to watch the month-and-a-half old Panama Canal.

The lone wolf cruiser Emden was still at large to be dealt with, too. Two days before she had raised Penang. Four British ships were sent to join the Allied fleet on her trail, 16 ships in all.

Lord Fisher initiated a great building program of cruisers, monitors, destroyers and auxiliary craft to the number of 600 keeps. American shipyards were pressed into service, through J. Pierpont Morgan.

That morning Americans read of the appeal of King Albert of the Belgians for American aid for the people of his stricken country.

History Up-To-Date; Nov. 1, 1700 Charles II of Spain died, after having given away his entire kingdom to a young Bourbon prince who was not a relative and whom he had never seen. The price became Philip V.

Nov. 1, 1704—Alexander Selkirt, 28 year old Scotsman of rebellious temperament, was put ashore at his own request on Juan Fernandez, an island in the South Pacific, off Chile. His experiences there until he was discovered and taken off by a privateer, suggested to newspaperman Daniel Defoe the best-selling novel of all time: Robinson Crusoe. The story, first published in 1719, had become a classic before Selkirk died.

Nov. 1, 1765—The Stamp Act went into effect, and it was a national day of fasting and mourning. Funeral processions paraded city streets, and bells tolled funeral knells. Colors of sailing-ships flew at half-mast, and newspapers appeared in broad black borders. The courts were closed, ships remained in port and business was suspended.

Out of this calm a tempest rose. Mobs stoned the windows of royalists and burned the king's officials in effigy. The colonists were drawn together in common bond for the first time, and the American revolutionary movement was born.

The Stamp Act had nothing to do with the tea. It required that a tax

THE NAVAL CONFERENCE TANGLE

IT IS becoming more and more clear that discussions which were intended to pave the way for a new naval agreement by the United States, Japan and Great Britain have all but failed of their purpose, declares the Philadelphia Inquirer. The British Prime Minister seems to have a vague hope that something definite may yet be accomplished; but his feeling is not shared by either the American or the Japanese delegates. The latter have frankly admitted that the principle of equality as the basis for a new treaty has not been accepted by the former and will not be. "Of what use is it," they ask, "to go on discussing details?" But Mr. MacDonald has an immense belief in the power of rhetoric and he still feels that some compromise is possible.

With Great Britain nominally on the side of the United States, but apparently open to conviction by Japan, though all her interests coincide with ours, the discussions have resolved themselves into a deadlock which there seems to be small chance of breaking. Probably no one is yet ready to admit that it is a failure. But plainly Japan intends to have, if possible, a naval force which will give her the mastery of the Pacific. All her ambitions point in that direction.

The threat alike to American and to British interests is undisguised. Nor should the British government believe that any yielding to Japan will secure its interests while endangering ours. The Japanese policy in this instance is familiar. Sow discord between the United States and Great Britain and the conquest of Asia will become the more easy.

At this moment Japan has somewhat naively disclosed her purpose by the trade designs of her puppet Manchukuo, in whose name she is preparing to establish a monopoly, not only in oil, but in other articles of commerce. By this means the Open Door is to be tightly closed. Thus Japan repudiates a treaty of which she is a signer. But what matter?

Naturally she wants a big navy to enable her to pursue unmolested her career of plunder. We wish we could believe that Solomon was right when he said, "Surely in vain the net is spread in the sight of any bird."

THE NEWSPAPER BOY

The boy has a natural right to equip himself for the responsibilities of the man. When he comes to manhood he must be self-supporting, self-reliant; he must be capable, useful, competent and willing to do his part; he must know enough of the world and of its people to find his part, recognize the parts of others, understand the community of service; in short, he must be able to get along, by himself and with others. Boyhood is an apprenticeship for manhood.

This is one of the fundamental reasons why the newspaper boy is happy and fortunate in his vocation, and why he should be encouraged to develop the opportunities it offers.

The newspaper boy is a young merchant. He deals with the public, as does the tradesman. The conditions of success are elemental. He is the master of his own fortune. He must render good service. He must be dependable. He must be prompt, punctual, attentive to the duty. He must be enterprising, energetic; he finds that his personality counts; success comes in the measure he works for it. He learns to know people, appreciates the fact that they are not all alike, acquires the tact of dealing with folks of varying natures.

Of all the various employments for the boy, newspaper service fits best in his schedule. It takes but comparatively few hours of his time; it does not interfere with school or studies; it leaves him time for necessary play. It requires attention during its hours, discipline that counts for much in manhood experience. But he is on his own and he pays for his defaults and he gets the reward for his merits.

Boys need experience as well as precept in learning to be men. It is a boy's right to gain that experience, and, to do that, he must have some measure of responsibility, obligations of self-control, merits and demerits definitely resulting from his own efforts or neglect.

The newspaper boy gets this opportunity of experience, learns its lessons, takes its tests, meets its judgment of self-measurement. He is studying, learning, to be a man. And the record of his achievement, in thousands of individual cases, in the general mark-up of industry and enterprise and thrift, and all that makes for effective manhood and good citizenship, is a convincing proof that he goes to a good school.

FEEDING THE WORLD

As nearly as can be estimated, the population of the world reached 850 millions in 1800 and in the century between that and 1900 it practically doubled. It is now about 1,750 million.

When it is considered that it took the human race possibly half a million years to reach 880 million and only 100 years to double that number the fact is significant. Looking into the future, it must be remembered that human life is being lengthened and preserved through better observance of the laws of health and the advancement of science; also that if in the future wars can be reduced, still greater increase may be expected.

The question naturally arises, for how many people can the earth supply the necessary food? When, if ever, will famine become general, instead of occasional and local, as in the past and present?

So far, there is ample food in the world, if it could be distributed where it is needed. But right now hundreds of thousands in the Near East, in Russia, in India, in China and in many other parts of the world are dying from lack of food.

In the past hundred years vast new areas of fertile land have been opened to cultivation, but famine still exists, partly through congestion of populations and partly through lack of transportation.

While this problem may not seriously affect America for several generations, at the present rate of increase in population it will only be a question of time until the food situation will be a grave one for the entire world, unless improved chemical means for sustaining life can be practically developed.

Probably the civic clubs of the distant future will be trying to get rid of people, instead of boosting for bigger towns.

Higher prices are the goal of the recovery program, the president says. There still seems to be some doubt, though, as to how to have things sold at high prices and bought at low ones.

THAT LADY LUCK

We flatter the lady, but we fear her. We beg her favor, but we whisper behind her back...We call her Lady Luck, but we do not trust her. We take off our hats to her, bow deeply, tell her how beautiful she is. But we are afraid of her.

We worship her, but we fear her sudden whims and fancies...She is a siren, a vixen. Those lovely eyes may change from soft velvet to hard green. That queenly nose may wrinkle in derision. Her red-red mouth may harden and sneer. And that charming chin may set in anger.

At times she is such a heartless wench. She will kick a man when he is down, scatter her favors lavishly on him when he needs them no more. A silky lass. A Circe making swine of men. A harpy with claws of steel. A siren sitting on a cushion and singing the latest popular song. A sibyl frenzied in her cave telling the fortunes of men with drifting leaves.

And yet she can be so lovely, so gentle and so generous, so soft and so surrendering, with a fair fragrance about her lips and the grace of the swan, such an innocent lass, such a brooding and tender mother of men.

She plays Queen Midas for you and all you touch turns to gold. She stands behind you, filches the aces and kings from other hands and slips them into yours. She brings you through the blackest darkness, out of the most frightening peril. She sets a stone beneath your feet in the quicksands, guides the floating spar to the sinking sailor, brings the sad lad to his destined sweetheart, her strong armed lover to the delicate maid. Does these and many another gracious deeds.

Is it strange men fear and curse her in their hearts, grovel as she passes by, hope for her favor with the last earthly breath? Mouth bold platitudes about being the captains of their souls, the masters of their own fate, but keep a secret longing in their hearts for imperious and gracious Lady Luck?

Is it strange that those prayers of men stream up to her in such numbers that they darken the summer sky? She is so sweet and she is so cruel. She is Lady Luck!... And I wouldn't dream of saying a sincere word against her. All through this article I've had my fingers crossed.

OCCASIONAL REST BOLSTERS EFFICIENCY

It is wonderful to note what a little rest will do for the jaded mind.

At times it is positively necessary to throw off worry and care.

It is sometimes best to stop working and catch up with your mind.

The mind races ahead and directs action, at the same time it worries about results.

The mind works faster than the eyes can see.

But the hands will keep up to a certain degree, with the mind if trained to do so.

However, few people realize the help that the mind can give.

Few people are sufficiently convinced that rest is necessary at intervals to do good work and accomplish more.

There are the plodders—never going so fast that they lose balance. They plug along and are sure and safe.

They never "set the world afire", but are inclined to put themselves to sleep as well as those who are around them.

The real worker begins not too fast, tries to understand what he is doing, finally strikes a rhythmic swing and gradually increases speed and efficiency.

Try it when you take up a new work and prove to yourself what a help it is in mastering any kind of work, mental or physical, always resting or easing up at intervals.

ABOUT HOG KILLING TIME

It is reported that the Federal Department of Agriculture has received the following letter from a worried farmer:

"About three weeks ago, 'Jonas', the Don Juan of the pig lot, broke into the pen of 'Esmeralda', my prize brood sow. I am a little worried about this and hurry to write you for instructions.

"'Esmeralda' has been about the place three or four years. She is a great family pig, and in the past her litters have run from nineteen to twenty-seven. I signed up under the corn-hog program and I don't want to lose any of my rights under that contract.

"As I said, if 'Esmeralda' keeps up

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 4:58. Sun rises tomorrow 6:30.

Wonder what some of the old time girls would say if they could come back and see the stocking advertisements in the newspapers. They had just as nice things then to put in stockings as they have now, but they were not to be seen.

An East Side woman was shocked when she learned that the cleaners found $5 in her husband's pockets. "Why, I went through every pocket in that suit myself!" she gasped.

Some people never could see any sense in two-pants suits. A suit with two pairs of pants simply means five more pockets to lose a key in.

Heard at the corner of Mercer and Washington street: Old gentleman: "That, Martha, is a skyscraper." Old lady: "A skpscraper? Land sakes, I'd like to see it work."

The extent of some people's charity is confined to helping a rumor on its way.

Quoting Chilo, Spartan philosopher, B. C. 597:
"Whatsoever thou takest in hand, remember the end."

The old-fashioned girl kissed less; but when she did, it was a kiss instead of payment for a nice time.

It's folly to envy the fellow who smacks his lips unless you like the same things he does.

Dig within thee. There lies the fount of good; a fount whose waters will forever well up, if thou but forever dig!—Marcus Aurelius.

One, in a comparatively insignificant place, may hold back the efforts of hundreds of his fellows, or he may advance their efforts.

That friendship will not continue to the end which is begun for an end.—Quarles.

A worm is a caterpillar that has been playing strip poker.

A woman got a divorce from her husband on the grounds of desertion and failure to show interest in matrimonial duties. She got the divorce in 30 minutes after she asked for it. That must be something real serious.

If the chaps who play football would get a clout in the classroom like they do playing football they would yell for the gendarmes and arrests the school district for mayhem and assault and battery with attempt to commit manslaughter.

The man at the next desk says that the worst thing about tobacco is the billboard.

O stop and let the train go by,
It hardly takes a minute;
Your car then starts again intact—
And, what is more, you're in it.

A WOMAN'S IDEA OF UTOPIA

I said I would like to read a woman's idea of Utopia.

"A woman's idea of Utopia," a woman writes, "is to have her husband far smarter than she is in the necessary activities of life. Such a husband earns more money than she could, and spends and invests it with better sense.

"He makes it possible for her to be with interesting and important people.

"He flatters her constantly. And considers it definitely his business to make her life a success.

"Sweet Utopia, where a woman can be a woman, discarding forever the idea of a tuxedo for evening and trousers and jacket for business. No more being drafted for double duty.

"She has time to keep herself decorative. To be the favorite companion of her children. And to contribute the qualities which are her special heritage.

"P. S.—It can't be so, so what's the use?"

Can any woman outline a better Utopia?"

Drunken walkers are also the cause of a great many automobile accidents on the roads. They also used to be run over by horses and are not a new thing. A drunk driving a horse always had the horse to furnish the brains for him on the road.

"How did you know that I was a cave man?" asked a Books Woods youth of Miss Flossie Ketchum of West Pittsburg. "Oh, it's very obvious," answered Flossie. "The cave is in your brain."

SURE ENOUGH

Two colored gentlemen who had just reduced the population of a farmer's henroost, were making a getaway.

OR, MODERN CONVENIENCES

Bomb me if you've heard this one, but it seems as if two convicts were sitting in their cell one night in the Indiana penitentiary. One of them was anxious to get his pardon and sought counsel of the other.

"How can I get a pardon?" he said. "Is it easy?"

"Easy?—well, I hope!" said the second. "Hey, Governor, how about a pardon for my friend Mike here?"

"Sure," came the reply from the next cell.

Probable Progressive Program
High Thoughts Spoken During Campaign
Du Ponts Take Delaware From Roosevelt

Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—We spoke yesterday of the probable program of the progressives, at the coming session of congress. The progressives will be the balance of power, for they will draw to their fold the numerous individualists who are coming into congress at this election.

It will not be so much a Roosevelt victory as a continuation of the evolution which swept the president into office.

No better estimate of the aims of the progressives can be made than in a statement of the People's Lobby made by Benjamin C. March, executive secretary of the Lobby. The Lobby always has been closely affiliated with the progressives.

Says Mr. Marsh:

"The People's Lobby, of which Professor John Dewey, of New York, is president, has adopted a slogan, 'To balance consumption and production by eliminating profit.'

"Its program includes:

"(1) Increased taxation of the rich, socialization of ground rent and reduction of interest rates as steps toward the elimination of profit.

"(2) Public ownership of banking, natural resources, transportation, communication and all basic industries.

"(3) Government marketing and government housing corporations.

"(4) International co-operation through increased freedom of exchange and allocation of natural resources and raw materials.

"Bills will be introduced in the next congress to carry out this program."

HIGH THOUGHTS

This election campaign, or, rather, the period in which this campaign is occurring, seems full of unusually interesting expressions, as opposed to periods of the past.

We shall bring some of the thoughts to light.

MRS. POOLE

Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, remarks:

"If we could take the profits out of war-making we could prevent war. If it were done you would see a diminution of the war spirit."

DU PONTS

Which brings to mind that the du Ponts, who turned on President Roosevelt because of the New Deal, have exerted terrific pressure to keep Delaware in the Republican column this election. Word comes that the du Ponts probably will be successful, through their "control" of their home town of Wilmington. Thus small town banker John G. Townsend, Republican, probably will be re-elected to the senate.

Alfred E. Smith, who is associated with the du Ponts in the Empire State building, in New York City, may be somewhat embarrassed over their turning Republican again with such a vengeance.

THOMAS

Norman Thomas, running for U. S. senator in New York on the Socialist ticket, has been attacking Democrats and Republicans alike.

Here is one shot of his:

"I am utterly opposed to the Vinson bill expanding the navy. And a race in armaments is madness and tragedy.

"I am opposed to wasting our money on appropriations for reserve officers' training corps in high schools and colleges. It is worse than a waste of money; it is an attempt to militarize the minds of our young men. Equally I am opposed to appropriations for the civilian military training camp."

FARLEY

Postmaster General James A. Farley denounces attackers of the president in such words as these:

"As I define a dictator, it will be clear to every one that Franklin D. Roosevelt and his great program for lifting the American people to a higher plane of living is immediately acquitted of any such monstrous charge."

SMITH

Alfred E. Smith asserts that waste in duplicating county governments as against a modernized single unit may be compared to the speed of the old-style train against the new streamliner.

MRS. ROOSEVELT

Mrs. Roosevelt, speaking in behalf of Mrs. Caroline O'Day, Democratic candidate for representative-at-large in New York state, asserts:

"We have short memories. In the spring of 1933 people came to Washington and said: 'Take our business. Do anything with it to make it run.'

"Now the sick man is better and doesn't like 'regulation'. He wants to get back and make as much profit as possible. He doesn't think about his neighbor. But the only good we care about is the good of the people."

She emphasizes that the NRA codes "were made by the industries themselves; you get the idea that these codes were imposed".

NEW CABINET OFFICER

There now appears to have been a reason why bankers fell all over themselves to get aboard the Roosevelt band wagon. A rumor now heard by the public was heard first by the bankers — that Jackson E. Reynolds, president of the First National Bank of New York, America's most conservative bank, would succeed Henry Morgenthau, Jr., as secretary of the treasury.

TODAY Is The Day

By CLARK KINNAIRD — Copyright 1934 Central Press

THURSDAY, NOV. 1

The World War Day By Day, Nov. 1, 1914—Once more there was a blunder in London. The size of the German Pacific squadron was known, and to send such old and inadequate vessels to meet it was to send ships and men to certain doom.

The battle had been Admiral Graf Von Spee's for more than a month when his squadron encountered Admiral Sir Christopher Cradock's squadron 40 miles off Coronel, Chile.

Cradock had the armoured cruisers, Good Hope and Monmouth, light cruiser Glasgow and the armed merchant cruiser Otranto with which to face the armoured cruisers Scharnhorst and Gneisenau and the light cruisers Leipzig, Vurnberg and Dresden. In the heavy weather the Good Hope and Monmouth could not fight their main-deck guns. The Germans in addition had the inestimable advantage of having been in commission for two years and being in a state of prime gunnery efficiency, whereas the Good Hope and Monmouth had been lying idle in the dockyards, manned entirely with reserve men, at the outbreak of the war.

The first shot was fired at 7:04 p. m. at a range of a little more than six miles. At 8:50 it was all over. The fastest and most formidable British ships, Monmouth and Good Hope were sunk; the slowest and least powerful got away. Cradock went to a watery grave with his flag flying.

The news fell like a thunderclap upon London four days later. A half dozen ships of Britain's matchless navy destroyed within a few days by mines, torpedoes and shell fire.

There was no suspicion that his sympathies were with Germany, but Prince Louis of Battenberg, first lord of the admiralty and first cousin of Kaiser William, found it expedient to step down. In his place Britain got 63-year-old John Arbuthnot Fisher.

The battle cruisers Invincible and Inflexible were detached from the Grand Fleet, and sent off to join the Carnarvon, Cornwall, Defense and Kent at Abrolhos Rocks and take up the chase of Von Spee. The West Indies squadron went off to watch the month-and-a-half old Panama Canal.

The lone wolf cruiser Emden was still at large to be dealt with, too. Two days before she had raised Penang. Four British ships were sent to join the Allied fleet on her trail, 16 ships in all.

Lord Fisher initiated a great building program of cruisers, monitors, destroyers and auxiliary craft to the number of 600 keeps. American shipyards were pressed into service, through J. Pierpont Morgan.

That morning Americans read of the appeal of King Albert of the Belgians for American aid for the people of his stricken country.

History Up-To-Date; Nov. 1, 1700 Charles II of Spain died, after having given away his entire kingdom to a young Bourbon prince who was not a relative and whom he had never seen. The price became Philip V.

Nov. 1, 1764—Alexander Selkirk, 28 year old Scotsman of rebellious temperament, was put ashore at his own request on Juan Fernandez, an island in the South Pacific, off Chile. His experiences there until he was discovered and taken off by a privateer, suggested to newspaperman Daniel Defoe the best-selling novel of all time: Robinson Crusoe. The story, first published in 1719, had become a classic before Selkirk died.

Nov. 1, 1765—The Stamp Act went into effect, and it was a national day of fasting and mourning. Funeral processions paraded city streets, and bells tolled funeral knells. Colors of sailing-ships flew at half-mast, and newspapers appeared in broad black borders. The courts were closed, ships remained in port and business was suspended.

Out of this calm a tempest rose. Mobs stoned the windows of royalists and burned the king's officials in effigy. The colonists were drawn together in common bond for the first time, and the American revolutionary movement was born.

The Stamp Act had nothing to do with the tea. It required that a tax

EVENING PARTY REVEALS WEDDING

Despite the rain of Wednesday evening a most successful party in the form of a scavenger hunt started out from the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. White, Jr., Pine street, and after scouring about the city for the various usual articles suggested on the lists, the crowd wound up at 9 West Leasure avenue, where a house had been newly furnished for a bridal couple.

After the group entered the house they found four small tables arranged for cards and at each place a solemn black cat was seated and the card tied about its neck had written upon it "Jim and Marie, October 27."

Upon inquiry the group was informed that Miss Marie White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. White, Sr., Sheridan avenue, had become the bride of James R. Beam, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Beam of Bucyrus, Ohio, Saturday, October 27.

The wedding was performed in the Copeley Methodist church of Boston, Mass., with the Rev. Dr. Lawrence W. C. Emig officiating, using the single ring ceremony.

The bride was charmingly gowned in royal blue transparent velvet, ankle length, with silver accessories and a corsage of gardenias; she was attended by a classmate, Gladys Goughery of Chicago, Ill., and Mrs. Robert Morrison, both wearing long gowns of black transparent velvet. Robert Morrison acted as best man to the groom and Dr. Frank Thurman of Boston, was an usher.

A dinner party supplemented the ceremony after which Mr. and Mrs. Beam took a short trip which ended in this city, where they have taken up housekeeping at 9 West Leasure avenue.

Mrs. Beam is a graduate of the New Castle High school, class of '27, of the nurses' training school of West Penn hospital, Pittsburgh and the Lying in Hospital of Boston, Mass. Mr. Beam is a graduate of the Bucyrus High school and Ohio State University being a member of the Alpha Chi Sigma fraternity. He is also a member of the American Ceramic Society and is employed as ceramic engineer for the Universal Sanitary Manufacturing company of this city.

After congratulations and felicitations to the happy couple, a delicious lunch was served. Lovely gifts were presented Mr. and Mrs. Beam.

Class Party.

About 35 members of the Laura M. Stevenson class of the Central Presbyterian church, impersonating all sorts of characters, invaded the home of Miss Edna Robison at Edenburg Tuesday evening for a costume party.

Edwin Fisher, Margaret Lowery and Mrs. William McCombs were awarded prizes for the best outfits which kept unrevealed their identities for the longest period of time. Miss Eleanor Lowery and Mrs. Agnes Fisher were aides.

Stunts and games enlivened the hours and the Hallowe'en lunch was most delicious and appropriate.

Enjoyable Party.

A Hallowe'en party was held last evening for members of the Nutty club at the home of Mary Theresa Byler at Parkstown Corners. All the Nuts but three were there, almond, pecan and chestnut not being able to attend.

A delightfully informal evening was spent playing games and cracking jokes, prizes in contests going to Eva Cabin and Elsie Latimer. Catherine Byler was a club guest.

At a later hour a tasty lunch was served, the hostess being assisted by her mother, Mrs. W. M. Byler.

Jolly Quilters.

Mrs. Claude Patton was welcomed as a new member to the group of Jolly Quilters, meeting Wednesday in the home of Mrs. C. W. Smith on Monroe street.

There were 18 present and they spent the day quilting with an appetizing casserole luncheon at noon. Mrs. Myrtle Felton and Miss Emma Patton aided.

The next meeting will take place in a fortnight, at the home of Mrs. Clara Heinbaugh, Brooklyn avenue.

T. O. T. Club

Miss Estella Wilson, Franklin avenue, will be hostess to the T. O. T. club some evening next week, the meeting for last night having been postponed.

'POVERTY PARTY' OF PHALANX IS SUCCESS

Hallowe'en night of this year won't be forgotten soon by the members of the Phalanx fraternity and their wives and lady friends who, in the ragged garbs of hoboes and bums, participated in the hilarious "poverty party" of the organization at a North Beaver township inn.

John Hodge was chairman of the party's arrangements with Michael Bowden, Paul McWilliams, Jack Fulkerson as his table assistants. They also handled the decoration job to perfection.

Dancing to the music of a snappy four-piece orchestra was the evening's chief diversion.

Later, a delicious lunch was served to the guests.

Prizes for the best costumes were won by Miss Eloise Cole among the girls, and Chris Clark among the fellows.

Hallowe'en Party

There were gypsies, scare crows, ghosts, Spanish dancers and many other cleverly impersonated characters assembled at the home of Mrs. Sam Alber, on Miller avenue, for a Hallowe'en party, the rooms being fittingly decorated in seasonal suggestions which presented a gloomy and spooky appearance.

The happy group had fun guessing "who was who", after which they played games and had a hilarious time. Prizes were won by Lily Davis, Hazel Monroe, Gladys Wendt, Margaret Kelly and Isabelle Kay.

True Followers Frolic

Tuesday evening twelve queer looking figures tumbled into the home of Thelma Gordon, 829 Lathrop street, where they were greeted by a ghostly figure. A long time was spent in discovering that the group was made up of members of the True Followers class.

Prizes for costumes were awarded Dorothy Booher, Elsie Shaffer, Grace Lawrence and Dorothy Shaffer.

Merriment ran through the games during the evening and lunch was served by Mrs. Shutts and daughter, Mary.

Eva Beckert was a special guest.

G. N. Club

Miss Anna DeCaprio received both the club and the high score awards at the G. N. club session last evening, in the home of Mrs. Nancy Buscia of Uber street. In honor of here birthday Mrs. Rose Coli was presented a gift, and the hostess was pleased with a nice present from her club associates. Miss Catherine Merolillo and Miss Margaret Frengel were guests.

Following a period of cards and sewing, lunch was served, with Hallowe'en decorations being developed in appointments. The next meeting will be in a fortnight with Mrs. J. Donati of South Mill street.

Dessert-Bridge

Charming hospitality was extended by Mrs. Roy Samuels, of Fairmont avenue, Wednesday afternoon, when she received the 1931 Glendale club for a dessert-bridge.

Orange and black tints, always attractive, were used in appointments and Mrs. William Mayberry assisted. Mrs. Orville Potter was a guest.

At the two table game, favors were won by Mrs. Fred Horchler and Mrs. Kenneth Voorhees, the latter inviting the group to her home, on West Sheridan avenue, for the next assembly, November 14.

Brisco Club.

Wednesday night's meeting of the Brisco club in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fazzone on East Lutton street was in the form of a Hallowe'en party.

The hours were whiled away playing cards. Delicious refreshments were served at an appropriate time by the hostess.

Informal Affair.

Several members of the "26" and "27" classes of Union high school had an informal time Tuesday evening in the West Washington street home of Miss Margaret Davis. Cards provided a pleasing entertainment, with lunch later.

Meet Friday Night

E. S. & A. club will hold their monthly meeting in the Clendenning block at 8 p. m., Friday. The line department of the Pennsylvania Power company will be in charge of the program.

At DeLillo Home

Mrs. Frances De Lillo, will entertain the Ten Ivory club this evening, at her home on Division street.

EVENING PARTY REVEALS WEDDING

Despite the rain of Wednesday evening a most successful party in the form of a scavenger hunt started out from the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. White, Jr., Pine street, and after scouring about the city for the various usual articles suggested on the lists, the crowd wound up at 9 West Leasure avenue, where a house had been newly furnished for a bridal couple.

After the group entered the house they found four small tables arranged for cards and at each place a solemn black cat was seated and the card tied about its neck had written upon it "Jim and Marie, October 27."

Upon inquiry the group was informed that Miss Marie White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. White, Sr., Sheridan avenue, had become the bride of James R. Beam, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Beam of Bucyrus, Ohio, Saturday, October 27.

The wedding was performed in the Copeley Methodist church of Boston, Mass., with the Rev. Dr. Lawrence W. C. Emig officiating, using the single ring ceremony.

The bride was charmingly gowned in royal blue transparent velvet, ankle length, with silver accessories and a corsage of gardenias; she was attended by a classmate, Gladys Goughery of Chicago, Ill., and Mrs. Robert Morrison, both wearing long gowns of black transparent velvet. Robert Morrison acted as best man to the groom and Dr. Frank Thurman of Boston, was an usher.

A dinner party supplemented the ceremony after which Mr. and Mrs. Beam took a short trip which ended in this city, where they have taken up housekeeping at 9 West Leasure avenue.

Mrs. Beam is a graduate of the New Castle High school, class of '27, of the nurses' training school of West Penn hospital, Pittsburgh and the Lying in Hospital of Boston, Mass. Mr. Beam is a graduate of the Bucyrus High school and Ohio State University being a member of the Alpha Chi Sigma fraternity. He is also a member of the American Ceramic Society and is employed as ceramic engineer for the Universal Sanitary Manufacturing company of this city.

After congratulations and felicitations to the happy couple, a delicious lunch was served. Lovely gifts were presented Mr. and Mrs. Beam.

Class Party.

About 35 members of the Laura M. Stevenson class of the Central Presbyterian church, impersonating all sorts of characters, invaded the home of Miss Edna Robison at Edenburg Tuesday evening for a costume party.

Edwin Fisher, Margaret Lowery and Mrs. William McCombs were awarded prizes for the best outfits which kept unrevealed their identities for the longest period of time. Miss Eleanor Lowery and Mrs. Agnes Fisher were aides.

Stunts and games enlivened the hours and the Hallowe'en lunch was most delicious and appropriate.

Enjoyable Party.

A Hallowe'en party was held last evening for members of the Nutty club at the home of Mary Theresa Byler at Parkstown Corners. All the Nuts but three were there, almond, pecan and chestnut not being able to attend.

A delightfully informal evening was spent playing games and cracking jokes. prizes in contests going to Eva Cabin and Elsie Latimer. Catherine Byler was a club guest.

At a later hour a tasty lunch was served, the hostess being assisted by her mother, Mrs. W. M. Byler.

Jolly Quilters.

Mrs. Claude Patton was welcomed as a new member to the group of Jolly Quilters, meeting Wednesday in the home of Mrs. C. W. Smith on Monroe street.

There were 18 present and they spent the day quilting with an appetizing casserole luncheon at noon. Mrs. Myrtle Felton and Miss Emma Patton aided.

The next meeting will take place in a fortnight, at the home of Mrs. Clara Heinbaugh, Brooklyn avenue.

T. O. T. Club

Miss Estella Wilson, Franklin avenue, will be hostess to the T. O. T. club some evening next week, the meeting for last night having been postponed.

'POVERTY PARTY' OF PHALANX IS SUCCESS

Hallowe'en night of this year won't be forgotten soon by the members of the Phalanx fraternity and their wives and lady friends who, in the ragged garbs of hoboes and bums, participated in the hilarious "poverty party" of the organization at a North Beaver township inn.

John Hodge was chairman of the party's arrangements with Michael Bowden, Paul McWilliams, Jack Fulkerson as his table assistants. They also handled the decoration job to perfection.

Dancing to the music of a snappy four-piece orchestra was the evening's chief diversion.

Later, a delicious lunch was served to the guests.

Prizes for the best costumes were won by Miss Eloise Cole among the girls, and Chris Clark among the fellows.

Hallowe'en Party

There were gypsies, scare crows, ghosts, Spanish dancers and many other cleverly impersonated characters assembled at the home of Mrs. Sam Alber, on Miller avenue, for a Hallowe'en party, the rooms being fittingly decorated in seasonal suggestions which presented a gloomy and spooky appearance.

The happy group had fun guessing "who was who", after which they played games and had a hilarious time. Prizes were won by Lily Davis, Hazel Monroe, Gladys Wendt, Margaret Kelly and Isabelle Kay.

True Followers Frolic

Tuesday evening twelve queer looking figures tumbled into the home of Thelma Gordon, 829 Lathrop street, where they were greeted by a ghostly figure. A long time was spent in discovering that the group was made up of members of the True Followers class.

Prizes for costumes were awarded Dorothy Booher, Elsie Shaffer, Grace Lawrence and Dorothy Shaffer.

Merriment ran through the games during the evening and lunch was served by Mrs. Shutts and daughter, Mary.

Eva Beckert was a special guest.

G. N. Club

Miss Anna DeCaprio received both the club and the high score awards at the G. N. club session last evening, in the home of Mrs. Nancy Buscia of Uber street. In honor of here birthday Mrs. Rose Coli was presented a gift, and the hostess was pleased with a nice present from her club associates. Miss Catherine Merolillo and Miss Margaret Frengel were guests.

Following a period of cards and sewing, lunch was served, with Hallowe'en decorations being developed in appointments. The next meeting will be in a fortnight with Mrs. J. Donati of South Mill street.

Dessert-Bridge

Charming hospitality was extended by Mrs. Roy Samuels, of Fairmont avenue, Wednesday afternoon, when she received the 1931 Glendale club for a dessert-bridge.

Orange and black tints, always attractive, were used in appointments and Mrs. William Mayberry assisted. Mrs. Orville Potter was a guest.

At the two table game, favors were won by Mrs. Fred Horchler and Mrs. Kenneth Voorhees, the latter inviting the group to her home, on West Sheridan avenue, for the next assembly, November 14.

Brisco Club.

Wednesday night's meeting of the Brisco club in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fazzone on East Lutton street was in the form of a Hallowe'en party.

The hours were whiled away playing cards. Delicious refreshments were served at an appropriate time by the hostess.

Informal Affair.

Several members of the "26" and "27" classes of Union high school had an informal time Tuesday evening in the West Washington street home of Miss Margaret Davis. Cards provided a pleasing entertainment, with lunch later.

Meet Friday Night

E. S. & A. club will hold their monthly meeting in the Clendenning block at 8 p. m., Friday. The line department of the Pennsylvania Power company will be in charge of the program.

At DeLillo Home

Mrs. Frances De Lillo, will entertain the Ten Ivory club this evening, at her home on Division street.

THE NAVAL CONFERENCE TANGLE

IT IS becoming more and more clear that discussions which were intended to pave the way for a new naval agreement by the United States, Japan and Great Britain have all but failed of their purpose, declares the Philadelphia Inquirer. The British Prime Minister seems to have a vague hope that something definite may yet be accomplished; but his feeling is not shared by either the American or the Japanese delegates. The latter have frankly admitted that the principle of equality as the basis for a new treaty has not been accepted by the former and will not be. "Of what use is it," they ask, "to go on discussing details?" But Mr. MacDonald has an immense belief in the power of rhetoric and he still feels that some compromise is possible.

With Great Britain nominally on the side of the United States, but apparently open to conviction by Japan, though all her interests coincide with ours, the discussions have resolved themselves into a deadlock which there seems to be small chance of breaking. Probably no one is yet ready to admit that it is a failure. But plainly Japan intends to have, if possible, a naval force which will give her the mastery of the Pacific. All her ambitions point in that direction.

The threat alike to American and to British interests is undisguised. Nor should the British government believe that any yielding to Japan will secure its interests while endangering ours. The Japanese policy in this instance is familiar. Sow discord between the United States and Great Britain and the conquest of Asia will become the more easy.

At this moment Japan has somewhat naively disclosed her purpose by the trade designs of her puppet Manchukuo, in whose name she is preparing to establish a monopoly, not only in oil, but in other articles of commerce. By this means the Open Door is to be tightly closed. Thus Japan repudiates a treaty of which she is a signer. But what matter?

Naturally she wants a big navy to enable her to pursue unmolested her career of plunder. We wish we could believe that Solomon was right when he said, "Surely in vain the net is spread in the sight of any bird."

THE NEWSPAPER BOY

The boy has a natural right to equip himself for the responsibilities of the man. When he comes to manhood he must be self-supporting, self-reliant; he must be capable, useful, competent and willing to do his part; he must know enough of the world and of its people to find his part, recognize the parts of others, understand the community of service; in short, he must be able to get along, by himself and with others. Boyhood is an apprenticeship for manhood.

This is one of the fundamental reasons why the newspaper boy is happy and fortunate in his vocation, and why he should be encouraged to develop the opportunities it offers.

The newspaper boy is a young merchant. He deals with the public, as does the tradesman. The conditions of success are elemental. He is the master of his own fortune. He must render good service. He must be dependable. He must be prompt, punctual, attentive to the duty. He must be enterprising, energetic; he finds that his personality counts; success comes in the measure he works for it. He learns to know people, appreciates the fact that they are not all alike, acquires the tact of dealing with folks of varying natures.

Of all the various employments for the boy, newspaper service fits best in his schedule. It takes but comparatively few hours of his time; it does not interfere with school or studies; it leaves him time for necessary play. It requires attention during its hours, discipline that counts for much in manhood experience. But he is on his own and he pays for his defaults and he gets the reward for his merits.

Boys need experience as well as precept in learning to be men. It is a boy's right to gain that experience, and, to do that, he must have some measure of responsibility, obligations of self-control, merits and demerits definitely resulting from his own efforts or neglect.

The newspaper boy gets this opportunity of experience, learns its lessons, takes its tests, meets its judgment of self-measurement. He is studying, learning, to be a man. And the record of his achievement, in thousands of individual cases, in the general mark-up of industry and enterprise and thrift, and all that makes for effective manhood and good citizenship, is a convincing proof that he goes to a good school.

FEEDING THE WORLD

As nearly as can be estimated, the population of the world reached 850 millions in 1800 and in the century between that and 1900 it practically doubled. It is now about 1,750 million.

When it is considered that it took the human race possibly half a million years to reach 880 million and only 100 years to double that number the fact is significant. Looking into the future, it must be remembered that human life is being lengthened and preserved through better observance of the laws of health and the advancement of science; also that if in the future wars can be reduced, still greater increase may be expected.

The question naturally arises, for how many people can the earth supply the necessary food? When, if ever, will famine become general, instead of occasional and local, as in the past and present?

So far, there is ample food in the world, if it could be distributed where it is needed. But right now hundreds of thousands in the Near East, in Russia, in India, in China and in many other parts of the world are dying from lack of food.

In the past hundred years vast new areas of fertile land have been opened to cultivation, but famine still exists, partly through congestion of populations and partly through lack of transportation.

While this problem may not seriously affect America for several generations, at the present rate of increase in population it will only be a question of time until the food situation will be a grave one for the entire world, unless improved chemical means for sustaining life can be practically developed.

Probably the civic clubs of the distant future will be trying to get rid of people, instead of boosting for bigger towns.

Higher prices are the goal of the recovery program, the president says. There still seems to be some doubt, though, as to how to have things sold at high prices and bought at low ones.

THAT LADY LUCK

We flatter the lady, but we fear her. We beg her favor, but we whisper behind her back...We call her Lady Luck, but we do not trust her. We take off our hats to her, bow deeply, tell her how beautiful she is. But we are afraid of her.

We worship her, but we fear her sudden whims and fancies...She is a siren, a vixen. Those lovely eyes may change from soft velvet to hard green. That queenly nose may wrinkle in derision. Her red-red mouth may harden and sneer. And that charming chin may set in anger.

At times she is such a heartless wench. She will kick a man when he is down, scatter her favors lavishly on him when he needs them no more. A silky lass. A Circe making swine of men. A harpy with claws of steel. A siren sitting on a cushion and singing the latest popular song. A sibyl frenzied in her cave telling the fortunes of men with drifting leaves.

And yet she can be so lovely, so gentle and so generous, so soft and so surrendering, with a fair fragrance about her lips and the grace of the swan, such an innocent lass, such a brooding and tender mother of men.

She plays Queen Midas for you and all you touch turns to gold. She stands behind you, filches the aces and kings from other hands and slips them into yours. She brings you through the blackest darkness, out of the most frightening peril. She sets a stone beneath your feet in the quicksands, guides the floating spar to the sinking sailor, brings the sad lad to his destined sweetheart, her strong armed lover to the delicate maid. Does these and many another gracious deeds.

Is it strange men fear and curse her in their hearts, grovel as she passes by, hope for her favor with the last earthly breath? Mouth bold platitudes about being the captains of their souls, the masters of their own fate, but keep a secret longing in their hearts for imperious and gracious Lady Luck?

Is it strange that those prayers of men stream up to her in such numbers that they darken the summer sky? She is so sweet and she is so cruel. She is Lady Luck!... And I wouldn't dream of saying a sincere word against her. All through this article I've had my fingers crossed.

OCCASIONAL REST BOLSTERS EFFICIENCY

It is wonderful to note what a little rest will do for the jaded mind.

At times it is positively necessary to throw off worry and care.

It is sometimes best to stop working and catch up with your mind.

The mind races ahead and directs action, at the same time it worries about results.

The mind works faster than the eyes can see.

But the hands will keep up to a certain degree, with the mind if trained to do so.

However, few people realize the help that the mind can give.

Few people are sufficiently convinced that rest is necessary at intervals to do good work and accomplish more.

There are the plodders—never going so fast that they lose balance. They plug along and are sure and safe.

They never "set the world afire", but are inclined to put themselves to sleep as well as those who are around them.

The real worker begins not too fast, tries to understand what he is doing, finally strikes a rhythmic swing and gradually increases speed and efficiency.

Try it when you take up a new work and prove to yourself what a help it is in mastering any kind of work, mental or physical, always resting or easing up at intervals.

ABOUT HOG KILLING TIME

It is reported that the Federal Department of Agriculture has received the following letter from a worried farmer:

"About three weeks ago, 'Jonas', the Don Juan of the pig lot, broke into the pen of 'Esmeralda', my prize brood sow. I am a little worried about this and hurry to write you for instructions.

"'Esmeralda' has been about the place three or four years. She is a great family pig, and in the past her litters have run from nineteen to twenty-seven. I signed up under the corn-hog program and I don't want to lose any of my rights under that contract.

"As I said, if 'Esmeralda' keeps up

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 4:58. Sun rises tomorrow 6:30.

Wonder what some of the old time girls would say if they could come back and see the stocking advertisements in the newspapers. They had just as nice things then to put in stockings as they have now, but they were not to be seen.

An East Side woman was shocked when she learned that the cleaners found $5 in her husband's pockets. "Why, I went through every pocket in that suit myself!" she gasped.

Some people never could see any sense in two-pants suits. A suit with two pairs of pants simply means five more pockets to lose a key in.

Heard at the corner of Mercer and Washington streets: Old gentleman: "That, Martha, is a skyscraper." Old lady: "A skpscraper? Land sakes, I'd like to see it work."

The extent of some people's charity is confined to helping a rumor on its way.

Quoting Chilo, Spartan philosopher, B. C. 597:
"Whatsoever thou takest in hand, remember the end."

The old-fashioned girl kissed less; but when she did, it was a kiss instead of payment for a nice time.

It's folly to envy the fellow who smacks his lips unless you like the same things he does.

Dig within thee. There lies the fount of good; a fount whose waters will forever well up, if thou but forever dig!—Marcus Aurelius.

One, in a comparatively insignificant place, may hold back the efforts of hundreds of his fellows, or he may advance their efforts.

That friendship will not continue to the end which is begun for an end.—Quarles.

A worm is a caterpillar that has been playing strip poker.

A woman got a divorce from her husband on the grounds of desertion and failure to show interest in matrimonial duties. She got the divorce in 30 minutes after she asked for it. That must be something real serious.

If the chaps who play football would get a clout in the classroom like they do playing football they would yell for the gendarmes and arrest the school district for mayhem and assault and battery with attempt to commit manslaughter.

The man at the next desk says that the worst thing about tobacco is the billboard.

It isn't the size of the dog in the fight, but the size of the fight in the dog, that counts!—Harry Howell.

O stop and let the train go by,
It hardly takes a minute;
Your car then starts again intact—
And, what is more, you're in it.

A WOMAN'S IDEA OF UTOPIA

I said I would like to read a woman's idea of Utopia.

"A woman's idea of Utopia," a woman writes, "is to have her husband far smarter than she is in the necessary activities of life. Such a husband earns more money than she could, and spends and invests it with better sense

"He makes it possible for her to be with interesting and important people.

"He flatters her constantly. And considers it definitely his business to make her life a success.

"Sweet Utopia, where a woman can be a woman, discarding forever the idea of a tuxedo for evening and trousers and jacket for business. No more being drafted for double duty.

"She has time to keep herself decorative. To be the favorite companion of her children. And to contribute the qualities which are her special heritage.

"P. S.—It can't be so, so what's the use?"

Can any woman outline a better Utopia?"

Drunken walkers are also the cause of a great many automobile accidents on the roads. They also used to be run over by horses and are not a new thing. A drunk driving a horse always had the horse to furnish the brains for him on the road.

"How did you know that I was a cave man?" asked a Books Woods youth of Miss Flossie Ketchum of West Pittsburg. "Oh, it's very obvious," answered Flossie. "The cave is in your brain."

There isn't any more.

The government is working to perfect some sort of a gadget that will measure beer when it leaves the brewery. It seems some of the suds boys are evading the tax. Running it out by the meter route may be a good thing as those things are quite hard to swindle.

"I don't like you. I hate you," said Miss Cutie McLuke of Neshannock Falls to her East Brook lover, "shall I return your letters?" "No, honey, burn them," he answered. "I sent you carbon copies. I have the originals at home."

SURE ENOUGH

Two colored gentlemen who had just reduced the population of a farmer's henroost, were making a getaway.

OR, MODERN CONVENIENCES

Bomb me if you've heard this one, but it seems as if two convicts were sitting in their cell one night in the Indiana penitentiary. One of them was anxious to get his pardon and sought counsel of the other.

"How can I get a pardon?" he said. "Is it easy?"

"Easy?—well, I hope!" said the second. "Hey, Governor, how about a pardon for my friend Mike here?"

"Sure," came the reply from the next cell.

"You don't say so!" the neighbor exclaimed. "Is he going to stay?"

"I think so," said Doris. "He's got his things off."

LIFE'S LITTLE AGONIES

There is a college boy who does not believe in brevity. Why not? He wrote his father a letter like this:

"No mon, no fun. Your Son."

And what the father wrote back:

"How sad. Too bad. Your Dad."

"How about that telephone girl who married a radio crooner for love?"

"The line is still busy."

"What do you mean?"

"She's taking in washing on the side."

Probable Progressive Program
High Thoughts Spoken During Campaign
Du Ponts Take Delaware From Roosevelt

Central Press
New York Bureau
235 East 45th street.
By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—We spoke yesterday of the probable program of the progressives, at the coming session of congress. The progressives will be the balance of power, for they will draw to their fold the numerous individualists who are coming into congress at this election.

It will not be so much a Roosevelt victory as a continuation of the evolution which swept the president into office.

No better estimate of the aims of the progressives can be made than in a statement of the People's Lobby made by Benjamin C. March, executive secretary of the Lobby. The Lobby always has been closely affiliated with the progressives.

Says Mr. Marsh:

"The People's Lobby, of which Professor John Dewey, of New York, is president, has adopted a slogan, 'To balance consumption and production by eliminating profit.'

"Its program includes:

"(1) Increased taxation of the rich, socialization of ground rent and reduction of interest rates as steps toward the elimination of profit.

"(2) Public ownership of banking, natural resources, transportation, communication and all basic industries.

"(3) Government marketing and government housing corporations.

"(4) International co-operation through increased freedom of exchange and allocation of natural resources and raw materials.

"Bills will be introduced in the next congress to carry out this program."

HIGH THOUGHTS

This election campaign, or, rather, the period in which this campaign is occurring, seems full of unusually interesting expressions, as opposed to periods of the past.

We shall bring some of the thoughts to light.

MRS. POOLE

Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, remarks:

"If we could take the profits out of war-making we could prevent war. If it were done you would see a diminution of the war spirit."

DU PONTS

Which brings to mind that the du Ponts, who turned on President Roosevelt because of the New Deal, have exerted terrific pressure to keep Delaware in the Republican column this election. Word comes that the du Ponts probably will be successful, through their "control" of their home town of Wilmington. Thus small town banker John G. Townsend, Republican, probably will be re-elected to the senate.

Alfred E. Smith, who is associated with the du Ponts in the Empire State building, in New York City, may be somewhat embarrassed over their turning Republican again with such a vengeance.

THOMAS

Norman Thomas, running for U. S. senator in New York on the Socialist ticket, has been attacking Democrats and Republicans alike.

Here is one shot of his:

"I am utterly opposed to the Vinson bill expanding the navy. And a race in armaments is madness and tragedy.

"I am opposed to wasting our money on appropriations for reserve officers' training corps in high schools and colleges. It is worse than a waste of money; it is an attempt to militarize the minds of our young men. Equally I am opposed to appropriations for the civilian military training camp."

FARLEY

Postmaster General James A. Farley denounces attackers of the president in such words as these:

"As I define a dictator, it will be clear to every one that Franklin D. Roosevelt and his great program for lifting the American people to a higher plane of living is immediately acquitted of any such monstrous charge."

SMITH

Alfred E. Smith asserts that waste in duplicating county governments as against a modernized single unit may be compared to the speed of the old-style train against the new streamliner.

MRS. ROOSEVELT

Mrs. Roosevelt, speaking in behalf of Mrs. Caroline O'Day, Democratic candidate for representative-at-large in New York state, asserts:

"We have short memories. In the spring of 1933 people came to Washington and said: 'Take our business. Do anything with it to make it run.'

"Now the sick man is better and doesn't like 'regulation'. He wants to get back and make as much profit as possible. He doesn't think about his neighbor. But the only good we care about is the good of the people."

She emphasizes that the NRA codes "were made by the industries themselves; you get the idea that these codes were imposed".

NEW CABINET OFFICER

There now appears to have been a reason why bankers fell all over themselves to get aboard the Roosevelt band wagon. A rumor now heard by the public was heard first by the bankers — that Jackson E. Reynolds, president of the First National Bank of New York, America's most conservative bank, would succeed Henry Morgenthau, Jr., as secretary of the treasury.

TODAY Is The Day

By CLARK KINNAIRD Copyright 1934 Central Press

THURSDAY, NOV. 1

The World War Day By Day, Nov. 1, 1914—Once more there was a blunder in London. The size of the German Pacific squadron was known, and to send such old and inadequate vessels to meet it was to send ships and men to certain doom.

The battle had been Admiral Graf Von Spee's for more than a month when his squadron encountered Admiral Sir Christopher Cradock's squadron 40 miles off Coronel, Chile.

Cradock had the armoured cruisers, Good Hope and Monmouth, light cruiser Glasgow and the armed merchant cruiser Otranto with which to face the armoured cruisers Scharnhorst and Gneisenau and the light cruisers Leipzig, Vurnberg and Dresden. In the heavy weather the Good Hope and Monmouth could not fight their main-deck guns. The Germans in addition had the inestimable advantage of having been in commission for two years and being in a state of prime gunnery efficiency, whereas the Good Hope and Monmouth had been lying idle in the dockyards, manned entirely with reserve men, at the outbreak of the war.

The first shot was fired at 7:04 p. m. at a range of a little more than six miles. At 8:50 it was all over. The fastest and most formidable British ships, Monmouth and Good Hope were sunk; the slowest and least powerful got away. Cradock went to a watery grave with his flag flying.

The news fell like a thunderclap upon London four days later. A half dozen ships of Britain's matchless navy destroyed within a few days by mines, torpedoes and shell fire.

There was no suspicion that his sympathies were with Germany, but Prince Louis of Battenberg, first lord of the admiralty and first cousin of Kaiser William, found it expedient to step down. In his place Britain got 63-year-old John Arbuthnot Fisher.

The battle cruisers Invincible and Inflexible were detached from the Grand Fleet, and sent off to join the Carnarvon, Cornwall, Defense and Kent at Abrolhos Rocks and take up the chase of Von Spee. The West Indies squadron went off to watch the month-and-a-half old Panama Canal.

The lone wolf cruiser Emden was still at large to be dealt with, too. Two days before she had raised Penang. Four British ships were sent to join the Allied fleet on her trail, 15 ships in all.

Lord Fisher initiated a great building program of cruisers, monitors, destroyers and auxiliary craft to the number of 600 keeps. American shipyards were pressed into service, through J. Pierpont Morgan.

That morning Americans read of the appeal of King Albert of the Belgians for American aid for the people of his stricken country.

History Up-To-Date; Nov. 1, 1700 Charles II of Spain died, after having given away his entire kingdom to a young Bourbon prince who was not a relative and whom he had never seen. The price became Philip V.

Nov. 1, 1704—Alexander Selkirk, 28 year old Scotsman of rebellious temperament, was put ashore at his own request on Juan Fernandez, an island in the South Pacific, off Chile. His experiences there until he was discovered and taken off by a privateer, suggested to newspaperman Daniel Defoe the best-selling novel of all time: Robinson Crusoe. The story, first published in 1719, had become a classic before Selkirk died.

Nov. 1, 1765—The Stamp Act went into effect, and it was a national day of fasting and mourning. Funeral processions paraded city streets, and bells tolled funeral knells. Colors of sailing-ships flew at half-mast, and newspapers appeared in broad black borders. The courts were closed, ships remained in port and business was suspended.

Out of this calm a tempest rose. Mobs stoned the windows of royalists and burned the king's officials in effigy. The colonists were drawn together in common bond for the first time, and the American revolutionary movement was born.

The Stamp Act had nothing to do with the tea. It required that a tax

Possible Jurors For Hauptmann Case Are Drawn

(International News Service)

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Nov. 1—Selection of a local attorney to help defend Bruno Richard Hauptmann in his trial for the murder of the infant son of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was awaited by townsfolk today.

Three hundred and eighty-eight Hunterdon county citizens were drawn by lot as possible jurors in the trial yesterday.

Talesmen drawn for the trial in the office of Sheriff John Henry Curtiss and publicly posted include 227 men and 161 women, most of whom are housewives.

Choice of local counsel appeared narrowed to George H. Large, former county prosecutor and Floyd Fisher, brilliant young attorney who denfended John Hughes, of Norfolk, Va., shipbuilder, who was convicted of obstructing justice in connection with the kidnaping.

Mrs. Anni Hauptmann, the prisoner's wife, was expected to visit him again today upon her return from New York, where she has been arranging for the transfer of her belongings to her quarters here in which she will live until after the trial.

A challenge has been issued by Hauptmann to Dr. John F. (Jafsie) Condon to visit him again and talk with him.

Hauptmann, it is said, is certain that if Condon converses sufficiently long with him he can convince the educator and go-between that he is not the man to whom "Jafsie" ned over the $50,000 ransom money in a Bronx cemetery.

Pittsburgh Girl Is Bottle Swinger

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—A 25-year-old Pittsburgh girl today regretted her ability to swing a bottle.

Arraigned before a magistrate this morning, Miss Esther Weston, accused of flooring Nathan Martin with a bottle during a Hallowe'en party, was admitted to $1,000 bail. Bond was placed at a similar figure for her escort, Joseph Seibert, 27.

Miss Weston told the court she hit Martin on the head with the bottle after she overheard him saying "nastly things" about her.

For that matter, George III might have prevented the Revolution by giving the Colonials free rations and clothes and gas.

FAMOUS AMERICAN WOMEN Y.W.C.A. HONOR GUESTS

MRS. ROOSEVELT MRS. COOLIDGE MRS. MORROW MRS. CARNEGIE

Brought together by a Y. W. C. A. dinner in New York City where they were guests of honor, here are four famous American women who were on the receiving line at the function. Left to right, Mrs. James Roosevelt, mother of the president; Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, widow of President Coolidge; Mrs. Dwight W. Crafty Move By Japan To Force U.S. Recognition

Seek To Force United States To Recognize New State Of Manchukuo

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—A crafty diplomatic move by Japan to force American recognition of the Japanese controlled state of Manchukuo was disclosed today by the state department.

Acting Secretary of State William Phillips revealed that when the American embassy at Tokyo made representations against the proposed Manchukuo oil monopoly, the Japanese government suggested that the United States take the matter up directly with the Manchukuo government.

Tokyo took the attitude that Manchukuo was an independent sovereign state and that if the western powers were concerned at any measures taken within that empire, they should communicate directly with the Manchukuo government.

This would be tantamount to de jure recognition of that puppet empire, and this government, Phillips disclosed, flatly declined to comply.

Episcopals Plan District Conference

Trinity Church Members Will Join In Oil City Meeting Monday, November 5

The diocese of Erie will hold four district conferences in as many different sections of the diocese on the missionary work of the church within its own confines, in the United States and throughout the world, beginning Sunday, Nov. 4, and lasting through Wednesday, the 7th.

The conference for the churches in Clarion, Mercer, Lawrence and Venango counties will be held in Christ church, Oil City, on Monday, Nov. 5. The conference will be led by the Rt. Rev. W. M. M. Thomas, D. D., bishop of southern Brazil, and the Rt. Rev. John C. Ward, bishop of the diocese of Erie.

Miss Margaret Teague, director of religious education in the diocese of Maine, will be among the speakers, as will the Rev. Louis L. Perkins, rector of St. Paul's church, Kittanning.

The conferences in Christ church will begin at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon and will last until 9 o'clock that same evening. Supper will be served in the parish house at 6:30 p. m.

Addresses and conferences in the afternoon will include talks on "General Convention" by the Very Rev. Martin Aigner, D. D., "Carrying On" by the Rev. L. L. Perkins, and "What Women Are Doing in Maine" by Miss Teague. Reports on the 'Progress of the Campaign" will be given by representatives of the various churches in the district, and Bishop Thomas will tell something of his work in Brazil.

In the evening Bishop Thomas will be the principal speaker, with Miss Teague a close second on "Women's Part in God's Work". "What the Diocese Should Do in 1935" will be covered by Cyrus F. Mackey, treasurer of the diocese of Erie, and one of its outstanding laymen.

The Rev. L. L. Perkins will also have a part in the evening program. The Rt. Rev. John C. Ward, D. D., bishop of Erie, will preside throughout the conference

Possible Jurors For Hauptmann Case Are Drawn

(International News Service)

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Nov. 1—Selection of a local attorney to help defend Bruno Richard Hauptmann in his trial for the murder of the infant son of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was awaited by townsfolk today.

Three hundred and eighty-eight Hunterdon county citizens were drawn by lot as possible jurors in the trial yesterday.

Talesmen drawn for the trial in the office of Sheriff John Henry Curtiss and publicly posted include 227 men and 161 women, most of whom are housewives.

Choice of local counsel appeared narrowed to George H. Large, former county prosecutor and Floyd Fisher, brilliant young attorney who denfended John Hughes, of Norfolk, Va., shipbuilder, who was convicted of obstructing justice in connection with the kidnaping.

Mrs. Anni Hauptmann, the prisoner's wife, was expected to visit him again today upon her return from New York, where she has been arranging for the transfer of her belongings to her quarters here in which she will live until after the trial.

A challenge has been issued by Hauptmann to Dr. John F. (Jafsie) Condon to visit him again and talk with him.

Hauptmann, it is said, is certain that if Condon converses sufficiently long with him he can convince the educator and go-between that he is not the man to whom "Jafsie" turned over the $50,000 ransom money in a Bronx cemetery.

Pittsburgh Girl Is Bottle Swinger

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—A 25-year-old Pittsburgh girl today regretted her ability to swing a bottle.

Arraigned before a magistrate this morning, Miss Esther Weston, accused of flooring Nathan Martin with a bottle during a Hallowe'en party, was admitted to $1,000 bail. Bond was placed at a similar figure for her escort, Joseph Seibert, 27.

Miss Weston told the court she hit Martin on the head with the bottle after she overheard him saying "nastly things" about her.

For that matter, George III might have prevented the Revolution by giving the Colonials free rations and clothes and gas.

Keep your head up and your neck and chin slender if you'd fit smartly into the present fashion picture. Stylists and beauty experts say no fat necks and double chins are permissible, but a queenly carriage, with head well balanced on a swan-like neck, is necessary for chic.

EVENING PARTY REVEALS WEDDING

Despite the rain of Wednesday evening a most successful party in the form of a scavenger hunt started out from the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. White, Jr., Pine street, and after scouring about the city for the various usual articles suggested on the lists, the crowd wound up at 9 West Leasure avenue, where a house had been newly furnished for a bridal couple.

After the group entered the house they found four small tables arranged for cards and at each place a solemn black cat was seated and the card tied about its neck had written upon it "Jim and Marie, October 27."

Upon inquiry the group was informed that Miss Marie White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. White, Sr., Sheridan avenue, had become the bride of James R. Beam, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Beam of Bucyrus, Ohio, Saturday, October 27.

The wedding was performed in the Copeley Methodist church of Boston, Mass., with the Rev. Dr. Lawrence W. C. Emig officiating, using the single ring ceremony.

The bride was charmingly gowned in royal blue transparent velvet, ankle length, with silver accessories and a corsage of gardenias; she was attended by a classmate, Gladys Goughery of Chicago, Ill., and Mrs. Robert Morrison, both wearing long gowns of black transparent velvet. Robert Morrison acted as best man to the groom and Dr. Frank Thurman of Boston, was an usher.

A dinner party supplemented the ceremony after which Mr. and Mrs. Beam took a short trip which ended in this city, where they have taken up housekeeping at 9 West Leasure avenue.

Mrs. Beam is a graduate of the New Castle High school, class of '27, of the nurses' training school of West Penn hospital, Pittsburgh and the Lying in Hospital of Boston, Mass. Mr. Beam is a graduate of the Bucyrus High school and Ohio State University being a member of the Alpha Chi Sigma fraternity. He is also a member of the American Ceramic Society and is employed as ceramic engineer for the Universal Sanitary Manufacturing company of this city.

After congratulations and felicitations to the happy couple, a delicious lunch was served. Lovely gifts were presented Mr. and Mrs. Beam.

Class Party.

About 35 members of the Laura M. Stevenson class of the Central Presbyterian church, impersonating all sorts of characters, invaded the home of Miss Edna Robison at Edenburg Tuesday evening for a costume party.

Edwin Fisher, Margaret Lowery and Mrs. William McCombs were awarded prizes for the best outfits which kept unrevealed their identities for the longest period of time. Miss Eleanor Lowery and Mrs. Agnes Fisher were aides.

Stunts and games enlivened the hours and the Hallowe'en lunch was most delicious and appropriate.

Enjoyable Party.

A Hallowe'en party was held last evening for members of the Nutty club at the home of Mary Theresa Byler at Parkstown Corners. All the Nuts but three were there, almond, pecan and chestnut not being able to attend.

A delightfully informal evening was spent playing games and cracking jokes, prizes in contests going to Eva Cabin and Elsie Latimer. Catherine Byler was a club guest.

At a later hour a tasty lunch was served, the hostess being assisted by her mother, Mrs. W. M. Byler.

Jolly Quilters.

Mrs. Claude Patton was welcomed as a new member to the group of Jolly Quilters, meeting Wednesday in the home of Mrs. C. W. Smith on Monroe street.

There were 18 present and they spent the day quilting with an appetizing casserole luncheon at noon. Mrs. Myrtle Felton and Miss Emma Patton aided.

The next meeting will take place in a fortnight, at the home of Mrs. Clara Heinbaugh, Brooklyn avenue.

T. O. T. Club

Miss Estella Wilson, Franklin avenue, will be hostess to the T. O. T. club some evening next week, the meeting for last night having been postponed.

'POVERTY PARTY' OF PHALANX IS SUCCESS

Hallowe'en night of this year won't be forgotten soon by the members of the Phalanx fraternity and their wives and lady friends who, in the ragged garbs of hoboes and bums, participated in the hilarious "poverty party" of the organization at a North Beaver township inn.

John Hodge was chairman of the party's arrangements with Michael Bowden, Paul McWilliams, Jack Fulkerson as his table assistants. They also handled the decoration job to perfection.

Dancing to the music of a snappy four-piece orchestra was the evening's chief diversion.

Later, a delicious lunch was served to the guests.

Prizes for the best costumes were won by Miss Eloise Cole among the girls, and Chris Clark among the fellows.

Hallowe'en Party

There were gypsies, scare crows, ghosts, Spanish dancers and many other cleverly impersonated characters assembled at the home of Mrs. Sam Alber, on Miller avenue, for a Hallowe'en party, the rooms being fittingly decorated in seasonal suggestions which presented a gloomy and spooky appearance.

The happy group had fun guessing "who was who", after which they played games and had a hilarious time. Prizes were won by Lily Davis, Hazel Monroe, Gladys Wendt, Margaret Kelly and Isabelle Kay.

True Followers Frolic

Tuesday evening twelve queer looking figures tumbled into the home of Thelma Gordon, 829 Lathrop street, where they were greeted by a ghostly figure. A long time was spent in discovering that the group was made up of members of the True Followers class.

Prizes for costumes were awarded Dorothy Booher, Elsie Shaffer, Grace Lawrence and Dorothy Shaffer.

Merriment ran through the games during the evening and lunch was served by Mrs. Shutts and daughter, Mary.

Eva Beckert was a special guest.

G. N. Club

Miss Anna DeCaprio received both the club and the high score awards at the G. N. club session last evening, in the home of Mrs. Nancy Buscia of Uber street. In honor of here birthday Mrs. Rose Coli was presented a gift, and the hostess was pleased with a nice present from her club associates. Miss Catherine Merolillo and Miss Margaret Frengel were guests.

Following a period of cards and sewing, lunch was served, with Hallowe'en decorations being developed in appointments. The next meeting will be in a fortnight with Mrs. J. Donati of South Mill street.

Dessert-Bridge

Charming hospitality was extended by Mrs. Roy Samuels, of Fairmont avenue, Wednesday afternoon, when she received the 1931 Glendale club for a dessert-bridge.

Orange and black tints, always attractive, were used in appointments and Mrs. William Mayberry assisted. Mrs. Orville Potter was a guest.

At the two table game, favors were won by Mrs. Fred Horchler and Mrs. Kenneth Voorhees, the latter inviting the group to her home, on West Sheridan avenue, for the next assembly, November 14.

Brisco Club.

Wednesday night's meeting of the Brisco club in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fazzone on East Lutton street was in the form of a Hallowe'en party.

The hours were whiled away playing cards. Delicious refreshments were served at an appropriate time by the hostess.

Informal Affair.

Several members of the "26" and "27" classes of Union high school had an informal time Tuesday evening in the West Washington street home of Miss Margaret Davis. Cards provided a pleasing entertainment, with lunch later.

Meet Friday Night

E. S. & A. club will hold their monthly meeting in the Clendenning block at 8 p. m., Friday. The line department of the Pennsylvania Power company will be in charge of the program.

At DeLillo Home

Mrs. Frances De Lillo, will entertain the Ten Ivory club this evening, at her home on Division street.

TEACHER'S PARTY

Joseph Stoner proved a most pleasant host to the teachers of Scott Township and their guests last Saturday evening.

The home was attractively decorated in keeping with the Hallowe'en season. After an enjoyable evening of interesting games and contests a most delicious luncheon was served in the dining room by the host's mother. A clever feature of the luncheon was original candy favors marking the place of each guest.

Those enjoying the event were: Prof. and Mrs. Porter R. McCandless, and Mrs. Jesse Carr, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Fox, Virgil Hockenberry, Helen Hutcheson, Luella Moorhead, Robert Stinson, Harold Burton, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stoner, Clarence Stoner and the host.

MISSIONARY MEETING

The Unity Baptist Missionary Society gathered at the home of Mrs. Margaret Studebaker for an all day meeting and visit, Thursday. A tureen dinner was served at noon to about 25, after which a short business session was held and Rev. William Hammond, gave a short interesting talk on missions. Rev. Hammond, C. G. Wimer, Sam Hunt and Ernest Cunningham employed their spare time in cutting fire wood for their hostess who is 83 years old and does her own housework.

W. W. G. MEETING

The W. W. G. was received by Miss Dorothy Harlan at her home, Friday evening. The sewing of pants and waists for boys to be placed in the World Wide Guild Christmas Box kept them so busy that only a business session was observed outside the work. Lunch was served to 15 by Dorothy Harlan and Alice Dean. The next meeting will be held at the home of Elizabeth Eakin on Thursday evening November 22.

HALLOWE'EN SOCIAL

The Christian Endeavor Society, of the Harlansburg Presbyterian church was entertained at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Jesse Houke, at Rose Point, Friday evening. About 30 were there, nearly all of whom were masked. Mr. and Mrs. Everette McConnell, represented potatoes: Irish Cobblers and Early Rose: Mrs. Joe Burton, Colored Cook: A. R. Flack and Mrs. Andrew Johnson, colored Mammies: Ed Johnson, society dame: others were clowns, ghosts, old maids and foreigners: and many others undescribable.

After the "guessing who" and a general good time, a delicious lunch was served by the hostess and her mother, Mrs. R. B. Stoner.

DISTRICT MEETING

The Beaver Baptist church school and young people of District No. 3 held a convention at the Unity Baptist church Sunday afternoon and evening with "Christian Life" for the theme, with the following program:

Afternoon

Awful thought! Invading troops might kill 30,000 a year and escape punishment by disguising themselves as fool drivers.

Edward Robinson Is Proud Father

Robinson Has Strange Contract, Can Go Home To See Baby Put To Sleep

(Copyright, 1934, By International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 1.—Around Hollywood today they are dubbing Edward G. Robinson as filmdom's proudest papa.

The star, who won screen fame playing gangster killers and other sinister roles, is working at the Columbia studios under one of the strangest agreements in film history.

He has Harry Cohn's guarantee hat he can knock off work every day at 5:30 p. m. so as to be home in time to see his infant son put to bed.

The actor, who portrays men of steel on the screen, reveals that he is just another father at home, taking orders from his baby son's nurse. She rules that no one can disturb Edward G. Robinson, Jr., after he once goes to sleep. So papa must get home early if he wishes to preside over the tucking in.

Viola Pardick (grandma of 60's)
Sophia Biedka (ghost)
Ruth Boyle (handsome groom)
Josephine Cast (charming bride)
Alojzy Augustyn (Tarzan of the Jungles)
Frances Boron (Mae West)

False Registrations Found In Braddock

Probe May Be Started In Other Parts Of Allegheny County

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1—Discovery of 200 false vote registrations in Braddock today by District Attorney Andrew T. Park may lead to a probe in other municipalities in Allegheny county in an effort to prevent frauds at the polls next Tuesday.

Park announced his investigation in Braddock had revealed illegal registration in two wards of that borough and added that the complete registration will be probed before election day. The irregularities were discovered in both Republican and Democratic lists, it was said.

Similar investigations have been going on in five other communities, according to Leo A. Riordan, chief county investigator. He said fraud had also been uncovered in East Pittsburgh, Rankin, Homestead, Wilmerding and McKees Rocks.

TEACHER'S PARTY

Joseph Stoner proved a most pleasant host to the teachers of Scott Township and their guests last Saturday evening.

The home was attractively decorated in keeping with the Hallowe'en season. After an enjoyable evening of interesting games and contests a most delicious luncheon was served in the dining room by the host's mother. A clever feature of the luncheon was original candy favors marking the place of each guest.

Those enjoying the event were: Prof. and Mrs. Porter R. McCandless, and Mrs. Jesse Carr, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Fox, Virgil Hockenberry, Helen Hutcheson, Luella Moorhead, Robert Stinson, Harold Burton, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stoner, Clarence Stoner and the host.

MISSIONARY MEETING

The Unity Baptist Missionary Society gathered at the home of Mrs. Margaret Studebaker for an all day meeting and visit, Thursday. A tureen dinner was served at noon to about 25, after which a short business session was held and Rev. William Hammond, gave a short interesting talk on missions. Rev. Hammond, C. G. Wimer, Sam Hunt and Ernest Cunningham employed their spare time in cutting fire wood for their hostess who is 83 years old and does her own housework.

W. W. G. MEETING

The W. W. G. was received by Miss Dorothy Harlan at her home, Friday evening. The sewing of pants and waists for boys to be placed in the World Wide Guild Christmas Box kept them so busy that only a business session was observed outside the work. Lunch was served to 15 by Dorothy Harlan and Alice Dean. The next meeting will be held at the home of Elizabeth Eakin on Thursday evening November 22.

HALLOWE'EN SOCIAL

The Christian Endeavor Society, of the Harlansburg Presbyterian church was entertained at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Jesse Houke, at Rose Point, Friday evening. About 30 were there, nearly all of whom were masked. Mr. and Mrs. Everette McConnell, represented potatoes: Irish Cobblers and Early Rose: Mrs. Joe Burton, Colored Cook: A. R. Flack and Mrs. Andrew Johnson, colored Mammies: Ed Johnson, society dame: others were clowns, ghosts, old maids and foreigners: and many others undescribable.

After the "guessing who" and a general good time, a delicious lunch was served by the hostess and her mother, Mrs. R. E. Stoner.

DISTRICT MEETING

The Beaver Baptist church school and young people of District No. 3 held a convention at the Unity Baptist church Sunday afternoon and evening with "Christian Life" for the theme, with the following program:

Afternoon

Devotionals—Luella Moorhead

Instrumental Number—The Patterson Family

Address, "Tow To Live Toward God"—Rev. W. J. Gray

Vocal Duet—Dean Maine and Zella McCandless

Evening

Worship and prayer service—Rev. L. S. Cobb

Devotionals—Mrs. Carl Jones

Instrumental Number—Harmony Church group

Address "I Go A Fishing"—Rev. C. D. Henderson, pastor of the Union Baptist church, New Castle, Pa.

HARLANSBURG NOTES

Mrs. Will Eakin called on Mrs. Charles McCune, of New Castle who has been quite ill on Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Eakin and daughter Lorain, of Hillsville, are visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Eakin.

Dorothy and Robert Miller visited their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Miller, at Plaingrove Friday night and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Flack and son Ralph visited the former's mother, Mrs. Amanda Flack, of Plaingrove, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Henry Croyle and son Wayne Wilson, spent from Thursday to Friday evening with Miss Gertrude Thompson, of New Castle.

Mr. and Mrs. Welling Fulford, of New Castle, and Mrs. John McClelland with Herbert LeRoy, of Marwood, visited Mrs. J. P. Burnside on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kneram and children of New Castle, called at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Kneram, Sunday afternoon.

Adelaide Druschel, Gatherine Cunningham and Gladys Harlan, all student nurses at the New Castle hospital, called at the home of Mrs. Edith Harlan Monday.

Mrs. Waldo Baron and children John and Frances, of near Slippery Rock, spent Monday and Tuesday with their parents and grandparents Mr. and Mrs. John Boehm.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peebles accompanied by Mrs. Wm. Porter, son William, Florence Myrtle, and Curtiss Porter all of Pittsburgh were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hammerschmidt.

Mrs. Margaret Cunningham, Ernest Cunningham, E. H. Kamerer, Mrs. Edith Harlan and daughter Dorothy, motored to Kenzua Saturday where they spent the day with Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Warren.

Mrs. I. J. Pizor, of Mercer, concluded a short visit with Mrs. D. W. Dight Sunday and returned to the home of her daughter, Mrs. S. A. Locke for an extended visit. Mrs. Margaret Dight, of North Liberty, was also a recent guest of Mrs. Dight.

Awful thought! Invading troops might kill 30,000 a year and escape punishment by disguising themselves as fool drivers.

Edward Robinson Is Proud Father

Robinson Has Strange Contract, Can Go Home To See Baby Put To Sleep

(Copyright, 1934, By International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 1.—Around Hollywood today they are dubbing Edward G. Robinson as filmdom's proudest papa.

The star, who won screen fame playing gangster killers and other sinister roles, is working at the Columbia studios under one of the strangest agreements in film history.

He has Harry Cohn's guarantee hat he can knock off work every day at 5:30 p. m. so as to be home in time to see his infant son put to bed.

The actor, who portrays men of steel on the screen, reveals that he is just another father at home, taking orders from his baby son's nurse. She rules that no one can disturb Edward G. Robinson, Jr., after he once goes to sleep. So papa must get home early if he wishes to preside over the tucking in.

Sunny Avenue Pupils Hold Costume Party

Classes End Early Wednesday And Fun Begins; Prizes Are Awarded

Eight Sunny Avenue pupils won prizes for the Hallowe'en costumes they wore at Wednesday afternoon's masquerade party which the school enjoyed.

The entire group of costumes paraded past the judges, faculty members and the school's principal, J. Arthur Turek, for inspection. There were angels and there were devils and almost anything else, too. Besides Mr. Turek, the Misses Shipe, Resch and Barthman judged.

prize winners were:

John Pagas (a Mexican general)

John Cast (hobo)

Viola Pardick (grandma of 60's)

Sophia Biedka (ghost)

Ruth Boyle (handsome groom)

Josephine Cast (charming bride)

Alojzy Augustyn (Tarzan of the Jungles)

Frances Boron (Mae West)

False Registrations Found In Braddock

Probe May Be Started In Other Parts Of Allegheny County

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1—Discovery of 200 false vote registrations in Braddock today by District Attorney Andrew T. Park may lead to a probe in other municipalities in Allegheny county in an effort to prevent frauds at the polls next Tuesday.

Park announced his investigation in Braddock had revealed illegal registration in two wards of that borough and added that the complete registration will be probed before election day. The irregularities were discovered in both Republican and Democratic lists, it was said.

Similar investigations have been going on in five other communities, according to Leo A. Riordan, chief county investigator. He said fraud had also been uncovered in East Pittsburgh, Rankin, Homestead, Wilmerding and McKees Rocks.

LITTLE BEAVER

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

A Hallowe'en party was held at the Little Beaver school on Friday evening with prizes being awarded in the costume contest, to Louis Knepp, Billie Zek, Jude Dunlap and Cecil Kenny. A tempting lunch was served by the mothers at a suitable hour. The guests included students of grades 1 and 2.

LITTLE BEAVER NOTES

Richard Gosclike was a guest in Pittsburgh on Monday.

John Moore, Jr., was a visitor in Beaver Falls on Friday.

Mrs. Harry Litner was a visitor in Pittsburgh on Friday.

Possible Jurors For Hauptmann Case Are Drawn

(International News Service)

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Nov. 1—Selection of a local attorney to help defend Bruno Richard Hauptmann in his trial for the murder of the infant son of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was awaited by townsfolk today.

Three hundred and eighty-eight Hunterdon county citizens were drawn by lot as possible jurors in the trial yesterday.

Talesmen drawn for the trial in the office of Sheriff John Henry Curtiss and publicly posted include 227 men and 161 women, most of whom are housewives.

Choice of local counsel appeared narrowed to George H. Large, former county prosecutor and Floyd Fisher, brilliant young attorney who denfended John Hughes, of Norfolk, Va., shipbuilder, who was convicted of obstructing justice in connection with the kidnaping.

Mrs. Anni Hauptmann, the prisoner's wife, was expected to visit him again today upon her return from New York, where she has been arranging for the transfer of her belongings to her quarters here in which she will live until after the trial.

A challenge has been issued by Hauptmann to Dr. John F. (Jafsie) Condon to visit him again and talk with him.

Hauptmann, it is said, is certain that if Condon converses sufficiently long with him he can convince the educator and go-between that he is not the man to whom "Jafsie" turned over the $50,000 ransom money in a Bronx cemetery.

Pittsburgh Girl Is Bottle Swinger

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—A 25-year-old Pittsburgh girl today regretted her ability to swing a bottle.

Arraigned before a magistrate this morning, Miss Esther Weston, accused of flooring Nathan Martin with a bottle during a Hallowe'en party, was admitted to $1,000 bail. Bond was placed at a similar figure for her escort, Joseph Seibert, 27.

Miss Weston told the court she hit Martin on the head with the bottle after she overheard him saying "nastly things" about her.

For that matter, George III might have prevented the Revolution by giving the Colonials free rations and clothes and gas.

Crafty Move By Japan To Force U. S. Recognition

Seek To Force United States To Recognize New State Of Manchukuo

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—A crafty diplomatic move by Japan to force American recognition of the Japanese controlled state of Manchukuo was disclosed today by the state department.

Acting Secretary of State William Phillips revealed that when the American embassy at Tokyo made representations against the proposed Manchukuo oil monopoly, the Japanese government suggested that the United States take the matter up directly with the Manchukuo government.

Tokyo took the attitude that Manchukuo was an independent sovereign state and that if the western powers were concerned at any measures taken within that empire, they should communicate directly with the Manchukuo government.

This would be tantamount to de jure recognition of that puppet empire, and this government, Phillips disclosed, flatly declined to comply.

Moses had an easier time saving his people. He didn't have to keep the good will of Washington correspondents.

Appetite gone?
A simple thing, perhaps... yet a very serious one, resulting in loss of strength... body weakness... and possibly many other ills. So why not check-up and snap back to the zest of eating and well being. You will find S.S.S. a great, scientifically-tested tonic—not just a so-called tonic, but one specially designed to stimulate gastric secretions and also having the mineral elements so very, very necessary in rebuilding the oxygen-carrying hemo-glo-bin of the blood to enable you to "carry on." Do try it. Unless your case is exceptional, you should soon enjoy again the satisfaction of appetizing food and good digestion... sound sleep... and renewed strength. Remember, "S.S.S. makes you feel like yourself again."
Do not be blinded by the efforts of a few unethical dealers who may suggest substitutes. You have a right to insist that S.S.S. be supplied you on request. Its long years of preference is your guarantee of satisfaction.

Deficit Passes Billion Mark

Government On October 30 Was Reported $1,026,788,000 In "Hole"

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Uncle Sam's deficit passed the billion dollar mark for the first time during the current fiscal year on October 30, when the government was $1,026,788,000 "in the hole", the Treasury announced today. The fiscal year started July 1.

Total expenditures were $2,234,973,000, as compared with $1,409,549,000 in the same period last year.

Receipts were $1,208,184,000, as compared with $827,643,000 last year.

The deficit October 30, 1933, was $481,906,000.

Emergency expenditures in the July 1-October 30 period totalled $1,105,872,000, against $399,312,000 last year.

Gold holdings of the treasury passed the $8,000,000,000 mark by $1,062,974.

Episcopals Plan District Conference

Trinity Church Members Will Join In Oil City Meeting Monday, November 5

The diocese of Erie will hold four district conferences in as many different sections of the diocese on the missionary work of the church within its own confines, in the United States and throughout the world, beginning Sunday, Nov. 4, and lasting through Wednesday, the 7th.

The conference for the churches in Clarion, Mercer, Lawrence and Venango counties will be held in Christ church, Oil City, on Monday, Nov. 5. The conference will be led by the Rt. Rev. W. M. M. Thomas, D. D., bishop of southern Brazil, and the Rt. Rev. John C. Ward, bishop of the diocese of Erie.

Miss Margaret Teague, director of religious education in the diocese of Maine, will be among the speakers, as will the Rev. Louis L. Perkins, rector of St. Paul's church, Kittanning.

The conferences in Christ church will begin at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon and will last until 9 o'clock that same evening. Supper will be served in the parish house at 6:30 p. m.

Addresses and conferences in the afternoon will include talks on "General Convention" by the Very Rev. Martin Aigner, D. D., "Carrying On" by the Rev. L. L. Perkins, and "What Women Are Doing in Maine" by Miss Teague. Reports on the "Progress of the Campaign" will be given by representatives of the various churches in the district, and Bishop Thomas will tell something of his work in Brazil.

In the evening Bishop Thomas will be the principal speaker, with Miss Teague a close second on "Women's Part in God's Work". "What the Diocese Should Do in 1935" will be covered by Cyrus F. Mackey, treasurer of the diocese of Erie, and one of its outstanding laymen.

The Rev. L. L. Perkins will also have a part in the evening program. The Rt. Rev. John C. Ward, D. D., bishop of Erie, will preside throughout the conference

MOOSE CHARGES AUTO

"And there's something else. On my southeast 20, which I had plowed up last fall. I notice some corn already coming up.

"I guess when the men hauled the corn from the field last fall they must have spilled some kernels and they've started to grow. If they mature I will have more corn than the acreage I contracted for under the corn-hog program. Still, it seems a shame to start pulling up these plants that are trying to grow.

"What if some inspector comes along and checks up and finds I'm raising more corn than I should, and sees the condition 'Esmeralda' is in? Will I have to go to jail? And if so, will it be a federal prison or some place closer home?"

Gigantic Program Awaits Convening Of Next Congress

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—An important legislative program was being compiled here for the seventy-fourth congress, to be elected Tuesday but which doesn't convene until January.

Immediate payment of the $2,200,000,000 balance on World War adjusted service (bonus) certificates for 2,500,000 veterans topped the program but it covered a wide range of subjects. The tentative program already compiled, included consideration of:

1—A universal draft law, conscripting capital, industry and manpower in time of war, as advocated by the American Legion and other organizations.

2—A tighter immigration law, probably including a provision for registration of aliens until they become citizens.

3—Anti-communist legislation, designed to halt the unrestricted circulation of communist propaganda, much evidenced in the summer's labor disorders.

4—A new tax legislation, even if the bill merely extends for another year the special excise taxes, which expire June 30.

5—Amendments to the agricultural adjustment act, eliminating some abuses and determining the administration's program toward cotton growers for the next year.

6—A new public works program, to be financed over a long period, for low cost housing and self-liquidating projects.

7—New and heavy relief appropriations, to meet direct relief burden for another year.

8—The World Court and St. Lawrence waterway treaties by the senate.

The American Legion and other veterans organizations will launch the drive for the cash bonus and universal draft law. The administration will oppose the first but its efforts will not prevent a vote, though a presidential veto may block its enactment.

Busy Session

Members of congress from states which were the scene of violent labor disorders last summer, will sponsor the anti-alien and anti-communist legislation. The legion recommended a law barring communist literature from the mails. The alien registration legislation will gain support from publicity on the records of Richard Bruno Hauptmann, accused of the murder of the Lindbergh baby, who entered the country illegally.

The tax bill is necessary if for no other reason than to retain the federal excise taxes which expire June 30. Relief appropriations are just as necessary to the administration.

The outlook is for a busy session of the new congress.

SCHOOL BANKING

The week of October 22 shows an unusual decrease in the number of depositors and amount deposited by the Bessemer high students. The number of depositors last week was 41, and the amount deposited was $19.61. This week the number dropped to 27 and the sum deposited was $10.02.

The Freshman class leads with eight depositors, Junior and Sophomores with six, eighth grade with three, and seventh with 2. The Juniors lead in the amount deposited, which is $3.91, and the Freshman next with $2.92.

RECEIVE REPORTS

The students received their report cards on October 21. This event brought the first six weeks of school to an end. During the first six weeks the teachers and students got acquainted. The report cards have been comparatively good. Some of the students may be disappointed, but they have thirty weeks more in which to make good.

INTRAMURAL VOLLEY BALL

The room volley ball season opened Monday, October 29, with the boys of room 5 playing the boys of room 6. Room 5 won the game. On October 30, the girls of room 5 and room 6 played. The game was a tie.

INTRAMURAL TOUCHFOOTBALL

The touch-football was completed on October 19. The results are not known because of the disappearance of the schedule and team averages from the bulletin board.

SENIOR PARTY

The following people were appointed chairmen:

Chairman of General committee—Edith Benson; chairman of Refreshment committee — Olive White; chairman of Program committee—Madolyn Kelley; chairman of Ticket committee—John DiLullo; chairman of Clean-Up committee—Frank Navarra.

All teachers are invited, and the Seniors hope they will all come.

The evening's entertainment will consist of dancing, cards, ping-pong and possibly other games.

BE-HI NEWS STAFF

Following is the staff of the Be-Hi News for this year:

SCHOOL NOTES

The Art club gave a wiener roast Wednesday, October 24. The event took place at Lake Bessemer. Miss Leacock is the sponsor.

Russell Battin has returned to school after a month's absence, the result of illness. Harold Hedberg is still in the Allegheny General hospital in Pittsburgh.

A brief faculty meeting was held Tuesday at 4:00 in the Sewing room, for the purpose of discussing results of recently given tests to seniors and seventh grade pupils.

The seventh grade Hallowe'en party was held October 25. Volley ball, fruit-basket, wink and other games were the diversions. Refreshments were served. Harry Conner, Virginia Carr and Anna Sankovich were committee members.

The sophomore party is to be held in the auditorium November 6. The committee chairmen are as follows:

General, John Samsa; refreshment, Margaret Serjak; entertainment, Mildred Wolfe; decorating, Dick DeArment; ticket, Ed. Pearson.

The P. S. E. A. Mid-Western convention was held in Beaver Falls October 26 and 27. Four of the band members from Bessemer high school, as well as the entire school faculty from both buildings, were in attendance. Agner Swanson, Loyal Weitz, Richard DeArment and Bill Pelto were in the all-high school band which played for the convention.

Gigantic Program Awaits Convening Of Next Congress

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—An important legislative program was being compiled here for the seventy-fourth congress, to be elected Tuesday but which doesn't convene until January.

Immediate payment of the $2,200,000,000 balance on World War adjusted service (bonus) certificates for 2,500,000 veterans topped the program but it covered a wide range of subjects. The tentative program already compiled, included consideration of:

1—A universal draft law, conscripting capital, industry and manpower in time of war, as advocated by the American Legion and other organizations.

2—A tighter immigration law, probably including a provision for registration of aliens until they become citizens.

3—Anti-communist legislation, designed to halt the unrestricted circulation of communist propaganda, much evidenced in the summer's labor disorders.

4—A new tax legislation, even if the bill merely extends for another year the special excise taxes, which expire June 30.

5—Amendments to the agricultural adjustment act, eliminating some abuses and determining the administration's program toward cotton growers for the next year.

6—A new public works program, to be financed over a long period, for low cost housing and self-liquidating projects.

7—New and heavy relief appropriations, to meet direct relief burden for another year.

8—The World Court and St. Lawrence waterway treaties by the senate.

The American Legion and other veterans organizations will launch the drive for the cash bonus and universal draft law. The administration will oppose the first but its efforts will not prevent a vote, though a presidential veto may block its enactment.

Busy Session

Members of congress from states which were the scene of violent labor disorders last summer, will sponsor the anti-alien and anti-communist legislation. The legion recommended a law barring communist literature from the mails. The alien registration legislation will gain support from publicity on the records of Richard Bruno Hauptmann, accused of the murder of the Lindbergh baby, who entered the country illegally.

The tax bill is necessary if for no other reason than to retain the federal excise taxes which expire June 30. Relief appropriations are just as necessary to the administration.

The outlook is for a busy session of the new congress.

Bessemer High School Notes

EDUCATION WEEK

Students, teachers and school patrons of Bessemer school are planning to celebrate American Education week from November 5-11. The theme running through the week's activities will be "Educating for Tomorrow."

Special bulletins pertaining to various phases of educational activity will appear on all school bulletin boards. Many times during the week reference to the significance of the occasion will be made in regular classes. Social Science classes will make special study of the significance of American Education week. Home room programs will be centered about educational problems.

Throughout the week many parents will be welcomed as observers of school activities. Friday, November 9, has been set aside as a special day for visitation. On that day the school assembly program will feature an educational pageant and an address by Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of the New Castle schools.

ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

The assembly program, October 26, with Miss Landman as sponsor, was as follows:

Flag salute.

Song, junior girls double quartette—"Follow the Gleam."

Violin solos, George Pelto, accompanist, Irma Pelto—Serenade—Dadla.

Piano duet—Edith Swanson and Violet Reynolds.

Essay, "Hallowe'en" and "School Notes"—Betty Yeropoli.

Junior girls double quartette—"Lost in a Fog," "Here Come the British."

High school song.

Announcements.

ANNOUNCE CAST

"Paddy," the Next Best Thing," has been selected for the Junior class play, which will be directed by Miss Landman, Junior class advisor. It is to be presented Thursday, December 13. The cast follows:

Gen. Adair (of the Ghan House)—Rudy Jordana.

Dr. Davy Adair (his brother)—Wayne Davis, Jr.

Eileen (his daughter)—Virginia Mandich.

Paddy—Betty Nord.

Miss O'Hara (friend of the Adairs)—Rose Slapnichar.

Mary O'Hara (friend of the Adairs)—Ada List.

Jack O'Hara (their nephew)—Bonner Poushey.

Lawrence Blake (Paddy's enemy)—Bill Grimes.

Doreen Blake (his sister)—June Shoup.

Gwendolyn Carew (his cousin)—Helen Pelto.

Lord Sellaby—John Pepe.

Micky (man servant to the Adairs)—Archie Young.

Webb (parlor maid at Dr. Davy's)—Violet Mandich.

Mrs. Pingle (patient of Dr. Davy)—Edith Wolfe.

Mrs. Putter (patient of Dr. Davy)—Mildred Percic.

Porter—Sam Prohart.

DEBATE CLUB

The Debate club has been organized again this year under the direction of Miss Fell.

It consists of eight members. Four debaters are: Madolyn Kelley and John Franke, affirmative, and Betty Nord and Nellie Yeropli, the negative. Alternates are Archie Young, Arthur Williams, John Pepe and Virginia Mandich.

Just now the members are engaged in writing their speeches.

It is hoped that they will have a successful year and also that there will be several debates on Bessemer's schedule.

HONOR ROLL

As a result of the first six weeks of school there are a great number of students on the honor roll, the total number being 59. Of this number there are 37 girls and 22 boys.

The seniors and juniors are equal, each having 13 students on the honor roll.

The honor roll follows:

Senior class—Margaret Hoshowsky, Madolyn Kelley, Katherine Sankovich, Edith Swanson, Olive White, Betty Yeropoli, Jake Hostnik, Alex Murphy, *Nellie Yeropoli, Harry Shoup, Arnold Tenhula, Henry Throop, Mary Jordana.

*Highest ranking.

SCHOOL BANKING

The week of October 22 shows an unusual decrease in the number of depositors and amount deposited by the Bessemer high students. The number of depositors last week was 41, and the amount deposited was $19.61. This week the number dropped to 27 and the sum deposited was $10.02.

The Freshman class leads with eight depositors, Junior and Sophomores with six, eighth grade with three, and seventh with 2. The Juniors lead in the amount deposited, which is $3.91, and the Freshman next with $2.92.

RECEIVE REPORTS

The students received their report cards on October 21. This event brought the first six weeks of school to an end. During the first six weeks the teachers and students got acquainted. The report cards have been comparatively good. Some of the students may be disappointed, but they have thirty weeks more in which to make good.

INTRAMURAL VOLLEY BALL

The room volley ball season opened Monday, October 29, with the boys of room 5 playing the boys of room 6. Room 5 won the game. On October 30, the girls of room 5 and room 6 played. The game was a tie.

INTRAMURAL TOUCHFOOTBALL

The touch-football was completed on October 19. The results are not known because of the disappearance of the schedule and team averages from the bulletin board.

SENIOR PARTY

The following people were appointed chairmen:

Chairman of General committee—Edith Benson; chairman of Refreshment committee — Olive White; chairman of Program committee—Madolyn Kelley; chairman of Ticket committee—John DiLullo; chairman of Clean-Up committee—Frank Navarra.

All teachers are invited, and the Seniors hope they will all come.

The evening's entertainment will consist of dancing, cards, ping-pong and possibly other games.

BE-HI NEWS STAFF

Following is the staff of the Be-Hi News for this year:

SCHOOL NOTES

The Art club gave a wiener roast Wednesday, October 24. The event took place at Lake Bessemer. Miss Leacock is the sponsor.

Russell Battin has returned to school after a month's absence, the result of illness. Harold Hedberg is still in the Allegheny General hospital in Pittsburgh.

A brief faculty meeting was held Tuesday at 4:00 in the Sewing room, for the purpose of discussing results of recently given tests to seniors and seventh grade pupils.

The seventh grade Hallowe'en party was held October 25. Volley ball, fruit-basket, wink and other games were the diversions. Refreshments were served. Harry Conner, Virginia Carr and Anna Sankovich were committee members.

The sophomore party is to be held in the auditorium November 6. The committee chairmen are as follows:

General, John Samsa; refreshment, Margaret Serjak; entertainment, Mildred Wolfe; decorating, Dick DeArment; ticket, Ed. Pearson.

The P. S. E. A. Mid-Western convention was held in Beaver Falls October 26 and 27. Four of the band members from Bessemer high school, as well as the entire school faculty from both buildings, were in attendance. Agner Swanson, Loyal Weitz, Richard DeArment and Bill Pelto were in the all-high school band which played for the convention.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Hunters Take To Countryside Today

Hundreds Of Mahoningtowners, Guns On Shoulders, Out On Opening Day

The largest crowd of Mahoningtown hunters in years shouldered their guns and took to woods and fields when dawn came through this morning. The crack of shotguns could be heard as early as 5 and 6 a. m. in this district. The largest part of the hunters confined their activities to the West Pittsburg swamp district and the Sunnyside vicinity.

Paul D. Weller, who has been selling hunting licenses here, reports this morning that already the number sold has exceeded that of last year, and applications are still coming strong. Numerous tags have been sold directly to Seventh Warders at the county court house.

Although the big kill will be rabbits, the hunters are keenly on the lookout for quail and pheasants. Lawrence county has been stocked with an unusually large number of ringnecks from the Jordan State Game Farm this year. An allotment of quail from the Fisher State Game Farm was also released here.

PROGRESS IN WORK

When a cut which is being made along a hillside is completed, and fills are made at the east and west ends, there will be a thoroughfare connecting Second, First and Lafayette streets for the first time in the history of the Seventh ward.

A horse and drag are being used in making the cut by a workman under the employ of Dr. Pandora Simpson. It is slow and difficult work but considerable progress is being made. The hillside into which the road is being cut is located at the rear of the Margarites' tennis court.

B. W. R. CLUB

Mrs. Wilbur King of North Cedar street will entertain the B. W. R. club at her home Tuesday evening, November 6. Mrs. Lillian Rhoades will be the associate hostess.

Permanent Stage Being Constructed

RWD Workmen Providing Mahoning School With New Stage Is Assembly Hall

The sound of hammers and saws are echoing through the Mahoning school building as RWD workers are busily engaged at the job of building a permanent stage in the assembly hall.

This is one of several improvements that will be made at the local school as RWD work projects. Although the school has had a stage it was not a permanent one and was also too large.

The assembly room is located on the first floor of the building and when not used for assembly is converted into a classroom.

B. OF R. T. LADIES

The next regular meeting of the Mabel Wilson Auxiliary to the B. of R. T. will take place Wednesday evening, November 14, at the Eagles hall, South Jefferson street. Hereafter all meetings of the organization will be conducted at that place on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month.

AT FORT TOTTEN

Private C W. Dungan, formerly of Newell avenue, now with the U. S. Army, has been transferred from Fort Slocum to Fort Totten, Long Island, N. Y. H. Q. Battery 62 C. A.

REMODEL HOUSE

DISTRICT GATHERS

Representatives from a dozen or more Presbyterian churches gathered at the Mahoningtown church this morning for an all-day district Presbyterial meeting of the Shenango Presbytery.

SIDEWALK REPAIRS

Pennsylvania Power company employes are preparing to re-cement the sidewalk in front of the company's sub-station property on North Cedar street. The work of preparing the bed was well underway Wednesday. The old sidewalk was torn up some time ago.

MEET AT CHURCH

Members of the McCoy Bible class will gather at the Mahoning Methodist church at 7:30 o'clock this evening and from there will go together to the home of Mrs. M. J. Beiersmith, North Mercer street.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

F. W. Shuster, of Erie, Pa., is spending the week in this ward.

Mike Orlando, of 209 Wabash avenue is recovering from an illness.

Dr. E. L. Vincent, of West Clayton street, is hunting in Butler county.

William Stubbs, of West Madison avenue, is hunting small game in the Portersville vicinity, today.

John Robinson, Mahoningtown post office clerk, is still confined to his home on East Brook road by illness.

Mrs. Bridget Izzo, of South Ashland avenue, is undergoing treatment in the Jemeson Memorial hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dungan, of Barberton, Ohio are visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. March Schawl here.

THE GREATEST

IMPROVEMENT IN

MOTOR OILS SINCE

THE INVENTION OF

THE AUTOMOBILE!

AND WANT TO PROVE IT TO YOU

THROUGH a revolutionary change, ATLANTIC today makes available what we believe is the greatest improvement in motor oils since the invention of the automobile.

ATLANTIC MOTOR OILS for Winter have a remarkable new characteristic . . . EXTREMELY HIGH FILM-STRENGTH. They will prolong the life of the working parts of your engine, and should definitely mean lower upkeep and fewer repair bills for you.

"Film-strength" is the ability of an oil to support load. The higher the film-strength, the less tendency there is for metal-to-metal contact between two surfaces, such as piston rings, cylinder walls, wrist pins and bearings. Thus the oil with the highest film-strength gives greatest protection against wear.

ATLANTIC MOTOR OILS for Winter provide an extra margin of safety under the most severe operating conditions because of their extremely high film-strength.

Give your car the correct grade of ATLANTIC MOTOR OIL. Drive 25,000 . . . 50,000 . . . 100,000 miles. You will find that the minimum engine repairs will prove our statement that here is the greatest improvement in motor oils since the invention of the automobile. * * * For best results, drain your crankcase before putting in ATLANTIC MOTOR OIL for Winter.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Hunters Take To Countryside Today

The largest crowd of Mahoningtown hunters in years shouldered their guns and took to woods and fields when dawn came through this morning. The crack of shotguns could be heard as early as 5 and 6 a. m. in this district. The largest part of the hunters confined their activities to the West Pittsburg swamp district and the Sunnyside vicinity.

Paul D. Weller, who has been selling hunting licenses here, reports this morning that already the number sold has exceeded that of last year, and applications are still coming strong. Numerous tags have been sold directly to Seventh Warders at the county court house.

Although the big kill will be rabbits, the hunters are keenly on the lookout for quail and pheasants. Lawrence county has been stocked with an unusually large number of ringnecks from the Jordan State Game Farm this year. An allotment of quail from the Fisher State Game Farm was also released here.

PROGRESS IN WORK

When a cut which is being made along a hillside is completed, and fills are made at the east and west ends, there will be a thoroughfare connecting Second, First and Lafayette streets for the first time in the history of the Seventh ward.

A horse and drag are being used in making the cut by a workman under the employ of Dr. Pandora Simpson. It is slow and difficult work but considerable progress is being made. The hillside into which the road is being cut is located at the rear of the Margarites' tennis court.

B. W. R. CLUB

Mrs. Wilbur King of North Cedar street will entertain the B. W. R. club at her home Tuesday evening, November 6. Mrs. Lillian Rhoades will be the associate hostess.

Permanent Stage Being Constructed

RWD Workmen Providing Mahoning School With New Stage Is Assembly Hall

The sound of hammers and saws are echoing through the Mahoning school building as RWD workers are busily engaged at the job of building a permanent stage in the assembly hall.

This is one of several improvements that will be made at the local school as RWD work projects. Although the school has had a stage it was not a permanent one and was also too large.

The assembly room is located on the first floor of the building and when not used for assembly is converted into a classroom.

B. OF R. T. LADIES

The next regular meeting of the Mabel Wilson Auxiliary to the B. of R. T. will take place Wednesday evening, November 14, at the Eagles hall, South Jefferson street. Hereafter all meetings of the organization will be conducted at that place on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month.

AT FORT TOTTEN

Private C W. Dungan, formerly of Newell avenue, now with the U. S. Army, has been transferred from Fort Slocum to Fort Totten, Long Island, N. Y. H. Q. Battery 62 C. A.

REMODEL HOUSE

DISTRICT GATHERS

Representatives from a dozen or more Presbyterian churches gathered at the Mahoningtown church this morning for an all-day district Presbyterial meeting of the Shenango Presbytery.

SIDEWALK REPAIRS

Pennsylvania Power company employes are preparing to re-cement the sidewalk in front of the company's sub-station property on North Cedar street. The work of preparing the bed was well underway Wednesday. The old sidewalk was torn up some time ago.

MEET AT CHURCH

Members of the McCoy Bible class will gather at the Mahoning Methodist church at 7:30 o'clock this evening and from there will go together to the home of Mrs. M. J. Beiersmith, North Mercer street.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

F. W. Shuster, of Erie, Pa., is spending the week in this ward.

Mike Orlando, of 209 Wabash avenue is recovering from an illness.

Dr. E. L. Vincent, of West Clayton street, is hunting in Butler county.

William Stubbs, of West Madison avenue, is hunting small game in the Portersville vicinity, today.

John Robinson, Mahoningtown post office clerk, is still confined to his home on East Brook road by illness.

Mrs. Bridget Izzo, of South Ashland avenue, is undergoing treatment in the Jemeson Memorial hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dungan, of Barberton, Ohio are visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. March Schawl here.

Jesse Boak, rural carrier for the Mahoningtown post office is off duty today and has joined other hunters in opening the small game season. His work on Route 8 is being performed by John Brewster.

TEACHER'S PARTY

Joseph Stoner proved a most pleasant host to the teachers of Scott Township and their guests last Saturday evening.

The home was attractively decorated in keeping with the Hallowe'en season. After an enjoyable evening of interesting games and contests a most delicious luncheon was served in the dining room by the host's mother. A clever feature of the luncheon was original candy favors marking the place of each guest.

Those enjoying the event were: Prof. and Mrs. Porter R. McCandless, and Mrs. Jesse Carr, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Fox, Virgil Hockenberry, Helen Hutchcson, Luella Moorhead, Robert Stinson, Harold Burton, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stoner, Clarence Stoner and the host.

MISSIONARY MEETING

The Unity Baptist Missionary Society gathered at the home of Mrs. Margaret Studebaker for an all day meeting and visit, Thursday. A tureen dinner was served at noon to about 25, after which a short business session was held and Rev. William Hammond, gave a short interesting talk on missions. Rev. Hammond, C. G. Wimer, Sam Hunt and Ernest Cunningham employed their spare time in cutting fire wood for their hostess who is 83 years old and does her own housework.

W. W. G. MEETING

The W. W. G. was received by Miss Dorothy Harlan at her home, Friday evening. The sewing of pants and waists for boys to be placed in the World Wide Guild Christmas Box kept them so busy that only a business session was observed outside the work. Lunch was served to 15 by Dorothy Harlan and Alice Dean. The next meeting will be held at the home of Elizabeth Eakin on Thursday evening November 22.

HALLOWE'EN SOCIAL

The Christian Endeavor Society, of the Harlansburg Presbyterian church was entertained at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Jesse Houke, at Rose Point, Friday evening. About 30 were there, nearly all of whom were masked. Mr. and Mrs. Everette McConnell, represented potatoes: Irish Cobblers and Early Rose: Mrs. Joe Burton, Colored Cook: A. R. Flack and Mrs. Andrew Johnson, colored Mammies: Ed Johnson, society dame: others were clowns, ghosts, old maids and foreigners: and many others undescribable.

After the "guessing who" and a general good time, a delicious lunch was served by the hostess and her mother, Mrs. R. B. Stoner.

DISTRICT MEETING

The Beaver Baptist church school and young people of District No. 3 held a convention at the Unity Baptist church Sunday afternoon and evening with "Christian Life" for the theme, with the following program:

Afternoon

Devotionals—Luella Moorhead
Instrumental Number—The Patterson Family
Address, "How To Live Toward God"—Rev. W. I. Gray
Vocal Duet—Dean Maine and Zella McCandless

Evening

Worship and prayer service—Rev. L. S. Cobb
Devotionals—Mrs. Carl Jones
Instrumental Number—Harmony Church group
Address "I Go A Fishing"—Rev. C. D. Henderson, pastor of the Union Baptist church, New Castle, Pa.

HARLANSBURG NOTES

Mrs. Will Eakin called on Mrs. Charles McCune, of New Castle who has been quite ill on Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Eakin and daughter Lorain, of Hillsville, are visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Eakin.

Edward Robinson Is Proud Father

Robinson Has Strange Contract, Can Go Home To See Baby Put To Sleep

(Copyright, 1934, By International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 1.—Around Hollywood today they are dubbing Edward G. Robinson as filmdom's proudest papa.

The star, who won screen fame playing gangster killers and other sinister roles, is working at the Columbia studios under one of the strangest agreements in film history.

He has Harry Cohn's guarantee hat he can knock off work every day at 5:30 p. m. so as to be home in time to see his infant son put to bed.

The actor, who portrays men of steel on the screen, reveals that he is just another father at home, taking orders from his baby son's nurse. She rules that no one can disturb Edward G. Robinson, Jr., after he once goes to sleep. So papa must get home early if he wishes to preside over the tucking in.

Sunny Avenue Pupils Hold Costume Party

Classes End Early Wednesday And Fun Begins; Prizes Are Awarded

Eight Sunny Avenue pupils won prizes for the Hallowe'en costumes they wore at Wednesday afternoon's masquerade party which the school enjoyed.

prize winners were:
John Pagas (a Mexican general)
John Cast (hobo)
Viola Pardick (grandma of 60's)
Sophia Bledka (ghost)
Ruth Boyle (handsome groom)
Josephine Cast (charming bride)
Alojzy Augustyn (Tarzan of the Jungles)
Frances Boron (Mae West)

False Registrations Found In Braddock

Probe May Be Started In Other Parts Of Allegheny County

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1—Discovery of 200 false vote registrations in Braddock today by District Attorney Andrew T. Park may lead to a probe in other municipalities in Allegheny county in an effort to prevent frauds at the polls next Tuesday.

Park announced his investigation in Braddock had revealed illegal registration in two wards of that borough and added that the complete registration will be probed before election day. The irregularities were discovered in both Republican and Democratic lists, it was said.

Similar investigations have been going on in five other communities, according to Leo A. Riordan, chief county investigator. He said fraud had also been uncovered in East Pittsburgh, Rankin, Homestead, Wilmerding and McKees Rocks.

Bus Crash Near Butler Probed

Bus Goes Over Embankment, One Man Seriously Injured

(International News Service)

BUTLER, Pa., Nov. 1.—Defective steering apparatus was believed responsible today for the crash of a New York-Chicago Nu-Way bus which plunged over a 25-foot embankment and overturned twice, six miles east of here last night.

Eleven persons escaped death or serious injury in the accident. All were brought to Butler hospital.

Journey Resumed

According to state highway patrol Corporal Leo Dolan, who investigated, Breen said he had stopped at Ebensburg on account of the manner in which the bus was steering. A broken shock absorber was removed.

The passengers continued their journey to Chicago after repairs were effected, it was stated.

In another crash two weeks ago in which a Nu-Way bus careened into Laurel run, two persons were killed.

Pinchot Charges Republican Address Is "Cut Off Air"

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 1.—Additional charges of violation of the Federal Radio Broadcasting Act were heaped onto the fires of Pennsylvania's blazing political campaign today by Gov. Gifford Pinchot who earlier this week alleged his own speeches were being "sabotaged."

Governor Pinchot made public a second letter to Eugene O. Sykes of the Federal Communications Commission alleging that Gabriel D. Weiss, Philadelphia Democratic legislative candidate, was cut off the air during a political talk over Station WIP and later refused an opportunity to repeat his speech after its text had been censored.

The cutoff was said to have occurred October 25 and the censorship incident on October 30. Weiss' speech was scheduled by the Schnader-for-Governor Democratic Club of Philadelphia.

Detailing the cutoff incident, Governor Pinchot wrote:

"Mr. Weiss had just said he could not tolerate Guffey or Earle or the unseen powers behind them. He had begun to read from a campaign circular published by the Roland S. Morris senatorial campaign committee in the Democratic primary last spring. That circular named the real powers behind the Guffey-Earle ticket as J. David Stern, of the Philadelphia Record; Albert M. Greenfield, banker; Matthew McCloskey and John B. Kelly, contractors—all Republicans. Just before the name of Greenfield was mentioned Mr. Weiss was cut off the air and the station announcer told the public Mr. Weiss was unable to continue."

FUND FOR HOSPITAL

GROVE CITY, Pa., Nov. 1.—With returns far from complete, a total of $998.60 had been subscribed to the maintenance drive of the Grove City hospital, Chairman Glenn Caruthers, reports. GROVE CITY, Pa., Nov. 1.—With returns far from complete, a total of $998.60 had been subscribed to the maintenance drive of the Grove City hospital, Chairman Glenn Carruthers, reports. The campaign was started last Friday, but bad weather conditions hampered the workers, and many of them have not yet reported.

It is confidently expected that the quota of $1,300 will be met when returns are complete.

Visiting relatives soon will be able to hear as well as see movies of the children of their proud host and hostess. The first amateur size sound-on-film camera is being brought out and is scheduled to appear on the market soon.

Gigantic Program Awaits Convening Of Next Congress

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—An important legislative program was being compiled here for the seventy-fourth congress, to be elected Tuesday but which doesn't convene until January.

Immediate payment of the $2,200,000,000 balance on World War adjusted service (bonus) certificates for 2,500,000 veterans topped the program but it covered a wide range of subjects. The tentative program already compiled, included consideration of:

1—A universal draft law, conscripting capital, industry and manpower in time of war, as advocated by the American Legion and other organizations.

2—A tighter immigration law, probably including a provision for registration of aliens until they become citizens.

3—Anti-communist legislation, designed to halt the unrestricted circulation of communist propaganda, much evidenced in the summer's labor disorders.

4—A new tax legislation, even if the bill merely extends for another year the special excise taxes, which expire June 30.

5—Amendments to the agricultural adjustment act, eliminating some abuses and determining the administration's program toward cotton growers for the next year.

6—A new public works program, to be financed over a long period, for low cost housing and self-liquidating projects.

7—New and heavy relief appropriations, to meet direct relief burden for another year.

8—The World Court and St. Lawrence waterway treaties by the senate.

The American Legion and other veterans organizations will launch the drive for the cash bonus and universal draft law. The administration will oppose the first but its efforts will not prevent a vote, though a presidential veto may block its enactment.

Busy Session

Members of congress from states which were the scene of violent labor disorders last summer, will sponsor the anti-alien and anti-communist legislation. The legion recommended a law barring communist literature from the mails. The alien registration legislation will gain support from publicity on the records of Richard Bruno Hauptmann, accused of the murder of the Lindbergh baby, who entered the country illegally.

The tax bill is necessary if for no other reason than to retain the federal excise taxes which expire June 30. Relief appropriations are just as necessary to the administration.

The outlook is for a busy session of the new congress.

Bessemer High School Notes

EDUCATION WEEK

Students, teachers and school patrons of Bessemer school are planning to celebrate American Education week from November 5-11. The theme running through the week's activities will be "Educating for Tomorrow."

Special bulletins pertaining to various phases of educational activity will appear on all school bulletin boards. Many times during the week reference to the significance of the occasion will be made in regular classes. Social Science classes will make special study of the significance of American Education week. Home room programs will be centered about educational problems.

Throughout the week many parents will be welcomed as observers of school activities. Friday, November 9, has been set aside as a special day for visitation. On that day the school assembly program will feature an educational pageant and an address by Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of the New Castle schools.

ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

The assembly program, October 26, with Miss Landman as sponsor, was as follows:

SCHOOL BANKING

The week of October 22 shows an unusual decrease in the number of depositors and amount deposited by the Bessemer high students. The number of depositors last week was 41, and the amount deposited was $19.61. This week the number dropped to 27 and the sum deposited was $10.02.

The Freshman class leads with eight depositors, Junior and Sophomores with six, eighth grade with three, and seventh with 2. The Juniors lead in the amount deposited, which is $3.91, and the Freshman next with $2.92.

RECEIVE REPORTS

The students received their report cards on October 21. This event brought the first six weeks of school to an end. During the first six weeks the teachers and students got acquainted. The report cards have been comparatively good. Some of the students may be disappointed, but they have thirty weeks more in which to make good.

INTRAMURAL VOLLEY BALL

The room volley ball season opened Monday, October 29, with the boys of room 5 playing the boys of room 6. Room 5 won the game. On October 30, the girls of room 5 and room 6 played. The game was a tie.

INTRAMURAL TOUCHFOOTBALL

The touch-football was completed on October 19. The results are not known because of the disappearance of the schedule and team averages from the bulletin board.

SENIOR PARTY

The regular semi-annual senior party is scheduled for Friday night, November 2.

The following people were appointed chairmen:

Chairman of General committee—Edith Benson; chairman of Refreshment committee — Olive White; chairman of Program committee—Madolyn Kelley; chairman of Ticket committee—John DiLullo; chairman of Clean-Up committee—Frank Navarra.

All teachers are invited, and the Seniors hope they will all come.

The evening's entertainment will consist of dancing, cards, ping-pong and possibly other games.

BE-HI NEWS STAFF

Following is the staff of the Be-Hi News for this year:

SCHOOL NOTES

The Art club gave a wiener roast Wednesday, October 24. The event took place at Lake Bessemer. Miss Leacock is the sponsor.

Russell Battin has returned to school after a month's absence, the result of illness. Harold Hedberg is still in the Allegheny General hospital in Pittsburgh.

A brief faculty meeting was held Tuesday at 4:00 in the Sewing room, for the purpose of discussing results of recently given tests to seniors and seventh grade pupils.

The seventh grade Hallowe'en party was held October 25. Volley ball, fruit-basket, wink and other games were the diversions. Refreshments were served. Harry Conner, Virginia Carr and Anna Sankovich were committee members.

The sophomore party is to be held in the auditorium November 6. The committee chairmen are as follows:

General, John Samsa; refreshment, Margaret Serjak; entertainment, Mildred Wolfe; decorating, Dick DeArment; ticket, Ed. Pearson.

The P. S. E. A. Mid-Western convention was held in Beaver Falls October 26 and 27. Four of the band members from Bessemer high school, as well as the entire school faculty from both buildings, were in attendance. Agner Swanson, Loyal Weitz, Richard DeArment and Bill Pelto were in the all-high school band which played for the convention.

SMALL BUSINESS MAN KEEPS UP CODE FIGHT

York Man Seeks Aid In Battle

York Man Believes He's Leading Battle On Codes For Small Business

GOVERNMENT HAS POSTPONED TRIAL

International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Pounding an immense fist upon a desk top, Fred C. Perkins, the former Cornell football star who regards himself as the champion of the small manufacturers of the country in one of the most important test fights yet brought against the NRA, announced defiantly today:

"All hell can't stop me now. I wouldn't quit this thing for a million dollars. And even If I'm beaten in the supreme court and they put me in jail again they can't force me to do something I can't do.

"They started it and if I'm licked to a frazzle in every court in the land I'll still be unbeaten because when we get through I'll have the country behind me."

Enlists Help.

Perkins, the York, Pennsylvania, manufacturer of storage batteries, whose case aroused national attention when he was thrown into jail for failure to pay the minimum wage fixed by the code for the storage battery industry, is in New York conferring with a number of prominent persons whose support he hopes to enlist.

He saw John W. Davis, former Democratic candidate for president, he said, and though he found Davis non-committal he believes he aroused his sympathy.

Not Political Fight.

"And I have an appointment with Al Smith and I believe he will see my side of the case, too," he added.

"There is nothing political in this fight. I have always admired President Roosevelt and I think there are some good things in the NRA though it has not worked out the way the country expected. Why, Democrats and Republicans have both passed the hat to help prepare my defense because I am a poor man and I have received letters of encouragement from men of all shades of political opinion.

"Most of them come from men in the same boat with me. They are operating little factories in small towns and can't pay the wages fixed by the code authorities, figuring on the big cities."

At 56, Perkins is still a giant of a man, 6 feet tall, weighing 200 pounds. He is partly bald and grey but it's easy to imagine he was a crushing ball carrier at Cornell in the football days of the late '90s.

Tough Circumstances.

Perkins employs only 20 men in his little factory in West York where he lives with his second wife, a poor man with a $165 car, because, he added apologetically:

"In lieu of alimony I gave my first wife everything I had. And then along came the 1929 crash and I've never been able to come much of the way back."

He applied for exemption from the code authority wage rate, which was 40 cents an hour—he was paying 25—on the ground that he would have to close his little plant, but the exemption was refused and things began to happen.

Never Had Eagle.

First he was notified that he was violating the code provisions, and then a little while later he was ordered to surrender all his blue eagle emblems to the town postmaster.

"That was funny," he said, "because I had never had a blue eagle—I knew I couldn't afford to pay the scale."

The next thing that happened was not so funny. A United States marshal came to York and arrested him on a warrant issued from United States court on a complaint issued by the litigation department of NRA. Bond was fixed at $5,000. He couldn't pay it and he didn't want to ask any of his friends—"you know how it is to go around begging money in these times"—so he went to jail.

Released From Jail.

There he remained for 18 days until a wealthy Pennsylvania shoe manufacturer heard of his plight and pledged property worth $250,000 to get him out.

"That's what made me mad as hell," he said today. "I had been sick for about a year before this happened. When they asked me what would happen if they closed my plant I told them I'd have to go on relief but they put me in jail anyway."

News of Perkins' plight spread throughout Pennsylvania. Harold B. Beitler, president of the Pennsylvania Bar association, offered his services free as chief of defense counsel, associated with George S. Love of York, Perkins' personal attorney.

Reed Offers Help.

Former Senator James A. Reed of Missouri wrote offering the New York man his help, regardless of any fee consideration. Perkins showed the letter today.

"Taking into consideration your situation, that of your employes and the condition of your business," the letter said in part, "I know of no oppressive action in any country whether ruled by king or dictator of greater outrage than that to which you have been subjected."

Reed said he would like to be on hand for the hearing before the United States district court, originally set for October 15 and later for October 23 at Scranton, but had other engagements. But now the case has been transferred to Harrisburg where the hearing is to open December 3 and Perkins believes the fiery Reed will be on hand to attack the NRA administration.

American Fliers May Be Awarded $7,500 Second Prize

(International News Service)

MELBOURNE, Nov. 1.—Col. Roscoe Turner and Clyde Pangborn, American flyers who won third place in the speed division of the London-to-Melbourne air derby, today were expected to be declared winners of the $7,500 second prize.

This strange situation developed as it became apparent, on the basis of unofficial returns, that C. W. A. Scott and T. Campbell Black, British aces who won the $50,000 first prize in the speed division of the derby, had captured first place in the handicap division as well.

Since according to the rules no derby may share two prizes, however, the handicap first prize was expected to go to K. D. Parmentier and J. J. Moll, Dutch flyers who came in second in the speed race. The pair were expected to take the $10,000 handicap first prize in preference to the $7,500 speed second prize.

Thus Col. Turner and Pangborn would get this rich second place purse instead of the third. The $2,500 third prize for the speed race thus passed up by the Americans, would fall back to Lieut. Cathcart Jones and Ken Waller, Britons who arrived in Melbourne in fourth place.

COURAGE

Strength and skill and courage are
Attributes by all admired.
Strength can carry burdens far.
Skill by some can be acquired.
Strength is power to haul and lift.
Skill is slowly practised art.
Courage is the rarest gift.
It is of and from the heart.

Strength is visible and plain.
Buildings have it and are planned
To the ounce of weight and strain
Wall and floor and beam will stand.
Skill is action, smooth and smart,
Always beautiful to see.
Courage, which is of the heart,
Is the greatest of the three.

Strength beneath the strain and stress
Fags and falters now and then.
Skill, in moments of distress,
Fails the cleverest of men;
But the courage to remain
Steadfast when disasters start,
Still to fight when hope seems vain,
Is the glory of the heart.

Sun Spots and Wars.

Big Chicago to Be Bigger.

A New Triangle.

No Toy Pistol, Good Money.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

TH7 ABBE MOREUX, looking through his telescope in Bourges Observatory, says:

"Beware of 1936 and 1937."

Sun spots will increase violently in those two years, according to the Abbe, and when sun spots increase "we have wars and social disruption."

On the other hand, according to the reverend observer, when the sun is calm "the world usually has been at peace."

OTHERS BELIEVE that "spots" causing wars, international and individual hatreds are not SUN spots, but spots on the human brain, inherited from a long line of savage ancestors, dating back to barbarians that drank their enemy's blood—from a cup made of the enemy's skull, and cracked the enemy's thigh-bones to eat the marrow.

Many "spots" will have to be removed from the human brain before war can end.

Meanwhile, it is the duty of intelligent nations to keep prepared against the more disagreeably spotted national brains.

NEWS FOR big Chicago that wants to be bigger. Roger Babson, whose business is knowing things in advance, says Chicago in 1968, only thirty-four years hence, will be bigger than New York.

Thirty-four years will pass quickly, and then Chicago will have 9,000,000 population, rising slowly to ten millions.

THE MAN who looks ahead will tell you that Mr. Babson overlooks the flying machine. When men really fly, their great cities, and incidentally your corner real estate values, will melt.

Men more civilized will fly to high hills around the cities to live, breathe the invigorating upper air, and fly down to work or shop in the city, which will simply be a business center.

New York and Chicago may dwindle to a 1,000,000 or 500,000, just enough to attend to customers as they fly in.

MANUFACTURING will be done on high ground, with better health for workers. In winter, entire populations will migrate, as the birds do, to southern cities, where they will save coal, and avoid sinus trouble.

Flying will change many things, and end our great cities. But do not sell your corner lot, yet. Rather buy another, at a bargain.

IN CLEVELAND, after organized labor had picked all of the Atlantic & Pacific food shops, beginning with energy the task of "organizing all chain store employes into 300,000 dues-paying members of union labor," Mr. Hartford, head of Atlantic & Pacific, solved the problem by closing his four hundred-odd stores and his warehouses in Cleveland.

The government says it cannot compel union labor to work if it doesn't want to, and can't compel the Atlantic & Pacific, or anybody else, to keep stores open and running if it doesn't want to.

Thus comes a new-fashioned "triangle"—government, employer and worker.

IT IS SOMETHING more serious than that to two thousand workers that lose their jobs with the closing of Atlantic & Pacific stores in Cleveland.

For instance, Mr. Ralph Schuld, father of two, discharged with the other A. & P. employes, was wondering yesterday what he would do. As checker of an A. & P. warehouse, he got $33 a week. That isn't a fortune, but in these day it is something.

If you have two children and a wife, even $33 a week makes a difference. It is a little better than five dollars a day for six days' work, not as good as it would be to have $25 a day for a hour-hour day, five days a week, but something.

INDIANA IS investigating two officials connected with the prison from which the late Mr. Dillinger escaped, supposed to have frightened his jailers with a toy pistol.

New evidence indicates that instead of frightening somebody with a wooden pistol, he bribed somebody with good, real money.

Half the success and immunity of the usually dull-minded criminal is based on the corruption of public officials, ready to accept criminal money in bribes.

That applies to criminal lawyers, who will accept any kind of "dirty money" that any kind of criminal offers them and do their best to defeat the law.

Such a lawyer, after a case has been tried, should be put on trial himself, and go to the cell next to that of his client.

A FARMER of Mississippi, Sylvester Harris, colored, is in Chicago electioneering for President Roosevelt's Democratic party, making speeches for Arthur W. Mitchell, a colored Democrat, running against the colored Republican congressman, Oscar De Priest, who wants to be re-elected.

Mr. Harris was down to his last ten dollars, called the President on long distance and got a federal loan that kept him going. He is grateful.

Mr. Harris will not be the only colored man South and North to work and vote for Democrats this year. Tens of thousands of colored men in Florida, for instance, who were glad to get work at twelve cents an hour, and were hired by the government at forty cents an hour, consider F. D. Roosevelt a good understudy for Abraham Lincoln.

A WELL KNOWN actor, Lou Tellengen, who used to play "perfect lover" parts, and married four ladies, including Geraldine Farrar, lost his popularity, and has killed himself after telling his friends:

"There is no place in Hollywood for a has-been."

There is no place anywhere for a has-been, but fortunately there is no need to remain a has-been forever. If you can't always be a "perfect lover" be something else, perhaps more useful. There are other, better jobs. Unhappy Lou Tellegen was probably insane, since he stabbed himself to death with scissors.

THIS COUNTRY produces fifty million dollars in gold a year and has a national debt of twenty-seven billions.

Russia produces $150,000,000 a year in gold now, three times as much as the United States, and the debt that Russia recognizes amounts to only two hundred million dollars.

Those that call Russia "bankrupt" should improve their arithmetic.

Mrs. Mary Cunning has returned to Emsworth, Pa., after spending the week end at the W. T. Jenkins home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Altman are spending a few days in Knox, Pa., owing to the illness of Mr. Altman's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Marshall of College Hill spent Friday with Mrs. Marshall's mother, Mrs. Elda McMillen.

Paul Willis has been removed to his home from the Columbia hospital in Wilkinsburg where he has been a patient.

Paul McAnlis and Clarence Young returned to their school at Edgewood, near Pittsburgh, after a week end visit with their parents here. They were accompanied by F. W. Jenkins and Wm. McAnlis.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Guy, and daughters, of Youngstown, spent Sunday with Mrs. Guys parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Marshall.

Mrs. Mary Owens McKim and Miss Flo Owen of New Castle were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Jenkins, Friday evening

The engagement of Miss Doris Powell and Howard Henderson of Marietta, O., has been announced. Thanksgiving day has been set for the wedding.

Mrs. Frank Jenkins, Miss Mildred Britton and Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Russell attended the funeral services for Mrs. Haberstadt, of East Liverpool, O. Sunday.

Mrs. Carrie Kelso, was pleasantly surprised Saturday evening, when members of the Womans Missionary Society of the United Presbyterian church came to remind her of her birthday anniversary. A tempting lunch was enjoyed. Mrs. Kelso received a shower of post cards, and handkerchiefs.

A reader asks the proper way to greet guests. The usual way is to say: "The house is in a mess. I haven't had time, etc."

NEW BEAUTY IN 15 DAYS!

Over 6,000,000 women adopt this utterly different way to skin loveliness

Refines texture—softens skin—helps clear up blackheads, oiliness, flakiness, pimples—reduces enlarged pores

$5 FACIALS, expensively perfumed creams and lotions are out! American women have found an inexpensive, quicker way to skin beauty—a skin medicine that brings new beauty in 15 Days—yet costs less than ordinary creams!

Doctors recommend it

Snow-white, greaseless, Noxzema promotes skin beauty Nature's way—through skin health. This penetrating cream rids the skin of hidden poisons that cause blemishes—its rare medicines soothe and soften the skin—its ice-like, stimulating astringents shrink the coarsened pores to exquisite fineness.

Make your skin fresh and clear quickly—by following this simple beauty plan for 15 days: Massage Noxzema into your skin at night after removing make-up. (If your skin is dry or flaky, apply several times, as much as the skin will absorb.) In the morning wash off with warm water, then cold. Then apply a thin layer of Noxzema as a foundation for your powder. In this way Noxzema works all day and all night. Continue using Noxzema until every beauty-marring skin flaw disappears!

Wives! Give this to Weak Husbands

Raw Oysters Good New Discovery Better

Be Red-Blooded, Get Pep with OSTREX.

Men are careless. When weak, exhausted, strained, they usually do nothing about it. It's a wife's duty to urge husband to build up; gain strength and pep.

Doctors once advised raw oysters because they are rich in blood-building iron, calcium, iodine and other organic elements.

Now a new discovery, OSTREX, is advised. Prepared from raw oysters. Contains oyster elements, with added tonic aids, in CONCENTRATED form. Easy-to-take tablets. BETTER than raw oysters.

Plan Alibis For Plotters

Plan To Establish Alibis For Two Accused Of Plotting To Kidnap Woman

(International News Service)

WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 1.—Plans to establish alibis for two men accused of attempting to kidnap Betty Bloch Harriss, Wheeling heiress, were made today by Defense Counsel Benjamin Rosenbloom.

As the abduction trial resumed, Rosenbloom indicated that Virginia Harding of Cadiz Pike may be placed on the stand to testify that Harry "Hot Bun" Thornton was in her company the evening he is accused of having made an unsuccessful attempt to "snatch" Mrs. Harriss. Federal Judge William E. Baker has refused to permit Thornton's confession to be admitted as evidence.

The confession authorities claim was made by Thurman F. Bowen, second defendant, was admitted and read to the jury. Both men told the court they confessed on the night of the arrest, October 3, to escape "third degree" treatment.

Congregational Family Day Plans

Services Throughout Sunday Will Be Of A Home-Coming And Rally Nature

The committee in charge of family day at the First Congregational church has completed all arrangements for the home-coming Sunday, Nov. 4.

Beginning with the Sabbath school at 9:45, the congregation will gather and stay through the English service at 11 o'clock, this to be followed by communion.

By special request of the pastor, the Rev. Rees T. Williams, will preach a Welsh sermon at three o'clock, at which service the choir will have special numbers. This will prove an attractive service, as it will give former members in town the opportunity of attending without missing services in their own churches.

At 7:30 p. m. there will be an English preaching service with special music by the choir and solos by out-of-town guests.

Eddie Davis is in charge of transportation for those unable to walk to the church.

Services For Dead At St. Mary Church

Special Services Will Commemorate Memories Of All Catholic Spirits

Special services for the dead will take place Friday evening at 7:45 in St. Mary's church, North and Beaver streets.

Thousands of Catholics of this district have been buried from St. Mary's church and it is expected that many Catholics from all churches of the city, especially the older residents, will attend these services.

St. Mary's parish was established in the early fifties of the last century and was the mother church of all Catholics of this district. Later St. Vitus was established to care for the Italian speaking Catholics, then St. Joseph's church was established for the Germans, while the English speaking remained with St. Mary's church.

RESUME OPERATIONS AT LOCAL QUARRIES

Lutton street and Ray street quarries are now in operation, according to City Engineer Harry Hoskins. It is from these quarries that the stone required on RWD projects in the city is secured.

BOARD MEETING SATURDAY

Members of the New Castle school board have been called into special session Saturday night, Nov. 3, for the purpose of discussing bond requirements for depositories of school funds.

Rural Teachers Meet Saturday

Arrangements Completed For Institute Session At Union High School

SYLING PREPARES SPLENDID PROGRAM

Several hundred teachers from the county schools will assemble at Union high school in Union Township, Saturday morning for an all-day institute session, when a number of interesting educational subjects will be discussed by a number of the leading educators from Slippery Rock State Teachers College.

The program opens with registration at 8:30. Devotionals will be conducted at 9:30 and following a business session of the Lawrence County branch of the P. S. E. A., presided over by President Wilbert M. Leonard, the institute session will open.

A new departure will take place at this meeting, when departmental subjects will be discussed for the benefit of the teachers who are instructors in these separate subjects.

The educators who will be present and speak at these discussions will be Dr. R. A. Waldron, Dr. L. H. Wagenhorst, Miss Althea Beery, Miss Alma G. Rice, Mrs. Gladys H. Arnold, Mrs. Georgia Gantt Winn, Herbert Book, Miss Margaret C. Rhoads and Miss Florence Hollaway, all of Slippery Rock State Teacher's College.

Examination questions for the preliminary eighth grade tests which will be given throughout the county on Monday will be distributed to the teachers during the course of the day.

Steel Concern Is Sued For $39,300

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1—Charging their farm lands in Forward Township, near Donora, have been injured by fumes and sediment from the American Steel and Wire Company's Donora zinc plant, W. Edgar Woods and his wife, Nora F. Woods, today filed papers in their suit for $39,300 against the steel concern.

DISMISS UNION SCHOOLS EARLY ON FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Announcement was made this afternoon from Union high school by Supervising Principal R. F. Conway that all schools in the township would be dismissed at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon in a tribute to the late Harry B. Miller, whose funeral occurs during the afternon. Mr. Miller was caretaker of the Union high school for some years.

Early Decision In A. & P. Tieup In Cleveland Seen

Believe Plan To End Controversy Will Be Successful In Near Future

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 1.—All indications pointed today to a decision by tomorrow on the A. & P. controversy in Cleveland.

Only one disturbing note appeared in the situation, which was one of general optimism and hope that both sides in the dispute would ratify a seven-point peace plan offered by the national labor relations board at Washington.

Some concern was felt because the board of directors of the A. & P. company, at a meeting yesterday in New York, failed to reach an immediate decision on the compromise plan, which would permit immediate reopening of the 300 closed A. & P. stores in Cuyahoga county.

Labor officials here conferred today to plan either a general meeting of all seven unions involved in the dispute, or separate meetings, to consider ratification of the peace plan. Even though labor failed to win its major objective, that of the closed shop, feeling was prevalent here that the labor unions would approve the plan.

INSULL TO TAKE WITNESS STAND IN OWN DEFENSE

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—Samuel Insull, the aged former utilities magnate, waited to take the witness stand before Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson today in his own defense against mail fraud charges involving the sale of $100,000,000 worth of corporation securities shares.

As his own star witness, Insull had a multitude of things to tell, and he went over and over a draft of his testimony to make certain of being letter perfect when he takes the stand.

It was to be more than a defense of himself, however. Insull was to defend his son, Samuel, Jr., his fifteen former associates who are on trial with him, and the various practices which the government has charged constituted an attempt to defraud the investing public.

The calling of Insull as the first of the many defendants to testify proved a surprise. It had been expected that he would be among the last to tell his story.

But the matter of Insull's health was a thing to be considered. It was feared that unless he testified at once he might be unable to stand the ordeal later. His testimony was expected to consume two days.

A. & P. Directors To Delay Action

Await Reports From Cleveland Store Supervisors On Conditions

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Officers of the A. & P. stores said today directors would delay possibly for 48 hours action on the peace formula worked out by the labor board at Washington by which it is hoped to reopen the 300 stores in Cleveland, closed in a dispute with union organizers.

The directors met for three hours last night without reaching any conclusion. They are awaiting reports from the Cleveland store supervisors who are to confer with officials today.

Despondent Woman Commits Suicide

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1—Mrs. Fannie McCoy, 53, McKees Rocks, died in Ohio Valley hospital last night after swallowing poison tablets in her home, the coroner's office announced today.

The woman had been brooding over ill-health, it was reported.

COLDS Go Overnight

When You Take The Right Thing!

A cold doesn't have to run its course and expose you to serious complications. A cold can be routed overnight if you go about it the right way. First of all, a cold being an internal infection, calls for internal treatment. Secondly, a cold calls for a COLD remedy and not for a "cure-all".

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine is what a cold requires. It is expressly a cold remedy. It is internal and direct—and it does the four things necessary. It opens the bowels, combats the cold germs and fever in the system, relieves the headache and grippy feeling and tones and fortifies the entire system. Anything less than that is taking chances with a cold. Get Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine at any druggist, 30c and 50c. Ask for it by the full name and beware of dealers who offer substitutes.

EXPRESS FIRM'S OFFICIALS HERE

High Executives, Making Auto Tour, Pay Call At REA Branch

Two high officials of the Railway Express Agency, the nation's largest express concern, came to New Castle yesterday for a brief stop on their extensive automobile tour of inspection of the scattered agency branches throughout this part of the United States.

C. R. Graham, New York, vice president of the organization, and F. R. Lindsay, Philadelphia, general manager of the concern, the two general office executives, were accompanied here by Mrs. Graham and J. W. Johnson, REA superintendent at Pittsburgh.

The party, traveling in two sedans, called upon Manager J. W. Anderson of the New Castle branch, exchanged greetings, talked business briefly and then departed They came here from Ellwood City.

The officials' tour will take them to all sections of the northeastern United States. They made no comment on business conditions generally, Mr. Anderson said.

Reports of the concern's business locally, now 14 per cent above that of a year ago, were furnished the officials by Manager Anderson.

Young Democrats Hear Col. Ristine

Speaking under the auspices of the Young Democratic organization of Lawrence county, Col. Carl L. Ristine, special assistant attorney-general of the United States, appeared in the Lawrence county court house on Wednesday night.

In his address Col. Ristine paid tribute to the Pennsylvania soldiers during the World war. He reviewed the work of the Roosevelt administration and urged the election of Democratic candidates in November.

Other speakers were William J. Eroe, Jr., James B. Kelso, Daniel Couch of Beaver county and Dr. J. A. Meehan of New Castle. The meeting was presided over by Findley K. Boyd, chairman of the Young Democrats.

FRIDAY PAY DAY FOR CITY TEACHERS

Employes of public school district of the city of New Castle will receive their pay for the last two weeks of October, Friday, according to attaches of the city treasury. The payroll will amount to about $26,250, it was stated.

Employes of the city will draw their pay for the last two weeks of October, Saturday.

The city officials, however, will draw their pay for the entire month. The officials are paid once a month and employes twice a month.

What's in a name? Well, pitchers named Speer would be "Speedy" and "Sporty" 'instead of "Dizzy" and "Daffy".

SMALL BUSINESS MAN KEEPS UP CODE FIGHT

York Man Seeks Aid In Battle

GOVERNMENT HAS POSTPONED TRIAL

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Pounding an immense fist upon a desk top, Fred C. Perkins, the former Cornell football star who regards himself as the champion of the small manufacturers of the country in one of the most important test fights yet brought against the NRA, announced defiantly today:

"All hell can't stop me now. I wouldn't quit this thing for a million dollars. And even if I'm beaten in the supreme court and they put me in jail again they can't force me to do something I can't do.

"They started it and if I'm licked to a frazzle in every court in the land I'll still be unbeaten because when we get through I'll have the country behind me."

Enlists Help.

Perkins, the York, Pennsylvania, manufacturer of storage batteries, whose case aroused national attention when he was thrown into jail for failure to pay the minimum wage fixed by the code for the storage battery industry, is in New York conferring with a number of prominent persons whose support he hopes to enlist.

He saw John W. Davis, former Democratic candidate for president, he said, and though he found Davis non-committal he believes he aroused his sympathy.

Not Political Fight.

"And I have an appointment with Al Smith and I believe he will see my side of the case, too," he added.

"There is nothing political in this fight. I have always admired President Roosevelt and I think there are some good things in the NRA though it has not worked out the way the country expected. Why, Democrats and Republicans have both passed the hat to help prepare my defense because I am a poor man and I have received letters of encouragement from men of all shades of political opinion.

"Most of them come from men in the same boat with me. They are operating little factories in small towns and can't pay the wages fixed by the code authorities, figuring on the big cities."

At 56, Perkins is still a giant of a man, 6 feet tall, weighing 200 pounds. He is partly bald and grey but it's easy to imagine he was a crushing ball carrier at Cornell in the football days of the late '90s.

Tough Circumstances.

Perkins employs only 20 men in his little factory in West York where he lives with his second wife, a poor man with a $165 car, because, he added apologetically:

"In lieu of alimony I gave my first wife everything I had. And then along came the 1929 crash and I've never been able to come much of the way back."

He applied for exemption from the code authority wage rate, which was 40 cents an hour—he was paying 25—on the ground that he would have to close his little plant, but the exemption was refused and things began to happen.

Never Had Eagle.

First he was notified that he was violating the code provisions, and then a little while later he was ordered to surrender all his blue eagle emblems to the town postmaster.

"That was funny," he said, "because I had never had a blue eagle—I knew I couldn't afford to pay the scale."

The next thing that happened was not so funny. A United States marshal came to York and arrested him on a warrant issued from United States court on a complaint issued by the litigation department of NRA. Bond was fixed at $5,000. He couldn't pay it and he didn't want to ask any of his friends—"you know how it is to go around begging money in these times"—so he went to jail.

Released From Jail.

There he remained for 18 days until a wealthy Pennsylvania shoe manufacturer heard of his plight and pledged property worth $250,000 to get him out.

"That's what made me mad as hell," he said today. "I had been sick for about a year before this happened. When they asked me what would happen if they closed my plant I told them I'd have to go on relief but they put me in jail anyway."

News of Perkins' plight spread throughout Pennsylvania. Harold B. Beitler, president of the Pennsylvania Bar association, offered his services free as chief of defense counsel, associated with George S. Love of York, Perkins' personal attorney.

Reed Offers Help.

Former Senator James A. Reed of Missouri wrote offering the New York man his help, regardless of any fee consideration. Perkins showed the letter today.

"Taking into consideration your situation, that of your employes and the condition of your business," the letter said in part, "I know of no oppressive action in any country whether ruled by king or dictator of greater outrage than that to which you have been subjected."

Reed said he would like to be on hand for the hearing before the United States district court, originally set for October 15 and later for October 23 at Scranton, but had other engagements. But now the case has been transferred to Harrisburg where the hearing is to open December 3 and Perkins believes the fiery Reed will be on hand to attack the NRA administration.

American Fliers May Be Awarded $7,500 Second Prize

(International News Service)

MELBOURNE, Nov. 1.—Col. Roscoe Turner and Clyde Pangborn, American flyers who won third place in the speed division of the London-to-Melbourne air derby, today were expected to be declared winners of the $7,500 second prize.

This strange situation developed as it became apparent, on the basis of unofficial returns, that C. W. A. Scott and T. Campbell Black, British aces who won the $50,000 first prize in the speed division of the derby, had captured first place in the handicap division as well.

Since according to the rules no derby may share two prizes, however, the handicap first prize was expected to go to K. D. Parmentier and J. J. Moll, Dutch flyers who came in second in the speed race. The pair were expected to take the $10,000 handicap first prize in preference to the $7,500 speed second prize.

Thus Col. Turner and Pangborn would get this rich second place purse instead of the third. The $2,500 third prize for the speed race thus passed up by the Americans, would fall back to Lieut. Cathcart Jones and Ken Waller, Britons who arrived in Melbourne in fourth place.

COURAGE

Strength and skill and courage are
Attributes by all admired.
Strength can carry burdens far.
Skill by some can be acquired.
Strength is power to haul and lift.
Skill is slowly practised art.
Courage is the rarest gift.
It is of and from the heart.

Strength is visible and plain.
Buildings have it and are planned
To the ounce of weight and strain
Wall and floor and beam will stand.
Skill is action, smooth and smart,
Always beautiful to see.
Courage, which is of the heart,
Is the greatest of the three.

Strength beneath the strain and stress
Fags and falters now and then.
Skill, in moments of distress,
Fails the cleverest of men;
But the courage to remain
Steadfast when disasters start,
Still to fight when hope seems vain,
Is the glory of the heart.

Sun Spots and Wars.

Big Chicago to Be Bigger.

A New Triangle.

No Toy Pistol, Good Money.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

THE ABBE MOREUX, looking through his telescope in Bourges Observatory, says:

"Beware of 1936 and 1937."

Sun spots will increase violently in those two years, according to the Abbe, and when sun spots increase "we have wars and social disruption."

On the other hand, according to the reverend observer, when the sun is calm "the world usually has been at peace."

OTHERS BELIEVE that "spots" causing wars, international and individual hatreds are not SUN spots, but spots on the human brain, inherited from a long line of savage ancestors, dating back to barbarians that drank their enemy's blood—from a cup made of the enemy's skull, and cracked the enemy's thigh-bones to eat the marrow.

Many "spots" will have to be removed from the human brain before war can end.

Meanwhile, it is the duty of intelligent nations to keep prepared against the more disagreeably spotted national brains.

NEWS FOR big Chicago that wants to be bigger. Roger Babson, whose business is knowing things in advance, says Chicago in 1968, only thirty-four years hence, will be bigger than New York.

Thirty-four years will pass quickly, and then Chicago will have 9,000,000 population, rising slowly to ten millions.

THE MAN who looks ahead will tell you that Mr. Babson overlooks the flying machine. When men really fly, their great cities, and incidentally your corner real estate values, will melt.

Men more civilized will fly to high hills around the cities to live, breathe the invigorating upper air, and fly down to work or shop in the city, which will simply be a business center.

New York and Chicago may dwindle to a 1,000,000 or 500,000, just enough to attend to customers as they fly in.

MANUFACTURING will be done on high ground, with better health for workers. In winter, entire populations will migrate, as the birds do, to southern cities, where they will save coal, and avoid sinus trouble.

Flying will change many things, and end our great cities. But do not sell your corner lot, yet. Rather buy another, at a bargain.

IN CLEVELAND, after organized labor had picked all of the Atlantic & Pacific food shops, beginning with energy the task of "organizing all chain store employes into 300,000 dues-paying members of union labor," Mr. Hartford, head of Atlantic & Pacific, solved the problem by closing his four hundred-odd stores and his warehouses in Cleveland.

The government says it cannot compel union labor to work if it doesn't want to, and can't compel the Atlantic & Pacific, or anybody else, to keep stores open and running if it doesn't want to.

Thus comes a new-fashioned "triangle"—government, employer and worker.

IT IS SOMETHING more serious than that to two thousand workers that lose their jobs with the closing of Atlantic & Pacific stores in Cleveland.

For instance, Mr. Ralph Schuld, father of two, discharged with the other A. & P. employes, was wondering yesterday what he would do. As checker of an A. & P. warehouse, he got $33 a week. That isn't a fortune, but in these day it is something.

If you have two children and a wife, even $33 a week makes a difference. It is a little better than five dollars a day for six days' work, not as good as it would be to have $25 a day for a hour-hour day, five days a week, but something.

INDIANA IS investigating two officials connected with the prison from which the late Mr. Dillinger escaped, supposed to have frightened his jailers with a toy pistol.

New evidence indicates that instead of frightening somebody with a wooden pistol, he bribed somebody with good, real money.

Half the success and immunity of the usually dull-minded criminal is based on the corruption of public officials, ready to accept 'criminal money in bribes.

That applies to criminal lawyers, who will accept any kind of "dirty money" that any kind of criminal offers them and do their best to defeat the law.

Such a lawyer, after a case has been tried, should be put on trial himself, and go to the cell next to that of his client.

A FARMER of Mississippi, Sylvester Harris, colored, is in Chicago electioneering for President Roosevelt's Democratic party, making speeches for Arthur W. Mitchell, a colored Democrat, running against the colored Republican congressman, Oscar De Priest, who wants to be re-elected.

Mr. Harris was down to his last ten dollars, called the President on long distance and got a federal loan that kept him going. He is grateful.

Mr. Harris will not be the only colored man South and North to work and vote for Democrats this year. Tens of thousands of colored men in Florida, for instance, who were glad to get work at twelve cents an hour, and were hired by the government at forty cents an hour, consider F. D. Roosevelt a good understudy for Abraham Lincoln.

A WELL KNOWN actor, Lou Tellengen, who used to play "perfect lover" parts, and married four ladies, including Geraldine Farrar, lost his popularity, and has killed himself after telling his friends:

"There is no place in Hollywood for a has-been."

There is no place anywhere for a has-been, but fortunately there is no need to remain a has-been forever. If you can't always be a "perfect lover" be something else, perhaps more useful. There are other, better jobs. Unhappy Lou Tellegen was probably insane, since he stabbed himself to death with scissors.

THIS COUNTRY produces fifty million dollars in gold a year and has a national debt of twenty-seven billions.

Russia produces $150,000,000 a year in gold now, three times as much as the United States, and the debt that Russia recognizes amounts to only two hundred million dollars.

Those that call Russia "bankrupt" should improve their arithmetic.

NEW BEAUTY IN 15 DAYS!

Over 6,000,000 women adopt this utterly different way to skin loveliness

Refines texture—softens skin—helps clear up blackheads, oiliness, flakiness, pimples—reduces enlarged pores

$5 FACIALS, expensively perfumed creams and lotions are out! American women have found an inexpensive, quicker way to skin beauty—a skin medicine that brings new beauty in 15 Days—yet costs less than ordinary creams!

Doctors recommend it

Snow-white, greaseless, Noxzema promotes skin beauty Nature's way—through skin health. This penetrating cream rids the skin of hidden poisons that cause blemishes—its rare medicines soothe and soften the skin—its ice-like, stimulating astringents shrink the coarsened pores to exquisite fineness.

Make your skin fresh and clear quickly—by following this simple beauty plan for 15 days: Massage Noxzema into your skin at night after removing make-up. (If your skin is dry or flaky, apply several times, as much as the skin will absorb.) In the morning wash off with warm water, then cold. Then apply a thin layer of Noxzema as a foundation for your powder. In this way Noxzema works all day and all night. Continue using Noxzema until every beauty-marring skin flaw disappears!

Raw Oysters Good New Discovery Better

Be Red-Blooded, Get Pep with OSTREX.

Men are careless. When weak, exhausted, strained, they usually do nothing about it. It's a wife's duty to urge husband to build up; gain strength and pep.

Doctors once advised raw oysters because they are rich in blood-building iron, cadmium, iodine and other organic elements.

Now a new discovery, OSTREX, is advised. Prepared from raw oysters. Contains oyster elements, with added tonic aids, in CONCENTRATED form. Easy-to-take tablets. BETTER than raw oysters.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Hunters Take To Countryside Today

The largest crowd of Mahoningtown hunters in years shouldered their guns and took to woods and fields when dawn came through this morning. The crack of shotguns could be heard as early as 5 and 6 a. m. in this district. The largest part of the hunters confined their activities to the West Pittsburg swamp district and the Sunnyside vicinity.

Paul D. Weller, who has been selling hunting licenses here, reports this morning that already the number sold has exceeded that of last year, and applications are still coming strong. Numerous tags have been sold directly to Seventh Warders at the county court house.

Although the big kill will be rabbits, the hunters are keenly on the lookout for quail and pheasants. Lawrence county has been stocked with an unusually large number of ringnecks from the Jordan State Game Farm this year. An allotment of quail from the Fisher State Game Farm was also released here.

PROGRESS IN WORK

When a cut which is being made along a hillside is completed, and fills are made at the east and west ends, there will be a thoroughfare connecting Second, First and Lafayette streets for the first time in the history of the Seventh ward.

A horse and drag are being used in making the cut by a workman under the employ of Dr. Pandora Simpson. It is slow and difficult work but considerable progress is being made. The hillside into which the road is being cut is located at the rear of the Margarites' tennis court.

B. W. R. CLUB

Mrs. Wilbur King of North Cedar street will entertain the B. W. R. club at her home Tuesday evening, November 6. Mrs. Lillian Rhoades will be the associate hostess.

Permanent Stage Being Constructed

RWD Workmen Providing Mahoning School With New Stage Is Assembly Hall

The sound of hammers and saws are echoing through the Mahoning school building as RWD workers are busily engaged at the job of building a permanent stage in the assembly hall.

This is one of several improvements that will be made at the local school as RWD work projects. Although the school has had a stage it was not a permanent one and was also too large.

The assembly room is located on the first floor of the building and when not used for assembly is converted into a classroom.

B. OF R. T. LADIES

The next regular meeting of the Mabel Wilson Auxiliary to the B. of R. T. will take place Wednesday evening, November 14, at the Eagles hall, South Jefferson street. Hereafter all meetings of the organization will be conducted at that place on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month.

AT FORT TOTTEN

Private C W. Dungan, formerly of Newell avenue, now with the U. S. Army, has been transferred from Fort Slocum to Fort Totten, Long Island, N. Y. H. Q. Battery 62 C. A.

REMODEL HOUSE

DISTRICT GATHERS

Representatives from a dozen or more Presbyterian churches gathered at the Mahoningtown church this morning for an all-day district Presbyterial meeting of the Shenango Presbytery.

SIDEWALK REPAIRS

Pennsylvania Power company employes are preparing to re-cement the sidewalk in front of the company's sub-station property on North Cedar street. The work of preparing the bed was well underway Wednesday. The old sidewalk was torn up some time ago.

MEET AT CHURCH

Members of the McCoy Bible class will gather at the Mahoning Methodist church at 7:30 o'clock this evening and from there will go together to the home of Mrs. M. J. Beiersmith, North Mercer street.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

F. W. Shuster, of Erie, Pa., is spending the week in this ward.

Mike Orlando, of 209 Wabash avenue is recovering from an illness.

Dr. E. L. Vincent, of West Clayton street, is hunting in Butler county.

William Stubbs, of West Madison avenue, is hunting small game in the Portersville vicinity, today.

John Robinson, Mahoningtown post office clerk, is still confined to his home on East Brook road by illness.

Mrs. Bridget Izzo, of South Ashland avenue, is undergoing treatment in the Jemeson Memorial hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dungan, of Barberton, Ohio are visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. March Schawl here.

Jesse Boak, rural carrier for the Mahoningtown post office is off duty today and has joined other hunters in opening the small game season. His work on Route 8 is being performed by John Brewster.

ENON VALLEY

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Members and friends to the numbers of 75 gathered in the basement of the Christian church Tuesday evening and enjoyed a Hallowe'en party. Most of those present were in costume and hard to recognize. Games were played and a fine social time was enjoyed by those present. At an appropriate hour the luncheon committee served a very nice lunch. C. P. Durbin, the minister was the guest of honor.

MISSIONARY MEETING

The Missionary society of the Christian church met at the home of Mrs. George Van Horn Thursday in an all day meeting. The president Mrs. Sylvia Zeh was in charge of the meeting. Besides routine business and mission study, the ladies made plans for the winter and spring work.

COMMITTEE MEETING

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Stewart attended a committee meeting of the district Sunday school officers Monday evening. Plans were made for speakers and program for the convention which will be held Nov. 22 at the Presbyterian church, Bessemer.

SON IS BORN

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schilben announce the birth of a son at their home on Monday evening.

ENON VALLEY NOTES

Temple Israel Friday Service

Rabbi Will Have "A Tree Planted By Streams Of Water" As His Sermon Theme

Temple Israel, Highland and Moody Avenues, will conduct its regular service on Friday evening November 2 at 8 o'clock, Rabbi Avery Jonah Grossfield officiating. The topic of the sermon will be: "A Tree Planted by Streams of Water."

The Saturday morning schedule includes religious school classes at 9:30 o'clock, and religious services at 11 o'clock. Carolyn Cosel of Class IV will take part in reading the prayers.

A contribution to the Temple Floral fund has been received from Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Shenkan in thankfulness for the recovery of Mr Adolph Kline, of Pittsburgh, from his serious illness.

After the Friday evening service, the members and friends will enjoy an hour of fellowship in the vestry rooms of the Temple as usual.

THE GREATEST IMPROVEMENT IN MOTOR OILS SINCE
THE INVENTION OF
THE AUTOMOBILE!

AND WANT TO PROVE IT TO YOU

THROUGH a revolutionary change, ATLANTIC today makes available what we believe is the greatest improvement in motor oils since the invention of the automobile.

ATLANTIC MOTOR OILS for Winter have a remarkable new characteristic . . . EXTREMELY HIGH FILM-STRENGTH. They will prolong the life of the working parts of your engine, and should definitely mean lower upkeep and fewer repair bills for you.

"Film-strength" is the ability of an oil to support load. The higher the film-strength, the less tendency there is for metal-to-metal contact between two surfaces, such as piston rings, cylinder walls, wrist pins and bearings. Thus the oil with the highest film-strength gives greatest protection against wear.

ATLANTIC MOTOR OILS for Winter provide an extra margin of safety under the most severe operating conditions because of their extremely high film-strength.

Give your car the correct grade of ATLANTIC MOTOR OIL. Drive 25,000 . . . 50,000 . . . 100,000 miles. You will find that the minimum engine repairs will prove our statement that here is the greatest improvement in motor oils since the invention of the automobile. * * * For best results, drain your crankcase before putting in ATLANTIC MOTOR OIL for Winter.

Prison Talk Of Warden Is Heard By Kiwanians

Few College Men Or High Grads At Penitentiary, Ash Reports

CHALLENGES CLUB TO GUIDE YOUTH

Warden Stanley P. Ash of the Western State penitentiary at Pittsburgh, told the Kiwanis club yesterday that, of the thousands of prisoners who have come to him since he became warden in 1925, only four were college graduates, only 38 had been to college and fewer than 60 had finished a standard four-year high school course.

Speaking at the Kiwanians' weekly luncheon-meeting at The Castleton, Warden Ash, now the president of the American Prison association, discussed what he referred to as "one of the most expensive luxuries that taxpayers are burdened with in these much-troubled times."

Most of the noted prison warden's message was an enlightening review of daily life and practices at the Pittsburgh penitentiary, but here and there during the speech, Mr. Ash directed ringing pleas to his audience for "loyal support" of prison wardens in their determined drive to reduce crime.

Attorney Thomas W. Dickey, close friend of the warden, introduced him.

False Picture, He Says.

"A false picture," the speaker declared as he began, "is what people get of prisons out of newspapers and over the radio. They would lead you to believe they are where only killers of men of that type dwell. The truth is that 99 out of 100 days in a penitentiary are like most any normal day in any factory."

He did admit that in the pen are to be found crooks—many parasites on society—who would be there anyway. But he said that penitentiaries are also filled with "individuals who are good but who have done something bad."

"Some people also think they're filled with 'master minds' or men of intelligence, and that's wrong," he went on. "The intelligence of a prison population is a little below the average."

Here the warden said the average education of Western penitentiary men is that of the fifth or sixth grade of a public school.

The day when men will be separated as to types in prisons and not brought together under one roof was predicted by the warden after he reminded the listeners "that most of the men who go in some day come out, and the problem is to fit them for future association with society."

Speaks of Rockview.

Of Rockview prison, at Bellefonte, Pa., the farm branch of Western penitentiary, the warden gave a brief description, impressing upon the clubmen that it is the "parole branch" of the Pittsburgh prison—where men are sent once they become eligible for a parole in the penitentiary. Rockview produces much of the foodstuffs for the Pittsburgh institution and for others, but none is placed on a private market.

The daily life of a prisoner at Western pen was reviewed by the warden and the details of state executions at Bellefonte were told.

Closing his addrss, Warden Ash forgot prison talk for the moment and declared:

"I think, gentlemen, that the Kiwanis club, the Rotary club and other service clubs have a big job to do—it isn't their responsibility with the penitentiaries of the country but an obligation to the youth of the nation. I think to develop clubs of boys to halt crime at the start is a fine thing."

No Scouts On Record.

"Not a Boy Scout," Warden Ash added quickly, "has been in the Western penitentiary since I've been there." Here he challenged the clubmen to act in the work of boys' clubs. He told the luncheon group that "breaking boys of bad traits was much easier than breaking men who have developed them."

With the Kiwanis members for luncheon were numerous public officials and state law enforcement men and other guests.

Tonight the Kiwanians may attend, if they desire, an anniversary celebration of the Beaver Falls Kiwanis club. On November 9 a group of the local members will attend a Kiwanis inter-club meet at Grove City.

On Court House Hill

County commissioners have the ballots and supplies for the coming election ready for distribution to boroughs and townships. Judges of election will get them during the latter part of the week. Ballots for the city precincts will not be distributed until Monday, when the county commissioners will take them to the different polling places.

In the case of the commonwealth against George H. Andrews, who was convicted of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor, Judge R. L. Hildebrand has handed down a decision refusing an application for a new trial. The new trial was asked on the grounds that the verdict was against the weight of the evidence.

A summons in assumpsit has been filed at the prothonotary's office by C. E. Ketterer, receiver, of the First National Bank of Ellwood City, against Elizabeth G. Grandey, executrix in the estate of the late James C. Grandey, of Ellwood City. The amount of the claim is $6,858.01.

Hunters who own guns with barrels of 18 inches or less, with the exception of pistols, must register the weapons, according to James L. O'Toole, collector of internal revenue for this district. The law includes short barreled rifles, shotguns and machine guns. The law was passed last June and is being enforced in the federal government's drive against crime and lawlessness.

Real estate brokers will be interested in a case in which Mrs. Sadie Newhouse, a Prospect, Pa. real estate agent, secured a verdict against T. G. Dipner, of that neighborhood, for $300 commission. Judge John H. Wilson, of Butler, has just refused a new trial. Mrs. Newhouse was authorized by Dipner to find a purchaser for his farm. She found a buyer who was willing to pay the price asked and the owner agreed with Mrs. Newhouse to pay her $300 commission. Later, however, Dipner refused to sell the farm to the prospect whom Mrs. Newhouse had secured, but disposed of it to another man, and refused to pay Mrs. Newhouse the commission. She brought suit and secured a verdict for the full amount.

In the case of the People's National Bank of Ellwood City against Mrs. Georgeanna Guy and P. W. Guy, in which the defendant presented a petition to open a judgment, Judge Chambers has filed an opinion dismissing the rule. The case is one in which a joint note for $500 was given to the bank by Mrs. Georgeanna Guy and P. W. Guy. Mrs. Guy is a married woman and the mother of P. W. Guy. She claims that she signed the note as surety and received none of the proceeds. The plaintiff claims that she did not sign the note as surety but as maker and the proceeds were paid to her. Considerable testimony was taken on both sides of the case from which the court concludes that there is no good grounds for opening the judgment, and it therefore stands.

Prothonotary R. M. Campbell has received a letter from the Census Bureau at Washington, asking that he post a copy of the schedule to be used in the 1935 census of agriculture on the court house bulletin. The schedule is for the purpose of acquainting the public with the kinds of questions that will be asked when the census is taken next year. These questions include data on the size of farms, the number of acres tillable, what kinds of crops are raised, yields per acre, principal crops, trees, fruits, cattle, poultry, and other questions pertaining to the operation of farms, including the annual income, and wages paid for help. The first census of farms was taken in 1840, and the last in 1930. At that time there were 6,288,648 farms listed in the United States.

Fame is fleeting. You see, reporters soon get tired of writing about the same person all the time.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. October 30, 15 arrests on charges as follows: Exceeding speed limit, 2; violating traffic regulations, 9; disorderly conduct, 1; drunkenness and disorderly conduct, 1; and drunkenness, 2.

Developments of the conference to be held at Pittsburgh between police and school officials will be awaited here. Police authorities hope to make arrangements whereby male employes of the schools will act as traffic police at schools so that police can confine all their time to chasing criminals. In New Castle police act as guardians of the children at intersections near the schools where there are no traffic lights. Some years ago school children acted as "traffic police." However, this is prohibited and the police resumed their duties.

Approximately 700 arrests have been made here during the first 30 days of the current month. Most of the arrests were for violation of the motor laws. Approximately 1,055 arrests have been made since September 15.

Speaking of RWD projects in the city of New Castle, Safety Director D. O. Davies, hopes that projects on which work was stopped last summer will be completed as soon as possible. The Taylor street storm sewer job is the only new sizeable project undertaken and this was started for the purpose of giving work to skilled labor, which means more money to be spent here. One of the jobs which all city officials wants expedited is the protective stone wall along Croton avenue hill. Nothing has been done on that job for months. There is no wall at the top of the hill and an auto, which if it should skid on snow at the top of the hill, would have a big drop.

Carmi Glover, superintendent of the department of streets, has the employes preparing the different dirt streets for winter travel. They are being scraped, rolled and crowns built.

Several months ago police arrested four New York City boys whom it was alleged were trying to entice minor children into an auto here. After a several days' search police caught them and "salty" fines were administered. Chief of Detectives Willis McMullen today received from the New York City police department a letter inquiry as to the reason for the arrest of one of the boys who is being held on a charge of burglary in New York City, the letter stated.

Even if you aren't artistic, it is easy to be a Bohemian. You just cultivate an indifference to dirt.

Getting acquainted with another person isn't so difficult. You just get married and begin.

Wash the poisons and toxins from system before putting more food into stomach.
Says inside-bathing makes anyone look and feel clean, sweet and refreshed.
Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do.
For every ounce of food and drink taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste material is not eliminated day by day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.
A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast each day, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons, gases and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.
A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside-bathing. Men and women who are accustomed to wake up with a dull, aching head or have furred tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, sallow complexion, others who have bilious attacks, acid stomach or constipation are assured of pronounced improvement in both health and appearance shortly.

PENNSYLVANIA NEEDS MORE CONCRETE ROADS
BUSINESS FOLLOWS CONCRETE
CONCRETE HIGHWAYS PAY FOR THEMSELVES
Three reasons why concrete is the most economical pavement:
1. Long life and low upkeep—funds which would otherwise be spent for repairs may be used to complete our highway system.
2. Scientific investigation has proved that it costs motorists up to 2 cents per mile less to drive on concrete than on inferior surfaces. The saving is in gas, oil, tires and car repairs.
3. Concrete builds business, promotes travel. A town on concrete is moved closer to all markets.
And in addition to these money-reasons concrete pavements give motorists relaxation . . . comfort . . . and SAFETY!

Plan Alibis For Plotters

Plan To Establish Alibis For Two Accused Of Plotting To Kidnap Woman

(International News Service)

WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 1.—Plans to establish alibis for two men accused of attempting to kidnap Betty Bloch Harriss, Wheeling heiress, were made today by Defense Counsel Benjamin Rosenbloom.

As the abduction trial resumed, Rosenbloom indicated that Virginia Harding of Cadiz Pike may be placed on the stand to testify that Harry "Hot Bun" Thornton was in her company the evening he is accused of having made an unsuccessful attempt to "snatch" Mrs. Harriss. Federal Judge William E. Baker has refused to permit Thornton's confession to be admitted as evidence.

The confession authorities claim was made by Thurman F. Bowen, second defendant, was admitted and read to the jury. Both men told the court they confessed on the night of the arrest, October 3, to escape "third degree" treatment.

Congregational Family Day Plans

Services Throughout Sunday Will Be Of A Home-Coming And Rally Nature

The committee in charge of family day at the First Congregational church has completed all arrangements for the home-coming Sunday, Nov. 4.

Beginning with the Sabbath school at 9:45, the congregation will gather and stay through the English service at 11 o'clock, this to be followed by communion.

By special request of the pastor, the Rev. Rees T. Williams, will preach a Welsh sermon at three o'clock, at which service the choir will have special numbers. This will prove an attractive service, as it will give former members in town the opportunity of attending without missing services in their own churches.

At 7:30 p. m. there will be an English preaching service with special music by the choir and solos by out-of-town guests.

Eddie Davis is in charge of transportation for those unable to walk to the church.

Services For Dead At St. Mary Church

Special Services Will Commemorate Memories Of All Catholic Spirits

Special services for the dead will take place Friday evening at 7:45 in St. Mary's church, North and Beaver streets.

Thousands of Catholics of this district have been buried from St. Mary's church and it is expected that many Catholics from all churches of the city, especially the older residents, will attend these services.

St. Mary's parish was established in the early fifties of the last century and was the mother church of all Catholics of this district. Later St. Vitus was established to care for the Italian speaking Catholics, then St. Joseph's church was established for the Germans, while the English speaking remained with St. Mary's church.

RESUME OPERATIONS AT LOCAL QUARRIES

Lutton street and Ray street quarries are now in operation, according to City Engineer Harry Hoskins. It is from these quarries that the stone required on RWD projects in the city is secured.

BOARD MEETING SATURDAY

Members of the New Castle school board have been called into special session Saturday night, Nov. 3, for the purpose of discussing bond requirements for depositories of school funds.

Rural Teachers Meet Saturday

Arrangements Completed For Institute Session At Union High School

SYLING PREPARES SPLENDID PROGRAM

Several hundred teachers from the county schools will assemble at Union high school in Union Township, Saturday morning for an all-day institute session, when a number of interesting educational subjects will be discussed by a number of the leading educators from Slippery Rock State Teachers College.

The program opens with registration at 8:30. Devotionals will be conducted at 9:30 and following a business session of the Lawrence County branch of the P. S. E. A., presided over by President Wilbert M. Leonard, the institute session will open.

A new departure will take place at this meeting, when departmental subjects will be discussed for the benefit of the teachers who are instructors in these separate subjects.

The educators who will be present and speak at these discussions will be Dr. R. A. Waldron, Dr. L. H. Wagenhorst, Miss Althea Beery, Miss Alma G. Rice, Mrs. Gladys H. Arnold, Mrs. Georgia Gantt Winn, Herbert Book, Miss Margaret C. Rhoads and Miss Florence Hollaway, all of Slippery Rock State Teacher's College.

Examination questions for the preliminary eighth grade tests which will be given throughout the county on Monday will be distributed to the teachers during the course of the day.

Steel Concern Is Sued For $39,300

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1—Charging their farm lands in Forward Township, near Donora, have been injured by fumes and sediment from the American Steel and Wire Company's Donora zinc plant, W. Edgar Woods and his wife, Nora F. Woods, today filed papers in their suit for $39,300 against the steel concern.

DISMISS UNION SCHOOLS EARLY ON FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Announcement was made this afternoon from Union high school by Supervising Principal R. F. Conway that all schools in the township would be dismissed at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon in a tribute to the late Harry B. Miller, whose funeral occurs during the afternoon. Mr. Miller was caretaker of the Union high school for some years.

Early Decision In A. & P. Tieup In Cleveland Seen

Believe Plan To End Controversy Will Be Successful In Near Future

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 1.—All indications pointed today to a decision by tomorrow on the A. & P. controversy in Cleveland.

Only one disturbing note appeared in the situation, which was one of general optimism and hope that both sides in the dispute would ratify a seven-point peace plan offered by the national labor relations board at Washington.

Some concern was felt because the board of directors of the A. & P. company, at a meeting yesterday in New York, failed to reach an immediate decision on the compromise plan, which would permit immediate reopening of the 300 closed A. & P. stores in Cuyahoga county.

Labor officials here conferred today to plan either a general meeting of all seven unions involved in the dispute, or separate meetings, to consider ratification of the peace plan. Even though labor failed to win its major objective, that of the closed shop, feeling was prevalent here that the labor unions would approve the plan.

INSULL TO TAKE WITNESS STAND IN OWN DEFENSE

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—Samuel Insull, the aged former utilities magnate, waited to take the witness stand before Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson today in his own defense against mail fraud charges involving the sale of $100,000,000 worth of corporation securities shares.

As his own star witness, Insull had a multitude of things to tell, and he went over and over a draft of his testimony to make certain of being letter perfect when he takes the stand.

It was to be more than a defense of himself, however. Insull was to defend his son, Samuel, Jr., his fifteen former associates who are on trial with him, and the various practices which the government has charged constituted an attempt to defraud the investing public.

The calling of Insull as the first of the many defendants to testify proved a surprise. It had been expected that he would be among the last to tell his story.

But the matter of Insull's health was a thing to be considered. It was feared that unless he testified at once he might be unable to stand the ordeal later. His testimony was expected to consume two days.

A. & P. Directors To Delay Action

Await Reports From Cleveland Store Supervisors On Conditions

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Officers of the A. & P. stores said today directors would delay possibly for 48 hours action on the peace formula worked out by the labor board at Washington by which it is hoped to reopen the 300 stores in Cleveland, closed in a dispute with union organizers.

The directors met for three hours last night without reaching any conclusion. They are awaiting reports from the Cleveland store supervisors who are to confer with officials today.

Despondent Woman Commits Suicide

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1—Mrs. Fannie McCoy, 53, McKees Rocks, died in Ohio Valley hospital last night after swallowing poison tablets in her home, the coroner's office announced today.

The woman had been brooding over ill-health, it was reported.

EXPRESS FIRM'S OFFICIALS HERE

Two high officials of the Railway Express Agency, the nation's largest express concern, came to New Castle yesterday for a brief stop on their extensive automobile tour of inspection of the scattered agency branches throughout this part of the United States.

C. R. Graham, New York, vice president of the organization, and F. R. Lindsay, Philadelphia, general manager of the concern, the two general office executives, were accompanied here by Mrs. Graham and J. W. Johnson, REA superintendent at Pittsburgh.

The party, traveling in two sedans, called upon Manager J. W. Anderson of the New Castle branch, exchanged greetings, talked business briefly and then departed. They came here from Ellwood City.

The officials' tour will take them to all sections of the northeastern United States. They made no comment on business conditions generally, Mr. Anderson said.

Reports of the concern's business locally, now 14 per cent above that of a year ago, were furnished the officials by Manager Anderson.

Young Democrats Hear Col. Ristine

Speaking under the auspices of the Young Democratic organization of Lawrence county, Col. Carl L. Ristine, special assistant attorney-general of the United States, appeared in the Lawrence county court house on Wednesday night.

In his address Col. Ristine paid tribute to the Pennsylvania soldiers during the World war. He reviewed the work of the Roosevelt administration and urged the election of Democratic candidates in November.

Other speakers were William J. Eroe, Jr., James B. Kelso, Daniel Couch of Beaver county and Dr. J. A. Meehan of New Castle. The meeting was presided over by Findley K. Boyd, chairman of the Young Democrats.

FRIDAY PAY DAY FOR CITY TEACHERS

Employes of public school district of the city of New Castle will receive their pay for the last two weeks of October, Friday, according to attaches of the city treasury. The payroll will amount to about $26,250, it was stated.

Employes of the city will draw their pay for the last two weeks of October, Saturday.

The city officials, however, will draw their pay for the entire month. The officials are paid once a month and employes twice a month.

VOTE FOR EROE

For forty two years, while Republicans controlled the Legislature, Republican leaders of this community campaigned on this slogan—"Why Send a DEMOCRAT to the Assembly?"—Times have changed. The next Legislature will be predominately Democratic. We now ask, "Why Send a REPUBLICAN to the Legislature?"

New Castle should be represented at Harrisburg by a DEMOCRAT with EXPERIENCE and INFLUENCE.

W. J. EROE, Jr., Democrat, has the experience—he has the influence.

RE-ELECT HIM

COLDS Go Overnight

When You Take The Right Thing!

A cold doesn't have to run its course and expose you to serious complications. A cold can be routed overnight if you go about it the right way. First of all, a cold being an internal infection, calls for internal treatment. Secondly, a cold calls for a COLD remedy and not for a "cure-all".

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine is what a cold requires. It is expressly a cold remedy. It is internal and direct—and it does the four things necessary. It opens the bowels, combats the cold germs and fever in the system, relieves the headache and grippy feeling and tones and fortifies the entire system. Anything less than that is taking chance with a cold. Get Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine at any druggist. 30c and 50c. Ask for it by the full name and beware of dealers who offer substitutes.

Bus Crash Near Butler Probed

Bus Goes Over Embankment, One Man Seriously Injured

(International News Service)

BUTLER, Pa., Nov. 1.—Defective steering apparatus was believed responsible today for the crash of a New York-Chicago Nu-Way bus which plunged over a 25-foot embankment and overturned twice, six miles east of here last night.

Eleven persons escaped death or serious injury in the accident. All were brought to Butler hospital.

Solomon Schwartz, (3033 Balin place), Chicago, was the only victim of the accident remaining at the hospital this morning. He is suffering possible fractured ribs.

Journey Resumed

According to state highway patrol Corporal Leo Dolan, who investigated, Breen said he had stopped at Ebensburg on account of the manner in which the bus was steering. A broken shock absorber was removed.

The passengers continued their journey to Chicago after repairs were effected, it was stated.

In another crash two weeks ago in which a Nu-Way bus careened into Laurel run, two persons were killed.

New Charges Of Radio Sabotage

Pinchot Charges Republican Address Is "Cut Off Air"

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 1.—Additional charges of violation of the Federal Radio Broadcasting Act were heaped onto the fires of Pennsylvania's blazing political campaign today by Gov. Gifford Pinchot who earlier this week alleged his own speeches were being "sabotaged."

Governor Pinchot made public a second letter to Eugene O. Sykes of the Federal Communications Commission alleging that Gabriel D. Weiss, Philadelphia Democratic legislative candidate, was cut off the air during a political talk over Station WIP and later refused an opportunity to repeat his speech after its text had been censored.

The cutoff was said to have occurred October 25 and the censorship incident on October 30. Weiss' speech was scheduled by the Schnader-for-Governor Democratic Club of Philadelphia.

Detailing the cutoff incident, Governor Pinchot wrote:

"Mr. Weiss had just said he could not tolerate Guffey or Earle or the unseen powers behind them. He had begun to read from a campaign circular published by the Roland S. Morris senatorial campaign committee in the Democratic primary last spring. That circular named the real powers behind the Guffey-Earle ticket as J. David Stern, of the Philadelphia Record; Albert M. Greenfield, banker; Matthew McCloskey and John B. Kelly, contractors—all Republicans. Just before the name of Greenfield was mentioned Mr. Weiss was cut off the air and the station announcer told the public Mr. Weiss was unable to continue."

Bartell Goes To Giants For Players-Cash

Ryan, Vergez And Watkins Go To Phils For Sterling Young Shortstop

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 1—Dick Bartell, a pretty fair sort of country ball player, will be the shortstop of the New York Giants next season. John (they can't beat us) Ryan will play shortstop for Philadelphia, if that's the kind of shortstop they want. He's a ukulele hitter. Moreover, Johnny Vergez will play third base for Philadelphia, George Watkins right field and a youth by the name of John Puzello from Nashville will do some excess pitching.

That's the story of the second big trade of the week in baseball. The first big trade was practically the "wash" sale of Joe Cronin from Washington to Boston as player-manager for a sum reputed to be $150,000.

The Giant-Philadelphia deal was announced in the twilight being a concession to the local baseball writers. They're still trying to figure which club got the better of the deal, whereas the matter is all too obvious. The Philadelphia club got the better of the deal. It got the $5,000 to $50,000 that went along with the four players and the latter can now go take a running once-and-a-half into the Schuylkill for all the good they'll do Philadelphia.

Not So Good

Vergez, Ryan and Watkins might well have been waived out of the league on their 1934 performances Vergez was sitting on the bench at the finish of the race. Ryan probably should have been. Neither of the young gentlemen can hit a resounding foul.

As for Watkins, he figured so obscurely in the last pennant race that like Ryan and Vergez, he can almost be said to have been tossed in as a bit of window display. In other words, the Giants seem to have traded all three for nothing even up In fact, this is one case where sordid gold triumps over sterling virtue, meaning that the Phillies got all the better of it. I have it direct from the U. S. treasury that there is very little that is sordid about $50,000, especially just before the first of the month.

Great Infield

The transfer of Bartell gives the Giants the best infield in the national league and, according to the official announcement, represents an expenditure of $115,000 for new players since the great debacle of a month ago.

Other deals are to follow notably for a centre-fielder. Even a pitcher or two may go considering the stories circulated about the bickering between Will Terry and Hubbell and the brawling between Will Terry and Schumacher.

However, all stories about Terry aren't true—not even some of Terry's stories about Terry.

Stress Defense Of Pitt Panthers

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—Pittsburgh University's Panthers, completing their contact work last night, today were scheduled to begin tapering off drills in preparation for the Notre Dame game Saturday.

Realizing that the Irish are pointing for this encounter, Coach Jock Sutherland is emphasizing the defense of the Pitt team and is doing nothing offensively.

Jack Kearns Is Just About Broke

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1.—Jack Kearns, former manager of Jack Dempsey, may be down, but he is not downhearted.

Although his Los Angeles home and furniture has already been sold at auction, he still has visions of a comeback.

Once the wealthiest manager in the boxing game, due to his 50-50 splits with Jack Dempsey, Kearns admitted today that bad investments and the flare for the bright lights had cost him practically everything.

Coaches Must Either Produce Or Lose "Heads"

Harvard Will Be One Of Many Schools Seeking New Coach In 1935

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The late Bill McGeoghan once suggested that Harvard would do well to swap a couple of professors for a hard-running halfback.

Thousands of Harvard's old grads heartily agreed with Bill. Today they probably would go a step further and agree to trade half the school's professors for a coach who could turn out a winning team.

College deans like to speak of their coaches as "builders of character," "moulders of men," and similar descriptive catch phrases, but losing teams don't pay off the mortgages on huge football stadia and old grade are prone to be impatient with coaches who can't produce and deans who hand out a lot of twaddle about handing the game back to the boys.

Many New Coaches

Old grads demand results and old grads, especially those with loose pocketbooks, are being listened to these days. That is why there will be many a new coach on deck at various colleges next year and why there will be less emphasis put on de-emphasis of football by college deans.

Among those who may be missing when the next football season rolls around are Ed. Casey, of Harvard; Gil Dobie, of Cornell; Dick Hanley, of Northwestern, and Tuss McLaughry, of Brown, to say nothing of Harry Mehre of Georgia, Howard Harpster of Carnegie Tech, Doc Stevens of N. Y. U., Bill Ingram of California, and Doc Spears of Wisconsin.

Some of these are fine coaches under almost any conditions; some are great if they have sufficient material, but not so hot if they have to play students.

Some have failed to keep step with the times and are teaching the football current along about 1911. The new wide open game has passed them by.

Princeton Steps Out

Princeton was smart enough to forget about old grad coaching and stepped out and got Fritz Crisler and now look at Princeton. Pennsylvania, over the protests of the old grads went haywire on the Gates plan, and now look at Pennsylvania. Happily, the old grads have taken hold down there again, and are getting some real material to matriculate despite Professor Gates.

As long as old grads preach the doctrine that a college is only as good as its football team, coaches will always be in danger of losing their jobs. That is the main reason why some of the aforementioned coaches will be hunting new coaching berths next season.

New Kensington Will Bring Crowd

New Kensington high school football team will be well supported by fans when they come here Saturday to battle the "Red Hurricane" of New Castle high school. Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner has delivered 1,000 tickets to New Kensington.

The New Ken high band will not make the trip to New Castle, it was learned today. The game Saturday will be one of the best of the season, and the winner will likely be in the top running for the Class AA honors.

Tech To Battle New York Team

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—Having worked out a new interchangeable backfield combination, the Carnegie Tech team was ready for the journey to New York today to meet N. Y. U. on Saturday.

Croft and Doloway, regular tackles, are still out of practice, but the long rest may enable them to take their places against the New York team.

New Castle Seeks Fourth Victory In Class AA Circles

VICTORY number four in Class AA circles is desired by the New Castle high school "Red Hurricane" Saturday afternoon. New Kensington high with an unbeaten major league record, comes to Taggart stadium to try and upset the Bridenbaughmen for the first double A defeat in three years.

The game will start at 2:30 o'clock and by game time every seat in the spacious Taggart stadium should be filled. This is easily one of the most attractive games on the 1934 card for the Pa Newc sons.

Both teams will be in the game to give their best. Both seek that coveted victory. A defeat will send one of them out of the running, which one will it be? A tie will probably put both teams out of the running.

Backfield Attention

Coach Phil Bridenbaugh is paying particular attention this week to those "touchdown twins," Fleming and Cox. It depends on the way the New Castle offense clicks against New Kensington. The New Castle line, one of the greatest in Western Pennsylvania, can be expected to play the usual fine defensive game, but what about the backfield?

Against Warren high the New Castle backs, Fleming, Cox, Mumford, Ostrosky and A. Shellogg, looked very good. Against the Clairton high team this set of backs together with young Eddie Donegan, was unstoppable. But, what will happen when New Castle runs up against a tough line and a flock of hard secondary men like New Kensington will bring here? That's a question.

There is no doubt about it, Charles "Red" Fleming will be a marked man in the New Castle backfield. New Ken high has heard of the prowess of this carrot-thatched youngster who reminds you of Day, Uram and Reider wrapped up in one.

The battle this week looks like one of the best of the year and you had better plan to be there!

Record Fish Are Caught This Year

BIGGEST TROUT WAS THIRTY INCHES

HARRISBURG, Nov. 1.—With the 1934 season for black bass, wall-eyed pike, pickerel and muskellunge entering its final stages, fish commission officials today reported that in at least three divisions of game fish, records for size and weight have shattered existing records in Pennsylvania. Giant fish that are the dream of every fisherman were landed in the brown trout, large-mouth black bass and wall-eyed pike divisions. It is considered significant that artificial lures captured the largest brown trout and the record-breaking large-mouth bass, while a spinner and lamprey eel combination accounted for the mammoth pike.

Topping the brown trout catches was a 30-inch fish, having a girth of 15½ inches and weighing nine pounds, seven ounces. It was caught on an artificial fly in the Lackawaxen River, Pike county, by William Percival, expert fly fisherman, of Matamoras. Warden Frank Brink of Milford, who reported the catch, said that Percival was using a four-ounce fly rod when the big fish struck.

The record large-mouth bass was taken in Harvey's Lake, Luzerne county, by John Warzechowski, of Nanticoke. Fishing plug, the Nanticoke angler lured the big fellow to strike. It measured 24 inches in length and weighed eight pounds, eight ounces.

Zimmerman's Eddy on the famous Upper Delaware river, yielded a wall-eyed pike or Susquehanna salmon of breath-taking proportions to Frank L. Seas, Easton fisherman, who was trolling when he made the catch. The pike tipped the scales at 13 pounds, eight ounces. It was 34 inches in length and had a girth of 18½ inches.

Marino Coaches Humbert Team

Humbert First basketball teams are being coached by "Buddy" Marino, the well known South Side athlete. There are two Humbert First teams this year, the Seniors and Juniors. The floor season at Humbert hall will open on Thanksgiving night.

The South Siders will meet either Ellwood City or Sharon the first game. Sixteen new uniforms have been bought for the teams. There are eight players on each team.

Flynn Returned To Home In Erie

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1—Found in a local hotel room, Charles J. Flynn, 43, who shot his wife in their Dormont home a month ago, was back in the soldiers and sailors hospital at Erie today under court orders.

Flynn's wife told authorities two days ago that her husband, who had escaped from the hospital, was telephoning threats to her. Deputy sheriff Edward Horan found the fugitive.

Mrs. Flynn was shot in the shoulder when her husband fired two shot through a door of her bedroom.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

British bookmakers took their worst beating in years yesterday when Wychwood Abbot captured the Cambridgeshire handicap at Newmarket, England. They declared themselves harder hit than in any race in the last 20 years since the winner was coupled by many bettors with Enfield, the winner of the Ceasariwitch two weeks ago. Betting was tremendous on the Cambridgeshire. One pool alone reached more than $100,000.

Barney Ross, lightweight champion of the world, will defend his title against Tony Canzoneri, former lightweight king, in December at Chicago, according to New York reports. Ross has signed articles it is said, and all that is necessary now for the match is Canzoneri's signature.

Athletes of the world may see just how baseball, America's national pastime is played during the 1936 Olympics at Berlin. The German Olympic committee has invited the United States to send a team to the games for an exhibition game against Japan.

Halfback Palowski, of Shadyside, O., high, has a 103-yard run for a touchdown to his credit. He was playing against Barnesville yesterday. The game was only in its infancy when he caught a punt and made the run.

Brooklyn Team Not For Sale

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1—Judge Steve McKeever, veteran executive of the Brooklyn Dodgers, announced emphatically today that his ball club was not for sale. "The Judge's" announcement puts at rest a reported effort by Col. Tilinghast Huston, former part owner of the New York Yankees, to buy the Dodgers and make Babe Ruth manager.

Alabama Ranks With Best For Bid To Coast

Princeton And Minnesota Also Up At Top Of National Football Heap

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—For purposes of the record, I understand that Princeton, Minnesota, Pittsburgh and Alabama, in that order, now rate in favor for the Rose Bowl invitation against either Washington or Stanford. I can understand everything except the coast's pretty obvious disinclination to see more of Alabama, my conclusion being that it has already seen too much.

In any case, no legitimate ranking list either could or would place Alabama below Princeton, which has been playing around with the glycerine and rose water institutes, and Pittsburgh, which already has lost one and may lose another to Notre Dame on Saturday. Pitt is very good but no better than it figured against Minnesota, meaning not good enough.

Alabama Good.

Maybe Alabama isn't either, but it seems to be doing all right in a pretty rugged league. As well, for instance as the team of nine years ago that pulled one out at the Rose bowl in a theatrical finish on that pass from Hubert to Brown. As for the team of the following year that played a 7 to 7 tie, the 1934 version might, if anything, seem to be slightly the better. It probably has more downright punch in the backfield.

However, I believe the idea of the coast is to get some window-dressing this time, an ivy-clad college that will dress up the act and give the customer a sense of drama. They feel they can't do that with Michigan State, Rice, Syracuse and Tulane or even Dartmouth, which has been around playing football for some years in a rather unobtrusive way. The point is that these teams don't hit the headlines.

That's what makes Princeton so acceptable. If a big three team is any good at all, it is automatically great, the metropolitan critics being suckers for tradition. Princeton wouldn't go last year but they do say that it might listen this time, although there is something in the records about an agreement.

I doubt, though, that anything can be done about Big Ten objections. Therefore, if Minnesota is being so earnestly considered, why not Illinois and Chicago? They can't go, either.

Louisiana State.

The Army and Navy are probably out, the former for quite sufficient reasons. It once went to the coast to play Stanford and finished just before the first of the month.

It seems to me that everything I've said so far brings us inevitably back to the urgent query, why not Alabama? However, I'll try one more. Why not Louisiana State? It may have played a couple of ties with first rate teams but it's beating the best right now and, besides, it has Huey Long as an added attraction. But I forget myself. Maybe that's why they like Princeton.

Gardner Drills Floor Candidates

Fifty Report For Basketball At Senior High, Divided Into Groups

Ralph H. Gardner, faculty manager of athletics at Senior high, will have charge of the New Castle high basketball team until the end of the football season, it was announced today. The first call for candidates for the floor team brought 50 young men out.

Gardner has divided the 50 into two groups. The groups will hold one or two practice sessions each week until the regular basketball season starts. There are quite a number of veterans on hand.

The football men who also play basketball will not report for the floor game until about the middle of December. "Brownie" Ostrosky is the captain of the New Castle high floor team this year.

Duquesne Eleven At Full Strength

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—With the exception of the quarterback position, Duquesne University gridders expect to be at full strength for the West Virginia Wesleyan game here Friday night. Joe Gates will be at quarter in place of the injured Cutrona.

Bessemer-Union Ready For Game

Bessemer Hopes To Annex County League Championship Friday Afternoon

UNION ELEVEN MAY SURPRISE

Bessemer high school football team has visions of winning the county football championship for the second straight year Friday afternoon at the Bessemer high field when they will meet the Union high school "Blue Devils." The battle starts at 3 o'clock.

Having defeated Shenango high earlier in the year, all the Bessemer boys must do is take the measure of the Unionites tomorrow afternoon to keep the trophy cup secure in the confines of Bessemer's fine high school building.

Bessemer Confident

Coach Fredericks is having a hard time this week to get his Bessemer players out of the confidence of winning easily from Union. True, Union high has not won a game this year, but you can never tell about this game of football, some funny things can happen. Coach Davey Boyd is going to "shoot the works" Friday at Bessemer.

Both teams will be at full strength for the battle.

In event of good weather the Bessemer high field will be jammed for the engagement. They take their football serious out in Bessemer and with the county championship likely to go to Bessemer again, the fans will want to be in on the game.

Neither Boyd nor Fredericks were sure of their starting lineups today. Final polishing of both teams was accomplished this afternoon.

Keystones Will Oppose Ryantown

Interest will be centered on the Colonial field next Sunday afternoon when the crack Keystone A. C. gridders oppose the Ryantown eleven. The contest was originally scheduled for last Sunday, but inclement weather caused a postponement.

Last year the Keystone gridders eked out a 13-12 triumph.

Prison Talk Of Warden Is Heard By Kiwanians

CHALLENGES CLUB TO GUIDE YOUTH

Warden Stanley P. Ash of the Western State penitentiary at Pittsburgh, told the Kiwanis club yesterday that, of the thousands of prisoners who have come to him since he became warden in 1925, only four were college graduates, only 38 had been to college and fewer than 60 had finished a standard four-year high school course.

Speaking at the Kiwanians' weekly luncheon-meeting at The Castleton, Warden Ash, now the president of the American Prison association, discussed what he referred to as "one of the most expensive luxuries that taxpayers are burdened with in these much-troubled times."

Most of the noted prison warden's message was an enlightening review of daily life and practices at the Pittsburgh penitentiary, but here and there during the speech, Mr. Ash directed ringing pleas to his audience for "loyal support" of prison wardens in their determined drive to reduce crime.

Attorney Thomas W. Dickey, close friend of the warden, introduced him.

False Picture, He Says.

"A false picture," the speaker declared as he began, "is what people get of prisons out of newspapers and over the radio. They would lead you to believe they are where only killers of men of that type dwell. The truth is that 99 out of 100 days in a penitentiary are like most any normal day in any factory."

He did admit that in the pen are to be found crooks—many parasites on society—who would be there anyway. But he said that penitentiaries are also filled with "individuals who are good but who have done something bad."

"Some people also think they're filled with 'master minds' or men of intelligence, and that's wrong," he went on. "The intelligence of a prison population is a little below the average."

Here the warden said the average education of Western penitentiary men is that of the fifth or sixth grade of a public school.

The day when men will be separated as to types in prisons and not brought together under one roof was predicted by the warden after he reminded the listeners "that most of the men who go in, some day come out, and the problem is to fit them for future association with society."

Speaks of Rockview.

Of Rockview prison, at Bellefonte, Pa., the farm branch of Western penitentiary, the warden gave a brief description, impressing upon the clubmen that it is the "parole branch" of the Pittsburgh prison—where men are sent once they become eligible for a parole in the penitentiary. Rockview produces much of the foodstuffs for the Pittsburgh institution and for others, but none is placed on a private market.

The daily life of a prisoner at Western pen was reviewed by the warden and the details of state executions at Bellefonte were told.

Closing his addrss, Warden Ash forgot prison talk for the moment and declared:

"I think, gentlemen, that the Kiwanis club, the Rotary club and other service clubs have a big job to do—it isn't their responsibility with the penitentiaries of the country but an obligation to the youth of the nation. I think to develop clubs of boys to halt crime at the start is a fine thing."

No Scouts On Record.

"Not a Boy Scout," Warden Ash added quickly, "has been in the Western penitentiary since I've been there." Here he challenged the clubmen to act in the work of boys' clubs.

He told the luncheon group that "breaking boys of bad traits was much easier than breaking men who have developed them."

With the Kiwanis members for luncheon were numerous public officials and state law enforcement men and other guests.

Tonight the Kiwanians may attend, if they desire, an anniversary celebration of the Beaver Falls Kiwanis club. On November 9 a group of the local members will attend a Kiwanis inter-club meet at Grove City.

On Court House Hill

County commissioners have the ballots and supplies for the coming election ready for distribution to boroughs and townships. Judges of election will get them during the latter part of the week. Ballots for the city precincts will not be distributed until Monday, when the county commissioners will take them to the different polling places.

In the case of the commonwealth against George H. Andrews, who was convicted of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor, Judge R. L. Hildebrand has handed down a decision refusing an application for a new trial. The new trial was asked on the grounds that the verdict was against the weight of the evidence.

A summons in assumpsit has been filed at the prothonotary's office by C. E. Ketterer, receiver, of the First National Bank of Ellwood City, against Elizabeth G. Grandey, executrix in the estate of the late James C. Grandey, of Ellwood City. The amount of the claim is $6,858.01.

Hunters who own guns with barrels of 18 inches or less, with the exception of pistols, must register the weapons, according to James L. O'Toole, collector of internal revenue for this district. The law includes short barreled rifles, shotguns and machine guns. The law was passed last June and is being enforced in the federal government's drive against crime and lawlessness.

Real estate brokers will be interested in a case in which Mrs. Sadie Newhouse, a Prospect, Pa. real estate agent, secured a verdict against T. G. Dipner, of that neighborhood, for $300 commission. Judge John H. Wilson, of Butler, has just refused a new trial. Mrs. Newhouse was authorized by Dipner to find a purchaser for his farm. She found a buyer who was willing to pay the price asked and the owner agreed with Mrs. Newhouse to pay her $300 commission. Later, however, Dipner refused to sell the farm to the prospect whom Mrs. Newhouse had secured, but disposed of it to another man, and refused to pay Mrs. Newhouse the commission. She brought suit and secured a verdict for the full amount.

In the case of the People's National Bank of Ellwood City against Mrs. Georgeanna Guy and P. W. Guy, in which the defendant presented a petition to open a judgment, Judge Chambers has filed an opinion dismissing the rule. The case is one in which a joint note for $500 was given to the bank by Mrs. Georgeanna Guy and P. W. Guy. Mrs. Guy is a married woman and the mother of P. W. Guy. She claims that she signed the note as surety and received none of the proceeds. The plaintiff claims that she did not sign the note as surety but as maker and the proceeds were paid to her. Considerable testimony was taken on both sides of the case from which the court concludes that there is no good grounds for opening the judgment, and it therefore stands.

Prothonotary R. M. Campbell has received a letter from the Census Bureau at Washington, asking that he post a copy of the schedule to be used in the 1935 census of agriculture on the court house bulletin. The schedule is for the purpose of acquainting the public with the kinds of questions that will be asked when the census is taken next year. These questions include data on the size of farms, the number of acres tillable, what kinds of crops are raised, yields per acre, principal crops, trees, fruits, cattle, poultry, and other questions pertaining to the operation of farms, including the annual income, and wages paid for help. The first census of farms was taken in 1840, and the last in 1930. At that time there were 6,288,648 farms listed in the United States.

Fame is fleeting. You see, reporters soon get tired of writing about the same person all the time.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. October 30, 15 arrests on charges as follows: Exceeding speed limit, 2; violating traffic regulations, 9; disorderly conduct, 1; drunkenness and disorderly conduct, 1; and drunkenness, 2.

Developments of the conference to be held at Pittsburgh between police and school officials will be awaited here. Police authorities hope to make arrangements whereby male employes of the schools will act as traffic police at schools so that police can confine all their time to chasing criminals. In New Castle police act as guardians of the children at intersections near the schools where there are no traffic lights. Some years ago school children acted as "traffic police." However, this is prohibited and the police resumed their duties.

Approximately 700 arrests have been made here during the first 30 days of the current month. Most of the arrests were for violation of the motor laws. Approximately 1,055 arrests have been made since September 15.

Speaking of RWD projects in the city of New Castle, Safety Director D. O. Davies, hopes that projects on which work was stopped last summer will be completed as soon as possible. The Taylor street storm sewer job is the only new sizable project undertaken and this was started for the purpose of giving work to skilled labor, which means more money to be spent here. One of the jobs which all city officials wants expedited is the protective stone wall along Croton avenue hill. Nothing has been done on that job for months. There is no wall at the top of the hill and an auto, which if it should skid on snow at the top of the hill, would have a big drop.

Carmi Glover, superintendent of the department of streets, has the employes preparing the different dirt streets for winter travel. They are being scraped, rolled and crowns built.

Several months ago police arrested four New York City boys whom it was alleged were trying to entice minor children into an auto here. After a several days' search police caught them and "salty" fines were administered. Chief of Detectives Willis McMullen today received from the New York City police department a letter inquiry as to the reason for the arrest of one of the boys who is being held on a charge of burglary in New York City, the letter stated.

Even if you aren't artistic, it is easy to be a Bohemian. You just cultivate an indifference to dirt.

Getting acquainted with another person isn't so difficult. You just get married and begin.

Wash the poisons and toxins from system before putting more food into stomach.
Says inside-bathing makes anyone look and feel clean, sweet and refreshed.
Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do.
For every ounce of food and drink taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste material is not eliminated day by day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.
A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast each day, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons, gases and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.
A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside-bathing. Men and women who are accustomed to wake up with a dull, aching head or have furred tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, sallow complexion, others who have bilious attacks, acid stomach or constipation are assured of pronounced improvement in both health and appearance shortly.

CONCRETE HIGHWAYS PAY FOR THEMSELVES
Three reasons why concrete is the most economical pavement:
1. Long life and low upkeep—funds which would otherwise be spent for repairs may be used to complete our highway system.
2. Scientific investigation has proved that it costs motorists up to 2 cents per mile less to drive on concrete than on inferior surfaces. The saving is in gas, oil, tires and car repairs.
3. Concrete builds business, promotes travel. A town on concrete is moved closer to all markets.

SMALL BUSINESS MAN KEEPS UP CODE FIGHT

York Man Seeks Aid In Battle

GOVERNMENT HAS POSTPONED TRIAL

International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Pounding an immense fist upon a desk top, Fred C. Perkins, the former Cornell football star who regards himself as the champion of the small manufacturers of the country in one of the most important test fights yet brought against the NRA, announced defiantly today:

"All hell can't stop me now. I wouldn't quit this thing for a million dollars. And even if I'm beaten in the supreme court and they put me in jail again they can't force me to do something I can't do.

"They started it and if I'm licked to a frazzle in every court in the land I'll still be unbeaten because when we get through I'll have the country behind me."

Enlists Help.

Perkins, the York, Pennsylvania, manufacturer of storage batteries, whose case aroused national attention when he was thrown into jail for failure to pay the minimum wage fixed by the code for the storage battery industry, is in New York conferring with a number of prominent persons whose support he hopes to enlist.

He saw John W. Davis, former Democratic candidate for president, he said, and though he found Davis non-committal he believes he aroused his sympathy.

Not Political Fight.

"And I have an appointment with Al Smith and I believe he will see my side of the case, too," he added.

"There is nothing political in this fight. I have always admired President Roosevelt and I think there are some good things in the NRA though it has not worked out the way the country expected. Why, Democrats and Republicans have both passed the hat to help prepare my defense because I am a poor man and I have received letters of encouragement from men of all shades of political opinion.

"Most of them come from men in the same boat with me. They are operating little factories in small towns and can't pay the wages fixed by the code authorities, figuring on the big cities."

At 56, Perkins is still a giant of a man, 6 feet tall, weighing 200 pounds. He is partly bald and grey but it's easy to imagine he was a crushing ball carrier at Cornell in the football days of the late '90s.

Tough Circumstances.

Perkins employs only 20 men in his little factory in West York where he lives with his second wife, a poor man with a $165 car, because, he added apologetically:

"In lieu of alimony I gave my first wife everything I had. And then along came the 1929 crash and I've never been able to come much of the way back."

He applied for exemption from the code authority wage rate, which was 40 cents an hour—he was paying 25—on the ground that he would have to close his little plant, but the exemption was refused and things began to happen.

Never Had Eagle.

First he was notified that he was violating the code provisions, and then a little while later he was ordered to surrender all his blue eagle emblems to the town postmaster.

"That was funny," he said, "because I had never had a blue eagle—I knew I couldn't afford to pay the scale."

The next thing that happened was not so funny. A United States marshal came to York and arrested him on a warrant issued from United States court on a complaint issued by the litigation department of NRA. Bond was fixed at $5,000. He couldn't pay it and he didn't want to ask any of his friends,—"you know how it is to go around begging money in these times"—so he went to jail.

Released From Jail.

There he remained for 18 days until a wealthy Pennsylvania shoe manufacturer heard of his plight and pledged property worth $250,000 to get him out.

"That's what made me mad as hell," he said today. "I had been sick for about a year before this happened. When they asked me what would happen if they closed my plant I told them I'd have to go on relief but they put me in jail anyway."

News of Perkins' plight spread throughout Pennsylvania. Harold B. Beitler, president of the Pennsylvania Bar association, offered his services free as chief of defense counsel, associated with George S. Love of York, Perkins' personal attorney.

Reed Offers Help.

Former Senator James A. Reed of Missouri wrote offering the New York man his help, regardless of any fee consideration. Perkins showed the letter today.

"Taking into consideration your situation, that of your employes and the condition of your business," the letter said in part, "I know of no oppressive action in any country whether ruled by king or dictator of greater outrage than that to which you have been subjected."

Reed said he would like to be on hand for the hearing before the United States district court, originally set for October 15 and later for October 23 at Scranton, but had other engagements. But now the case has been transferred to Harrisburg where the hearing is to open December 3 and Perkins believes the fiery Reed will be on hand to attack the NRA administration.

American Fliers May Be Awarded $7,500 Second Prize

(International News Service)

MELBOURNE, Nov. 1.—Col. Roscoe Turner and Clyde Pangborn, American flyers who won third place in the speed division of the London-to-Melbourne air derby, today were expected to be declared winners of the $7,500 second prize.

This strange situation developed as it became apparent, on the basis of unofficial returns, that C. W. A. Scott and T. Campbell Black, British aces who won the $50,000 first prize in the speed division of the derby, had captured first place in the handicap division as well.

Since according to the rules no derby may share two prizes, however, the handicap first prize was expected to go to K. D. Parmentier and J. J. Moll, Dutch flyers who came in second in the speed race. The pair were expected to take the $10,000 handicap first prize in preference to the $7,500 speed second prize.

Thus Col. Turner and Pangborn would get this rich second place purse instead of the third. The $2,500 third prize for the speed race thus passed up by the Americans, would fall back to Lieut. Cathcart Jones and Ken Waller, Britons who arrived in Melbourne in fourth place.

COURAGE

Strength and skill and courage are
Attributes by all admired.
Strength can carry burdens far.
Skill by some can be acquired.
Strength is power to haul and lift.
Skill is slowly practised art.
Courage is the rarest gift.
It is of and from the heart.

Strength is visible and plain.
Buildings have it and are planned
To the ounce of weight and strain
Wall and floor and beam will stand.
Skill is action, smooth and smart,
Always beautiful to see.
Courage, which is of the heart,
Is the greatest of the three.

Strength beneath the strain and stress
Fags and falters now and then.
Skill, in moments of distress,
Fails the cleverest of men;
But the courage to remain
Steadfast when disasters start,
Still to fight when hope seems vain,
Is the glory of the heart.

Sun Spots and Wars.

Big Chicago to Be Bigger.

A New Triangle.

No Toy Pistol, Good Money.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

TH7 ABBE MOREUX, looking through his telescope in Bourges Observatory, says:

"Beware of 1936 and 1937."

Sun spots will increase violently in those two years, according to the Abbe, and when sun spots increase "we have wars and social disruption."

On the other hand, according to the reverend observer, when the sun is calm "the world usually has been at peace."

OTHERS BELIEVE that "spots" causing wars, international and individual hatreds are not SUN spots, but spots on the human brain, inherited from a long line of savage ancestors, dating back to barbarians that drank their enemy's blood—from a cup made of the enemy's skull, and cracked the enemy's thigh-bones to eat the marrow.

Many "spots" will have to be removed from the human brain before war can end.

Meanwhile, it is the duty of intelligent nations to keep prepared against the more disagreeably spotted national brains.

NEWS FOR big Chicago that wants to be bigger. Roger Babson, whose business is knowing things in advance, says Chicago in 1968, only thirty-four years hence, will be bigger than New York.

Thirty-four years will pass quickly, and then Chicago will have 9,000,000 population, rising slowly to ten millions.

THE MAN who looks ahead will tell you that Mr. Babson overlooks the flying machine. When men really fly, their great cities, and incidentally your corner real estate values, will melt.

Men more civilized will fly to high hills around the cities to live, breathe the invigorating upper air, and fly down to work or shop in the city, which will simply be a business center.

New York and Chicago may dwindle to a 1,000,000 or 500,000, just enough to attend to customers as they fly in.

MANUFACTURING will be done on high ground, with better health for workers. In winter, entire populations will migrate, as the birds do, to southern cities, where they will save coal, and avoid sinus trouble.

Flying will change many things, and end our great cities. But do not sell your corner lot, yet. Rather buy another, at a bargain.

IN CLEVELAND, after organized labor had picked all of the Atlantic & Pacific food shops, beginning with energy the task of "organizing all chain store employes into 300,000 dues-paying members of union labor," Mr. Hartford, head of Atlantic & Pacific, solved the problem by closing his four hundred-odd stores and his warehouses in Cleveland.

The government says it cannot compel union labor to work if it doesn't want to, and can't compel the Atlantic & Pacific, or anybody else, to keep stores open and running if it doesn't want to.

Thus comes a new-fashioned "triangle"—government, employer and worker.

IT IS SOMETHING more serious than that to two thousand workers that lose their jobs with the closing of Atlantic & Pacific stores in Cleveland.

For instance, Mr. Ralph Schuld, father of two, discharged with the other A. & P. employes, was wondering yesterday what he would do. As checker of an A. & P. warehouse, he got $33 a week. That isn't a fortune, but in these day it is something.

If you have two children and a wife, even $33 a week makes a difference. It is a little better than five dollars a day for six days' work, not as good as it would be to have $25 a day for a hour-hour day, five days a week, but something.

INDIANA IS investigating two officials connected with the prison from which the late Mr. Dillinger escaped, supposed to have frightened his jailers with a toy pistol.

New evidence indicates that instead of frightening somebody with a wooden pistol, he bribed somebody with good, real money.

Half the success and immunity of the usually dull-minded criminal is based on the corruption of public officials, ready to accept criminal money in bribes.

That applies to criminal lawyers, who will accept any kind of "dirty money" that any kind of criminal offers them and do their best to defeat the law.

Such a lawyer, after a case has been tried, should be put on trial himself, and go to the cell next to that of his client.

A FARMER of Mississippi, Sylvester Harris, colored, is in Chicago electioneering for President Roosevelt's Democratic party, making speeches for Arthur W. Mitchell, a colored Democrat, running against the colored Republican congressman, Oscar De Priest, who wants to be re-elected.

Mr. Harris was down to his last ten dollars, called the President on long distance and got a federal loan that kept him going. He is grateful.

Mr. Harris will not be the only colored man South and North to work and vote for Democrats this year. Tens of thousands of colored men in Florida, for instance, who were glad to get work at twelve cents an hour, and were hired by the government at forty cents an hour, consider F. D. Roosevelt a good understudy for Abraham Lincoln.

A WELL KNOWN actor, Lou Tellengen, who used to play "perfect lover" parts, and married four ladies, including Geraldine Farrar, lost his popularity, and has killed himself after telling his friends:

"There is no place in Hollywood for a has-been."

There is no place anywhere for a has-been, but fortunately there is no need to remain a has-been forever. If you can't always be a "perfect lover" be something else, perhaps more useful. There are other, better jobs. Unhappy Lou Tellegen was probably insane, since he stabbed himself to death with scissors.

THIS COUNTRY produces fifty million dollars in gold a year and has a national debt of twenty-seven billions.

Russia produces $150,000,000 a year in gold now, three times as much as the United States, and the debt that Russia recognizes amounts to only two hundred million dollars.

Those that call Russia "bankrupt" should improve their arithmetic.

Mrs. Carrie Kelso, was pleasantly surprised Saturday evening, when members of the Womans Missionary Society of the United Presbyterian church came to remind her of her birthday anniversary. A tempting lunch was enjoyed. Mrs. Kelso received a shower of post cards, and handkerchiefs.

A reader asks the proper way to greet guests. The usual way is to say: "The house is in a mess. I haven't had time, etc."

NEW BEAUTY IN 15 DAYS!

Over 6,000,000 women adopt this utterly different way to skin loveliness

Refines texture—softens skin—helps clear up blackheads, oiliness, flakiness, pimples—reduces enlarged pores

$5 FACIALS, expensively perfumed creams and lotions are out! American women have found an inexpensive, quicker way to skin beauty—a skin medicine that brings new beauty in 15 Days—yet costs less than ordinary creams!

Doctors recommend it

Snow-white, greaseless, Noxzema promotes skin beauty Nature's way—through skin health. This penetrating cream rids the skin of hidden poisons that cause blemishes—its rare medicines soothe and soften the skin—its ice-like, stimulating astringents shrink the coarsened pores to exquisite fineness.

Make your skin fresh and clear quickly—by following this simple beauty plan for 15 days: Massage Noxzema into your skin at night after removing make-up. (If your skin is dry or flaky, apply several times, as much as the skin will absorb.) In the morning wash off with warm water, then cold. Then apply a thin layer of Noxzema as a foundation for your powder. In this way Noxzema works all day and all night. Continue using Noxzema until every beauty-marring skin flaw disappears!

Wives! Give this to Weak Husbands

Raw Oysters Good New Discovery Better

Be Red-Blooded, Get Pep with OSTREX.

Men are careless. When weak, exhausted, strained, they usually do nothing about it. It's a wife's duty to urge husband to build up; gain strength and pep.

Doctors once advised raw oysters because they are rich in blood-building iron, calcium, iodine and other organic elements.

Now a new discovery, OSTREX, is advised. Prepared from raw oysters. Contains oyster elements, with added tonic aids, in CONCENTRATED form. Easy-to-take tablets. BETTER than raw oysters.

THE SPORT PATROL

By JOHN J. MAHER, JR.

A CLEAN SLATE

The parade of unbeaten and untied teams in the country is becoming smaller as each Saturday rolls past. Last week Holy Cross, Georgetown, Duke, Penn State and Vanderbilt fell by the wayside and this Saturday there are certain to be further eliminations.

Only a dozen major teams have perfect records although the season is only a little more than half over. Army, Navy, Princeton, Syracuse, and Dartmouth are the eastern teams with perfect records. In the south Tulane and Alabama have clean slates. Minnesota, Chicago, Illinois and Michigan State are the mid-west leaders. Washington is the lone survivor in the far-west.

Army meets Illinois, Harvard, Citadel, Notre Dame, and Navy. That is a rocky road and the Cadets' inexperienced line will hardly stand up under all those opponents, particularly Illinois, Notre Dame, and Navy.

The Middies are in the same spot as the Soldiers with games to be played with Washington and Lee, Notre Dame, Pitt, and the Army. Navy had a close call in the Maryland game but haven't yet met a foe so strong as Notre Dame, Pitt or the Army.

Princeton has but a fair chance of winning the remaining games but that is because they seem to prefer football routes to football battles. The Tigers have a good team but even if they remain unbeaten, untied, and univited, they will get very little sympathy when they adopt their theme song "Out in the Cold Again."

If they had Rose Bowl aspirations why didn't they get a schedule that would give them the recognition the team deserves? Princeton is capable of beating some of the strongest elevens but they can't prove it by playing teams like Amherst, Williams, Cornell, etc.

Syracuse has numbered among its victims such teams as Clarkson, Cornell, Ohio Wesleyan, and Brown. However, there is nothing there to compare with Peen State, Michigan State, Colgate, and Columbia so the trouble for the Orangemen is only beginning.

Dartmouth will probably go into the Yale game as the underdog despite their unblemished record but even if they do win that one they still have to meet Princeton.

Alabama appears stronger than Tulane and has a more favorable schedule than the Green Wave. Colgate and Louisiana State will be more difficult for Tulane than Kentucky and Vanderbilt for Alabama.

Minnesota will hardly be stopped in any of the remaining games aginst Michigan, Indiana, Chicago, and Wisconsin. The Maroons are good but they aren't likely to check the powerful Gophers.

And there aren't many fans who expect Chicago to continue unbeaten when they face Purdue, Ohio State, Minnesota, and Illinois. That is perhaps, a more dismal future than any of the other unbeaten teams have to look forward to. Yet the Maroons hold the key to the Big Ten title. Besides being hot after the championship themselves, they play the other leading contenders. If Chicago should upset Minnesota and Illinois, it will certainly muddle Big Ten affairs.

Illinois has what looks like the best passing attack in the country. Although their line is light as Western Conference lines go, so far they have been functioning satisfactorily with Grybowski starring. If the line does not weaken the Ilini should get past Army and Chicago, their strongest opponents remaining.

Michigan State must point for Syracuse although the games with Marquette, Detroit, Kansas, and Texas A. & M. will likely be tough. If the Spartans can beat Syracuse, however, they will have hurdled their toughest opponent.

Out on the Pacific coast the Washington Huskies are upholding the far-west traditions. Oregon State, Stanford, Washington State, and Southern California are in the path of the Huskies with Washington State, Stanford, and the Trojans capable of upsetting them. The Southern California game is on December 1 and by that time the House of Troy will likely be considerably stronger than they are at present.

Gym Class Meets Thursday Nights

More Members Will Be Accepted By Y. W. C. A. Health Education Group

Another of the weekly Y. W. C. A. gym classes will be conducted Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Announcement is made by the director, Mrs. Ann Cain Earl, that the class is still open to new members. Women interested may communicate with Mrs. John Byers, Miss Frances Green, Miss Margaret Williams or the business office of the Y. W. C. A.

Members of the class are enjoying lively meetings in the "Y" gymnasium every Thursday night and are finding the exercise benefiting their health and spirits. They are having health examination cards filled out and signed by their physicians in order that the director may follow a program of individual corrective work.

Bartell Goes To Giants For Players-Cash

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 1—Dick Bartell, a pretty fair sort of country ball player, will be the shortstop of the New York Giants next season. John (they can't beat us) Ryan will play shortstop for Philadelphia, if that's the kind of shortstop they want. He's a ukulele hitter. Moreover, Johnny Vergez will play third base for Philadelphia, George Watkins right field and a youth by the name of John Puzello from Nashville will do some excess pitching.

That's the story of the second big trade of the week in baseball. The first big trade was practically the "wash" sale of Joe Cronin from Washington to Boston as player-manager for a sum reputed to be $150,000.

The Giant-Philadelphia deal was announced in the twilight being a concession to the local baseball writers. They're still trying to figure which club got the better of the deal, whereas the matter is all too obvious. The Philadelphia club got the better of the deal. It got the $75,000 to $50,000 that went along with the four players and the latter can now go take a running once-and-a-half into the Schuylkill for all the good they'll do Philadelphia.

Not So Good

Vergez, Ryan and Watkins might well have been waived out of the league on their 1934 performances. Vergez was sitting on the bench at the finish of the race. Ryan probably should have been. Neither of the young gentlemen can hit a resounding foul.

As for Watkins, he figured so obscurely in the last pennant race that like Ryan and Vergez, he can almost be said to have been tossed in as a bit of window display. In other words, the Giants seem to have traded all three for nothing even up. In fact, this is one case where sordid gold triumps over sterling virtue, meaning that the Phillies got all the better of it. I have it direct from the U. S. treasury that there is very little that is sordid about $50,000, especially just before the first of the month.

Great Infield

The transfer of Bartell gives the Giants the best infield in the national league and, according to the official announcement, represents an expenditure of $115,000 for new players since the great debacle of a month ago.

Other deals are to follow notably for a centre-fielder. Even a pitcher or two may go considering the stories circulated about the bickering between Will Terry and Hubbell and the brawling between Will Terry and Schumacher.

However, all stories about Terry aren't true—not even some of Terry's stories about Terry.

Stress Defense Of Pitt Panthers

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—Pittsburgh University's Panthers, completing their contact work last night, today were scheduled to begin tapering off drills in preparation for the Notre Dame game Saturday.

Realizing that the Irish are pointing for this encounter, Coach Jock Sutherland is emphasizing the defense of the Pitt team and is doing nothing offensively.

Jack Kearns Is Just About Broke

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1.—Jack Kearns, former manager of Jack Dempsey, may be down, but he is not downhearted.

Although his Los Angeles home and furniture has already been sold at auction, he still has visions of a comeback.

Once the wealthiest manager in the boxing game, due to his 50-50 splits with Jack Dempsey, Kearns admitted today that bad investments and the flare for the bright lights had cost him practically everything.

KILLS LARGE RACCOON

GROVE CITY, Pa., Nov. 1.—Clyde Simmons, of Craig street, killed the finest specimen of raccoon taken in this district for many years, when he bagged a 20-pounder in the Scrubgrass district.

Coaches Must Either Produce Or Lose "Heads"

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The late Bill McGeoghan once suggested that Harvard would do well to swap a couple of professors for a hard-running halfback.

Thousands of Harvard's old grads heartily agreed with Bill. Today they probably would go a step further and agree to trade half the school's professors for a coach who could turn out a winning team.

College deans like to speak of their coaches as "builders of character," "moulders of men," and similar descriptive catch phrases, but losing teams don't pay off the mortgages on huge football stadia and old grads are prone to be impatient with coaches who can't produce and deans who hand out a lot of twaddle about handing the game back to the boys.

Many New Coaches

Old grads demand results and old grads, especially those with loose pocketbooks, are being listened to these days. That is why there will be many a new coach on deck at various colleges next year and why there will be less emphasis put on de-emphasis of football by college deans.

Among those who may be missing when the next football season rolls around are Ed. Casey, of Harvard; Gil Dobie, of Cornell; Dick Hanley, of Northwestern, and Tuss McLaughry, of Brown, to say nothing of Harry Mehre of Georgia, Howard Harpster of Carnegie Tech, Doc Stevens of N. Y. U., Bill Ingram of California, and Doc Spears of Wisconsin.

Some of these are fine coaches under almost any conditions; some are great if they have sufficient material, but not so hot if they have to play students.

Some have failed to keep step with the times and are teaching the football current along about 1911. The new wide open game has passed them by.

Princeton Steps Out

Princeton was smart enough to forget about old grad coaching and stepped out and got Fritz Crisler and now look at Princeton. Pennsylvania, over the protests of the old grads went haywire on the Gates plan, and now look at Pennsylvania. Happily, the old grads have taken hold down there again, and are getting some real material to matriculate despite Professor Gates.

As long as old grads preach the doctrine that a college is only as good as its football team, coaches will always be in danger of losing their jobs. That is the main reason why some of the aforementioned coaches will be hunting new coaching berths next season.

New Kensington Will Bring Crowd

New Kensington high school football team will be well supported by fans when they come here Saturday to battle the "Red Hurricane" of New Castle high school. Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner has delivered 1,000 tickets to New Kensington.

The New Ken high band will not make the trip to New Castle, it was learned today. The game Saturday will be one of the best of the season, and the winner will likely be in the top running for the Class AA honors.

Tech To Battle New York Team

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—Having worked out a new interchangeable backfield combination, the Carnegie Tech team was ready for the journey to New York today to meet N. Y. U. on Saturday.

Croft and Doloway, regular tacklers, are still out of practice, but the long rest may enable them to take their places against the New York team.

New Castle Seeks Fourth Victory In Class AA Circles

VICTORY number four in Class AA circles is desired by the New Castle high school "Red Hurricane" Saturday afternoon. New Kensington high with an unbeaten major league record, comes to Taggart stadium to try and upset the Bridenbaughmen for the first double-A defeat in three years.

The game will start at 2:30 o'clock and by game time every seat in the spacious Taggart stadium should be filled. This is easily one of the most attractive games on the 1934 card for the Pa Newc sons.

Both teams will be in the game to give their best. Both seek that coveted victory. A defeat will send one of them out of the running, which one will it be? A tie will probably put both teams out of the running.

Backfield Attention

Coach Phil Bridenbaugh is paying particular attention this week to those "touchdown twins," Fleming and Cox. It depends on the way the New Castle offense clicks against New Kensington. The New Castle line, one of the greatest in Western Pennsylvania, can be expected to play the usual fine defensive game, but what about the backfield?

Against Warren high the New Castle backs, Fleming, Cox, Mumford, Ostrosky and A. Shellogg, looked very good. Against the Clairton high team this set of backs together with young Eddie Donegan, was unstoppable. But, what will happen when New Castle runs up against a tough line and a flock of hard secondary men like New Kensington will bring here? That's a question.

There is no doubt about it, Charles "Red" Fleming will be a marked man in the New Castle backfield. New Ken high has heard of the prowess of this carrot-thatched youngster who reminds you of Day, Uram and Reider wrapped up in one.

The battle this week looks like one of the best of the year and you had better plan to be there!

Record Fish Are Caught This Year

BIGGEST TROUT WAS THIRTY INCHES

HARRISBURG, Nov. 1.—With the 1934 season for black bass, wall-eyed pike, pickerel and muskellunge entering its final stages, fish commission officials today reported that in at least three divisions of game fish, records for size and weight have shattered existing records in Pennsylvania. Giant fish that are the dream of every fisherman were landed in the brown trout, large-mouth black bass and wall-eyed pike divisions. It is considered significant that artificial lures captured the largest brown trout and the record-breaking large-mouth bass, while a spinner and lamprey eel combination accounted for the mammoth pike.

Topping the brown trout catches was a 30-inch fish, having a girth of 15½ inches and weighing nine pounds, seven ounces. It was caught on an artificial fly in the Lackawaxen River, Pike county, by William Percival, expert fly fisherman, of Matamoras. Warden Frank Brink of Milford, who reported the catch, said that Percival was using a four-ounce fly rod when the big fish struck.

The record large-mouth bass was taken in Harvey's Lake, Luzerne county, by John Warzechowski, of Nanticoke. Fishing plug, the Nanticoke angler lured the big fellow to strike. It measured 24 inches in length and weighed eight pounds, eight ounces.

Zimmerman's Eddy on the famous Upper Delaware river, yielded a wall-eyed pike or Susquehanna salmon of breath-taking proportions to Frank L. Seas, Easton fisherman, who was trolling when he made the catch. The pike tipped the scales at 13 pounds, eight ounces. It was 34 inches in length and had a girth of 18½ inches.

Marino Coaches Humbert Team

Humbert First basketball teams are being coached by "Buddy" Marino, the well known South Side athlete. There are two Humbert First teams this year, the Seniors and Juniors. The floor season at Humbert hall will open on Thanksgiving night.

The South Siders will meet either Ellwood City or Sharon the first game. Sixteen new uniforms have been bought for the teams. There are eight players on each team.

Flynn Returned To Home In Erie

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1—Found in a local hotel room, Charles J. Flynn, 43, who shot his wife in their Dormont home a month ago, was back in the soldiers and sailors hospital at Erie today under court orders.

Flynn's wife told authorities two days ago that her husband, who had escaped from the hospital, was telephoning threats to her. Deputy sheriff Edward Horan found the fugitive.

Mrs. Flynn was shot in the shoulder when her husband fired two shot through a door of her bedroom.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

British bookmakers took their worst beating in years yesterday when Wychwood Abbot captured the Cambridgeshire handicap at Newmarket, England. They declared themselves harder hit than in any race in the last 20 years since the winner was coupled by many bettors with Enfield, the winner of the Ceasariwitch two weeks ago. Betting was tremendous on the Cambridgeshire. One pool alone reached more than $100,000.

Barney Ross, lightweight champion of the world, will defend his title against Tony Canzoneri, former lightweight king, in December at Chicago, according to New York reports. Ross has signed articles it is said, and all that is necessary now for the match is Canzoneri's signature.

Athletes of the world may see just how baseball, America's national pastime is played during the 1936 Olympics at Berlin. The German Olympic committee has invited the United States to send a team to the games for an exhibition game against Japan.

Halfback Palowski, of Shadyside, O., high, has a 103-yard run for a touchdown to his credit. He was playing against Barnesville yesterday. The game was only in its infancy when he caught a punt and made the run.

Brooklyn Team Not For Sale

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1—Judge Steve McKeever, veteran executive of the Brooklyn Dodgers, announced emphatically today that his ball club was not for sale. "The Judge's" announcement puts at rest a reported effort by Col. Tillinghast Huston, former part owner of the New York Yankees, to buy the Dodgers and make Babe Ruth manager.

Alabama Ranks With Best For Bid To Coast

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—For purposes of the record, I understand that Princeton, Minnesota, Pittsburgh and Alabama, in that order, now rate in favor for the Rose Bowl invitation against either Washington or Stanford. I can understand everything except the coast's pretty obvious disinclination to see more of Alabama, my conclusion being that it has already seen too much.

In any case, no legitimate ranking list either could or would place Alabama below Princeton, which has been playing around with the glycerine and rose water institutes, and Pittsburgh, which already has lost one and may lose another to Notre Dame on Saturday. Pitt is very good but no better than it figured against Minnesota, meaning not good enough.

Alabama Good.

Maybe Alabama isn't either, but it seems to be doing all right in a pretty rugged league. As well, for instance as the team of nine years ago that pulled one out at the Rose bowl in a theatrical finish on that pass from Hubert to Brown. As for the team of the following year that played a 7 to 7 tie, the 1934 version might, if anything, seem to be slightly the better. It probably has more downright punch in the backfield.

However, I believe the idea of the coast is to get some window-dressing this time, an ivy-clad college that will dress up the act and give the customer a sense of drama. They feel they can't do that with Michigan State, Rice, Syracuse and Tulane or even Dartmouth, which has been around playing football for some years in a rather unobtrusive way. The point is that these teams don't hit the headlines.

That's what makes Princeton so acceptable. If a big three team is any good at all, it is automatically great, the metropolitan critics being suckers for tradition. Princeton wouldn't go last year but they do say that it might listen this time, although there is something in the records about an agreement.

I doubt, though, that anything can be done about Big Ten objections. Therefore, if Minnesota is being so earnestly considered, why not Illinois and Chicago? They can't go, either.

Louisiana State.

The Army and Navy are probably out, the former for quite sufficient reasons. It once went to the coast to play Stanford and finished just before the first of the month.

It seems to me that everything I've said so far brings us inevitably back to the urgent query, why not Alabama? However, I'll try one more. Why not Louisiana State? It may have played a couple of ties with first rate teams but it's beating the best right now and, besides, it has Huey Long as an added attraction. But I forget myself. Maybe that's why they like Princeton.

Gardner Drills Floor Candidates

Fifty Report For Basketball At Senior High, Divided Into Groups

Ralph H. Gardner, faculty manager of athletics at Senior high, will have charge of the New Castle high basketball team until the end of the football season, it was announced today. The first call for candidates for the floor team brought 50 young men out.

Gardner has divided the 50 into two groups. The groups will hold one or two practice sessions each week until the regular basketball season starts. There are quite a number of veterans on hand.

The football men who also play basketball will not report for the floor game until about the middle of December. "Brownie" Ostrosky is the captain of the New Castle high floor team this year.

Duquesne Eleven At Full Strength

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—With the exception of the quarterback position, Duquesne University gridders expect to be at full strength for the West Virginia Wesleyan game here Friday night. Joe Gates will be at quarter in place of the injured Cutrona.

Bessemer-Union Ready For Game

Bessemer Hopes To Annex County League Championship Friday Afternoon

UNION ELEVEN MAY SURPRISE

Bessemer high school football team has visions of winning the county football championship for the second straight year Friday afternoon at the Bessemer high field when they will meet the Union high school "Blue Devils." The battle starts at 3 o'clock.

Having defeated Shenango high earlier in the year, all the Bessemer boys must do is take the measure of the Unionites tomorrow afternoon to keep the trophy cup secure in the confines of Bessemer's fine high school building.

Bessemer Confident

Coach Fredericks is having a hard time this week to get his Bessemer players out of the confidence of winning easily from Union. True, Union high has not won a game this year, but you can never tell about this game of football, some funny things can happen. Coach Davey Boyd is going to "shoot the works" Friday at Bessemer.

Both teams will be at full strength for the battle.

In event of good weather the Bessemer high field will be jammed for the engagement. They take their football serious out in Bessemer and with the county championship likely to go to Bessemer again, the fans will want to be in on the game.

Neither Boyd nor Fredericks were sure of their starting lineups today. Final polishing of both teams was accomplished this afternoon.

Keystones Will Oppose Ryantown

Interest will be centered on the Colonial field next Sunday afternoon when the crack Keystone A. C. gridders oppose the Ryantown eleven. The contest was originally scheduled for last Sunday, but inclement weather caused a postponement.

Last year the Keystone gridders eked out a 13-12 triumph.

Plan Alibis For Plotters

Plan To Establish Alibis For Two Accused Of Plotting To Kidnap Woman

(International News Service)

WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 1.—Plans to establish alibis for two men accused of attempting to kidnap Betty Bloch Harriss, Wheeling heiress, were made today by Defense Counsel Benjamin Rosenbloom.

As the abduction trial resumed, Rosenbloom indicated that Virginia Harding of Cadiz Pike may be placed on the stand to testify that Harry "Hot Bun" Thornton was in her company the evening he is accused of having made an unsuccessful attempt to "snatch" Mrs. Harriss. Federal Judge William E. Baker has refused to permit Thornton's confession to be admitted as evidence.

The confession authorities claim was made by Thurman F. Bowen, second defendant, was admitted and read to the jury. Both men told the court they confessed on the night of the arrest, October 3, to escape "third degree" treatment.

Congregational Family Day Plans

Services Throughout Sunday Will Be Of A Home-Coming And Rally Nature

The committee in charge of family day at the First Congregational church has completed all arrangements for the home-coming Sunday, Nov. 4.

Beginning with the Sabbath school at 9:45, the congregation will gather and stay through the English service at 11 o'clock, this to be followed by communion.

By special request of the pastor, the Rev. Rees T. Williams, will preach a Welsh sermon at three o'clock, at which service the choir will have special numbers. This will prove an attractive service, as it will give former members in town the opportunity of attending without missing services in their own churches.

At 7:30 p. m. there will be an English preaching service with special music by the choir and solos by out-of-town guests.

Eddie Davis is in charge of transportation for those unable to walk to the church.

Services For Dead At St. Mary Church

Special Services Will Commemorate Memories Of All Catholic Spirits

Special services for the dead will take place Friday evening at 7:45 in St. Mary's church, North and Beaver streets.

Thousands of Catholics of this district have been buried from St. Mary's church and it is expected that many Catholics from all churches of the city, especially the older residents, will attend these services.

St. Mary's parish was established in the early fifties of the last century and was the mother church of all Catholics of this district. Later St. Vitus was established to care for the Italian speaking Catholics, then St. Joseph's church was established for the Germans, while the English speaking remained with St. Mary's church.

Members of the New Castle school board have been called into special session Saturday night, Nov. 3, for the purpose of discussing bond requirements for depositories of school funds.

Rural Teachers Meet Saturday

Arrangements Completed For Institute Session At Union High School

SYLING PREPARES SPLENDID PROGRAM

Several hundred teachers from the county schools will assemble at Union high school in Union Township, Saturday morning for an all-day institute session, when a number of interesting educational subjects will be discussed by a number of the leading educators from Slippery Rock State Teachers College.

The program opens with registration at 8:30. Devotionals will be conducted at 9:30 and following a business session of the Lawrence County branch of the P. S. E. A., presided over by President Wilbert M. Leonard, the institute session will open.

A new departure will take place at this meeting, when departmental subjects will be discussed for the benefit of the teachers who are instructors in these separate subjects.

The educators who will be present and speak at these discussions will be Dr. R. A. Waldron, Dr. L. H. Wagenhorst, Miss Althea Beery, Miss Alma G. Rice, Mrs. Gladys H. Arnold, Mrs. Georgia Gantt Winn, Herbert Book, Miss Margaret C. Rhoads and Miss Florence Hollaway, all of Slippery Rock State Teacher's College.

Examination questions for the preliminary eighth grade tests which will be given throughout the county on Monday will be distributed to the teachers during the course of the day.

Steel Concern Is Sued For $39,300

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1—Charging their farm lands in Forward Township, near Donora, have been injured by fumes and sediment from the American Steel and Wire Company's Donora zinc plant, W. Edgar Woods and his wife, Nora F. Woods, today filed papers in their suit for $39,300 against the steel concern.

DISMISS UNION SCHOOLS EARLY ON FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Announcement was made this afternoon from Union high school by Supervising Principal R. F. Conway that all schools in the township would be dismissed at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon in a tribute to the late Harry B. Miller, whose funeral occurs during the afternon. Mr. Miller was caretaker of the Union high school for some years.

Early Decision In A. & P. Tieup In Cleveland Seen

Believe Plan To End Controversy Will Be Successful In Near Future

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 1.—All indications pointed today to a decision by tomorrow on the A. & P. controversy in Cleveland.

Only one disturbing note appeared in the situation, which was one of general optimism and hope that both sides in the dispute would ratify a seven-point peace plan offered by the national labor relations board at Washington.

Some concern was felt because the board of directors of the A. & P. company, at a meeting yesterday in New York, failed to reach an immediate decision on the compromise plan, which would permit immediate reopening of the 300 closed A. & P. stores in Cuyahoga county.

Labor officials here conferred today to plan either a general meeting of all seven unions involved in the dispute, or separate meetings, to consider ratification of the peace plan. Even though labor failed to win its major objective, that of the closed shop, feeling was prevalent here that the labor unions would approve the plan.

INSULL TO TAKE WITNESS STAND IN OWN DEFENSE

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—Samuel Insull, the aged former utilities magnate, waited to take the witness stand before Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson today in his own defense against mail fraud charges involving the sale of $100,000,000 worth of corporation securities shares.

As his own star witness, Insull had a multitude of things to tell, and he went over and over a draft of his testimony to make certain of being letter perfect when he takes the stand.

It was to be more than a defense of himself, however. Insull was to defend his son, Samuel, Jr., his fifteen former associates who are on trial with him, and the various practices which the government has charged constituted an attempt to defraud the investing public.

The calling of Insull as the first of the many defendants to testify proved a surprise. It had been expected that he would be among the last to tell his story.

But the matter of Insull's health was a thing to be considered. It was feared that unless he testified at once he might be unable to stand the ordeal later. His testimony was expected to consume two days.

A. & P. Directors To Delay Action

Await Reports From Cleveland Store Supervisors On Conditions

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Officers of the A. & P. stores said today directors would delay possibly for 48 hours action on the peace formula worked out by the labor board at Washington by which it is hoped to reopen the 300 stores in Cleveland, closed in a dispute with union organizers.

The directors met for three hours last night without reaching any conclusion. They are awaiting reports from the Cleveland store supervisors who are to confer with officials today.

Despondent Woman Commits Suicide

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1—Mrs. Fannie McCoy, 53, McKees Rocks, died in Ohio Valley hospital last night after swallowing poison tablets in her home, the coroner's office announced today.

The woman had been brooding over ill-health, it was reported.

COLDS Go Overnight

When You Take The Right Thing!

A cold doesn't have to run its course and expose you to serious complications. A cold can be routed overnight if you go about it the right way. First of all, a cold being an internal infection, calls for internal treatment. Secondly, a cold calls for a COLD remedy and not for a "cure-all".

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine is what a cold requires. It is expressly a cold remedy. It is internal and direct—and it does the four things necessary. It opens the bowels, combats the cold germs and fever in the system, relieves the headache and grippy feeling and tones and fortifies the entire system. Anything less than that is taking chance with a cold. Get Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine at any druggist, 30c and 50c. Ask for it by the full name and beware of dealers who offer substitutes.

EXPRESS FIRM'S OFFICIALS HERE

Two high officials of the Railway Express Agency, the nation's largest express concern, came to New Castle yesterday for a brief stop on their extensive automobile tour of inspection of the scattered agency branches throughout this part of the United States.

C. R. Graham, New York, vice president of the organization, and F. R. Lindsay, Philadelphia, general manager of the concern, the two general office executives, were accompanied here by Mrs. Graham and J. W. Johnson, REA superintendent at Pittsburgh.

The party, traveling in two sedans, called upon Manager J. W. Anderson of the New Castle branch, exchanged greetings, talked business briefly and then departed. They came here from Ellwood City.

The officials' tour will take them to all sections of the northeastern United States. They made no comment on business conditions generally, Mr. Anderson said.

Reports of the concern's business locally, now 14 per cent above that of a year ago, were furnished the officials by Manager Anderson.

Young Democrats Hear Col. Ristine

Speaking under the auspices of the Young Democratic organization of Lawrence county, Col. Carl L. Ristine, special assistant attorney-general of the United States, appeared in the Lawrence county court house on Wednesday night.

In his address Col. Ristine paid tribute to the Pennsylvania soldiers during the World war. He reviewed the work of the Roosevelt administration and urged the election of Democratic candidates in November.

Other speakers were William J. Eroe, Jr., James B. Kelso, Daniel Couch of Beaver county and Dr. J. A. Meehan of New Castle. The meeting was presided over by Findley K. Boyd, chairman of the Young Democrats.

FRIDAY PAY DAY FOR CITY TEACHERS

Employes of public school district of the city of New Castle will receive their pay for the last two weeks of October, Friday, according to attaches of the city treasury. The payroll will amount to about $26,250, it was stated.

Employes of the city will draw their pay for the last two weeks of October, Saturday.

The city officials, however, will draw their pay for the entire month. The officials are paid once a month and employes twice a month.

What's in a name? Well, pitchers named Speer would be "Speedy" and "Sporty" instead of "Dizzy" and "Daffy".

THERE and HERE

In Algiers the people who have something to sell cry their wares from a little stall in the market place. And those who buy saunter from stall to stall making their purchases.

But in New Castle we arrange things somewhat better. The purchaser can review every offer from his easy-chair, simply by reading the brief, pointed descriptions in the Classified Columns.

Prison Talk Of Warden Is Heard By Kiwanians

CHALLENGES CLUB TO GUIDE YOUTH

Warden Stanley P. Ash of the Western State penitentiary at Pittsburgh, told the Kiwanis club yesterday that, of the thousands of prisoners who have come to him since he became warden in 1925, only four were college graduates, only 38 had been to college and fewer than 60 had finished a standard four-year high school course.

Speaking at the Kiwanians' weekly luncheon-meeting at The Castleton, Warden Ash, now the president of the American Prison association, discussed what he referred to as "one of the most expensive luxuries that taxpayers are burdened with in these much-troubled times."

Most of the noted prison warden's message was an enlightening review of daily life and practices at the Pittsburgh penitentiary, but here and there during the speech, Mr. Ash directed ringing pleas to his audience for "loyal support" of prison wardens in their determined drive to reduce crime.

Attorney Thomas W. Dickey, close friend of the warden, introduced him.

False Picture, He Says.

"A false picture," the speaker declared as he began, "is what people get of prisons out of newspapers and over the radio. They would lead you to believe they are where only killers of men of that type dwell. The truth is that 99 out of 100 days in a penitentiary are like most any normal day in any factory."

He did admit that in the pen are to be found crooks—many parasites on society—who would be there anyway. But he said that penitentiaries are also filled with "individuals who are good but who have done something bad."

"Some people also think they're filled with 'master minds' or men of intelligence, and that's wrong," he went on. "The intelligence of a prison population is a little below the average."

Here the warden said the average education of Western penitentiary men is that of the fifth or sixth grade of a public school.

The day when men will be separated as to types in prisons and not brought together under one roof was predicted by the warden after he reminded the listeners "that most of the men who go in, some day come out, and the problem is to fit them for future association with society."

Speaks of Rockview.

Of Rockview prison, at Bellefonte, Pa., the farm branch of Western penitentiary, the warden gave a brief description, impressing upon the clubmen that it is the "parole branch" of the Pittsburgh prison—where men are sent once they become eligible for a parole in the penitentiary. Rockview produces much of the foodstuffs for the Pittsburgh institution and for others, but none is placed on a private market.

The daily life of a prisoner at Western pen was reviewed by the warden and the details of state executions at Bellefonte were told.

Closing his addrss, Warden Ash forgot prison talk for the moment and declared:

"I think, gentlemen, that the Kiwanis club, the Rotary club and other service clubs have a big job to do—it isn't their responsibility with the penitentiaries of the country but an obligation to the youth of the nation. I think to develop clubs of boys to halt crime at the start is a fine thing."

No Scouts On Record.

"Not a Boy Scout," Warden Ash added quickly, "has been in the Western penitentiary since I've been there." Here he challenged the clubmen to act in the work of boys' clubs. He told the luncheon group that "breaking boys of bad traits was much easier than breaking men who have developed them."

With the Kiwanis members for luncheon were numerous public officials and state law enforcement men and other guests.

Tonight the Kiwanians may attend, if they desire, an anniversary celebration of the Beaver Falls Kiwanis club. On November 9 a group of the local members will attend a Kiwanis inter-club meet at Grove City.

On Court House Hill

County commissioners have the ballots and supplies for the coming election ready for distribution to boroughs and townships. Judges of election will get them during the latter part of the week. Ballots for the city precincts will not be distributed until Monday, when the county commissioners will take them to the different polling places.

In the case of the commonwealth against George H. Andrews, who was convicted of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor, Judge R. L. Hildebrand has handed down a decision refusing an application for a new trial. The new trial was asked on the grounds that the verdict was against the weight of the evidence.

A summons in assumpsit has been filed at the prothonotary's office by C. E. Ketterer, receiver, of the First National Bank of Ellwood City, against Elizabeth G. Grandey, executrix in the estate of the late James C. Grandey, of Ellwood City. The amount of the claim is $6,858.01.

Hunters who own guns with barrels of 18 inches or less, with the exception of pistols, must register the weapons, according to James L. O'Toole, collector of internal revenue for this district. The law includes short barreled rifles, shotguns and machine guns. The law was passed last June and is being enforced in the federal government's drive against crime and lawlessness.

Real estate brokers will be interested in a case in which Mrs. Sadie Newhouse, a Prospect, Pa. real estate agent, secured a verdict against T. G. Dipner, of that neighborhood, for $300 commission. Judge John H. Wilson, of Butler, has just refused a new trial. Mrs. Newhouse was authorized by Dipner to find a purchaser for his farm. She found a buyer who was willing to pay the price asked and the owner agreed with Mrs. Newhouse to pay her $300 commission. Later, however, Dipner refused to sell the farm to the prospect whom Mrs. Newhouse had secured, but disposed of it to another man, and refused to pay Mrs. Newhouse the commission. She brought suit and secured a verdict for the full amount.

In the case of the People's National Bank of Ellwood City against Mrs. Georgeanna Guy and P. W. Guy, in which the defendant presented a petition to open a judgment, Judge Chambers has filed an opinion dismissing the rule. The case is one in which a joint note for $500 was given to the bank by Mrs. Georgeanna Guy and P. W. Guy. Mrs. Guy is a married woman and the mother of P. W. Guy. She claims that she signed the note as surety and received none of the proceeds. The plaintiff claims that she did not sign the note as surety but as maker and the proceeds were paid to her. Considerable testimony was taken on both sides of the case from which the court concludes that there is no good grounds for opening the judgment, and it therefore stands.

Prothonotary R. M. Campbell has received a letter from the Census Bureau at Washington, asking that he post a copy of the schedule to be used in the 1935 census of agriculture on the court house bulletin. The schedule is for the purpose of acquainting the public with the kinds of questions that will be asked when the census is taken next year. These questions include data on the size of farms, the number of acres tillable, what kinds of crops are raised, yields per acre, principal crops, trees, fruits, cattle, poultry, and other questions pertaining to the operation of farms, including the annual income, and wages paid for help. The first census of farms was taken in 1840, and the last in 1930. At that time there were 6,288,648 farms listed in the United States.

Fame is fleeting. You see, reporters soon get tired of writing about the same person all the time.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. October 30, 15 arrests on charges as follows: Exceeding speed limit, 2; violating traffic regulations, 9; disorderly conduct, 1; drunkenness and disorderly conduct, 1; and drunkenness, 2.

Developments of the conference to be held at Pittsburgh between police and school officials will be awaited here. Police authorities hope to make arrangements whereby male employes of the schools will act as traffic police at schools so that police can confine all their time to chasing criminals. In New Castle police act as guardians of the children at intersections near the schools where there are no traffic lights. Some years ago school children acted as "traffic police." However, this is prohibited and the police resumed their duties.

Approximately 700 arrests have been made here during the first 30 days of the current month. Most of the arrests were for violation of the motor laws. Approximately 1,055 arrests have been made since September 15.

Speaking of RWD projects in the city of New Castle, Safety Director D. O. Davies, hopes that projects on which work was stopped last summer will be completed as soon as possible. The Taylor street storm sewer job is the only new sizeable project undertaken and this was started for the purpose of giving work to skilled labor, which means more money to be spent here. One of the jobs which all city officials wants expedited is the protective stone wall along Croton avenue hill. Nothing has been done on that job for months. There is no wall at the top of the hill and an auto, which if it should skid on snow at the top of the hill, would have a big drop.

Carmi Glover, superintendent of the department of streets, has the employes preparing the different dirt streets for winter travel. They are being scraped, rolled and crowns built.

Several months ago police arrested four New York City boys whom it was alleged were trying to entice minor children into an auto here. After a several days' search police caught them and "salty" fines were administered. Chief of Detectives Willis McMullen today received from the New York City police department a letter inquiry as to the reason for the arrest of one of the boys who is being held on a charge of burglary in New York City, the letter stated.

Even if you aren't artistic, it is easy to be a Bohemian. You just cultivate an indifference to dirt.

Getting acquainted with another person isn't so difficult. You just get married and begin.

Wash the poisons and toxins from system before putting more food into stomach.
Says inside-bathing makes anyone look and feel clean, sweet and refreshed.
Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do.
For every ounce of food and drink taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste material is not eliminated day by day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.
A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast each day, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons, gases and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.
A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside-bathing. Men and women who are accustomed to wake up with a dull, aching head or have furred tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, sallow complexion, others who have bilious attacks, acid stomach or constipation are assured of pronounced improvement in both health and appearance shortly.

PENNSYLVANIA NEEDS MORE CONCRETE ROADS
BUSINESS FOLLOWS CONCRETE
CONCRETE HIGHWAYS PAY FOR THEMSELVES
Three reasons why concrete is the most economical pavement:
1. Long life and low upkeep—funds which would otherwise be spent for repairs may be used to complete our highway system;
2. Scientific investigation has proved that it costs motorists up to 2 cents per mile less to drive on concrete than on inferior surfaces. The saving is in gas, oil, tires and car repairs.
3. Concrete builds business, promotes travel. A town on concrete is moved closer to all markets.
And in addition to these money-reasons concrete pavements give motorists relaxation ... comfort ... and SAFETY!

Market Trading Is Slow Today

No Particular Activity In Any Group In Stock Market Opening Day

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The stock market continued in its rut today with prices showing no material change from last night's closing levels.

Trading was slow and there was no particular activity in any group in the list. Wilson A continued to be an individual feature rising nearly a point to a new high on the movement. Radio Preferred B. also became more active and advanced fractionally.

United States Steel and other industrial shares including Bethlehem and American Can travelled in a narrow range.

In the railroad group trading remained at a minimum and movements were narrow. Atchison and New York Central were fractionally higher, while Lackawanna sold down a small fraction.

There was little to feature the Utility section of the list where Consolidated Gas and other favorites were dull.

Favorable earnings brought some demand for Schenley which soared a gain of nearly a point. Other alcohol shares were quiet.

Farm implement and mail orders rose moderately in sympathy with wheat. Metal stock were quiet as were the oils, chemicals and specialties.

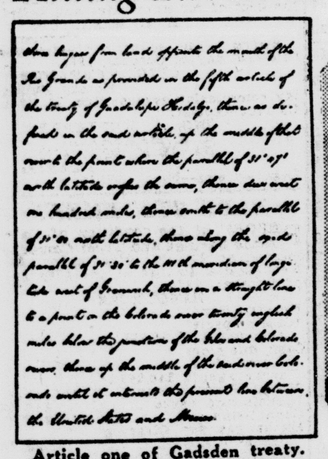
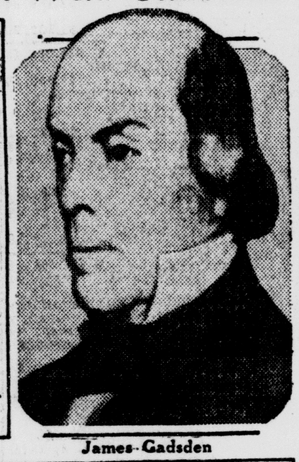
When U.S. Made Gadsden Purchase, Killing Two Birds With One Stone



Article one of Gadsden treaty.



James Gadsden

Location of land obtained in Gadsden Purchase.

THE UNITED STATES government figuratively killed two birds with one stone when it negotiated and completed the Gadsden Purchase back in 1854. The purchase involved a tract of land, 45,535 square miles in area, lying partly within the present state of New Mexico and partly within the present state of Arizona. Uncle Sam had been having some disputes with Mexico over a boundary in that section, and at the same time, the tract was regarded as a desirable route for the projected Southern Pacific railroad. So, James Gadsden, then minister to Mexico, was authorized to make a treaty of sale with Santa Anna, which was negotiated in 1853 and accepted by congress the following year. The price was $10,000,000.

BIG HALLOWE'EN CELEBRATION IS HELD IN ELLWOOD

Hundreds Participate In Mammoth Parade; Other Hundreds Line Streets

PRIZES AWARDED FOR MANY COSTUMES

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 1—A glorious success was the decision of hundreds of people of Ellwood City and vicinity when they participated in the annual Hallowe'en celebration here on Wednesday evening

Everything just turned out right for the affair. Even the rain kept away until the whole thing was over. Hundreds took active part in a mammoth parade through the main street of the city, while other hundreds lined the entire route of the parade.

The affair was run off just about to perfection and was a distinct credit to Burgess Judd C. Turner and his various active committees. Burgess Turner today expressed his gratitude for the invaluable aid rendered the affair by the local merchants, Kiwanis Club, and anyone who had any connection with it.

It was a grand evening of noise, merry-making and fun. The parade was formed on First avenue in the Fourth ward, where the mummers were placed in their respective groups. They were judged here accordingly by the members of the local Kiwanis Club, who gave out tickets for the various prizes which are to be claimed today in the store designated.

Matters were so well arranged that the parade moved sharply at 7:15. Led by the American Legion Eugle and Drum Corps in their flashy uniforms the parade moved across the Fifth street bridge. The Ellwood High school band led a division of floats and cars. It moved up Lawrence avenue to Eighth street and thence to the P. and L. E. grounds where it disbanded.

Never was such a versatility in costumes observed before in such an event. It included patriotic, historic, comic and several features. Just about everything imaginable was represented. The judges had a time of it in making decisions. The noise of rattles, horns and cars filled the streets for two hours. The street cleaner was kept busy this morning in clearing the confetti and paper off the streets. The parade included old automobiles, decorated horse and buggy and two or three floats.

It was clearly a night when the spirits, ghosts, goblins, witches, fairies and devils, roamed about the streets without molest. Although a deep respect was held for them by the youngsters, they were not looked upon with such awe, under the circumstances.

All in all the evening was a complete success in every detail.

Boy Friends Of Members Are Special Guests At Interesting Event Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 1.—Miss Lucille Jackson delightfully entertained the members of the Sub Deb club at a masquerade party at her home on the Country club road. The boy friends of the members were special guests.

The evening was thoroughly enjoyed with dancing, games and contests amidst clever decorations. At an appointed hour a dainty luncheon was served by the hostess, with the assistance of her mother, Mrs. Fred Jackson.

Funeral Rites For Mrs. C. Westfall

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 1—Funeral services for Mrs. Caroline Westfall,a former resident of this city, whose death occurred at her home in Newark Valley, N. Y., following a brief illness, were held yesterday afternoon from the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. E. Miller of the Ellwood-New Castle road.

Rev. Thomas Berger of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church assisted by Rev. Charles Bell, conducted the services. A quartet from the Slippery Rock church contributed two beautiful numbers, "The Old Rugged Cross" and "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere."

Pallbearers were: William, John Lee and Fred Whitehouse, James Gibbons and Clarence McCaslin, all of this city and nephews of the deceased. Interment was made in the Locust Grove cemetery.

Hallowe'en Party At Pleasant Hill

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 1.—A very pleasant Hallowe'en party was enjoyed at the home of Lois Brown at Pleasant Hill, when she entertained a group of young people.

Everything was in keeping with the occasion. The home was cleverly decorated in the seasonal tones and the guests had come masked. Much merriment ensued with games and contests.

At an appointed hour a delicious luncheon was served at one long table by the hostess.

Those enjoying the event were Alva and Beulah Hall, Mary Lou Wyant, Catherine Mary Desport, Frank McEllwain, Rose Marie Rosinski, Daryl Hall, Ina May Badger, Ronnie Hazen, Carl Rosinski, Bobby Wyant, Delvy and Lois Brown.

Judge Of Election Named At Ellwood

Upon petition of citizens of the First Ward, Ellwood City, Judge R. L. Hildebrand in county court this morning appointed Harold Sampson as judge of election. J. E. McDonald, the regularly elected judge of election, has moved from the ward.

The Act of Congress may or may not represent the collective wisdom of the country. As often as not, it represents the wisdom of the majority after it has been checked, modified, and perhaps nullified by the opposing wisdom of an almost equal minority.

Coming in, says Paris, are pearls worn with black muffs.

Spirit Of Tubers Shows Flare-Up

Benedictmen Show Response To Criticism — Flash Grim Determination On Field

ALIQUIPPA MAY RUN INTO TARTAR

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 1—One of the finest football games of the year at Lincoln field is in propect for Saturday afternoon when Coach Nate Lippe brings his highly rated Aliquippa High eleven to do battle with an Ellwood City Hi team. The largest crowd of the year is expected to witness this game.

This prediction has been made due to new recent developments here. Coach "Ganzy" Benedict's cohorts are fighting mad. The public has openly asserted the team is just coasting along, living on the reputation of one game. Their playing at Monaca last week has been severely criticised. In fact, Coach Benedict and his assistant Faculty manager Mike Ferrare have been rebuked for taking a defensive stand with their players, and bearing the things they have.

The above criticism has been made known to the squad and as a result there has been a sudden flare-up in the spirit of the gridders. In the workouts the last two days grim determination has been written on the faces of the squad. They have resolved to wipe this stigma off their actions and ability as players. The tackling and blocking in a scrimmage yesterday would be called vicious. The plays clicked and worked in precision. The Reserves had a miserable time of it as they scrimmaged against the varsity, using Aliquippa plays.

From all indications there will be a merry battle at Lincoln Field next Saturday and will be one that will be well worth seeing. The locals have built up a special defense against Aliquippa's hard running backs and lateral passes, and at the same time will spring an improved offense, sprinkled with several new spectacular plays, also should bring a score.

CHURCH MEN TO HEAR EDITOR AT SUNDAY MEETING

Men's Bible Classes Joining For Rally; Speaker From Columbus

Members of the adult Men's Bible classes of ten of New Castle's churches and guests from other congregations will hear James G. Daly, Columbus editor, speak at a mass meeting in the First M. E. church auditorium on Sunday morning, November 4, at 9 o'clock.

A CLEAN SLATE

The parade of unbeaten and untied teams in the country is becoming smaller as each Saturday rolls past. Last week Holy Cross, Georgetown, Duke, Penn State and Vanderbilt fell by the wayside and this Saturday there are certain to be further eliminations.

Only a dozen major teams have perfect records although the season is only a little more than half over. Army, Navy, Princeton, Syracuse, and Dartmouth are the eastern teams with perfect records. In the south Tulane and Alabama have clean slates. Minnesota, Chicago, Illinois and Michigan State are the mid-west leaders. Washington is the lone survivor in the far-west.

Army meets Illinois, Harvard, Citadel, Notre Dame, and Navy. That is a rocky road and the Cadets' inexperienced line will hardly stand up under all those opponents, particularly Illinois, Notre Dame, and Navy.

The Middies are in the same spot as the Soldiers with games to be played with Washington and Lee, Notre Dame, Pitt, and the Army. Navy had a close call in the Maryland game but haven't yet met a foe so strong as Notre Dame, Pitt or the Army.

Princeton has but a fair chance of winning the remaining games but that is because they seem to prefer football routes to football battles. The Tigers have a good team but even if they remain unbeaten, untied, and univited, they will get very little sympathy when they adopt their theme song "Out in the Cold Again."

If they had Rose Bowl aspirations why didn't they get a schedule that would give them the recognition the team deserves? Princeton is capable of beating some of the strongest elevens but they can't prove it by playing teams like Amherst, Williams, Cornell, etc.

Syracuse has numbered among its victims such teams as Clarkson, Cornell, Ohio Wesleyan, and Brown. However, there is nothing there to compare with Penn State, Michigan State, Colgate, and Columbia so the trouble for the Orangemen is only beginning.

Dartmouth will probably go into the Yale game as the underdog despite their unblemished record but even if they do win that one they still have to meet Princeton.

Alabama appears stronger than Tulane and has a more favorable schedule than the Green Wave. Colgate and Louisiana State will be more difficult for Tulane than Kentucky and Vanderbilt for Alabama.

Minnesota will hardly be stopped in any of the remaining games against Michigan, Indiana, Chicago, and Wisconsin. The Maroons are good but they aren't likely to check the powerful Gophers.

And there aren't many fans who expect Chicago to continue unbeaten when they face Purdue, Ohio State, Minnesota, and Illinois. That is perhaps, a more dismal future than any of the other unbeaten teams have to look forward to. Yet the Maroons hold the key to the Big Ten title. Besides being hot after the championship themselves, they play the other leading contenders. If Chicago should upset Minnesota and Illinois, it will certainly muddle Big Ten affairs.

Illinois has what looks like the best passing attack in the country. Although their line is light as Western Conference lines go, so far they have been functioning satisfactorily with Grybowski starring. If the line does not weaken the Illini should get past Army and Chicago, their strongest opponents remaining.

Michigan State must point for Syracuse although the games with Marquette, Detroit, Kansas, and Texas A. & M. will likely be tough. If the Spartans can beat Syracuse, however, they will have hurdled their toughest opponent.

Out on the Pacific coast the Washington Huskies are upholding the far-west traditions. Oregon State, Stanford, Washington State, and Southern California are in the path of the Huskies with Washington State, Stanford, and the Trojans capable of upsetting them. The Southern California game is on December 1 and by that time the House of Troy will likely be considerably stronger than they are at present.

Gym Class Meets Thursday Nights

More Members Will Be Accepted By Y. W. C. A. Health Education Group

Another of the weekly Y. W. C. A. gym classes will be conducted Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Announcement is made by the director, Mrs. Ann Cain Earl, that the class is still open to new members. Women interested may communicate with Mrs. John Byers, Miss Frances Green, Miss Margaret Williams or the business office of the Y. W. C. A.

Members of the class are enjoying lively meetings in the "Y" gymnasium every Thursday night and are finding the exercise benefiting their health and spirits. They are having health examination cards filled out and signed by their physicians in order that the director may follow a program of individual corrective work.

Bartell Goes To Giants For Players-Cash

Ryan, Vergez And Watkins Go To Phils For Sterling Young Shortstop

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 1—Dick Bartell, a pretty fair sort of country ball player, will be the shortstop of the New York Giants next season. John (they can't beat us) Ryan will play shortstop for Philadelphia, if that's the kind of shortstop they want. He's a ukulele hitter. Moreover, Johnny Vergez will play third base for Philadelphia, George Watkins right field and a youth by the name of John Puzello from Nashville will do some excess pitching.

That's the story of the second big trade of the week in baseball. The first big trade was practically the "wash" sale of Joe Cronin from Washington to Boston as player-manager for a sum reputed to be $150,000.

The Giant-Philadelphia deal was announced in the twilight being a concession to the local baseball writers. They're still trying to figure which club got the better of the deal, whereas the matter is all too obvious. The Philadelphia club got the better of the deal. It got the $75,000 to $50,000 that went along with the four players and the latter can now go take a running once-and-a-half into the Schuylkill for all the good they'll do Philadelphia.

Not So Good

Vergez, Ryan and Watkins might well have been waived out of the league on their 1934 performances Vergez was sitting on the bench at the finish of the race. Ryan probably should have been. Neither of the young gentlemen can hit a resounding foul.

As for Watkins, he figured so obscurely in the last pennant race that like Ryan and Vergez, he can almost be said to have been tossed in as a bit of window display. In other words, the Giants seem to have traded all three for nothing even up In fact, this is one case where sordid gold triumps over sterling virtue, meaning that the Phillies got all the better of it. I have it direct from the U. S. treasury that there is very little that is sordid about $50,000, especially just before the first of the month.

Great Infield

The transfer of Bartell gives the Giants the best infield in the national league and, according to the official announcement, represents an expenditure of $115,000 for new players since the great debacle of a month ago.

Other deals are to follow notably for a centre-fielder. Even a pitcher or two may go considering the stories circulated about the bickering between Will Terry and Hubbell and the brawling between Will Terry and Schumacher.

However, all stories about Terry aren't true—not even some of Terry's stories about Terry.

Stress Defense Of Pitt Panthers

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—Pittsburgh University's Panthers, completing their contact work last night, today were scheduled to begin tapering off drills in preparation for the Notre Dame game Saturday.

Realizing that the Irish are pointing for this encounter, Coach Jock Sutherland is emphasizing the defense of the Pitt team and is doing nothing offensively.

Jack Kearns Is Just About Broke

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1.—Jack Kearns, former manager of Jack Dempsey, may be down, but he is not downhearted.

Although his Los Angeles home and furniture has already been sold at auction, he still has visions of a comeback.

Once the wealthiest manager in the boxing game, due to his 50-50 splits with Jack Dempsey, Kearns admitted today that bad investments and the flare for the bright lights had cost him practically everything.

Coaches Must Either Produce Or Lose "Heads"

Harvard Will Be One Of Many Schools Seeking New Coach In 1935

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The late Bill McGeoghan once suggested that Harvard would do well to swap a couple of professors for a hard-running halfback.

Thousands of Harvard's old grads heartily agreed with Bill. Today they probably would go a step further and agree to trade half the school's professors for a coach who could turn out a winning team.

College deans like to speak of their coaches as "builders of character," "moulders of men," and similar descriptive catch phrases, but losing teams don't pay off the mortgages on huge football stadia and old grads are prone to be impatient with coaches who can't produce and deans who hand out a lot of twaddle about handing the game back to the boys.

Many New Coaches

Old grads demand results and old grads, especially those with loose pocketbooks, are being listened to these days. That is why there will be many a new coach on deck at various colleges next year and why there will be less emphasis put on de-emphasis of football by college deans.

Among those who may be missing when the next football season rolls around are Ed. Casey, of Harvard; Gil Dobie, of Cornell; Dick Hanley, of Northwestern, and Tuss McLaughry, of Brown, to say nothing of Harry Mehre of Georgia, Howard Harpster of Carnegie Tech, Doc Stevens of N. Y. U., Bill Ingram of California, and Doc Spears of Wisconsin.

Some of these are fine coaches under almost any conditions; some are great if they have sufficient material, but not so hot if they have to play students.

Some have failed to keep step with the times and are teaching the football current along about 1911. The new wide open game has passed them by.

Princeton Steps Out

Princeton was smart enough to forget about old grad coaching and stepped out and got Fritz Crisler and now look at Princeton. Pennsylvania, over the protests of the old grads went haywire on the Gates plan, and now look at Pennsylvania. Happily, the old grads have taken hold down there again, and are getting some real material to matriculate despite Professor Gates.

As long as old grads preach the doctrine that a college is only as good as its football team, coaches will always be in danger of losing their jobs. That is the main reason why some of the aforementioned coaches will be hunting new coaching berths next season.

New Kensington Will Bring Crowd

New Kensington high school football team will be well supported by fans when they come here Saturday to battle the "Red Hurricane" of New Castle high school. Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner has delivered 1,000 tickets to New Kensington.

The New Ken high hand will not make the trip to New Castle, it was learned today. The game Saturday will be one of the best of the season, and the winner will likely be in the top running for the Class AA honors.

Tech To Battle New York Team

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—Having worked out a new interchangeable backfield combination, the Carnegie Tech team was ready for the journey to New York today to meet N. Y. U. on Saturday.

Croft and Doloway, regular tackles, are still out of practice, but the long rest may enable them to take their places against the New York team.

New Castle Seeks Fourth Victory In Class AA Circles

VICTORY number four in Class AA circles is desired by the New Castle high school "Red Hurricane" Saturday afternoon. New Kensington high with an unbeaten major league record, comes to Taggart stadium to try and upset the Bridenbaughmen for the first double-A defeat in three years.

The game will start at 2:30 o'clock and by game time every seat in the spacious Taggart stadium should be filled. This is easily one of the most attractive games on the 1934 card for the Pa Newc sons.

Both teams will be in the game to give their best. Both seek that coveted victory. A defeat will send one of them out of the running, which one will it be? A tie will probably put both teams out of the running.

Backfield Attention

Coach Phil Bridenbaugh is paying particular attention this week to those "touchdown twins," Fleming and Cox. It depends on the way the New Castle offense clicks against New Kensington. The New Castle line, one of the greatest in Western Pennsylvania, can be expected to play the usual fine defensive game, but what about the backfield?

Against Warren high the New Castle backs, Fleming, Cox, Mumford, Ostrosky and A. Shellogg, looked very good. Against the Clairton high team this set of backs together with young Eddie Donegan, was unstoppable. But, what will happen when New Castle runs up against a tough line and a flock of hard secondary men like New Kensington will bring here? That's a question.

There is no doubt about it, Charles "Red" Fleming will be a marked man in the New Castle backfield. New Ken high has heard of the prowess of this carrot-thatched youngster who reminds you of Day, Uram and Reider wrapped up in one.

The battle this week looks like one of the best of the year and you had better plan to be there!

Record Fish Are Caught This Year

BIGGEST TROUT WAS THIRTY INCHES

HARRISBURG, Nov. 1.—With the 1934 season for black bass, walleyed pike, pickerel and muskellunge entering its final stages, fish commission officials today reported that in at least three divisions of game fish, records for size and weight have shattered existing records in Pennsylvania. Giant fish that are the dream of every fisherman were landed in the brown trout, largemouth black bass and wall-eyed pike divisions. It is considered significant that artificial lures captured the largest brown trout and the record-breaking large-mouth bass, while a spinner and lamprey eel combination accounted for the mammoth pike.

Topping the brown trout catches was a 30-inch fish, having a girth of 15½ inches and weighing nine pounds, seven ounces. It was caught on an artificial fly in the Lackawaxen River, Pike county, by William Percival, expert fly fisherman, of Matamoras. Warden Frank Brink of Milford, who reported the catch, said that Percival was using a four-ounce fly rod when the big fish struck.

The record large-mouth bass was taken in Harvey's Lake, Luzerne county, by John Warzechowski, of Nanticoke. Fishing plug, the Nanticoke angler lured the big fellow to strike. It measured 24 inches in length and weighed eight pounds, eight ounces.

Zimmerman's Eddy on the famous Upper Delaware river, yielded a wall-eyed pike or Susquehanna salmon of breath-taking proportions to Frank L. Seas, Easton fisherman, who was trolling when he made the catch. The pike tipped the scales at 13 pounds, eight ounces. It was 34 inches in length and had a girth of 18½ inches.

Marino Coaches Humbert Team

Humbert First basketball teams are being coached by "Buddy" Marino, the well known South Side athlete. There are two Humbert First teams this year, the Seniors and Juniors. The floor season at Humbert hall will open on Thanksgiving night.

The South Siders will meet either Ellwood City or Sharon the first game. Sixteen new uniforms have been bought for the teams. There are eight players on each team.

Flynn Returned To Home In Erie

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1—Found in a local hotel room, Charles J. Flynn, 43, who shot his wife in their Dormont home a month ago, was back in the soldiers and sailors hospital at Erie today under court orders.

Flynn's wife told authorities two days ago that her husband, who had escaped from the hospital, was telephoning threats to her. Deputy sheriff Edward Horan found the fugitive.

Mrs. Flynn was shot in the shoulder when her husband fired two shot through a door of her bedroom.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

British bookmakers took their worst beating in years yesterday when Wychwood Abbot captured the Cambridgeshire handicap at Newmarket, England. They declared themselves harder hit than in any race in the last 20 years since the winner was coupled by many bettors with Enfield, the winner of the Ceasariwitch two weeks ago. Betting was tremendous on the Cambridgeshire. One pool alone reached more than $100,000.

Barney Ross, lightweight champion of the world, will defend his title against Tony Canzoneri, former lightweight king, in December at Chicago, according to New York reports. Ross has signed articles it is said, and all that is necessary now for the match is Canzoneri's signature.

Athletes of the world may see just how baseball, America's national pastime is played during the 1936 Olympics at Berlin. The German Olympic committee has invited the United States to send a team to the games for an exhibition game against Japan.

Halfback Palowski, of Shadyside, O., high, has a 103-yard run for a touchdown to his credit. He was playing against Barnesville yesterday. The game was only in its infancy when he caught a punt and made the run.

Brooklyn Team Not For Sale

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1—Judge Steve McKeever, veteran executive of the Brooklyn Dodgers, announced emphatically today that his ball club was not for sale. "The Judge's" announcement puts at rest a reported effort by Col. Tillinghast Huston, former part owner of the New York Yankees, to buy the Dodgers and make Babe Ruth manager.

Alabama Ranks With Best For Bid To Coast

Princeton And Minnesota Also Up At Top Of National Football Heap

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—For purposes of the record, I understand that Princeton, Minnesota, Pittsburgh and Alabama, in that order, now rate in favor for the Rose Bowl invitation against either Washington or Stanford. I can understand everything except the coast's pretty obvious disinclination to see more of Alabama, my conclusion being that it has already seen too much.

In any case, no legitimate ranking list either could or would place Alabama below Princeton, which has been playing around with the glycerine and rose water institutes, and Pittsburgh, which already has lost one and may lose another to Notre Dame on Saturday. Pitt is very good but no better than it figured against Minnesota, meaning not good enough.

Alabama Good.

Maybe Alabama isn't either, but it seems to be doing all right in a pretty rugged league. As well, for instance as the team of nine years ago that pulled one out at the Rose bowl in a theatrical finish on that pass from Hubert to Brown. As for the team of the following year that played a 7 to 7 tie, the 1934 version might, if anything, seem to be slightly the better. It probably has more downright punch in the backfield.

However, I believe the idea of the coast is to get some window-dressing this time, an ivy-clad college that will dress up the act and give the customer a sense of drama. They feel they can't do that with Michigan State, Rice, Syracuse and Tulane or even Dartmouth, which has been around playing football for some years in a rather unobtrusive way. The point is that these teams don't hit the headlines.

That's what makes Princeton so acceptable. If a big three team is any good at all, it is automatically great, the metropolitan critics being suckers for tradition. Princeton wouldn't go last year but they do say that it might listen this time, although there is something in the records about an agreement.

I doubt, though, that anything can be done about Big Ten objections. Therefore, if Minnesota is being so earnestly considered, why not Illinois and Chicago? They can't go, either.

Louisiana State.

The Army and Navy are probably out, the former for quite sufficient reasons. It once went to the coast to play Stanford and finished just before the first of the month.

It seems to me that everything I've said so far brings us inevitably back to the urgent query, why not Alabama? However, I'll try one more. Why not Louisiana State? It may have played a couple of ties with first rate teams but it's beating the best right now and, besides, it has Huey Long as an added attraction. But I forget myself. Maybe that's why they like Princeton.

Gardner Drills Floor Candidates

Fifty Report For Basketball At Senior High, Divided Into Groups

Ralph H. Gardner, faculty manager of athletics at Senior high, will have charge of the New Castle high basketball team until the end of the football season, it was announced today. The first call for candidates for the floor team brought 50 young men out.

Gardner has divided the 50 into two groups. The groups will hold one or two practice sessions each week until the regular basketball season starts. There are quite a number of veterans on hand.

The football men who also play basketball will not report for the floor game until about the middle of December. "Brownie" Ostrosky is the captain of the New Castle high floor team this year.

Duquesne Eleven At Full Strength

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—With the exception of the quarterback position, Duquesne University gridders expect to be at full strength for the West Virginia Wesleyan game here Friday night. Joe Gates will be at quarter in place of the injured Curona.

Bessemer-Union Ready For Game

Bessemer Hopes To Annex County League Championship Friday Afternoon

UNION ELEVEN MAY SURPRISE

Bessemer high school football team has visions of winning the county football championship for the second straight year Friday afternoon at the Bessemer high field when they will meet the Union high school "Blue Devils." The battle starts at 3 o'clock.

Having defeated Shenango high earlier in the year, all the Bessemer boys must do is take the measure of the Unionites tomorrow afternoon to keep the trophy cup secure in the confines of Bessemer's fine high school building.

Bessemer Confident

Coach Fredericks is having a hard time this week to get his Bessemer players out of the confidence of winning easily from Union. True, Union high has not won a game this year, but you can never tell about this game of football, some funny things can happen. Coach Davey Boyd is going to "shoot the works" Friday at Bessemer.

Both teams will be at full strength for the battle.

In event of good weather the Bessemer high field will be jammed for the engagement. They take their football serious out in Bessemer and with the county championship likely to go to Bessemer again, the fans will want to be in on the game.

Neither Boyd nor Fredericks were sure of their starting lineups today. Final polishing of both teams was accomplished this afternoon.

Keystones Will Oppose Ryantown

Interest will be centered on the Colonial field next Sunday afternoon when the crack Keystone A. C. gridders oppose the Ryantown eleven. The contest was originally scheduled for last Sunday, but inclement weather caused a postponement.

Last year the Keystone gridders eked out a 13-12 triumph.

Rabbit Hunters Out Early As Season Opens

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 1—The roar of shotguns broke the stillness of Pennsylvania's fields and forests today as hunters opened the small game season at dawn.

More than half a million nimrods were estimated to be eligible to try for rabbits, squirrels or game birds which are legal prey during the month. Bad weather conditions in some sections marred the holiday for the nimrods.

Expect Big Kill

Although the daily and season limit has been cut this year, reports from game wardens indicated that rabbits were plentiful. More than 3,000,000 of them probably will be killed before the season closes November 30. Squirrels also were reported numerous.

Hunting game birds, ringnecks, quail, wild turkeys and grouse will be a hide and seek affair with the calendar because of the staggered system in effect this season as a conservation measure.

Combined with the search for rabbits, squirrels and game birds this year will be the hunt for ducks and geese, the season for which opened October 18. Warm fall weather has delayed the migration of the wild birds and virtually no duck hunting has been reported yet. Ducks are fair quarry on Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays.

Police Get Many Calls Hallowe'en

Reports Indicate Depredations Committed By Boys Last Night

Owing to the destruction of porch furniture, lanterns and throwing of tomatoes last night it is probable that Mayor Mayne and Chief of Police Haven will continue the enforcement of the curfew ordinance which became inoperative Tuesday night. The ordinance was enforced because certain boys in different sections carried their actions so far that vandalism resulted.

Last night red lanterns were broken in Ray St. and porch furniture was destroyed in Park avenue. Tomatoes were thrown in Garfield avenue and these acts coupled to numerous calls for police protection may cause the mayor and police chief to consider continuing the curfew law.

Both officials were hunting today but reports have been laid on their desks for perusal upon their return.

Call for police protection last night came from Garfield avenue Reis St and Berger Place, Wallace avenue, Albert street, Park avenue, South Mercer street, Ray street, Hillcrest avenue, Taylor and Pearson streets, Center street, Erie avenue, East Sheridan avenue, Crawford avenue and County Line street and Court street and Crawford avenue.

GIRL SCOUTS

KEYSTONE TROOP

The girls of the Keystone Troop No. 1 held their usual meeting Saturday at 7:30 o'clock. Three new leaders were installed at this time. They are as follows:

Captain, Frances Gibson; first lieutenant, Lois Marian Smith; second lieutenant, Geraldine Ferver.

Most of the evening was spent in games, singing and group work. Taps was sung and the girls departed.

TIRE PRICES ARE INCREASED TODAY

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Leading tire manufacturers today announced a general increase in list prices of from 5 per cent to 14½ per cent. Goodyear Tire & Rubber, however, announced increases of 12 per cent to 25 per cent; depending on the type and brand and on "locally prevailing trade practices."

This advance in price followed the meeting of representatives of the various companies yesterday in Akron.

Richberg Is Now Powerful Figure

Executive Order Makes Richberg First Assistant To President Roosevelt

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Donald R. Richberg today became one of the most powerful men in the administration.

By an executive order from the White House he virtually was made President Roosevelt's first assistant without portfolio when the president consolidated the executive council with the National Emergency Council.

Richberg will serve as executive director of the new organization. It includes every cabinet officer and executive head of the major permanent relief agencies.

Closer Relations

Mr. Roosevelt's order directed that the new organization "serve in an advisory capacity" to its executive director, Richberg.

The National Recovery Administration was brought more closely under the thumb of the president in the same executive order.

The president directed that the Industrial Emergency committee, of which Richberg is also a director, become a subcommittee of the National Emergency Council.

Governor Pinchot Says Probers Have Complete Facts

Says He Has Submitted All Details He Has On Election Expenses

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1. — The Byrnes committee investigating senatorial campaign funds today possessed "all the material I ever saw or had," according to Gov. Gifford Pinchot.

The statement was made by the governor in reply to a letter from Senator Byrnes (D) South Carolina, seeking additional informaton on an alleged conspiracy to conceal political expenditures in Pennsylvania.

The Byrnes letter said he had been told Governor Pinchot possessed a statement which disclosed the "existence of a conspiracy between Senator David A. Reed, (Republican candidate for re-election) and Mr. William A. Schnader (Republican gubernatorial nominee) to conceal the expenditures in behalf of Mr. Reed and sets forth violations by the election laws by the supporters of Senator Reed in the primary election."

Byrnes requested this statement because "it will be very helpful to the committee."

"The Byrnes committee knows everything I know," Governor Pinchot asserted. "The truth is that a former employe of the state has given the committee all the material that I ever saw or had—and more."

Liberty Grange

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

A Hallowe'en party was held in the Liberty Grange Hall, Tuesday evening, with members and friends numbering 175, in attendance. An ideal setting was formed with the usual festive decorations of colored lights, black cats, owls, and corn stalks. At 9 o'clock, the grand march was held with Russell Book, Maxine Richeal, Shirley Wimer and Paul McCandless winning prizes for their costumes. Other forms of entertainment were fortunte telling, fishpond, bingo and numerous side shows.

Others winning prizes were Donald Flemming, Jean Lock, Andley Lock, Clyde McCracken, Bertha Kerr, Howard Glenn, J. S. Tucker, Norman Montgomery and Ellis Boyd.

A delicious lunch was served by the social committee.

The next Grange meeting will be held Monday evening, at 8 o'clock, instead of Tuesday, the regular date. The women will present the program on this date.

THE NEW DEAL

After 85 years of existence as a County, and with all the improvements of any kind that have been made during that time, Lawrence County's bonded indebtedness at the present time is only $886,000.

Lawrence County's present assessment for County and Poor purposes is $69,389,280.

But during the first eighteen months of the NEW DEAL the administration's colossal spending of borrowed money has laid a debt of $1,000,000,000 on Pennsylvania, and Lawrence County's share of that Federal debt is $10,000,000.

Within a period of eighteen months the NEW DEAL has put upon the people of Lawrence County eleven times more debt than they had standing against them after 85 years of existence as a County.

Within a period of eighteen months the NEW DEAL has thrust a debt upon Lawrence County amounting to one-seventh of its entire assessment.

THIS POLICY OF EXTRAVAGANCE ON A CONSTANTLY INCREASING SCALE IS THAT THEY ASK YOU TO APPROVE WHEN THEY INVITE YOU TO VOTE FOR DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES.

Go to the polls on November 6th and vote to repudiate this debt increasing policy.

THERE and HERE

In Algiers the people who have something to sell cry their wares from a little stall in the market place. And those who buy saunter from stall to stall making their purchases.

But in New Castle we arrange things somewhat better. The purchaser can review every offer from his easy-chair, simply by reading the brief, pointed descriptions in the Classified Columns.

THE SPORT PATROL

By JOHN J. MAHER, JR.

A CLEAN SLATE

The parade of unbeaten and untied teams in the country is becoming smaller as each Saturday rolls past. Last week Holy Cross, Georgetown, Duke, Penn State and Vanderbilt fell by the wayside and this Saturday there are certain to be further eliminations.

Only a dozen major teams have perfect records although the season is only a little more than half over. Army, Navy, Princeton, Syracuse, and Dartmouth are the eastern teams with perfect records. In the south Tulane and Alabama have clean slates. Minnesota, Chicago, Illinois and Michigan State are the mid-west leaders. Washington is the lone survivor in the far-west.

Army meets Illinois, Harvard, Citadel, Notre Dame, and Navy. That is a rocky road and the Cadets' inexperienced line will hardly stand up under all those opponents, particularly Illinois, Notre Dame, and Navy.

The Middies are in the same spot as the Soldiers with games to be played with Washington and Lee, Notre Dame, Pitt, and the Army. Navy had a close call in the Maryland game but haven't yet met a foe so strong as Notre Dame, Pitt or the Army.

Princeton has but a fair chance of winning the remaining games but that is because they seem to prefer football routes to football battles. The Tigers have a good team but even if they remain unbeaten, untied, and univited, they will get very little sympathy when they adopt their theme song "Out in the Cold Again."

If they had Rose Bowl aspirations why didn't they get a schedule that would give them the recognition the team deserves? Princeton is capable of beating some of the strongest elevens but they can't prove it by playing teams like Amherst, Williams, Cornell, etc.

Syracuse has numbered among its victims such teams as Clarkson, Cornell, Ohio Wesleyan, and Brown. However, there is nothing there to compare with Penn State, Michigan State, Colgate, and Columbia so the trouble for the Orangemen is only beginning.

Dartmouth will probably go into the Yale game as the underdog despite their unblemished record but even if they do win that one they still have to meet Princeton.

Alabama appears stronger than Tulane and has a more favorable schedule than the Green Wave. Colgate and Louisiana State will be more difficult for Tulane than Kentucky and Vanderbilt for Alabama.

Minnesota will hardly be stopped in any of the remaining games against Michigan, Indiana, Chicago, and Wisconsin. The Maroons are good but they aren't likely to check the powerful Gophers.

And there aren't many fans who expect Chicago to continue unbeaten when they face Purdue, Ohio State, Minnesota, and Illinois. That is perhaps, a more dismal future than any of the other unbeaten teams have to look forward to. Yet the Maroons hold the key to the Big Ten title. Besides being hot after the championship themselves, they play the other leading contenders. If Chicago should upset Minnesota and Illinois, it will certainly muddle Big Ten affairs.

Illinois has what looks like the best passing attack in the country. Although their line is light as Western Conference lines go, so far they have been functioning satisfactorily with Grybowski starring. If the line does not weaken the Illini should get past Army and Chicago, their strongest opponents remaining.

Michigan State must point for Syracuse although the games with Marquette, Detroit, Kansas, and Texas A. & M. will likely be tough. If the Spartans can beat Syracuse, however, they will have hurdled their toughest opponent.

Out on the Pacific coast the Washington Huskies are upholding the far-west traditions. Oregon State, Stanford, Washington State, and Southern California are in the path of the Huskies with Washington State, Stanford, and the Trojans capable of upsetting them. The Southern California game is on December 1 and by that time the House of Troy will likely be considerably stronger than they are at present.

Gym Class Meets Thursday Nights

More Members Will Be Accepted By Y. W. C. A. Health Education Group

Another of the weekly Y. W. C. A. gym classes will be conducted Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Announcement is made by the director, Mrs. Ann Cain Earl, that the class is still open to new members. Women interested may communicate with Mrs. John Byers, Miss Frances Green, Miss Margaret Williams or the business office of the Y. W. C. A.

Members of the class are enjoying lively meetings in the "Y" gymnasium every Thursday night and are finding the exercise benefiting their health and spirits. They are having health examination cards filled out and signed by their physicians in order that the director may follow a program of individual corrective work.

THREE DIE IN CRASH

WILL ROGERS says:

(Special To The News)

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Nov. 1.—Well, with election coming on all over the country about next Tuesday, folks only got five more days to tell other folks what to do.

Ain't it funny we can see our friends or neighbors go out, make bad investments, do fool things, but we never say a word. We let him risk his life and his money without any advice.

But his vote? We got to tell him about that, for he is kinder ignorant and narrow minded and don't see things our way. So we advise him.

Well, hurry up and tell him for he ain't going to pay any attention to you anyhow. But it's a great satisfaction to think you are advising him, anyhow.

Yours,

Will Rogers

PA NEWC OBSERVES

It looked this morning as if the day was going to be a hard one for birds and rabbits, as a myriad of hunters crowded the roads leading out of the city. There were probably more hunters in the field today than on any first day of the hunting season in years.

* * *

Residents of the outskirts of the city didn't need any alarm clocks this morning. The bang, bang, of shotguns started with the break of dawn, and kept up rather consistently during the early morning. Many hunters were evidently out before daybreak, getting a vantage point to start the hunt.

* * *

Evidently some gangs idea of Hallowe'en was to uproot a street sign post at the corner of Edison and Highland avenues. One was noted pushed over on the ground, this morning.

* * *

New Castle streets, in some sections of the city are littered with [illegible] to a depth of a foot or more. [illegible]me activity on the part of the [illegible]eet. deparement in hauling away [illegible]ese leaves would not be amiss.

* * *

One home on Highland avenue [illegible]d a total of 52 children as Hallo-[illegible]'en visitors during the early [illegible]ening, Wednesday, Fa Newc is in-[illegible]rmed. A Hallowe'en treat was [illegible]en to the boys and girls in every [illegible]stance.

* * *

Pa Newc hopes that November [illegible]eather this year will not be a [illegible]petition of what it was last year. After a record temperature of 80 degrees on November 2, the weather turned wintry. Heavy snows were recorded from November 7th until the middle of the month, and the temperature dropped to six degrees on the 15th.

* * *

Warden Stanley P. Ash of Western penitentiary, one of the nation's outstanding prison authorities, paid the Boy Scouts of America a ringing tribute before the Kiwanis club yesterday when he declared that not a Boy Scout has been in the prison since he became its warden in 1925. The warden's words speaks volumes.

* * *

Almost every other automobile along Washington street early today carried hunters, bound for the woods to participate in the hunting season's opening day.

* * *

Watkins Hughes of South Mill street has compiled a record of which he is very proud. Ever since the South Side Board of Trade started sponsoring Hallowe'en celebrations, Mr. Hughes is among the few who has captured a prize each year, he stated this morning. His impersonation of an organ grinder was one of the features of last night's parade.

* * *

Nick Capitola of South Jefferson street, was one masquerader who wore a sustained smile following the South Side parade last night. Mr. Capitola has participated in three Hallowe'en activities given by the Slabtown residents. In 1932 and '33 he was awarded a bottle of hair tonic. The funny part of the whole thing is that Mr. Capitola is bald. Last night the judges awarded him a cash prize for a change.

* * *

A dog wandered along in the parade quite on his own initiative, and although wet and bedraggled, seemed to think it all great sport. Someone suggested that it was Plush, of Wimpole street. Father Time, with scythe on shoulder and

If they had more room on the South Side they could have larger celebrations, but until they do widen out the streets or push back the buildings they can hardly expect a larger crowd than was out Wednesday night. 'Scusin' the possibility of the folks standing on each others shoulders.

Estimating the number of Wednesday night is like estimating the number of leaves on a spreading chestnut tree. You know the total is high but you can't get an idea how high. From Pollock avenue to Moravia street and from Mill street to Home street were a solid mass of humanity. What weren't parading were watching and there was just room for the marchers to get through.

Rain No Bar.

At 8 o'clock just as the parade started to move out from Hamilton and Long avenue the threatened rain developed into a fine drizzle. The farther the parade went the heavier the rain fell and by the time the divisions were filing past the judges' stands the rain was in full bloom.

But not even this dampened anything but the shoulders of the crowd. Apparently not a mummer stepped out of line nor did a spectator leave his place. They were out for a Hallowe'en celebration and they had one in spite of the actions of Jupiter Pluvius.

Without doubt it was the biggest celebration the South Side has ever had. The line of marchers was longer than it has ever been in previous years, there being at least four

Relief Workers Are Dismissed

Employes Of State Emergency Relief Board Dismissed For Political Activity

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 1.—Several employes of the State Emergency Relief board have been dismissed because of political activity in the current election campaign, Eric H. Biddle, state emergency relief director, announced today.

Repeating his warning of October 6 that engaging in political activity will result in summary dismissal, Biddle sent the following telegram today to all local relief directors, work relief directors and comptrollers of the State Emergency Relief board:

Several Dismissals

"It has been necessary to dismiss certain employes because of political activities such as candidacy for office, membership in political organizations, solicitation of votes, serving as commttee man or committee woman, etc., your attention called to bulletin No. 38 prohibiting any form of political activity at the polls other than casting a ballot. Serving as watchers, judge of elections, etc., constitute infractions of bulletin No. 38. Such infractions as listed are illustrative and not inclusive. Any infractions of these instructions will result in summary dismissals even though not discovered until after election."

Man And Wife Are Killed In Crash

(International News Service)

McKEESPORT, Pa., Nov. 1.—Double funeral services will be held here tomorrow for a young couple who left a football game in New York Saturday to meet death on the return trip to their home in Brooklyn.

The dead are Clifford R. Marshall, 34, and his wife, Margaret Kerr Marshall, 29, formerly of McKeesport. They were married 10 years ago and moved to Brooklyn, where Marshall was employed by an electrical company.

Both were killed when their automobile was struck by a bus.

(International News Service)

SUNBURY, Pa., Nov. 1.—Levi Werntz, 54, former secretary of the Coal township board of commissioners, will never be brought to trial for the death of John Brennan, 34, a Shamokin mine foreman. Stricken with a heart attack in a cell at the county prison, Werntz was dead today. He was accused of killing the victim in a bedroom in the Brennan home and then arranging the body to simulate suicide by hanging.

To Roller Skate Way To Florida

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1—Having nothing else to do this winter, Charles Bobbs, 28, began roller skating today—to Miami, Florida.

He intends to make the trip—its about 1,400 miles—in about six weeks, an average of 25 miles a day, Robbs admits there isn't much purpose in the trip except that he likes to skate and also that William N. McNair, mayor of Pittsburgh, has given him a letter to deliver to the mayor of Miami.

Two Hurt When Car Overturns

New Galilee Men Injured On Savannah Road Early This Morning

Two New Galilee men were rushed to the New Castle hospial this morning about 1:30 o'clock, suffering with injuries they received when their car went over an embankment on the Savannah road, near the outskirts of the city.

The men, who sustained minor injuries, according to hospital attendants, are: Clifford Allen of R. F. D. No. 2, New Galilee, driver of the car, and Andy Caplan, also of R. D. No. 2, New Galilee.

Mr. Allen stated today that he was headed towards New Castle when another vehicle forced him off the road and over the embankment, where the car upset and was completely ruined by fire.

J. R. Harding of Wampum, an autoist who happened by the scene, rushed the men to the hospital.

Says Three Pennsylvania Companies Forced To Contribute To Democratic Fund

By HARRY BERGMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 1.—A new tempest raged in Pennsylvania's political battle area today, stirred to a furious pitch by the startling accusation of United States Senator David A. Reed that Reconstruction Finance Corporation loans were used by Democrats as a bludgeon with which to exact tribute from three business firms.

The state's senior senator, seeking re-election on the Republican ticket, uttered his sensational charge in the course of an address at Wilkes-Barre last night. He did not divulge the names of the three Pennsylvania companies who, he charged, were asked to contribute six per cent of their R. F. C. loans to the Democratic war chest.

Hunter Dies Of Heart Attack

Irwin Kult, 58, First Hunting Fatality, Without Shot Being Fired

International News Service)

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Nov. 1.—Pennsylvania's first hunting fatality of the newly-opened season occurred near here today.

And it was not the result of gunfire!

It happened before a single shot had been fired.

Irwin Kult, 58, of Philadelphia, was the victim.

Together with two other men, Kult, employed at the Philadelphia Electric company's station at Plymouth Meeting, near here, went hunting this morning in the fields of the vicinity.

Shortly after the three hunters set out Kult collapsed and died.

The county coroner attributed his death to a heart attack.

Two Women Are Crash Victims

Two Women Meet Death, Husbands Slightly Injured In Crash Near Pittsburgh

TRUCK DRIVER ESCAPES INJURY

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH,, Nov. 1.—Two women—sisters-in-law—were killed and their husbands were slightly injured today when their machine collided with a truck-trailer on the McKees Rocks-Coraopolis highway.

The victims, Mrs. Ethel Morgan, 43, McKees Rocks, and Mrs. Nellie Morgan, Stowe township, were thrown from the machine. The brothers, George, 51, husband of Mrs. Ethel Morgan, and Ewart, 35, were treated at the Ohio Valley hospital.

Stephen Brezney, 24, Erie, driver of the truck, escaped injuries.

The trailer of the truck crashed into the automobile carrying the Morgans and demolished it, according to County Detectives Lawrence Kline and Samuel Riddle.

Mailman Is Victim Of Collision Between Auto And Truck Near Pottstown

(International News Service)

POTTSTOWN, Pa., Nov. 1.—Charles D. Lehr, 34, a mailman, was killed and three other men were injured at Stowe, near here, early today in a collision between an automobile and a truck.

Letha Kepner, 34, a Pottstown mail clerk, told state police that Lehr, who was driving the automobile, was blinded by the headlights on the truck. Kepner is suffering from a broken left leg and a fractured hip.

The occupants of the truck, Bertram Thompson, 27, of this city, and Anthony Notvisky, 28, of Minersville, both escaped with minor injuries. Thompson, who was operating the truck, was arrested and held for the action of the Montgomery county coroner.

School Is Closed, Students Hunting

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 1.—The opening day of the hunting season gave students at Confluence high school near here a holiday today.

In addition to closing the school, its principal, C. C. Shaffer joined the students on a hunting trip in the vicinity of Chambersburg.

TRAGEDY MARKS OPENING OF STATE HUNTING SEASON

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

YORK, Pa., Nov. 1.—Tragedy marked the opening of the small game season in York county today as a 20-year-old Hanover hunter was killed and another nimrod suffered a badly mangled right leg.

The dead youth, believed to be the first shooting fatality of the season, was Archie Krumrine. He died almost instantly from a .22 calibre bullet.

In the other accident George Stahle, 30, of Manchester, R. D 1, was shot by Fred Wasser of York, who was hunting on the victim's land near Manchester, according to attaches at the York County hospital. It was feared amputation of Stahle's leg may be necessary.

Boy Fires Fatal Shot

Krumrine met his death at the hands of a 13-year-old unlicensed hunter, Fred Auchey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude L. Auchey, of near Hanover, according to Coroner L. U. Zech.

Hearing a strange noise near a tree while hunting on the woodland of C. M. Myers, near Hanover, with his brother, Claude Auchey, Jr., 19,

Hunting Season Is Opened Today

Huge Army Of Hunters Takes To Field As Small Game Season Starts

BAG LIMITS LESS THAN FEW YEARS AGO

New Castle contributed its full quota to the small army of game hunters who took to the woods and fields of Pennsylvania this morning, as the small game season got under way.

Every kind of small game is being sought by the hunters today, including squirrel, rabbit, pheasants, quail, and ducks, but one must possess a federal license in addition to the regular state license to hunt ducks this year.

The big game season does not open until the day after the small game season closes on November 30.

It will not be such a hard matter for hunters to secure the limit because of the gradual reduction in the number which may be killed.

Where a few years ago, hunters could kill an unlimited number of rabbits, squirrels, and birds, the number has been gradually cut down, until today, only four rabbits, two pheasants or grouse, six

Fear Four Drown In Auto Plunge

Hallowe'en Merrymakers In Car Skid Through Drawbridge

CAR DROPS INTO 35 FEET OF WATER

(International News Service)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 1.—Four or more persons were believed to have been drowned early today when a large sedan skidded into the guard rail on the Mullica river drawbridge and plunged into 35 feet of water near New Gretna, 20 miles north of here.

The car, apparently filled with Hallowe'en celebrators, ripped away 30 feet of the guard railing. It plunged beneath the surface of the water, carrying its occupants to their doom shortly before two o'clock this morning.

Tatum Crammer, bridgetender, told state troopers that the crash was followed by screams. He said he raced to the scene, but the gap in the guard railing was the only evidence of the tragedy.

A passing motorist told authorities he caught a glimpse of the interior of the car as it plowed through the railing and dived into the river. He estimated the number of persons in the car as four or more.

Handicapped by lack of equipment, state police were unable immediately to raise the wreck or attempt any rescue. The automobile, believed to lie directly beneath the drawbridge, will be brought to the surface by a dredging company, police said.

Trapped By Falling Timbers Mother And Four In Kentucky Burn To Death

(International News Service)

LONDON, Ky., Nov. 1.—A mother and her four children were dead today as the result of a fire that followed the wrecking of their home on the Rockcastle river, 15 miles north of here, by a high wind during a sudden storm squall. The victims were pinned by timber and burned to death when fire from the stove ignited the wreckage.

The dead were: Mrs. Emma Robinson, 30; Ernest Robinson, 12; Virgie Robinson, 10; Ralph Robinson, 8; Wilma Robinson, 3.

Members of a nearby CCC camp rescued a 6-year-old son of Mrs. Robinson when they rushed to the scene of the fire and found him pinned by timbers near the front door.

Eight Persons Kept In Hotel In Escape Quiz

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 1.—J. Edward Barce, state deputy attorney-general, and his barnstorming troupe of state police and eight "witnesses" held for questioning in connection with the Crown Point escape of John Dillinger, were lodged in an Indianapolis hotel here today. All remained in absolute seclusion.

It was the third day Barce has held the eight persons who were routed out of their beds in Crown Point at dawn Tuesday morning to start on a hectic tour which has taken them over the northern half of Indiana in an effort to dodge newspaper reporters and Lake county law authorities who desire to free those in custody.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—His voice shaking and showing intense emotionalism, Samuel Insull today took all the blame for the collapse of Corporation Securities company.

Referring to his 16 co-defendants he told the jurors who are trying him on charges of mail fraud:

"If the prosecution will excuse me, they (the other defendants) have no more to do with this case than you have."

Young Motorist Dies At Franklin

(International News Service)

OIL CITY, Pa., Nov. 1.—Injured when his automobile left the road and crashed down a steep embankment, Edgar Murray, 25, St. Petersburg, died in Franklin hospital today.

Murray's machine swerved from the road on Ritchie hill, leading into Emlenton, and rolled end over end 250 feet down the ravine at the side of the road.

The victim was found pinned under the car, just conscious enough to identify himself before he was rushed to the hospital.

Grade Crossing Tragedy Occurs At Wheatland

Auto On Street Crossing Is Hit By Pennsylvania Train

TWO MEN AND WOMAN KILLED

Accident Occurs About 10 O'Clock This Morning—Train Enroute North

A West Middlesex district man and wife and an elderly Wheatland man met almost instant death today when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by an Erie-bound Pennsylvania passenger train, No. 415, at the Mill street crossing, Wheatland, shortly before 10 o'clock this morning.

THE DEAD:

Theodore Cadary, 45, R. F. D. No. 1, West Middlesex.

Mrs. Lucy Cadary, 52, R. F. D. No. 1, West Middlesex.

George Black, 70, Wheatland.

Leaving New Castle only a short time before the crash, the Erie train, of which C. W. Thompson, this city, was conductor, struck the Cadary car, a coach, while making good speed. Reports to E. & A. division offices here said the engine bell was ringing and its whistle blowing as the auto was struck. Reports said the car was driven directly onto the railroad tracks befor the train.

Members of the train crew rushed to the demolished car as the train halted and extricated its occupants and placed them aboard the train to be rushed to a Sharon hospital. One of the men, reports said, was instantly killed, but the others died enroute to Sharon.

The automobile was demolished.

Pennsylvania officials here described the accident as the worst grade crossing crash to occur on the division in months.

The engineer of the train was Richard O'Brien, of Erie.

Tried To Beat Train

Mrs. Cadary, according to Coroner William Applegate, of Mercer county, died of a fractured skull and broken neck. The two men died from skull fractures. The bodies were not mangled, he said.

According to Mrs. Nellie Brandt,

Good day to you November and what have you in store, mild winter days or will we hear the bustle and the rear of icy visaged blizzards, of snow storms thick and fast, and will you have your stay here cold, and will the winter last. Come in and warm your tootsies ull up a comfy chair get in from out the weather, its chilly standing there. There. We hope you bring us sunshine and golden days and blue, but we are not sure of that, the weather's forty two.

Market Trading Is Slow Today

No Particular Activity In Any Group In Stock Market Opening Day

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The stock market continued in its rut today with prices showing no material change from last night's closing levels.

Trading was slow and there was no particular activity in any group in the list. Wilson A continued to be an individual feature rising nearly a point to a new high on the movement. Radio Preferred B. also became more active and advanced fractionally.

United States Steel and other industrial shares including Bethlehem and American Can travelled in a narrow range.

In the railroad group trading remained at a minimum and movements were narrow. Atchison and New York Central were fractionally higher, while Lackawanna sold down a small fraction.

There was little to feature the Utility section of the list where Consolidated Gas and other favorites were dull.

Favorable earnings brought some demand for Schenley which soared a gain of nearly a point. Other alcohol shares were quiet.

Farm implement and mail orders rose moderately in sympathy with wheat. Metal stock were quict as were the oils, chemicals and specialties.

BIG HALLOWE'EN CELEBRATION IS HELD IN ELLWOOD

Hundreds Participate In Mammoth Parade; Other Hundreds Line Streets

PRIZES AWARDED FOR MANY COSTUMES

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 1—A glorious success was the decision of hundreds of people of Ellwood City and vicinity when they participated in the annual Hallowe'en celebration here on Wednesday evening

Everything just turned out right for the affair. Even the rain kept away until the whole thing was over. Hundreds took active part in a mammoth parade through the main street of the city, while other hundreds lined the entire route of the parade.

The affair was run off just about to perfection and was a distinct credit to Burgess Judd C. Turner and his various active committees. Burgess Turner today expressed his gratitude for the invaluable aid rendered the affair by the local merchants, Kiwanis Club, and anyone who had any connection with it.

It was a grand evening of noise, merry-making and fun. The parade was formed on First avenue in the Fourth ward, where the mummers were placed in their respective groups. They were judged here accordingly by the members of the local Kiwanis Club, who gave out tickets for the various prizes which are to be claimed today in the store designated.

Matters were so well arranged that the parade moved sharply at 7:15. Led by the American Legion Eugle and Drum Corps in their flashy uniforms the parade moved across the Fifth street bridge. The Ellwood High school band led a division of floats and cars. It moved up Lawrence avenue to Eighth street and thence to the P. and L. E. grounds where it disbanded.

Never was such a versatility in costumes observed before in such an event. It included patriotic, historic, comic and several features. Just about everything imaginable was represented. The judges had a time of it in making decisions. The noise of rattles, horns and cars filled the streets for two hours. The street cleaner was kept busy this morning in clearing the confetti and paper off the streets. The parade included old automobiles, decorated horse and buggy and two or three floats.

It was clearly a night when the spirits, ghosts, goblins, witches, fairies and devils, roamed about the streets without molest. Although a deep respect was held for them by the youngsters, they were not looked upon with such awe, under the circumstances.

All in all the evening was a complete success in every detail.

Masquerade Party Is Held By Club

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 1.—Miss Lucille Jackson delightfully entertained the members of the Sub Deb club at a masquerade party at her home on the Country club road. The boy friends of the members were special guests.

The evening was thoroughly enjoyed with dancing, games and contests amidst clever decorations. At an appointed hour a dainty luncheon was served by the hostess, with the assistance of her mother, Mrs. Fred Jackson.

Funeral Rites For Mrs. C. Westfall

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 1—Funeral services for Mrs. Caroline Westfall,a former resident of this city, whose death occurred at her home in Newark Valley, N. Y., following a brief illness, were held yesterday afternoon from the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. E. Miller of the Ellwood-New Castle road.

Rev. Thomas Berger of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church assisted by Rev. Charles Bell, conducted the services. A quartet from the Slippery Rock church contributed two beautiful numbers, "The Old Rugged Cross" and "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere."

Pallbearers were: William, John, Lee and Fred Whitehouse, James Gibbons and Clarence McCaslin, all of this city and nephews of the deceased. Interment was made in the Locust Grove cemetery.

Hallowe'en Party At Pleasant Hill

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 1.—A very pleasant Hallowe'en party was enjoyed at the home of Lois Brown at Pleasant Hill, when she entertained a group of young people.

Everything was in keeping with the occasion. The home was cleverly decorated in the seasonal tones and the guests had come masked. Much merriment ensued with games and contests.

At an appointed hour a delicious luncheon was served at one long table by the hostess.

Those enjoying the event were Alva and Beulah Hall, Mary Lou Wyant, Catherine Mary Desport, Frank McEllwain, Rose Marie Rosinski, Daryl Hall, Ina May Badger, Ronnie Hazen, Carl Rosinski, Bobby Wyant, Delvy and Lois Brown.

Judge Of Election Named At Ellwood

Upon petition of citizens of the First Ward, Ellwood City, Judge R. L. Hildebrand in county court this morning appointed Harold Sampson as judge of election. J. E. McDonald, the regularly elected judge of election, has moved from the ward.

The Act of Congress may or may not represent the collective wisdom of the country. As often as not, it represents the wisdom of the majority after it has been checked, modified, and perhaps nullified by the opposing wisdom of an almost equal minority.

Coming in, says Paris, are pearls worn with black muffs.

Mrs. Herman Wilson Charming Hostess

Contract Club Members Are Pleasantly Entertained Wednesday Afternoon

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 1.—Dispensing charming hospitality Mrs. Herman Wilson entertained the members of the Contract club Wednesday afternoon at her home on Fountain avenue. Mrs. Jamison of Butler was a special guest.

Bridge was the principal pastime of the evening with two tables in play. Mrs. Charles Morrow and Mrs. William Bayers were presented with the high score awards at the conclusion of the games.

The club will meet in two weeks with Mrs. Morrow in Ewing Park.

'The Deacon Slips' At Pleasant Hill

Spirit Of Tubers Shows Flare-Up

ALIQUIPPA MAY RUN INTO TARTAR

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 1—One of the finest football games of the year at Lincoln field is in propect for Saturday afternoon when Coach Pete Lippe brings his highly rated Aliquippa High eleven to do battle with an Ellwood City Hi team. The largest crowd of the year is expected to witness this game.

This prediction has been made due to new recent developments here. Coach "Ganzy" Benedict's cohorts are fighting mad. The public has openly asserted the team is just coasting along, living on the reputation of one game. Their playing at Monaca last week has been severely criticised. In fact, Coach Benedict and his assistant Faculty manager Mike Ferraro have been rebuked for taking a defensive stand with their players, and bearing the things they have.

The above criticism has been made known to the squad and as a result there has been a sudden flare-up in the spirit of the gridders. In the workouts the last two days grim determination has been written on the faces of the squad. They have resolved to wipe this stigma off their actions and ability as players. The tackling and blocking in a scrimmage yesterday would be called vicious. The plays clicked and worked in precision. The Reserves had a miserable time of it as they scrimmaged against the varsity, using Aliquippa plays.

From all indications there will be a merry battle at Lincoln Field next Saturday and will be one that will be well worth seeing. The locals have built up a special defense against Aliquippa's hard running backs and lateral passes, and at the same time will spring an improved offense, sprinkled with several new spectacular plays, also should bring a score.

CHURCH MEN TO HEAR EDITOR AT SUNDAY MEETING

Men's Bible Classes Joining For Rally; Speaker From Columbus

Members of the adult Men's Bible classes of ten of New Castle's churches and guests from other congregations will hear James G. Daly, Columbus editor, speak at a mass meeting in the First M. E. church auditorium on Sunday morning, November 4, at 9 o'clock.

Mr. Daily is editor of "Sample Case" business men's magazine. His topic here will be "Power of Example."

The gathering, according to J. W. Anderson, First M. E. member, who will preside, has been called solely to spread fellowship among the mens classes to allow them to hear an outstanding speaker.

Men's classes have been invited from the First Baptist, First Presbyterian, Central Presbyterian, Croton M. E., First Christian, First M. E., First U. P., Highland U. P. Third U. P., Epworth M. E. and others.

KOPPEL

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Colon, of Pittsburgh, visited with relatives and friends in Koppel over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Allerton, of Cleveland, O., were in Koppel for a few days where they visited with friends and relatives.

Joseph Stankowitz, of Cleveland, O., visited for several days in Koppel as the guest of Mrs. I. Pavlovio and family, Third avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ross, Koppel-Ellwood road, have returned home from Washington, D. C., where they visited relatives and friends for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Law, of ica's Catholic church, had a very enjoyable Hallowe'en party Tuesday night at the home of their teacher, Miss Sophia Miller.

The costumes were very pretty and a gay time was the guessing who each one was.

Games occupied the evening, with a socially good time.

A delicious lunch was served at a late hour by the hostess, assisted by the Misses Elizabeth Ippolito and Genevieve Pozzuto.

WAMPUM PERSONALS

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Mooney at the New Castle hospital.

J. M. Martin formerly of this place, now of New Castle, is back on his job at Wampum Junction of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

The Junior Sodality of St. Monica, Chicago, Ill., have left for their home following a visit of several days in Koppel at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Law, Third avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Sheatz, and son, and daughter of Cochranton, were guests of the latter's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Orris E. Ford, Second avenue, for a few days. Miss Barbara Hargreave, of Bradford Wood, also spent several days at the Ford home.

Beaver public school, in Big Beaver township, held a Hallowe'en party on Tuesday afternoon in the school rooms. The pupils came in masquerading costumes and after spending the afternoon in games and contests were served with a Hallowe'en lunch. Miss Martha Dubbs is the teacher.

FORMER DANCER STILL GLAMOROUS

Irene Castle McLaughlin and nieces, Miss Elroy, left, and Jane Bradford; inset, Mrs. McLaughlin and "Daisy".

The former dancer and setter of styles, Mrs. Irene Castle McLaughlin (Mrs. Frederick McLaughlin of Chicago), still is glamorous, although her hair has a streak of gray, which, she says, will not be dyed. She is as slim as a girl, and boasts of her family which consists of a nine-year-old daughter, four-year-old son, and two nieces, Elroy, 18, and Jane, 19, Bradford, who have recently come to live with her, on the death of their mother. She recently made some personal appearances and talks on style for a foundation garment company to provide funds for her pet charity, "Orphans of the Storm", a home for dog waifs near Chicago.

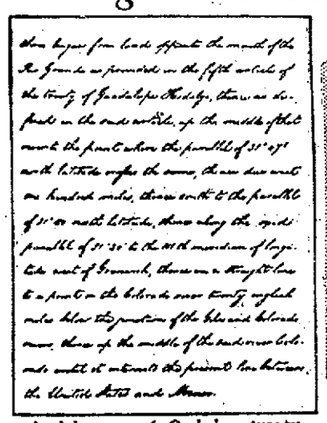
When U.S. Made Gadsden Purchase, Killing Two Birds With One Stone



Article one of Gadsden treaty.

James Gadsden

Location of land obtained in Gadsden Purchase.

THE UNITED STATES government figuratively killed two birds with one stone when it negotiated and completed the Gadsden Purchase back in 1854. The purchase involved a tract of land, 45,535 square miles in area, lying partly within the present state of New Mexico and partly within the present state of Arizona. Uncle Sam had been having some disputes with Mexico over a boundary in that section, and at the same time, the tract was regarded as a desirable route for the projected Southern Pacific railroad. So, James Gadsden, then minister to Mexico, was authorized to make a treaty of sale with Santa Anna, which was negotiated in 1853 and accepted by congress the following year. The price was $10,000,000.

MOVE TO HAVE SINCLAIR WITHDRAW

New Dealers Are Very Much At Sea

Attitude Of Roosevelt Administration Is Problem Of Campaign

ROOSEVELT SILENT AS TO ATTITUDE

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent
Copyright, 1934, By International News Service

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1—When the history of this unusual campaign of 1934 is written there will be no stranger chapter than that which attempts to depict the attitude of the Roosevelt administration toward Upton Sinclair's "EPIC" candidacy for governorship of California.

Democratic "New Dealers" have been divided upon it from the outset, one group contending that the erstwhile socialist is logically entitled to administration support, just as any other Democratic candidate, the other maintaining with vigor that the party could not "afford" to be tied up with a candidacy so baldly radical as that of Sinclair. They still are divided.

Roosevelt Silent

Between these two groups, President Roosevelt has kept silent and said nothing. He received Sinclair at summer White House at Hyde Park, permitted him to do all the talking after their long chat, and neither by word or deed indicated support of or opposition to Sinclair's novel plan for making over California economically.

The latest development in this somewhat bizarre situation came today when it was learned the anti-Sinclair wing of the Democratic strategists are making an eleven-hour effort to have the "EPIC" socialist withdraw from the race in favor of the "progressive-commonwealth" candidate, Raymond L. Haight.

With that object in view, J. F. T. O'Connor, comptroller of the currency, an adopted Californian, and a former law partner of Senator W. K. McAdoo has flown to California to try his persuasive wiles on Sinclair. Efforts to obtain White House approval of his mission were unsuccessful before his departure.

Loan Is Refused

As the story is told in Washington's inner political circles, Sinclair telephoned a prominent California banker in New York last week, whom he apparently believed was not unfriendly, at least not bitterly unfriendly to his candidacy, Sinclair said, in effect, that he was by no means licked in California, polls to the contrary notwithstanding, and that with a modest loan for organization purposes he was certain of victory.

The banker is reported to have listened attentively, and then given a tentatively negative reply to a request for a loan. Thereafter he caught the first train for Washington, where he endeavored to ascertain just exactly how the White House felt toward Sinclair's candidacy. He wanted to know precisely whether the White House wanted to see Sinclair elected or defeated. All he got for his pains was just about what every other inquirer has got—that the White House is keeping entirely aloof from the EPIC (no pun) struggle in California, and would continue to do so.

Then the idea was conceived among the anti-Sinclair strategists among the Democrats here that perhaps Sinclair could be persuaded to withdraw. They reasoned that the fact he was seeking financial assistance augured a weakness which might make Sinclair amenable to reason. And they hit upon J. F. T. ("Jefty") O'Connor as the missionary.

O'Connor then sought White House approval of his mission. He thought if he could go to Sinclair and say the White House desired him to withdraw it would have a powerful persuasive effect. But he did not even see Mr. Roosevelt. He was informed that if he desired to make his pilgrimage as an individual Democrat, as a Californian, that was his business. But as for Mr. Roosevelt, he was keeping entirely out of California's Democratic squabble. O'Connor left disappointed.

long gray beard, walked next to a ringnecked woman from Siam. Even the Dionne quintuplets were in the parade—they seemed to have grown considerably.

Pa Newc learns of a prominent local business man who thought he was immune from the pranks of practical jokers, who had a firecracker bomb attached to the wiring of his car last evening, much to his consternation.

* * *

No witch nor goblin could or would play the prank the Weather Man did last night. He waited until the witching hour of eight and then, when thousands upon thousands of spectators and paraders were lined along the South Side streets, he struck. But if his purpose was to spoil the parade, he was foiled. Yah!

* * *

A solid line of automobiles moved north on Moravia street for a solid half hour after the parade ended. The line extended from Long avenue to the public square. Even more cars jammed South Mill street. No one event of 1934 has drawn a larger assemblage of New Castle automobiles together. Parking space during the parade was at a premium and the cars stood in four-in-line covering the width of Sciota street.

* * *

West Washington street from Front street to Atlantic avenue is now open to traffic and, except for finishing touches, the job of repaving the mid-section from where the street car tracks had been removed has been completed. While the work was in progress traffic was detoured over Front street to Greenwood avenue.

TRAGEDY MARKS OPENING OF STATE HUNTING SEASON

Fred raised his rifle and fired in the darkness of the early morning, according to the coroner.

The bullet ripped through Krumrine's right hip and emerged from the side.

District Attorney W. I. Anderson was notified and was expected to institute prosecution.

Shot In Leg

Greensburg, Pa., Nov. 1.—David Gregory, 33, Mt. Pleasant, was the first Westmoreland county hunting victim reported today.

While hunting with a companion, Gregory was shot in the leg when his friend's gun was discharged. A physician removed 30 pellets from the victim's leg.

Shot In Eye

Pittsburgh, Nov. 1.—Shot in the left eye, George Steiner, motorcycle policeman of suburban Etna, was the first hunting victim reported in this district today.

Steiner, victim of a friend's accidental shot, was removed to St. Vincent's hospital where his condition was not regarded as serious.

Indiana Youth Killed

INDIANA, Pa., Nov. 1.—Accidentally shot and killed by his companion, James Snyder, 17, Indiana, became the first hunting victim in this county today.

Snyder, shot through the shoulder by Frank Barnett, 17, also of Indiana, died a half hour later while being taken into the emergency room at Indiana hospital.

When Snyder missed a shot at a rabbit, Barnett told authorities he raised his gun. Just as he discharged the bullet, Snyder stepped from behind a corn shock into the path of fire and dropped.

Snyder's death was the first of the hunting season in Western Pennsylvania. Barnett was not held but only questioned while authorities investigated the tragedy.

NEW CHARGES BY SENATOR REED IN STATE CAMPAIGN

H. Jones, chairman of the R. F. C., expressing doubt of the truth of Reed's charge, Jones at Washington said:

"I'd wager big odds that it didn't happen. I'd like to see it in black on white to believe it."

Loans to Pennsylvania firms, Jones said, would clear either through the Philadelphia or Pittsburgh offices of the R. F. C., and he added: "I'm perfectly sure that it couldn't have happened in either of those offices."

In voicing his accusation, Reed said the alleged "shakedowns" were executed by Pennsylvania Democrats apparently without the knowledge of Jones or other high officials of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

"Don't Know What's Going On"

"The reason for that is that they don't know what is going on in Pennsylvania in this campaign," Reed said.

He added that he would refuse to name the purportedly victimized borrowers "until such time as they arrange to have banks take over the obligations the moment they are called by R. F. C."

Voters today waited an answer from Joseph F. Guffey, who is campaigning to capture Reed's seat, or any other Democratic candidate or official to the senator's "shakedown" charge. In many quarters Reed's allegation was regarded as at least an indirect reply to the oft-repeated charge that big companies have been coercing their employes to vote Republican next Tuesday.

Addresses Big Meeting

While Reed and his gubernatorial runningmate, Attorney General William A. Schnader, were addressing a monster gathering of Wyoming valley citizens at Wilkes-Barre, Guffey was telling a large audience in Reading last night that severance of party lines has heralded a "political revolution" designed to overthrow the old deal and enthrone the new.

George H. Earle, the Democratic candidate for governor, meantime, was promising Philadelphia voters that, if elected, he will end "government by selfish minorities" and institute "government by and for the people".

Gov. Gifford Pinchot in another ringing address at McKeesport, again lashed at Guffey and Earle, whom he termed "inside enemies" of the Roosevelt regime. He demanded to know where Guffey obtained $150,000 of the $400,000 he repaid the government after relinquishing his post as wartime director of sales for the alien property custodian.

The governor, who is actively supporting Schnader's gubernatorial candidacy, charged that this $150,000 was "written off" by the federal government as a reward for Guffey's work.

Schuykill county and the anthracite region were the centers of campaign activities today, with only five days remaining before the commonwealth's millions of voters express their choice.

The Democratic squadron of nominees invaded Pottsville, while the Republicans descended upon Scranton, scene of intensive efforts on the part of both major parties during the current drive for ballots.

HALLOWE'EN PARADE DRAWS THOUSANDS TO SOUTH SIDE

thousand in line. On foot, on horse and in bedecked automobiles the line moved along in four divisions. Mae West was all mixed up with wild men from Borneo and dancing coryphees were flanked by tramps and gentlemen in evening dress.

Bands Aid Success

Mention of the parade would be incomplete without some reference to the bands. The senior high school band headed the line of march with the Benjamin Franklin junior high school band, the Sons of Veterans Drum Corps and the Croton Drum Corps heading divisions following. In spite of the fact that the rain meant trouble for the drum heads the bands stuck to heir posts and gave the parade the musical touch it needed.

Maurice Markley, the general chairman of the evening, was gratified with the success of the celebration as was Ivor V. Davis, grand marshal. The division marshals consisted of Major Guy J. Wadlinger, Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard, John D. Kennedy and Coroner Orville Potter.

Lots of Prizes.

There were lots of prizes but not enough of course. The prizes were all in cash and ranged from a dime to a $5 bill. The judges had their work cut out deciding who was better than who and while the ones who were given prizes deserved them, the judges were sorry they didn't have twice the number to put out.

The celebration was under the auspices of the South Side Board of Trade and the South Side merchants. The fact that the entire evening was a whale of a success is merely an indication of the work that was done by the men in charge of the affair.

Larger Prizes.

The following list shows the prize winners who were awarded prizes of one dollar or more. The smaller prizes—and there were 150 of them—were not recorded.

Lie Detector Plan Rejected

Attorney For Hauptmann Will Not Allow Lie Detector To Be Used On Subject

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1—An offer to apply the lie detector test to Bruno Richard Hauptmann accussed Lindbergh slaying suspect, was angrily rejected today by James M. Fawcett, counsel for Hauptmann.

The offer was made on behalf of William Moulton Marston, well known in criminologist circles for his invention of the lie detector.

"I am not having any tests of any kind made" Fawcett said, when told of the offer by Marston. "I don't want any psychoanalyst tests or any other tests. I am more interested in getting facts of the case and preparing them."

Fawcett was then asked if he would object if the state of New Jersey applied the lie detector to Hauptmann in the Flemington jail.

"I certainly would object," Fawcett said, angrily. "I wouldn't stand for it. I never heard of such a ridiculous idea. I don't believe the lie detector works anyways."

Mark Hallowe'en In Exercises At Croton

Youngsters' Program Enjoyed By Schoolmates; Spooky Play Features

Children of the 5A class of the Croton school presented a clever Hallowe'en play during school hours yesterday.

Decorated in gay fall colors, the room was filled with corn shocks, pumpkins and autumn foliage. The play, "On All Soul's Eve" was presented at three different periods.

Miss Margaret E. Thomas, dramatic teacher, was assisted by Miss Ann Thomas, music teacher: Miss Claudia Bauman, art teacher and Miss Sara Owen, with make-up and costumes.

The complete program follows:

Piano solo—Christina Giancotti

Poem, "It's Hallowe'en"—Bobby McConnell

Ukulele solo—Roland Crisci

Play—"On All Soul's Eve"

Characters—Godfrey, Bobby Davies: Blackfoot (the cat) Lewis Bernabe: fairy queen, Louise Maciarello: fairy maiden, Mary Agnes Schetrom: fernleaf, Antoinette Rubeis; witch, Helen Bernabe: Graybeard, Donald Shuler: owl, John Fowler; Fays, Christina Giancotti and Jean Malls.

The announcer was Filomena DeRosa and the stage managers were Joe Accica and Floyd Leonelli.

GRADE CROSSING TRAGEDY OCCURS AT WHEATLAND

an eye-witness to the crash, Cadary apparently attempted to beat the train to the crossing.

"From where I was standing that is the way it appeared to me," she said.

"After the crash, I saw a woman flying through the air and the two men were also thrown from the car.

"The woman was thrown into a ditch on one side of the track and the men on the other. The automobile was dragged for about 45 feet before it was thrown off to one side.

"The machine was demolished. Those in it were killed instantly."

The train crew was absolved of blame by Dr. Applegate. The latter returned a verdict of accidental death this afternoon and announced no inquest would be necessary.

"I don't see how it could have happened. The only explanation is that Cadary, who was driving, attempted to beat the train across the tracks. The engine whistle had been blown at two other crossings and a good view of the tracks is possible at the scene of the accident," the coroner said.

The train was traveling about 50 miles an hour, according to the coroner.

Dr. Applegate said Black had been in the habit of getting milk from the Cadarys and that they apparently were taking him home after a visit to their farm about a mile and a half outside of Wheatland.

entrance, the crowds actually broke through. Soldiers and marines were summoned to augment extra police in maintaining order.

Attendance figures for the closing day—and night—shattered all 1934 records and nearly matched the all-time record of 367,004 established on September 3, 1933. Long before the closing ceremonies began yesterday the sixteen millionth visitor for 1934 entered the grounds.

At midnight Rufus C. Dawes, president of the World's fair, threw an electric switch announcing the exposition's close. The signal loosed a thunder of fireworks that rocked the ground and set the skies aflame along a two-mile front on Lake Michigan.

FATAL QUARREL AT CHESS

(International News Service)

BOMBAY—What is believed to be the first case of a fatal quarrel at Chess occurred at Simla. Two cousins were playing peaceably until one claimed to have "queened" a pawn. The other denied it, and the two men came to blows. One received injuries from which he died.

Deaths of the Day

E. C. McClelland Funeral

Funeral services for Edwin C. McClelland, North Beaver township, were held from the home Wednesday afternoon with friends and relatives overflowing the home and filling the home of J. Holmes McClelland, nearby.

The beauty and abundance of the floral tributes were silent testimonies of the extreme popularity of the deceased.

The rites were conducted by the Rev. Ross M. Haverfield of Monongahela City, a former pastor of the Westfield Presbyterian church, assisted by the Rev. Raymond McClelland of Frederickstown, Ohio, a retired minister of 86 years of age, and a cousin of the deceased.

Pallbearers were members of the board of directors of the Golden Dale Creamery of which Mr. McClelland had been secretary for years: J. Clifford Wallace, J. Clarence McFate, David Woods, Perry Heiber, P. B. Hayes and Bert Gouchler. Interment was made in the Mt. Jackson cemetery.

Mrs. George E. Vandivere

Word has been received by friends here of the death of Mrs. George E. Vandivere, at her home in Clyde, O. Tuesday, October 30.

The Vandiveres were former residents of the Seventh Ward, he being a retired Baltimore and Ohio man.

Funeral services will be held on Friday at 1:30 p. m. from the home in Clyde, Ohio.

Time Of Funeral

Funeral services for A. W. Williams, Grove City, will be held from the First Methodist church of Grove City Friday at 2 p. m.

Interment will be made in a Grove City cemetery.

present flight is an exact duplicate "in reverse" of that daring trip.

The two airmen will confer with army weather officials this morning and if it is deemed advisable the starting time may be delayed until later in the day, probably 3 p. m. local time.

Several minor rain disturbances were expected to be encountered, but generally the weather along the route to the mainland was satisfactory.

A heavy rainstorm which had lingered midway between the Hawaiian islands and the Pacific coast for five days has passed inland. This storm had delayed an earlier takeoff.

The flight was exepcted to take between 18 and 20 hours.

HUNTING SEASON IS OPENED TODAY

quail and six squirrels may be legally killed. Federal regulations have cut the number of ducks of a combined kind to 12, and only five of any particular species.

The coming season promises to be a strenuous one for game, as more hunters have purchased licenses this year than ever before in the history of the county. This is due in a great measure to the large number of men who are unemployed. It is likely that the largest bag of game ever recorded in the state will be reported to game authorities.

Rabbit Hunters Out Early As Season Opens

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 1—The roar of shotguns broke the stillness of Pennsylvania's fields and forests today as hunters opened the small game season at dawn.

More than half a million nimrods were estimated to be eligible to try for rabbits, squirrels or game birds which are legal prey during the month. Bad weather conditions in some sections marred the holiday for the nimrods.

Expect Big Kill

Although the daily and season limit has been cut this year, reports from game wardens indicated that rabbits were plentiful. More than 3,000,000 of them probably will be killed before the season closes November 30. Squirrels also were reported numerous.

Hunting game birds, ringnecks, quail, wild turkeys and grouse will be a hide and seek affair with the calendar because of the staggered system in effect this season as a conservation measure.

Combined with the search for rabbits, squirrels and game birds this year will be the hunt for ducks and geese, the season for which opened October 18. Warm fall weather has delayed the migration of the wild birds and virtually no duck hunting has been reported yet. Ducks are fair quarry on Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays.

Police Get Many Calls Hallowe'en

Reports Indicate Depredations Committed By Boys Last Night

Owing to the destruction of porch furniture, lanterns and throwing of tomatoes last night it is probable that Mayor Mayne and Chief of Police Haven will continue the enforcement of the curfew ordinance which became inoperative Tuesday night. The ordinance was enforced because certain boys in different sections carried their actions so far that vandalism resulted.

Last night red lanterns were broken in Ray St. and porch furniture was destroyed in Park avenue. Tomatoes were thrown in Garfield avenue and these acts coupled to numerous calls for police protection may cause the mayor and police chief to consider continuing the curfew law.

Both officials were hunting today but reports have been held on their desks for perusal upon their return.

Call for police protection last night came from Garfield avenue: Reis St and Berger Place, Wallace avenue, Albert street, Park avenue, South Mercer street, Ray street, Hillcrest avenue, Taylor and Pearson streets, Center street, Erie avenue, East Sheridan avenue, Crawford avenue and County L[illegible] street and Court [illegible] and Crawford avenue.

TIRE PRICES ARE INCREASED TODAY

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Leading tire manufacturers today announced a general increase in list prices of from 5 per cent to 14½ per cent. Goodyear Tire & Rubber, however, announced increases of 12 per cent to 25 per cent; depending on the type and brand and on "locally prevailing trade practices."

This advance in price followed the meeting of representatives of the various companies yesterday in Akron.

Richberg Is Now Powerful Figure

Executive Order Makes Richberg First Assistant To President Roosevelt

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Donald R. Richberg today became one of the most powerful men in the administration.

By an executive order from the White House he virtually was made President Roosevelt's first assistant without portfolio when the president consolidated the executive council with the National Emergency Council.

Richberg will serve as executive director of the new organization. It includes every cabinet officer and executive head of the major permanent relief agencies.

Closer Relations

Mr. Roosevelt's order directed that the new organization "serve in an advisory capacity" to its executive director, Richberg.

The National Recovery Administration was brought more closely under the thumb of the president in the same executive order.

The president directed that the Industrial Emergency committee, of which Richberg is also a director, become a subcommittee of the National Emergency Council.

Governor Pinchot Says Probers Have Complete Facts

Says He Has Submitted All Details He Has On Election Expenses

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1. — The Byrnes committee investigating senatorial campaign funds today possessed "all the material I ever saw or had," according to Gov. Gifford Pinchot.

The statement was made by the governor in reply to a letter from Senator Byrnes (D) South Carolina, seeking additional informaton on an alleged conspiracy to conceal political expenditures in Pennsylvania.

The Byrnes letter said he had been told Governor Pinchot possessed a statement which disclosed the "existence of a conspiracy between Senator David A. Reed, (Republican candidate for re-election) and Mr. William A. Schnader (Republican gubernatorial nominee) to conceal the expenditures in behalf of Mr. Reed and sets forth violations by the election laws by the supporters of Senator Reed in the primary election."

Byrnes requested this statement because "it will be very helpful to the committee."

"The Byrnes committee knows everything I know," Governor Pinchot asserted. "The truth is that a former employe of the state has given the committee all the material that I ever saw or had—and more."

Liberty Grange

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

A Hallowe'en party was held in the Liberty Grange Hall, Tuesday evening, with members and friends numbering 175, in attendance. An ideal setting was formed with the usual festive decorations of colored lights, black cats, owls, and corn stalks. At 9 o'clock, the grand march was held with Russell Book, Maxine Richeal, Shirley Wimer and Paul McCandless winning prizes for their costumes. Other forms of entertainment were fortune telling, fishpond, bingo and numerous side shows.

Others winning prizes were Donald Flemming, Jean Lock, Andley Lock, Clyde McCracken, Bertha Kerr, Howard Glenn, J. S. Tucker, Norman Montgomery and Ellis Boyd.

A delicious lunch was served by the social committee.

The next Grange meeting will be held Monday evening, at 8 o'clock, instead of Tuesday, the regular date. The women will present the program on this date.

THE NEW DEAL

After 85 years of existence as a County, and with all the improvements of any kind that have been made during that time, Lawrence County's bonded indebtedness at the present time is only $886,000.

Lawrence County's present assessment for County and Poor purposes is $69,389,280.

But during the first eighteen months of the NEW DEAL the administration's colossal spending of borrowed money has laid a debt of $1,000,000,000 on Pennsylvania, and Lawrence County's share of that Federal debt is $10,000,000.

Within a period of eighteen months the NEW DEAL has put upon the people of Lawrence County eleven times more debt than they had standing against them after 85 years of existence as a County.

Within a period of eighteen months the NEW DEAL has thrust a debt upon Lawrence County amounting to one-seventh of its entire assessment.

THIS POLICY OF EXTRAVAGANCE ON A CONSTANTLY INCREASING SCALE IS THAT THEY ASK YOU TO APPROVE WHEN THEY INVITE YOU TO VOTE FOR DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES.

Go to the polls on November 6th and vote to repudiate this debt increasing policy.

THERE and HERE

In Algiers the people who have something to sell cry their wares from a little stall in the market place. And those who buy saunter from stall to stall making their purchases.

But in New Castle we arrange things somewhat better. The purchaser can review every offer from his easy-chair, simply by reading the brief, pointed descriptions in the Classified Columns.

Market Trading Is Slow Today

No Particular Activity In Any Group In Stock Market Opening Day

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The stock market continued in its rut today with prices showing no material change from last night's closing levels.

Trading was slow and there was no particular activity in any group in the list. Wilson A continued to be an individual feature rising nearly a point to a new high on the movement. Radio Preferred B. also became more active and advanced fractionally.

United States Steel and other industrial shares including Bethlehem and American Can travelled in a narrow range.

In the railroad group trading remained at a minimum and movements were narrow. Atchison and New York Central were fractionally higher, while Lackawanna sold down a small fraction.

There was little to feature the Utility section of the list where Consolidated Gas and other favorites were dull.

Favorable earnings brought some demand for Schenley which soared a gain of nearly a point. Other alcohol shares were quiet.

Farm implement and mail orders rose moderately in sympathy with wheat. Metal stock were quiet as were the oils, chemicals and specialties.

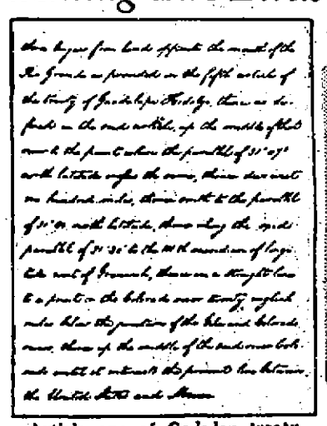
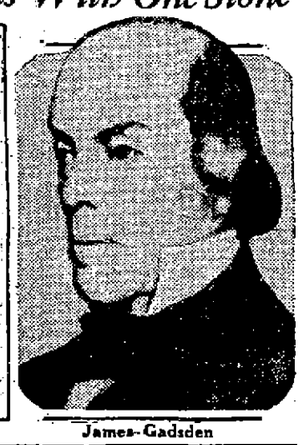
When U.S. Made Gadsden Purchase, Killing Two Birds With One Stone



Article one of Gadsden treaty.



James Gadsden

Location of land obtained in Gadsden Purchase.

THE UNITED STATES government figuratively killed two birds with one stone when it negotiated and completed the Gadsden Purchase back in 1854. The purchase involved a tract of land, 45,535 square miles in area, lying partly within the present state of New Mexico and partly within the present state of Arizona. Uncle Sam had been having some disputes with Mexico over a boundary in that section, and at the same time, the tract was regarded as a desirable route for the projected Southern Pacific railroad. So, James Gadsden, then minister to Mexico, was authorized to make a treaty of sale with Santa Anna, which was negotiated in 1853 and accepted by congress the following year. The price was $10,000,000.

BIG HALLOWE'EN CELEBRATION IS HELD IN ELLWOOD

Hundreds Participate In Mammoth Parade; Other Hundreds Line Streets

PRIZES AWARDED FOR MANY COSTUMES

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 1—A glorious success was the decision of hundreds of people of Ellwood City and vicinity when they participated in the annual Hallowe'en celebration here on Wednesday evening

Everything just turned out right for the affair. Even the rain kept away until the whole thing was over. Hundreds took active part in a mammoth parade through the main street of the city, while other hundreds lined the entire route of the parade.

The affair was run off just about to perfection and was a distinct credit to Burgess Judd C. Turner and his various active committees. Burgess Turner today expressed his gratitude for the invaluable aid rendered the affair by the local merchants, Kiwanis Club, and anyone who had any connection with it.

It was a grand evening of noise, merry-making and fun. The parade was formed on First avenue in the Fourth ward, where the mummers were placed in their respective groups. They were judged here accordingly by the members of the local Kiwanis Club, who gave out tickets for the various prizes which are to be claimed today in the store designated.

Matters were so well arranged that the parade moved sharply at 7:15. Led by the American Legion Eugle and Drum Corps in their flashy uniforms the parade moved across the Fifth street bridge. The Ellwood High school band led a division of floats and cars. It moved up Lawrence avenue to Eighth street and thence to the P. and L. E. grounds where it disbanded.

Never was such a versatility in costumes observed before in such an event. It included patriotic, historic, comic and several features. Just about everything imaginable was represented. The judges had a time of it in making decisions. The noise of rattles, horns and cars filled the streets for two hours. The street cleaner was kept busy this morning in clearing the confetti and paper off the streets. The parade included old automobiles, decorated horse and buggy and two or three floats.

It was clearly a night when the spirits, ghosts, goblins, witches, fairies and devils, roamed about the streets without molest. Although a deep respect was held for them by the youngsters, they were not looked upon with such awe, under the circumstances.

All in all the evening was a complete success in every detail.

Krauth Funeral Here Tomorrow

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 1.—The remains of Fred Krauth, former local resident, who died at Chicago, will be brought here tomorrow morning for burial from Pittsburgh, where services were held from the home of a sister.

The body will be brought to the First Presbyterian church here at 11 o'clock. Friends may view the remains anytime after that. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock with the Rev. A. M. Stevenson officiating. Burial will be made in the Locust Grove cemetery.

Masquerade Party Is Held By Club

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 1.—Miss Lucille Jackson delightfully entertained the members of the Sub Deb club at a masquerade party at her home on the Country club road. The boy friends of the members were special guests.

The evening was thoroughly enjoyed with dancing, games and contests amidst clever decorations. At an appointed hour a dainty luncheon was served by the hostess, with the assistance of her mother, Mrs. Fred Jackson.

Funeral Rites For Mrs. C. Westfall

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 1—Funeral services for Mrs. Caroline Westfall, a former resident of this city, whose death occurred at her home in Newark Valley, N. Y., following a brief illness, were held yesterday afternoon from the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. E. Miller of the Ellwood-New Castle road.

Rev. Thomas Berger of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church assisted by Rev. Charles Bell, conducted the services. A quartet from the Slippery Rock church contributed two beautiful numbers, "The Old Rugged Cross" and "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere."

Pallbearers were: William, John Lee and Fred Whitehouse, James Gibbons and Clarence McCaslin, all of this city and nephews of the deceased. Interment was made in the Locust Grove cemetery.

Hallowe'en Party At Pleasant Hill

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 1.—A very pleasant Hallowe'en party was enjoyed at the home of Lois Brown at Pleasant Hill, when she entertained a group of young people.

Everything was in keeping with the occasion. The home was cleverly decorated in the seasonal tones and the guests had come masked. Much merriment ensued with games and contests.

At an appointed hour a delicious luncheon was served at one long table by the hostess.

Those enjoying the event were Alva and Beulah Hall, Mary Lou Wyant, Catherine Mary Despert, Frank McEllwain, Rose Marie Rosinski, Daryl Hall, Ina May Badger, Ronnie Hazen, Carl Rosinski, Bobby Wyant, Delvy and Lois Brown.

Judge Of Election Named At Ellwood

Upon petition of citizens of the First Ward, Ellwood City, Judge R. L. Hildebrand in county court this morning appointed Harold Sampson as judge of election. J. E. McDonald, the regularly elected judge of election, has moved from the ward.

The Act of Congress may or may not represent the collective wisdom of the country. As often as not, it represents the wisdom of the majority after it has been checked, modified, and perhaps nullified by the opposing wisdom of an almost equal minority.

Coming in, says Paris, are pearls worn with black muffs.

Mrs. Herman Wilson Charming Hostess

Contract Club Members Are Pleasantly Entertained Wednesday Afternoon

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 1.—Dispensing charming hospitality Mrs. Herman Wilson entertained the members of the Contract club Wednesday afternoon at her home on Fountain avenue. Mrs. Jamison of Butler was a special guest.

Bridge was the principal pastime of the evening with two tables in play. Mrs. Charles Morrow and Mrs. William Bayers were presented with the high score awards at the conclusion of the games.

The club will meet in two weeks with Mrs. Morrow in Ewing Park.

'The Deacon Slips' At Pleasant Hill

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 1.—"The Deacon Slips", a three-act comedy, will be presented at the Pleasant Hill Grange hall on Friday evening at 8 o'clock by members of the Center U. P. church.

The following cast will perform:

Deacon Slips from Center Square—C. G. Johnston.

Mildred Greendale, owner of farms—Mrs. Scott Guy.

Freda, the daughter—Annabell Gibson.

Paul Hearman, Mildred's suitor—Norman McHattie.

Spirit Of Tubers Shows Flare-Up

ALIQUIPPA MAY RUN INTO TARTAR

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 1—One of the finest football games of the year at Lincoln field is in propect for Saturday afternoon when Coach Nate Lippe brings his highly rated Aliquippa High eleven to do battle with an Ellwood City Hi team. The largest crowd of the year is expected to witness this game.

This prediction has been made due to new recent developments here. Coach "Ganzy" Benedict's cohorts are fighting mad. The public has openly asserted the team is just coasting along, living on the reputation of one game. Their playing at Monaca last week has been severely criticised. In fact, Coach Benedict and his assistant Faculty manager Mike Ferraro have been rebuked for taking a defensive stand with their players, and bearing the things they have.

The above criticism has been made known to the squad and as a result there has been a sudden flare-up in the spirit of the gridders. In the workouts the last two days grim determination has been written on the faces of the squad. They have resolved to wipe this stigma off their actions and ability as players. The tackling and blocking in a scrimmage yesterday would be called vicious. The plays clicked and worked in precision. The Reserves had a miserable time of it as they scrimmaged against the varsity, using Aliquippa plays.

From all indications there will be a merry battle at Lincoln Field next Saturday and will be one that will be well worth seeing. The locals have built up a special defense against Aliquippa's hard running backs and lateral passes, and at the same time will spring an improved offense, sprinkled with several new spectacular plays, also should bring a score.

CHURCH MEN TO HEAR EDITOR AT SUNDAY MEETING

Men's Bible Classes Joining For Rally; Speaker From Columbus

Members of the adult Men's Bible classes of ten of New Castle's churches and guests from other congregations will hear James G. Daly, Columbus editor, speak at a mass meeting in the First M. E. church auditorium on Sunday morning, November 4, at 9 o'clock.

Mr. Daily is editor of "Sample Case" business men's magazine. His topic here will be "Power of Example."

The gathering, according to J. W. Anderson, First M. E. member, who will preside, has been called solely to spread fellowship among the mens classes to allow them to hear an outstanding speaker.

Men's classes have been invited from the First Baptist, First Presbyterian, Central Presbyterian, Croton M. E., First Christian, First M. E., First U. P., Highland U. P. Third U. P., Epworth M. E. and others.

KOPPEL

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Colon, of Pittsburgh, visited with relatives and friends in Koppel over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Allerton, of Cleveland, O., were in Koppel for a few days where they visited with friends and relatives.

Joseph Stankowitz, of Cleveland, O., visited for several days in Koppel as the guest of Mrs. I. Pavlovio and family, Third avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ross, Koppel-Ellwood road, have returned home from Washington, D. C., where they visited relatives and friends for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Law, of ica's Catholic church, had a very enjoyable Hallowe'en party Tuesday night at the home of their teacher, Miss Sophia Miller.

The costumes were very pretty and a gay time was the guessing who each one was.

Games occupied the evening, with a socially good time.

A delicious lunch was served at a late hour by the hostess, assisted by the Misses Elizabeth Ippolito and Genevieve Pozzuto.

WAMPUM PERSONALS

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Mooney at the New Castle hospital.

J. M. Martin formerly of this place, now of New Castle, is back on his job at Wampum Junction of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

WAMPUM

ATTEND PRESBYTERIAL

Wampum missionary ladies of the Presbyterian church who are in Mahoningtown today attending the Presbyterial held in the Presbyterian church are Mesdames J. C. F. Jackson, H. W. Marshall, W. A. Brown, C. B. Morrow, J. G. Bingham, E. L. Hennon, C. H. Butler, J. D. Shallabrer, Geo. Herbert, O. L. Jackson, W. D. Dindinger and Clarence Stapf.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

The Junior Sodality of St. Monica's church, Chicago, Ill., have left for their home following a visit of several days in Koppel at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Law, Third avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Sheatz, and son, and daughter of Cochranton, were guests of the latter's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Orris P. Ford, Second avenue, for a few days. Miss Barbara Hargreave, of Bradford Wood, also spent several days at the Ford home.

Beaty public school, in Big Beaver township, held a Hallowe'en party on Tuesday afternoon in the school rooms. The pupils came in masquerading costumes and after spending the afternoon in games and contests were served with a Hallowe'en lunch. Miss Martha Dubbs is the teacher.

FORMER DANCER STILL GLAMOROUS

Irene Castle McLaughlin and nieces, Miss Elroy, left, and Jane Bradford; inset, Mrs. McLaughlin and "Daisy".

The former dancer and setter of styles, Mrs. Irene Castle McLaughlin (Mrs. Frederick McLaughlin of Chicago), still is glamorous, although her hair has a streak of gray, which, she says, will not be dyed. She is as slim as a girl, and boasts of her family which consists of a nine-year-old daughter, four-year-old son, and two nieces, Elroy, 18, and Jane, 19, Bradford, who have recently come to live with her, on the death of their mother. She recently made some personal appearances and talks on style for a foundation garment company to provide funds for her pet charity, "Orphans of the Storm", a home for dog waifs near Chicago.

Rabbit Hunters Out Early As Season Opens

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 1—The roar of shotguns broke the stillness of Pennsylvania's fields and forests today as hunters opened the small game season at dawn.

More than half a million nimrods were estimated to be eligible to try for rabbits, squirrels or game birds which are legal prey during the month. Bad weather conditions in some sections marred the holiday for the nimrods.

Expect Big Kill

Although the daily and season limit has been cut this year, reports from game wardens indicated that rabbits were plentiful. More than 3,000,000 of them probably will be killed before the season closes November 30. Squirrels also were reported numerous.

Hunting game birds, ringnecks, quail, wild turkeys and grouse will be a hide and seek affair with the calendar because of the staggered system in effect this season as a conservation measure.

Combined with the search for rabbits, squirrels and game birds this year will be the hunt for ducks and geese, the season for which opened October 18. Warm fall weather has delayed the migration of the wild birds and virtually no duck hunting has been reported yet. Ducks are fair quarry on Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays.

Police Get Many Calls Hallowe'en

Reports Indicate Depredations Committed By Boys Last Night

Owing to the destruction of porch furniture, lanterns and throwing of tomatoes last night it is probable that Mayor Mayne and Chief of Police Haven will continue the enforcement of the curfew ordinance which became inoperative Tuesday night. The ordinance was enforced because certain boys in different sections carried their actions so far that vandalism resulted.

Last night red lanterns were broken in Ray St. and porch furniture was destroyed in Park avenue. Tomatoes were thrown in Garfield avenue and these acts coupled to numerous calls for police protection may cause the mayor and police chief to consider continuing the curfew law.

Both officials were hunting today but reports have been laid on their desks for perusal upon their return.

Call for police protection last night came from Garfield avenue: Reis St. and Berger Place, Wallace avenue, Albert street, Park avenue, South Mercer street, Ray street, Hillcrest avenue, Taylor and Pearson streets, Center street, Erie avenue, East Sheridan avenue, Crawford avenue and County L...e street and Court s... and Crawford avenue.

TIRE PRICES ARE INCREASED TODAY

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Leading tire manufacturers today announced a general increase in list prices of from 5 per cent to 14½ per cent. Goodyear Tire & Rubber, however, announced increases of 12 per cent to 25 per cent; depending on the type and brand and on "locally prevailing trade practices."

This advance in price followed the meeting of representatives of the various companies yesterday in Akron.

Richberg Is Now Powerful Figure

Executive Order Makes Richberg First Assistant To President Roosevelt

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Donald R. Richberg today became one of the most powerful men in the administration.

By an executive order from the White House he virtually was made President Roosevelt's first assistant without portfolio when the president consolidated the executive council with the National Emergency Council.

Richberg will serve as executive director of the new organization. It includes every cabinet officer and executive head of the major permanent relief agencies.

Closer Relations

Mr. Roosevelt's order directed that the new organization "serve in an advisory capacity" to its executive director, Richberg.

The National Recovery Administration was brought more closely under the thumb of the president in the same executive order.

The president directed that the Industrial Emergency committee, of which Richberg is also a director, become a subcommittee of the National Emergency Council.

Governor Pinchot Says Probers Have Complete Facts

Says He Has Submitted All Details He Has On Election Expenses

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1. — The Byrnes committee investigating senatorial campaign funds today possessed "all the material I ever saw or had," according to Gov. Gifford Pinchot.

The statement was made by the governor in reply to a letter from Senator Byrnes (D) South Carolina, seeking additional informaton on an alleged conspiracy to conceal political expenditures in Pennsylvania.

The Byrnes letter said he had been told Governor Pinchot possessed a statement which disclosed the "existence of a conspiracy between Senator David A. Reed, (Republican candidate for re-election) and Mr. William A. Schnader (Republican gubernatorial nominee) to conceal the expenditures in behalf of Mr. Reed and sets forth violations by the election laws by the supporters of Senator Reed in the primary election."

Byrnes requested this statement because "it will be very helpful to the committee."

"The Byrnes committee knows everything I know," Governor Pinchot asserted. "The truth is that a former employe of the state has given the committee all the material that I ever saw or had—and more."

Constable R. J. McComb of Plainsgrove township, appointed J. A. Hamilton for the first precinct.

Constable J. C. Kennedy of the third ward, appointed Harry Lawrence for the second district; L. R. Bryan for the third and William Miles for the fourth.

Constable Thomas F. O'Brien of Union township appointed Carl Rodgers for the second district; Louis N. Zeigler for the third, and Stanley Baron for the fourth.

Liberty Grange

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

A Hallowe'en party was held in the Liberty Grange Hall, Tuesday evening, with members and friends numbering 175, in attendance. An ideal setting was formed with the usual festive decorations of colored lights, black cats, owls, and corn stalks. At 9 o'clock, the grand march was held with Russell Book, Maxine Richeal, Shirley Wimer and Paul McCandless winning prizes for their costumes. Other forms of entertainment were fortunte telling, fishpond, bingo and numerous side shows.

Others winning prizes were Donald Flemming, Jean Lock, Andley Lock, Clyde McCracken, Bertha Kerr, Howard Glenn, J. S. Tucker, Norman Montgomery and Ellis Boyd.

A delicious lunch was served by the social committee.

The next Grange meeting will be held Monday evening, at 8 o'clock, instead of Tuesday, the regular date. The women will present the program on this date.

THE NEW DEAL

After 85 years of existence as a County, and with all the improvements of any kind that have been made during that time, Lawrence County's bonded indebtedness at the present time is only $886,000.

Lawrence County's present assessment for County and Poor purposes is $69,389,280.

But during the first eighteen months of the NEW DEAL the administration's colossal spending of borrowed money has laid a debt of $1,000,000,000 on Pennsylvania, and Lawrence County's share of that Federal debt is $10,000,000.

Within a period of eighteen months the NEW DEAL has put upon the people of Lawrence County eleven times more debt than they had standing against them after 85 years of existence as a County.

Within a period of eighteen months the NEW DEAL has thrust a debt upon Lawrence County amounting to one-seventh of its entire assessment.

THIS POLICY OF EXTRAVAGANCE ON A CONSTANTLY INCREASING SCALE IS THAT THEY ASK YOU TO APPROVE WHEN THEY INVITE YOU TO VOTE FOR DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES.

Go to the polls on November 6th and vote to repudiate this debt increasing policy.

THE NAVAL CONFERENCE TANGLE

IT IS becoming more and more clear that discussions which were intended to pave the way for a new naval agreement by the United States, Japan and Great Britain have all but failed of their purpose, declares the Philadelphia Inquirer. The British Prime Minister seems to have a vague hope that something definite may yet be accomplished; but his feeling is not shared by either the American or the Japanese delegates. The latter have frankly admitted that the principle of equality as the basis for a new treaty has not been accepted by the former and will not be. "Of what use is it," they ask, "to go on discussing details?" But Mr. MacDonald has an immense belief in the power of rhetoric and he still feels that some compromise is possible.

With Great Britain nominally on the side of the United States, but apparently open to conviction by Japan, though all her interests coincide with ours, the discussions have resolved themselves into a deadlock which there seems to be small chance of breaking. Probably no one is yet ready to admit that it is a failure. But plainly Japan intends to have, if possible, a naval force which will give her the mastery of the Pacific. All her ambitions point in that direction.

The threat alike to American and to British interests is undisguised. Nor should the British government believe that any yielding to Japan will secure its interests while endangering ours. The Japanese policy in this instance is familiar. Sow discord between the United States and Great Britain and the conquest of Asia will become the more easy.

At this moment Japan has somewhat naively disclosed her purpose by the trade designs of her puppet Manchukuo, in whose name she is preparing to establish a monopoly, not only in oil, but in other articles of commerce. By this means the Open Door is to be tightly closed. Thus Japan repudiates a treaty of which she is a signer. But what matter?

Naturally she wants a big navy to enable her to pursue unmolested her career of plunder. We wish we could believe that Solomon was right when he said, "Surely in vain the net is spread in the sight of any bird."

THE NEWSPAPER BOY

The boy has a natural right to equip himself for the responsibilities of the man. When he comes to manhood he must be self-supporting, self-reliant; he must be capable, useful, competent and willing to do his part; he must know enough of the world and of its people to find his part, recognize the parts of others, understand the community of service; in short, he must be able to get along, by himself and with others. Boyhood is an apprenticeship for manhood.

This is one of the fundamental reasons why the newspaper boy is happy and fortunate in his vocation, and why he should be encouraged to develop the opportunities it offers.

The newspaper boy is a young merchant. He deals with the public, as does the tradesman. The conditions of success are elemental. He is the master of his own fortune. He must render good service. He must be dependable. He must be prompt, punctual, attentive to the duty. He must be enterprising, energetic; he finds that his personality counts; success comes in the measure he works for it. He learns to know people, appreciates the fact that they are not all alike, acquires the tact of dealing with folks of varying natures.

Of all the various employments for the boy, newspaper service fits best in his schedule. It takes but comparatively few hours of his time; it does not interfere with school or studies; it leaves him time for necessary play. It requires attention during its hours, discipline that counts for much in manhood experience. But he is on his own and he pays for his defaults and he gets the reward for his merits.

Boys need experience as well as precept in learning to be men. It is a boy's right to gain that experience, and, to do that, he must have some measure of responsibility, obligations of self-control, merits and demerits definitely resulting from his own efforts or neglect.

The newspaper boy gets this opportunity of experience, learns its lessons, takes its tests, meets its judgment of self-measurement. He is studying, learning, to be a man. And the record of his achievement, in thousands of individual cases, in the general mark-up of industry and enterprise and thrift, and all that makes for effective manhood and good citizenship, is a convincing proof that he goes to a good school.

FEEDING THE WORLD

As nearly as can be estimated, the population of the world reached 850 millions in 1800 and in the century between that and 1900 it practically doubled. It is now about 1,750 million.

When it is considered that it took the human race possibly half a million years to reach 880 million and only 100 years to double that number the fact is significant. Looking into the future, it must be remembered that human life is being lengthened and preserved through better observance of the laws of health and the advancement of science; also that if in the future wars can be reduced, still greater increase may be expected.

The question naturally arises, for how many people can the earth supply the necessary food? When, if ever, will famine become general, instead of occasional and local, as in the past and present?

So far, there is ample food in the world, if it could be distributed where it is needed. But right now hundreds of thousands in the Near East, in Russia, in India, in China and in many other parts of the world are dying from lack of food.

In the past hundred years vast new areas of fertile land have been opened to cultivation, but famine still exists, partly through congestion of populations and partly through lack of transportation.

While this problem may not seriously affect America for several generations, at the present rate of increase in population it will only be a question of time until the food situation will be a grave one for the entire world, unless improved chemical means for sustaining life can be practically developed.

Probably the civic clubs of the distant future will be trying to get rid of people, instead of boosting for bigger towns.

Higher prices are the goal of the recovery program, the president says. There still seems to be some doubt, though, as to how to have things sold at high prices and bought at low ones.

THAT LADY LUCK

We flatter the lady, but we fear her. We beg her favor, but we whisper behind her back...We call her Lady Luck, but we do not trust her. We take off our hats to her, bow deeply, tell her how beautiful she is. But we are afraid of her.

We worship her, but we fear her sudden whims and fancies...She is a siren, a vixen. Those lovely eyes may change from soft velvet to hard green. That queenly nose may wrinkle in derision. Her red-red mouth may harden and sneer. And that charming chin may set in anger.

At times she is such a heartless wench. She will kick a man when he is down, scatter her favors lavishly on him when he needs them no more. A silky lass. A Circe making swine of men. A harpy with claws of steel. A siren sitting on a cushion and singing the latest popular song. A sibyl frenzied in her cave telling the fortunes of men with drifting leaves.

And yet she can be so lovely, so gentle and so generous, so soft and so surrendering, with a fair fragrance about her lips and the grace of the swan, such an innocent lass, such a brooding and tender mother of men.

She plays Queen Midas for you and all you touch turns to gold. She stands behind you, filches the aces and kings from other hands and slips them into yours. She brings you through the blackest darkness, out of the most frightening peril. She sets a stone beneath your feet in the quicksands, guides the floating spar to the sinking sailor, brings the sad lad to his destined sweetheart, her strong armed lover to the delicate maid. Does these and many another gracious deeds.

Is it strange men fear and curse her in their hearts, grovel as she passes by, hope for her favor with the last earthly breath? Mouth bold platitudes about being the captains of their souls, the masters of their own fate, but keep a secret longing in their hearts for imperious and gracious Lady Luck?

Is it strange that those prayers of men stream up to her in such numbers that they darken the summer sky? She is so sweet and she is so cruel. She is Lady Luck!... And I wouldn't dream of saying a sincere word against her. All through this article I've had my fingers crossed.

OCCASIONAL REST BOLSTERS EFFICIENCY

It is wonderful to note what a little rest will do for the jaded mind.

At times it is positively necessary to throw off worry and care.

It is sometimes best to stop working and catch up with your mind.

The mind races ahead and directs action, at the same time it worries about results.

The mind works faster than the eyes can see.

But the hands will keep up to a certain degree, with the mind if trained to do so.

However, few people realize the help that the mind can give.

Few people are sufficiently convinced that rest is necessary at intervals to do good work and accomplish more.

There are the plodders—never going so fast that they lose balance. They plug along and are sure and safe.

They never "set the world afire", but are inclined to put themselves to sleep as well as those who are around them.

The real worker begins not too fast, tries to understand what he is doing, finally strikes a rhythmic swing and gradually increases speed and efficiency.

Try it when you take up a new work and prove to yourself what a help it is in mastering any kind of work, mental or physical always resting or easing up at intervals.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

ABOUT HOG KILLING TIME

It is reported that the Federal Department of Agriculture has received the following letter from a worried farmer:

"About three weeks ago, 'Jonas', the Don Juan of the pig lot, broke into the pen of 'Esmeralda', my prize brood sow. I am a little worried about this and hurry to write you for instructions.

"'Esmeralda' has been about the place three or four years. She is a great family pig, and in the past her litters have run from nineteen to twenty-seven. I signed up under the corn-hog program and I don't want to lose any of my rights under that contract.

"As I said, if 'Esmeralda' keeps up

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 4:58. Sun rises tomorrow 6:30.

Wonder what some of the old time girls would say if they could come back and see the stocking advertisements in the newspapers. They had just as nice things then to put in stockings as they have now, but they were not to be seen.

An East Side woman was shocked when she learned that the cleaners found $5 in her husband's pockets. "Why, I went through every pocket in that suit myself!" she gasped.

Some people never could see any sense in two-pants suits. A suit with two pairs of pants simply means five more pockets to lose a key in.

Heard at the corner of Mercer and Washington street: Old gentleman: "That, Martha, is a skyscraper." Old lady: "A skpscraper? Land sakes, I'd like to see it work."

The extent of some people's charity is confined to helping a rumor on its way.

A woman got a divorce from her husband on the grounds of desertion and failure to show interest in matrimonial duties. She got the divorce in 30 minutes after she asked for it. That must be something real serious.

If the chaps who play football would get a clout in the classroom like they do playing football they would yell for the gendarmes and arrets the school district for mayhem and assault and battery with attempt to commit manslaughter.

O stop and let the train go by,
It hardly takes a minute;
Your car then starts again intact—
And, what is more, you're in it.

A WOMAN'S IDEA OF UTOPIA

I said I would like to read a woman's idea of Utopia.

"A woman's idea of Utopia," a woman writes, "is to have her husband far smarter than she is in the necessary activities of life. Such a husband earns more money than she could, and spends and invests it with better sense

"He makes it possible for her to be with interesting and important people.

"He flatters her constantly. And considers it definitely his business to make her life a success.

"Sweet Utopia, where a woman can be a woman, discarding forever the idea of a tuxedo for evening and trousers and jacket for business. No more being drafted for double duty.

"She has time to keep herself decorative. To be the favorite companion of her children. And to contribute the qualities which are her special heritage.

"P. S.—It can't be so, so what's the use?"

Can any woman outline a better Utopia?"

Drunken walkers are also the cause of a great many automobile accidents on the roads. They also used to be run over by horses and are not a new thing. A drunk driving a horse always had the horse to furnish the brains for him on the road.

"How did you know that I was a cave man?" asked a Books Woods youth of Miss Flossie Ketchum of West Pittsburg. "Oh, it's very obvious," answered Flossie. "The cave is in your brain."

SURE ENOUGH

Two colored gentlemen who had just reduced the population of a farmer's henroost, were making a getaway.

"Laws, Mose," gasped Sam, "why you s'pose them flies follows us so close?"

"Keep gallopin', nigger," said Mose, "them ain't flies. Them's buckshot."

He—Yes, and they've been before them most of the time since.

OR, MODERN CONVENIENCES

Bomb me if you've heard this one, but it seems as if two convicts were sitting in their cell one night in the Indiana penitentiary. One of them was anxious to get his pardon and sought counsel of the other.

"How can I get a pardon?" he said. "Is it easy?"

"Easy?—well, I hope!" said the second. "Hey, Governor, how about a pardon for my friend Mike here?"

"Sure," came the reply from the next cell.

Aunt Nellie—Well, Bobby, did you see Santa Claus on Christmas?

Bobby—No, Auntie. It was too dark to see him, but I heard what he said when he knocked his toe against the bedpost.

There are two ways to become proud and happy: (1) Be good, and (2) get through with the dentist.

Doris, radiant over a recent addition to the family, rushed out to tell a neighbor.

"Oh, you don't know what we've got upstairs!"

"What is it?" the neighbor asked.

"A new baby brother," said Doris, and she watched very closely the effect of her announcement.

"You don't say so!" the neighbor exclaimed. "Is he going to stay?"

"I think so," said Doris. "He's got his things off."

A TRIFLE ROUNDABOUT

City girl: "What's worrying you, Dave, dear?"

Dave: "I was just wanderin' if dad would be sport enough to do th' milkin' w'en we're on our honeymoon, s'posin' yeh said 'Yes' if I asked yer."

It takes more than 1,500 nuts to hold an automobile together. It takes only one to scatter it all over the landscape.

Little Emily had been to school for the first time.

"Well, darling, and what did you learn?" asked her mother on Emily's return.

"Nothing," sighed Emily hopelessly, "I've got to go back tomorrow."—The Rouser.

Worst joke I ever heard:

Mother: "Are his intentions honorable?"

Daughter: "I'm afraid so."

LIFE'S LITTLE AGONIES

There is a college boy who does not believe in brevity. Why not? He wrote his father a letter like this:

"No mon, no fun. Your Son."

And what the father wrote back:

"How sad. Too bad. Your Dad."

"How about that telephone girl who married a radio crooner for love?"

"The line is still busy."

"What do you mean?"

"She's taking in washing on the side."

Beauty may be only skin deep, but just the same it sidetracks many a harsh word from the traffic cop.

Probable Progressive Program
High Thoughts Spoken During Campaign
Du Ponts Take Delaware From Roosevelt

Central Press
New York Bureau

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—We spoke yesterday of the probable program of the progressives, at the coming session of congress. The progressives will be the balance of power, for they will draw to their fold the numerous individualists who are coming into congress at this election.

It will not be so much a Roosevelt victory as a continuation of the evolution which swept the president into office.

No better estimate of the aims of the progressives can be made than in a statement of the People's Lobby made by Benjamin C. March, executive secretary of the Lobby. The Lobby always has been closely affiliated with the progressives.

Says Mr. Marsh:

"The People's Lobby, of which Professor John Dewey, of New York, is president, has adopted a slogan, 'To balance consumption and production by eliminating profit.'

"Its program includes:

"(1) Increased taxation of the rich, socialization of ground rent and reduction of interest rates as steps toward the elimination of profit.

"(2) Public ownership of banking, natural resources, transportation, communication and all basic industries.

"(3) Government marketing and government housing corporations.

"(4) International co-operation through increased freedom of exchange and allocation of natural resources and raw materials.

"Bills will be introduced in the next congress to carry out this program."

HIGH THOUGHTS

This election campaign, or, rather, the period in which this campaign is occurring, seems full of unusually interesting expressions, as opposed to periods of the past.

We shall bring some of the thoughts to light.

* * *

MRS. POOLE

Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, remarks:

"If we could take the profits out of war-making we could prevent war. If it were done you would see a diminution of the war spirit."

DU PONTS

Which brings to mind that the du Ponts, who turned on President Roosevelt because of the New Deal, have exerted terrific pressure to keep Delaware in the Republican column this election. Word comes that the du Ponts probably will be successful, through their "control" of their home town of Wilmington. Thus small town banker John G. Townsend, Republican, probably will be re-elected to the senate.

Alfred E. Smith, who is associated with the du Ponts in the Empire State building, in New York City, may be somewhat embarrassed over their turning Republican again with such a vengeance.

* * *

THOMAS

Norman Thomas, running for U. S. senator in New York on the Socialist ticket, has been attacking Democrats and Republicans alike.

Here is one shot of his:

"I am utterly opposed to the Vinson bill expanding the navy. And a race in armaments is madness and tragedy.

"I am opposed to wasting our money on appropriations for reserve officers' training corps in high schools and colleges. It is worse than a waste of money; it is an attempt to militarize the minds of our young men. Equally I am opposed to appropriations for the civilian military training camp."

* * *

FARLEY

Postmaster General James A. Farley denounces attackers of the president in such words as these:

"As I define a dictator, it will be clear to every one that Franklin D. Roosevelt and his great program for lifting the American people to a higher plane of living is immediately acquitted of any such monstrous charge."

* * *

SMITH

Alfred E. Smith asserts that waste in duplicating county governments as against a modernized single unit may be compared to the speed of the old-style train against the new streamliner.

* * *

MRS. ROOSEVELT

Mrs. Roosevelt, speaking in behalf of Mrs. Caroline O'Day, Democratic candidate for representative-at-large in New York state, asserts:

"We have short memories. In the spring of 1933 people came to Washington and said: 'Take our business. Do anything with it to make it run.'

"Now the sick man is better and doesn't like 'regulation'. He wants to get back and make as much profit as possible. He doesn't think about his neighbor. But the only good we care about is the good of the people."

She emphasizes that the NRA codes "were made by the industries themselves; you get the idea that these codes were imposed".

* * *

NEW CABINET OFFICER

There now appears to have been a reason why bankers fell all over themselves to get aboard the Roosevelt band wagon. A rumor now heard by the public was heard first by the bankers — that Jackson E. Reynolds, president of the First National Bank of New York, America's most conservative bank, would succeed Henry Morgenthau, Jr., as secretary of the treasury.

TODAY Is The Day

By CLARK KINNAIRD Copyright 1934 Central Press

THURSDAY, NOV. 1

The World War Day By Day, Nov. 1, 1914—Once more there was a blunder in London. The size of the German Pacific squadron was known, and to send such old and inadequate vessels to meet it was to send ships and men to certain doom.

The battle had been Admiral Graf Von Spee's for more than a month when his squadron encountered Admiral Sir Christopher Cradock's squadron 40 miles off Coronel, Chile.

Cradock had the armoured cruisers, Good Hope and Monmouth, light cruiser Glasgow and the armed merchant cruiser Otranto with which to face the armoured cruisers Scharnhorst and Gneisenau and the light cruisers Leipzig, Vurnberg and Dresden. In the heavy weather the Good Hope and Monmouth could not fight their main-deck guns. The Germans in addition had the inestimable advantage of having been in commission for two years and being in a state of prime gunnery efficiency, whereas the Good Hope and Monmouth had been lying idle in the dockyards, manned entirely with reserve men, at the outbreak of the war.

The first shot was fired at 7:04 p. m. at a range of a little more than six miles. At 8:50 it was all over. The fastest and most formidable British ships, Monmouth and Good Hope were sunk; the slowest and least powerful got away. Cradock went to a watery grave with his flag flying.

The news fell like a thunderclap upon London four days later. A half dozen ships of Britain's matchless navy destroyed within a few days by mines, torpedoes and shell fire.

There was no suspicion that his sympathies were with Germany, but Prince Louis of Battenberg, first lord of the admiralty and first cousin of Kaiser William, found it expedient to step down. In his place Britain got 63-year-old John Arbuthnot Fisher.

The battle cruisers Invincible and Inflexible were detached from the Grand Fleet, and sent off to join the Carnarvon, Cornwall, Defense and Kent at Abrolhos Rocks and take up the chase of Von Spee. The West Indies squadron went off to watch the month-and-a-half old Panama Canal.

The lone wolf cruiser Emden was still at large to be dealt with, too. Two days before she had raised Penang, Four British ships were sent to join the Allied fleet on her trail, 16 ships in all.

Lord Fisher initiated a great building program of cruisers, monitors, destroyers and auxiliary craft to the number of 600 keeps. American shipyards were pressed into service, through J. Pierpont Morgan.

That morning Americans read of the appeal of King Albert of the Belgians for American aid for the people of his stricken country.

* * *

History Up-To-Date; Nov. 1, 1700 Charles II of Spain died, after having given away his entire kingdom to a young Bourbon prince who was not a relative and whom he had never seen. The price became Philip V.

* * *

Nov. 1, 1704—Alexander Selkirt, 28 year old Scotsman of rebellious temperament, was put ashore at his own request on Juan Fernandez, an island in the South Pacific, off Chile. His experiences there until he was discovered and taken off by a privateer, suggested to newspaperman Daniel Defoe the best-selling novel of all time: Robinson Crusoe. The story, first published in 1719, had become a classic before Selkirk died.

* * *

Nov. 1, 1765—The Stamp Act went into effect, and it was a national day of fasting and mourning. Funeral processions paraded city streets and bells tolled funeral knells. Colors of sailing-ships flew at half-mast, and newspapers appeared in broad black borders. The courts were closed, ships remained in port and business was suspended.

Out of this calm a tempest rose. Mobs stoned the windows of royalists and burned the king's officials in effigy. The colonists were drawn together in common bond for the first time, and the American revolutionary movement was born.

The Stamp Act had nothing to do with the tea. It required that a tax

Possible Jurors For Hauptmann Case Are Drawn

(International News Service)

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Nov. 1—Selection of a local attorney to help defend Bruno Richard Hauptmann in his trial for the murder of the infant son of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was awaited by townsfolk today.

Three hundred and eighty-eight Hunterdon county citizens were drawn by lot as possible jurors in the trial yesterday.

Talesmen drawn for the trial in the office of Sheriff John Henry Curtiss and publicly posted include 227 men and 161 women, most of whom are housewives.

Choice of local counsel appeared narrowed to George H. Large, former county prosecutor and Floyd Fisher, brilliant young attorney who denfended John Hughes, of Norfolk, Va., shipbuilder, who was convicted of obstructing justice in connection with the kidnaping.

Mrs. Anni Hauptmann, the prisoner's wife, was expected to visit him again today upon her return from New York, where she has been arranging for the transfer of her belongings to her quarters here in which she will live until after the trial.

A challenge has been issued by Hauptmann to Dr. John F. (Jafsie) Condon to visit him again and talk with him.

Hauptmann, it is said, is certain that if Condon converses sufficiently long with him he can convince the educator and go-between that he is not the man to whom "Jafsie" ned over the $50.000 ransom money in a Bronx cemetery.

Pittsburgh Girl Is Bottle Swinger

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—A 25-year-old Pittsburgh girl today regretted her ability to swing a bottle.

Arraigned before a magistrate this morning, Miss Esther Weston, accused of flooring Nathan Martin with a bottle during a Hallowe'en party, was admitted to $1,000 bail. Bond was placed at a similar figure for her escort, Joseph Seibert, 27.

Miss Weston told the court she hit Martin on the head with the bottle after she overheard him saying "nastly things" about her.

For that matter, George III might have prevented the Revolution by giving the Colonials free rations and clothes and gas.

Crafty Move By Japan To Force U.S. Recognition

Seek To Force United States To Recognize New State Of Manchukuo

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—A crafty diplomatic move by Japan to force American recognition of the Japanese controlled state of Manchukuo was disclosed today by the state department.

Acting Secretary of State William Phillips revealed that when the American embassy at Tokyo made representations against the proposed Manchukuo oil monopoly, the Japanese government suggested that the United States take the matter up directly with the Manchukuo government.

Tokyo took the attitude that Manchukuo was an independent sovereign state and that if the western powers were concerned at any measures taken within that empire, they should communicate directly with the Manchukuo government.

This would be tantamount to de jure recognition of that puppet empire, and this government, Phillips disclosed, flatly declined to comply.

Appetite gone?
A simple thing, perhaps...yet a very serious one, resulting in loss of strength...body weakness... and possibly many other ills. So why not check-up and snap back to the zest of eating and well being. You will find S.S.S. a great, scientifically-tested tonic—not just a so-called tonic, but one specially designed to stimulate gastric secretions and also having the mineral elements so very, very necessary in rebuilding the oxygen-carrying hemo-glo-bin of the blood to enable you to "carry on." Do try it. Unless your case is exceptional, you should soon enjoy again the satisfaction of appetizing food and good digestion...sound sleep...and renewed strength. Remember, "S.S.S. makes you feel like yourself again."
Do not be blinded by the efforts of a few unethical dealers who may suggest substitutes. You have a right to insist that S.S.S. be supplied you on request. Its long years of preference is your guarantee of satisfaction.

Deficit Passes Billion Mark

Government On October 30 Was Reported $1,026,788,000 In "Hole"

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Uncle Sam's deficit passed the billion dollar mark for the first time during the current fiscal year on October 30, when the government was $1,026,788,000 "in the hole", the Treasury announced today. The fiscal year started July 1.

Total expenditures were $2,234,973,000, as compared with $1,409,549,000 in the same period last year.

Receipts were $1,208,184,000, as compared with $927,643,000 last year.

The deficit October 30, 1933, was $481,906,000.

Emergency expenditures in the July 1-October 30 period totalled $1,105,872,000, against $399,312,000 last year.

Gold holdings of the treasury passed the $8,000,000,000 mark by $1,062,974.

Episcopals Plan District Conference

Trinity Church Members Will Join In Oil City Meeting Monday, November 5

The diocese of Erie will hold four district conferences in as many different sections of the diocese on the missionary work of the church within its own confines, in the United States and throughout the world, beginning Sunday, Nov. 4, and lasting through Wednesday, the 7th.

The conference for the churches in Clarion, Mercer, Lawrence and Venango counties will be held in Christ church, Oil City, on Monday, Nov. 5. The conference will be led by the Rt. Rev. W. M. M. Thomas, D. D., bishop of southern Brazil, and the Rt. Rev. John C. Ward, bishop of the diocese of Erie.

Miss Margaret Teague, director of religious education in the diocese of Maine, will be among the speakers, as will the Rev. Louis L. Perkins, rector of St. Paul's church, Kittanning.

The conferences in Christ church will begin at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon and will last until 9 o'clock that same evening. Supper will be served in the parish house at 6:30 p. m.

Addresses and conferences in the afternoon will include talks on "General Convention" by the Very Rev. Martin Aigner, D. D., "Carrying On" by the Rev. L. L. Perkins, and "What Women Are Doing in Maine" by Miss Teague. Reports on the "Progress of the Campaign" will be given by representatives of the various churches in the district, and Bishop Thomas will tell something of his work in Brazil.

In the evening Bishop Thomas will be the principal speaker, with Miss Teague a close second on "Women's Part in God's Work". "What the Diocese Should Do in 1935" will be covered by Cyrus F. Mackey, treasurer of the diocese of Erie, and one of its outstanding laymen.

The Rev. L. L. Perkins will also have a part in the evening program. The Rt. Rev. John C. Ward, D. D., bishop of Erie, will preside throughout the conference

"I guess when the men hauled the corn from the field last fall they must have spilled some kernels and they've started to grow. If they mature I will have more corn than the acreage I contracted for under the corn-hog program. Still, it seems a shame to start pulling up these plants that are trying to grow.

"What if some inspector comes along and checks up and finds I'm raising more corn than I should, and sees the condition 'Esmeralda' is in? Will I have to go to jail? And if so, will it be a federal prison or some place closer home?"

Gigantic Program Awaits Convening Of Next Congress

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—An important legislative program was being compiled here for the seventy-fourth congress, to be elected Tuesday but which doesn't convene until January.

Immediate payment of the $2,200,000,000 balance on World War adjusted service (bonus) certificates for 2,500,000 veterans topped the program but it covered a wide range of subjects. The tentative program already compiled, included consideration of:

1—A universal draft law, conscripting capital, industry and manpower in time of war, as advocated by the American Legion and other organizations.

2—A tighter immigration law, probably including a provision for registration of aliens until they become citizens.

3—Anti-communist legislation, designed to halt the unrestricted circulation of communist propaganda, much evidenced in the summer's labor disorders.

4—A new tax legislation, even if the bill merely extends for another year the special excise taxes, which expire June 30.

5—Amendments to the agricultural adjustment act, eliminating some abuses and determining the administration's program toward cotton growers for the next year.

6—A new public works program, to be financed over a long period, for low cost housing and self-liquidating projects.

7—New and heavy relief appropriations, to meet direct relief burden for another year.

8—The World Court and St. Lawrence waterway treaties by the senate.

The American Legion and other veterans organizations will launch the drive for the cash bonus and universal draft law. The administration will oppose the first but its efforts will not prevent a vote, though a presidential veto may block its enactment.

Busy Session

Members of congress from states which were the scene of violent labor disorders last summer, will sponsor the anti-alien and anti-communist legislation. The legion recommended a law barring communist literature from the mails. The alien registration legislation will gain support from publicity on the records of Richard Bruno Hauptmann, accused of the murder of the Lindbergh baby, who entered the country illegally.

The tax bill is necessary if for no other reason than to retain the federal excise taxes which expire June 30. Relief appropriations are just as necessary to the administration.

The outlook is for a busy session of the new congress.

Bessemer High School Notes

EDUCATION WEEK

Students, teachers and school patrons of Bessemer school are planning to celebrate American Education week from November 5-11. The theme running through the week's activities will be "Educating for Tomorrow."

Special bulletins pertaining to various phases of educational activity will appear on all school bulletin boards. Many times during the week reference to the significance of the occasion will be made in regular classes. Social Science classes will make special study of the significance of American Education week. Home room programs will be centered about educational problems.

Throughout the week many parents will be welcomed as observers of school activities. Friday, November 9, has been set aside as a special day for visitation. On that day the school assembly program will feature an educational pageant and an address by Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of the New Castle schools.

ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

The assembly program, October 26, with Miss Landman as sponsor, was as follows:

Flag salute.

Song, junior girls double quartette—"Follow the Gleam."

Devotionals.

Junior girls double quartette—Auld Lang Syne and Annie Laurie.

Violin solos, George Pelto, accompanist, Irma Pelto—Serenade—Dadla.

Piano duet—Edith Swanson and Violet Reynolds.

Play—"He Got the Job." Cast: Mr. Allen (the boss)—Rudy Jordana; Mr. Wilson (his secretary)—Charles Benedict; Eddie (the office boy)—Archie Young; Applicants for the job: Tom—Frank Bonacci; Dick—Sam Prohart; Harry—Bill Grimes; George—Bonner Poushey; John—Arthur Williams.

Essay, "Hallowe'en" and "School Notes"—Betty Yeropoli.

Junior girls double quartette—"Lost in a Fog," "Here Come the British."

High school song.

Announcements.

Mrs. Putter (patient of Dr. Davy)—Mildred Percic.

Porter—Sam Prohart.

DEBATE CLUB

The Debate club has been organized again this year under the direction of Miss Fell.

It consists of eight members. Four debaters are: Madolyn Kelley and John Franke, affirmative, and Betty Nord and Nellie Yeropli, the negative. Alternates are Archie Young, Arthur Williams, John Pepe and Virginia Mandich.

Just now the members are engaged in writing their speeches.

It is hoped that they will have a successful year and also that there will be several debates on Bessemer's schedule.

HONOR ROLL

As a result of the first six weeks of school there are a great number of students on the honor roll, the total number being 59. Of this number there are 37 girls and 22 boys.

The seniors and juniors are equal, each having 13 students on the honor roll.

The honor roll follows:

SCHOOL BANKING

The week of October 22 shows an unusual decrease in the number of depositors and amount deposited by the Bessemer high students. The number of depositors last week was 41, and the amount deposited was $19.61. This week the number dropped to 27 and the sum deposited was $10.02.

The Freshman class leads with eight depositors, Junior and Sophomores with six, eighth grade with three, and seventh with 2. The Juniors lead in the amount deposited, which is $3.91, and the Freshman next with $2.92.

RECEIVE REPORTS

The students received their report cards on October 21. This event brought the first six weeks of school to an end. During the first six weeks the teachers and students got acquainted. The report cards have been comparatively good. Some of the students may be disappointed, but they have thirty weeks more in which to make good.

INTRAMURAL VOLLEY BALL

The room volley ball season opened Monday, October 29, with the boys of room 5 playing the boys of room 6. Room 5 won the game. On October 30, the girls of room 5 and room 6 played. The game was a tie.

INTRAMURAL TOUCHFOOTBALL

The touch-football was completed on October 19. The results are not known because of the disappearance of the schedule and team averages from the bulletin board.

SENIOR PARTY

The regular semi-annual senior party is scheduled for Friday night, November 2.

The following people were appointed chairmen:

Chairman of General committee—Edith Benson; chairman of Refreshment committee — Olive White; chairman of Program committee—Madolyn Kelley; chairman of Ticket committee—John DiLullo; chairman of Clean-Up committee—Frank Navarra.

All teachers are invited, and the Seniors hope they will all come.

The evening's entertainment will consist of dancing, cards, ping-pong and possibly other games.

BE-HI NEWS STAFF

Following is the staff of the Be-Hi News for this year:

Edith Benson, editor in chief; Virginia Mandich, assistant editor; Frank Clark and Neal Mack, sports editors; Betty Nord, assembly programs; Sauvi Katich, banking and clubs; Madolyn Kelley, social functions; Edith Swanson, alumni and personals; Arnold Tenhula, class news.

SCHOOL NOTES

The Art club gave a wiener roast Wednesday, October 24. The event took place at Lake Bessemer. Miss Leacock is the sponsor.

Russell Battin has returned to school after a month's absence, the result of illness. Harold Hedberg is still in the Allegheny General hospital in Pittsburgh.

A brief faculty meeting was held Tuesday at 4:00 in the Sewing room, for the purpose of discussing results of recently given tests to seniors and seventh grade pupils.

The seventh grade Hallowe'en party was held October 25. Volley ball, fruit-basket, wink and other games were the diversions. Refreshments were served. Harry Conner, Virginia Carr and Anna Sankovich were committee members.

The sophomore party is to be held in the auditorium November 6. The committee chairmen are as follows:

General, John Samsa; refreshment, Margaret Serjak; entertainment, Mildred Wolfe; decorating, Dick DeArment; ticket, Ed. Pearson.

The P. S. E. A. Mid-Western convention was held in Beaver Falls October 26 and 27. Four of the band members from Bessemer high school, as well as the entire school faculty from both buildings, were in attendance. Agner Swanson, Loyal Weitz, Richard DeArment and Bill Pelto were in the all-high school band which played for the convention.

THE SPORT PATROL

By JOHN J. MAHER, JR.

A CLEAN SLATE

The parade of unbeaten and untied teams in the country is becoming smaller as each Saturday rolls past. Last week Holy Cross, Georgetown, Duke, Penn State and Vanderbilt fell by the wayside and this Saturday there are certain to be further eliminations.

Only a dozen major teams have perfect records although the season is only a little more than half over. Army, Navy, Princeton, Syracuse, and Dartmouth are the eastern teams with perfect records. In the south Tulane and Alabama have clean slates. Minnesota, Chicago, Illinois and Michigan State are the mid-west leaders. Washington is the lone survivor in the far-west.

Army meets Illinois, Harvard, Citadel, Notre Dame, and Navy. That is a rocky road and the Cadets' inexperienced line will hardly stand up under all those opponents, particularly Illinois, Notre Dame, and Navy.

The Middies are in the same spot as the Soldiers with games to be played with Washington and Lee, Notre Dame, Pitt, and the Army. Navy had a close call in the Maryland game but haven't yet met a foe so strong as Notre Dame, Pitt or the Army.

Princeton has but a fair chance of winning the remaining games but that is because they seem to prefer football routes to football battles. The Tigers have a good team but even if they remain unbeaten, untied, and univited, they will get very little sympathy when they adopt their theme song "Out in the Cold Again."

If they had Rose Bowl aspirations why didn't they get a schedule that would give them the recognition the team deserves? Princeton is capable of beating some of the strongest elevens but they can't prove it by playing teams like Amherst, Williams, Cornell, etc.

Syracuse has numbered among its victims such teams as Clarkson, Cornell, Ohio Wesleyan, and Brown. However, there is nothing there to compare with Peen State, Michigan State, Colgate, and Columbia so the trouble for the Orangemen is only beginning.

Dartmouth will probably go into the Yale game as the underdog despite their unblemished record but even if they do win that one they still have to meet Princeton.

Alabama appears stronger than Tulane and has a more favorable schedule than the Green Wave. Colgate and Louisiana State will be more difficult for Tulane than Kentucky and Vanderbilt for Alabama.

Minnesota will hardly be stopped in any of the remaining games aginst Michigan, Indiana, Chicago, and Wisconsin. The Maroons are good but they aren't likely to check the powerful Gophers.

And there aren't many fans who expect Chicago to continue unbeaten when they face Purdue, Ohio State, Minnesota, and Illinois. That is perhaps, a more dismal future than any of the other unbeaten teams have to look forward to. Yet the Maroons hold the key to the Big Ten title. Besides being hot after the championship themselves, they play the other leading contenders. If Chicago should upset Minnesota and Illinois, it will certainly muddle Big Ten affairs.

Illinois has what looks like the best passing attack in the country. Although their line is light as Western Conference lines go, so far they have been functioning satisfactorily with Grybowski starring. If the line does not weaken the Ilini should get past Army and Chicago, their strongest opponents remaining.

Michigan State must point for Syracuse although the games with Marquette, Detroit, Kansas, and Texas A. & M. will likely be tough. If the Spartans can beat Syracuse, however, they will have hurdled their toughest opponent.

Out on the Pacific coast the Washington Huskies are upholding the far-west traditions. Oregon State, Stanford, Washington State, and Southern California are in the path of the Huskies with Washington State, Stanford, and the Trojans capable of upsetting them. The Southern California game is on December 1 and by that time the House of Troy will likely be considerably stronger than they are at present.

Gym Class Meets Thursday Nights

More Members Will Be Accepted By Y. W. C. A. Health Education Group

Another of the weekly Y. W. C. A. gym classes will be conducted Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Announcement is made by the director, Mrs. Ann Cain Earl, that the class is still open to new members. Women interested may communicate with Mrs. John Byers, Miss Frances Green, Miss Margaret Williams or the business office of the Y. W. C. A.

Members of the class are enjoying lively meetings in the "Y" gymnasium every Thursday night and are finding the exercise benefiting their health and spirits. They are having health examination cards filled out and signed by their physicians in order that the director may follow a program of individual corrective work.

RISES FROM "DEAD"

(International News Service)

POOTUNG, China, Nov.1.—A coroner's inquest was ended abruptly when Mrs. Wang Hsinsung arose from the slab and spoke to the gathered officials. The woman had been pronounced dead by hospital doctors two days before, with opium poison, self-administered, as the cause.

Rabbit Hunters Out Early As Season Opens

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 1—The roar of shotguns broke the stillness of Pennsylvania's fields and forests today as hunters opened the small game season at dawn.

More than half a million nimrods were estimated to be eligible to try for rabbits, squirrels or game birds which are legal prey during the month. Bad weather conditions in some sections marred the holiday for the nimrods.

Expect Big Kill

Although the daily and season limit has been cut this year, reports from game wardens indicated that rabbits were plentiful. More than 3,000,000 of them probably will be killed before the season closes November 30. Squirrels also were reported numerous.

Hunting game birds, ringnecks, quail, wild turkeys and grouse will be a hide and seek affair with the calendar because of the staggered system in effect this season as a conservation measure.

Combined with the search for rabbits, squirrels and game birds this year will be the hunt for ducks and geese, the season for which opened October 18. Warm fall weather has delayed the migration of the wild birds and virtually no duck hunting has been reported yet. Ducks are fair quarry on Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays.

Police Get Many Calls Hallowe'en

Reports Indicate Depredations Committed By Boys Last Night

Owing to the destruction of porch furniture, lanterns and throwing of tomatoes last night it is probable that Mayor Mayne and Chief of Police Haven will continue the enforcement of the curfew ordinance which became inoperative Tuesday night. The ordinance was enforced because certain boys in different sections carried their actions so far that vandalism resulted.

Last night red lanterns were broken in Ray St. and porch furniture was destroyed in Park avenue. Tomatoes were thrown in Garfield avenue and these acts coupled to numerous calls for police protection may cause the mayor and police chief to consider continuing the curfew law.

Both officials were hunting today but reports have been laid on their desks for perusal upon their return.

Call for police protection last night came from Garfield avenue Reis St and Berger Place, Wallace avenue, Albert street, Park avenue, South Mercer street, Ray street, Hillcrest avenue, Taylor and Pearson streets, Center street, Erie avenue, East Sheridan avenue, Crawford avenue and County Line street and Court street and Crawford avenue.

GIRL SCOUTS

KEYSTONE TROOP

The girls of the Keystone Troop No. 1 held their usual meeting Saturday at 7:30 o'clock. Three new leaders were installed at this time. They are as follows:

Captain, Frances Gibson; first lieutenant, Lois Marian Smith; second lieutenant, Geraldine Ferver.

Most of the evening was spent in games, singing and group work. Taps was sung and the girls departed.

Richberg Is Now Powerful Figure

Executive Order Makes Richberg First Assistant To President Roosevelt

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Donald R. Richberg today became one of the most powerful men in the administration.

By an executive order from the White House he virtually was made President Roosevelt's first assistant without portfolio when the president consolidated the executive council with the National Emergency Council.

Richberg will serve as executive director of the new organization. It includes every cabinet officer and executive head of the major permanent relief agencies.

Closer Relations

Mr. Roosevelt's order directed that the new organization "serve in an advisory capacity" to its executive director, Richberg.

The National Recovery Administration was brought more closely under the thumb of the president in the same executive order.

The president directed that the Industrial Emergency committee, of which Richberg is also a director, become a subcommittee of the National Emergency Council.

Governor Pinchot Says Probers Have Complete Facts

Says He Has Submitted All Details He Has On Election Expenses

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1. — The Byrnes committee investigating senatorial campaign funds today possessed "all the material I ever saw or had," according to Gov. Gifford Pinchot.

The statement was made by the governor in reply to a letter from Senator Byrnes (D) South Carolina, seeking additional informaton on an alleged conspiracy to conceal political expenditures in Pennsylvania.

The Byrnes letter said he had been told Governor Pinchot possessed a statement which disclosed the "existence of a conspiracy between Senator David A. Reed, (Republican candidate for re-election) and Mr. William A. Schnader (Republican gubernatorial nominee) to conceal the expenditures in behalf of Mr. Reed and sets forth violations by the election laws by the supporters of Senator Reed in the primary election."

Byrnes requested this statement because "it will be very helpful to the committee."

"The Byrnes committee knows everything I know," Governor Pinchot asserted. "The truth is that a former employe of the state has given the committee all the material that I ever saw or had—and more."

Liberty Grange

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

A Hallowe'en party was held in the Liberty Grange Hall, Tuesday evening, with members and friends numbering 175, in attendance. An ideal setting was formed with the usual festive decorations of colored lights, black cats, owls, and corn stalks. At 9 o'clock, the grand march was held with Russell Book, Maxine Richeal, Shirley Wimer and Paul McCandless winning prizes for their costumes. Other forms of entertainment were fortunte telling, fishpond, bingo and numerous side shows.

Others winning prizes were Donald Flemming, Jean Lock, Andley Lock, Clyde McCracken, Bertha Kerr, Howard Glenn, J. S. Tucker, Norman Montgomery and Ellis Boyd.

A delicious lunch was served by the social committee.

The next Grange meeting will be held Monday evening, at 8 o'clock, instead of Tuesday, the regular date. The women will present the program on this date.

THE NEW DEAL

After 85 years of existence as a County, and with all the improvements of any kind that have been made during that time, Lawrence County's bonded indebtedness at the present time is only $886,000.

Lawrence County's present assessment for County and Poor purposes is $69,389,280.

But during the first eighteen months of the NEW DEAL the administration's colossal spending of borrowed money has laid a debt of $1,000,000,000 on Pennsylvania, and Lawrence County's share of that Federal debt is $10,000,000.

Within a period of eighteen months the NEW DEAL has put upon the people of Lawrence County eleven times more debt than they had standing against them after 85 years of existence as a County.

Within a period of eighteen months the NEW DEAL has thrust a debt upon Lawrence County amounting to one-seventh of its entire assessment.

THIS POLICY OF EXTRAVAGANCE ON A CONSTANTLY INCREASING SCALE IS THAT THEY ASK YOU TO APPROVE WHEN THEY INVITE YOU TO VOTE FOR DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES.

Go to the polls on November 6th and vote to repudiate this debt increasing policy.
